

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

- alienage, nationality as, 259–61
- aliens. See non-citizens
- allegiance
  - and social inclusion. See social inclusion
  - as consequence of identity, 3
  - as duty of obedience, 9
  - as socio-political concept, 8
  - authors' analytical approach, 12
  - citizenship and. See citizenship
  - conceptions of, 1, 8–11, 37
  - controversies as to, 1–2
  - definitions of, 36–7
  - disciplinary approaches to, 11–12
  - diversity and, 569
  - identity in relation, 3–12, 569
  - international humanitarian law and, 508–12
  - legal ascription of, 36–7
  - liberalism and, 408–11
  - membership and. See membership
  - migrant labour and, 427–8, 435–9
  - migration and, 362–3, 407. See also citizenship testing; temporary migration
  - multiple allegiances. See multiple allegiances
  - national security and. See national security; terrorism prevention
  - obligation of, 9
  - pledge of. See citizenship pledges
  - 'right' form of, 3
  - temporary migration and, 411–13
  - to 'Europe'. See European Union
  - to independent political community, 561–3
  - transformative effect of competing allegiances, 187–91
  - uniformity of, 3
- analogical unity in European Union, 109–11
- Anderson, Joel
  - refugee self-narration, 338
- anthropological theories of ethnicity, 25
- armed conflict and protected persons. See protected persons
- armed forces. See national security
- assisted passage to Australia, 359
- asylum seekers
  - experiential aspect of recognition, 311–12
- narrative identities. See narrative identities
- unaccompanied children, 400–3. See also refugee law
- Australia
  - allegiance
    - and armed forces enlistment, 235–6, 237–8
    - and dual citizenship, 8
    - as membership indicator, 42–3. See also indigenous identity and allegiance below
  - Australians imprisoned abroad. See Hu, Stern
  - conceptions of, 37
  - declaration of, 175–6, 182, 190–1
  - legal ascription of, 36–7

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

660

INDEX

- Australian-ness and 'marginalising racism', 193, 198, 200, 206–15, 216–18
- child migrants
  - absence of citizenship as adults, 388–92
  - apology to, 381–2
  - authors' analytical approach, 20–1, 382
  - conclusions as to, 403–4
  - contemporary issues as to, 396
  - current debate as to citizenship, 396–7
  - denial of citizenship, 385–8
  - denial of rights, 382, 384–5
  - future form of citizenship, 398–400
  - historical overview, 382–4
  - identity and citizenship, 21, 392–6
  - unaccompanied asylum seekers, 400–3
- China and. See Hu, Stern
- citizenship and diplomatic protection. See Hu, Stern
- citizenship testing, 17–18, 175–6, 182, 190–1
- constitutional 'aliens power', 379
- constitutional concept of 'the people', 12–13, 31–2
- constitutional definition of race, 146–9
- criminal law
  - anti-terrorism legislation, 281–8
  - outlaw as outsider, 269
- cultural identification of 'the people', 43–4, 49–50
- diplomatic protection for expatriates. See Hu, Stern
- diversity and trust, 225
- external territories
  - control of, 36
  - cultural identity, 46–9
  - exclusion from Commonwealth, 37–9
  - historical sovereignty over, 39–42
  - overview of, 33
  - self-identity claims, 44–6
- indigenous identity and allegiance
  - authors' analytical approach, 142–3
  - constitutional definition of race, 146–9
  - dictates of non-indigenous law, 160–4
  - individual cases, 152–5
  - legal recognition difficulties, 149–52
  - legal recognition of historical connection to land and tradition, 158–9
  - limitations of law as to reconciliation, 164–5
  - 'native' defined in native title jurisprudence, 155–8
  - regional distinctions, 143
  - theoretical context, 143–6
  - 'marginalising racism' and perceptions of Australian-ness, 193, 198, 200, 206–15, 216–18
- membership
  - culture as factor, 49–50
  - factors generally, 34
  - historical connection to Commonwealth, 35–6
  - inclusion in body politic, 34–5
  - legal understandings of, 50–1
- migration
  - assertion of sovereignty, 354
  - assisted passage, 359
  - children. See child migrants above
  - nationality and naturalisation laws, 366
  - resistance to, 359
  - restrictive jurisprudence, 374, 376, 377
  - restrictive legislation, 368–70, 379
- New Guinea mandate, 37–9
- Norfolk Island, historical
  - sovereignty over, 39–42
- prisoners and dual citizenship. See Hu, Stern
- recognition of indigenous identity, 16–17
- refugees
  - categorisation, 316
  - status determination, 320, 331
- terrorism prevention
  - criminal sanctions in anti-terrorism legislation, 281–8

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

661

- Foucauldian theory and, 19–20
Haneef case. See Haneef case implications of new laws, 299–302
 migration law and, 20
 rhetorical justification for legislation, 278–81
 Torres Strait Islander peoples, distinct identity of, 143 trust and diversity, 225
- Barr, Michael
   nationalism and migrant labour, 438
- Belgium
   allegiance, identity and armed forces enlistment, 232–5
- belonging
   forms of national identification, 234–5, 237
   nationality and, 26
- biological notions of ethnicity, 525–9
- body politic, inclusion in, 34–5
- Brown, Wendy
   migration and liberal culture, 184–5
- Brownlie, Sir Ian nationality and state succession, 506
- Butler, Judith
   migration and liberal culture, 183, 186
   refugee self-narration, 323–4, 328–9, 334, 341, 348
- Canada
   migration jurisprudence, 375–6
- Capotorti, Francesco
   ‘minority’ defined, 522–3, 530–1, 533
- Casanova, José
   religion and secularism in Europe, 104–5
- character
   as criminal issue, 292
   deportability test, 302–3 rehabilitation, 306–7
- child migrants
   Australia. See Australia
   authors’ analytical approach, 20–1, 382
   citizenship and, 21
   unaccompanied asylum seekers, 400–3
- China
   migrant labour. See Australia,
     migration
   multiple allegiances. See Hong Kong;
     Hu, Stern
   prisoners and dual citizenship. See
     Hu, Stern
- Christianity. See religion
- Chryssochoou, Xenia cultural homogeneity, 3
- citizenship
   analytical focus on citizenship
     identity, 8
   as shared identity, 244–5, 258–64 child migrants. See Australia citizens and non-citizens distinguished, 248–50
   commodification of, 490–2, 564 concept in national law, 545–7 differential rights, 419–24
   dual citizenship. See dual citizenship Finnis’ theory of, 245–50 international sport. See Olympic nationality
   labour rights and workers’ rights in relation, 439–49
   national security and, 19
   nationality and. See nationality non-citizens. See non-citizens ‘true citizens’. See ‘true citizen’ concept
   citizenship pledges
     as allegiance indicator, 10–11 as statement of unity, 175–6 citizenship testing and, 17–18
   citizenship stripping
     author’s analytical approach, 244–5
     citizenship as identity, 258–64
     dual nationality, 261–4
     nationality as alienage, 259–61
     objections summarised, 264–6 ‘public good’ ground for, 250–8 statutory provisions, 243
   citizenship testing
     and inclusion/exclusion within liberal culture, 183–7
   as tool for integration/cohesion, 175–83

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

662

INDEX

- citizenship testing (cont.)
  - author's analytical approach, 169–71
  - citizenship pledges and, 17–18, 175–6
- civic nationalism and common culture
  - distinguished, 223
- cohesion. See social cohesion
- colonialism
  - indigenous identity and. See Australia; Solomon Islands
  - migration and, 123–8, 358–9
- commodification of citizenship, 490–2
- common culture and civic nationalism
  - distinguished, 223
- common language. See language
- Commonwealth. See Australia
- community
  - ethnicity and, 532
  - migration and, 360–2
- constitutional law
  - authors' analytical approach, 12–15
  - colonialism and, 15
  - 'constitutional recognition' claims, 13–14
  - 'race' defined, 146–9
  - reform demands as response to migration, 130
  - territory within state. See Hong Kong
  - 'the people', concept of, 12–13, 31–2. See also identity-based constitutional claims
- constitutional patriotism theory, 54–6
- constitutional principles
  - Constitutional Tolerance Principle (PCT), 109–11
  - defined, 57
  - dynamic nature of, 58
  - separation from political underpinnings, 58
- constitutional rights and freedoms
  - customary law and, 123
  - scope of, 122. See also freedom of movement
- consular assistance for imprisoned expatriates. See Hu, Stern
- control of external territories. See Australia
- corporations, allegiance to, 459–60
- cosmopolitanism defined, 59
- counter-terrorism. See terrorism prevention
- criminal law
  - anti-terrorism and extra-criminal punishment. See extra-criminal punishment
  - character as issue, 292
  - 'criminal' defined, 267
  - expatriates. See Hu, Stern
- cultural identity
  - analytical focus on, 7
  - common culture and civic nationalism distinguished, 223
  - interculturalism in European Union, 105–8
  - liberalism and, 408–11
  - membership claims based on, 43–4, 46–9, 49–50
  - temporary migration and, 411–13. See also multiculturalism
- cultural neutrality
  - European Union, 58
- customary law
  - authors' analytical approach, 15–17
  - migration and, 124–5, 126–7, 128–30, 138–41
- Darwin, Charles
  - social Darwinism and ethnicity, 530
- Davie, Grace
  - religion and secularism in Europe, 112
- Deakin, Simon
  - citizenship, social rights and labour market participation, 446–7
- declaration of allegiance. See citizenship pledges
- Declaration of Arbroath (1320), 60
- defence. See national security
- democracy
  - national and multinational states compared, 71
  - national security and, 89–92
- deportation
  - character test for, 302–3
  - human rights, 245–8

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

663

- deprivation of citizenship. See citizenship stripping
- detention of non-citizens, argument for indefinite detention, 245
- 'diasporan' identity, analytical focus on, 7
- diplomatic protection of imprisoned expatriates. See Hu, Stern
- discrimination, social inclusion/exclusion and, 17
- diversity
- allegiance and, 569
  - and national identity, 221–2
  - multiculturalism and, 225–6
  - racial/ethnic difference and welfare distribution, 224
  - trust and, 225
- dual citizenship
- allegiance and, 9
  - rhetorical justification for legislation. See also multiple allegiances
  - citizenship stripping, 261–4
  - prisoners and. See Hu, Stern
- 'dual labour market' theory, 444
- economic cooperation in European Union, 108–9
- economic ideologies of regional integration, 97–8
- economics, political justice and, 443–6
- 'effective nationality' doctrine. See Nottebohm Case
- employers, allegiance to, 459–60
- 'enemy criminal law' concept (Feindstrafrecht), 274–6
- equality
- allegiance and identity in relation, 569–70
  - democratic decision-making and, 570
  - global impartiality and, 586–9
  - moral impartiality and, 581–5
  - socio-economic inequality and political inequality in relation, 579–81
- essentialism and 'marginalising racism', 203–4
- ethnic conflict. See protected persons
- ethnic difference. See diversity
- ethnic identity
- analytical focus on, 7
  - 'otherness'. See minorities
- ethnic minorities. See minorities
- ethnic unrest, migration and, 117, 118, 130–1
- ethnicity
- as 'otherness', 529–31
  - as primordial tie, 525–9
  - community and, 532
  - etymology of, 529–30
  - international law and, 523
  - liberalism and, 524
  - social Darwinism and, 530. See also race
- ethnocentrism, nationalism and, 67–8
- social Darwinism and. See also racism
- European Convention on Human Rights. See human rights
- European Union
- allegiance to 'Europe'
  - author's analytical approach, 94–5
  - concept of, 14–15
  - conclusions as to, 113–14
  - analogical unity, 109–11
  - balance of religious and secular worldviews, 104–5, 111–13
  - 'basic moral consensus', 99–100
  - challenges arising from expansion, 100–1
  - constitution rejected, 67
  - constitutional patriotism theory, 54–5, 68–70
  - constitutional sovereignty principle, 53–4
  - Constitutional Tolerance Principle (PCT), 109–11
  - cultural neutrality, 58
  - economic ideology, 97–8
  - economic integration problems, 102–3
  - flexible economic cooperation, 108–9
  - integration goals, 95
  - integration ideologies revived, 105

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

664

INDEX

- European Union (cont.)
 interculturalism, 105–8 migrants and integration, 101–2 national sovereignty and, 54
 new template of political association, 56 original integration concepts, 95–6 peace and security as goal, 96–7 political ideology, 98–9 political integration tensions, 103–4 right of self-determination, 65
 theoretical constitutional models, 54–6
- Evans Cameron, Hilary
 refugee self-narration, 340
- exclusion. See social exclusion
- expatriates, diplomatic protection. See Hu, Stern
- external territories. See Australia
- extra-criminal punishment
 author's analytical approach, 267–8
 conclusions as to, 289–90
 'enemy criminal law' concept (Feindstrafrecht), 274–6
 historical examples, 269–70
 'political criminal' concept, 267
 rhetorical justification for anti-terrorism legislation, 276–81
 statutory provisions, 281–8
 theoretical rationale for, 268–74
- Feindstrafrecht* ('enemy criminal law')
 concept, 274–6
- Finnis, John
 citizenship as shared identity, 244–5 critique of theories summarised, 264–6
 dual nationality, 261–4
 indefinite detention of non-citizens, 245
 nationality as alienage, 259–61
 rights of citizens and non-citizens distinguished, 245–50 theory of citizenship, 245–50
- Fitzpatrick, Peter liberalism and racism, 355–6
- forced migration. See child migrants; migration
- 'foreigner'
 attitudes towards, 21
 author's analytical approach, 354–5
 in early international law, 368–70. See also migrant labour; 'strangers inside'
- Foucault, Michel
 'criminal' defined, 267
 terrorist as 'political criminal', 19–20, 268–74
- France
 identity-based constitutional claims, 67
 right of self-determination, 65
- freedom of movement
 constitutional provision for, 132–5
 customary law and, 135–7
 development of local jurisprudence, 137–8 justifications for interference with, 221–2
- fuzzy sets and 'marginalising racism', 206
- Geertz, Clifford
 ethnicity and primordialism, 25, 526–8
- Gellner, Ernest formation of national identities, 72–3
- Geneva Convention IV. See protected persons
- Germany
Feindstrafrecht ('enemy criminal law') concept, 274–6
- Gilroy, Paul
 socio-political notions of race, 526
- Glass Ceiling effect and 'marginalising racism', 204–5
- globalisation
 as analytical viewpoint, 23, 27
 collapse of nation state, 59
 economics and political justice in relation, 443–6
 migrant labour and, 427, 447–9
 multiple allegiances and, 472–3
- Goodhart, David
 'progressive's dilemma', 221, 224
- Griffith, James
 allegiance and identity and armed forces enlistment, 233–4

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

665

- Grosby, Steven
 ethnicity and primordialism, 528
- groups group-boundary permeability beliefs and 'marginalising racism', 201–3
 identity-based constitutional claims, 57 intergroup mergers and re-categorisation, 205 racist perceptions of group identity, 206–15
 subgrouping and 'marginalising racism', 205–6
- Guatemala. See Nottebohm Case
 'guest workers'. See migrant labour
- Guilfoyle, Douglas citizenship and migrant labour, 445
 'dual labour market' theory, 444
- Habermas, Jürgen
 claims to self-determination, 67–8
 constitutional patriotism theory,
 54–6, 68–70
 cosmopolitanism, 59 nationalism theories critiqued, 68–70
 religion and secularism, 113
- Haneef* Case
 as 'status crime', 292
 character as issue, 292
 character test for deportability, 302–3
 Clarke Inquiry, 298–9
 conclusions as to, 307–8
 criminal aspects, 293–6
 impact of international agreements, 305–6
 implications of case, 303–5 implications of new counterterrorism laws, 299–302 migration aspects, 296–8 overlap of migration law and anti-terrorism law, 291
 conclusions as to. See also Haneef
 Case rehabilitation of character, 306–7 socio-political context, 292–3
- harmony, achievement of, 3
- Hegel, Georg Wilhelm Friedrich
 externalisation concept, 345–6
- hegemony, white hegemony and
 migration, 359–60
- Held, David
 collapse of nation state, 59
- historical connection as membership factor, 35–6
- homogeneity. See uniformity
- Hong Kong
 author's analytical approach, 77–80
 Basic Law, allegiance and identity within, 78
 conclusions as to, 92–3
 constitutional foundations of Special Administrative Regime
 (HKSAR), 80–4 constitutional interpretations of Basic Law, 84–9 democracy and national security, 89–92
 multiple allegiances, 10, 14
 public opinions on China, 79–80
- Honig, Bonnie
 immigrant's choice of loyalties, 171–5, 186–7
 positive role of the stranger, 169 transformative effect of competing allegiances, 187–90
- Honneth, Axel
 refugee self-narration, 338
- Hu, Stern
 arrest, 453
 Australian citizenship, 460–2
 authors' analytical approach, 455
 career, 455–6
 diplomatic protection by Australia during trial, 464–9 policies and responsibilities, 462–4
 political commitments, 470–1 implications for Australia/China relations, 453–4 imprisonment, 454
 multiple allegiances
 allegiance to Australia, 458–9 allegiance to China, 456–8

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

666

INDEX

- Hu, Stern (cont.)
 allegiance to employer, 459–60 globalisation and, 472–3
 identity and, 456
 implications of case, 454–5, 472
 legal regimen over, 473–5
 new concept of legal order as to, 475–7 prisoner transfer arrangements, 469–70
- human rights
 citizenship and labour rights/
 workers' rights in relation, 439–49 detention and deportation, 245–8 individual and, 560–1 narrative identities. See also constitutional rights and freedoms. See narrative identities
- ICTY (International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia). See protected persons
- identity
 allegiance and, 3–12, 569
 and social inclusion. See social inclusion
 as self-description, 3–4
 authors' analytical approach, 12
 citizenship as shared identity, 244–5, 258–64
 conceptions of, 1, 3–8
 consequences of, 8 constitutional claims. See identity-based constitutional claims contextual relevance, 4–5
 controversies as to, 1–2
 cultural. See cultural identity definition of, 147
 denial of citizenship, 392–6
 'diasporan'. See 'diasporan' identity disciplinary approaches to, 11–12
 equality and allegiance in relation, 569–70
 ethnic. See ethnic identity formation of, 8
 hybrid identities, 5 indigenous. See indigenous identity interrelated social identities, 5–6
 legal ascription of, 36–7
 legal notions of, 7
 liberalism and, 408–11
 maintenance of, 8
 migrant labour and, 427–8, 435–9
 migration and, 364–5, 407
 new concept of legal order as
 to. See also temporary
 migration
 multiple allegiances and, 456
 multiple identities, 4
 new concept of legal order as
 to. See also Hong Kong; Hu, Stern
 narrative identities. See narrative identities
 national. See national identity need for nuanced analysis of, 6, 26–7 racial. See racial identity regional. See regional identity
 'right' form of, 3
 self-identity claims, 44–6 single identity or multiple identities, 4
 temporary migration and, 411–13
 transnational. See transnational identity
 uniformity of, 3
 identity-based constitutional claims
 author's analytical approach, 52–3, 59
 common language and, 72–3
 conclusions as to, 75–6
 constitutional patriotism theory, 54–6 constitutional principles and. See
 constitutional principles
 constitutional sovereignty principle, 53–4
 cosmopolitanism defined, 59
 critiques overviewed, 59–62 cultural neutrality and, 58 group-based, 57 international level, 53
 irrationality of, 64–70
 national identity defined, 57

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

667

- national level, 53
- objections critiqued, 52–3
- programmes for, 52
- republican critique of, 70–4
- universal/particular critique, 62–4. See also national identity
- immigration
  - and armed forces recruitment, 237–8
  - cohesion and national identity in relation, 18–19, 221–2, 223
- impartiality
  - closer conformity with, 589
  - global requirement, 586–9
  - moral requirement, 581–5
- inclusion. See social inclusion
- indefinite detention of non-citizens, argument for, 245
- India
  - Overseas Citizenship, 564
- indigenous identity
  - analytical focus on, 7
  - authors' analytical approach, 15–17, 142–3
  - constitutional definition of race, 146–9
  - dictates of non-indigenous law, 160–4
  - forms of membership, 120–1
  - individual cases as to inclusion, 152–5
  - legal recognition difficulties, 149–52
  - legal recognition of historical connection to land and tradition, 158–9
  - limitations of law as to reconciliation with non-indigenous society, 164–5
  - 'native' defined in native title jurisprudence, 155–8
  - place and, 117, 119
  - regional distinctiveness, 143
  - theoretical context, 143–6. See also Australia; Solomon Islands
- individual
  - human rights and, 560–1
  - nationality and, 560
- industrialisation, national identity and, 6–7
- inequality. See equality
- 'inside-out communities', definition of, 171
- integration
  - citizenship testing as tool for, 175–83
  - ideologies revived, 105
- integration, regional. See European Union
- interculturalism in European Union, 105–8
- intergroup mergers and
  - re-categorisation in relation to 'marginalising racism', 205
- International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY). See protected persons
- international humanitarian law. See protected persons
- international law
  - defence. See national security
  - identity and, 7–8
  - international agreements and Haneef Case, 305–6
  - multiple allegiances and. See Hu, Stern
  - national law in relation, 2
  - protection of ethnic minorities. See minorities
- international sport. See Olympic nationality
- Islam. See religion
- Italy
  - identity-based constitutional claims, 63–4, 66, 74
  - trust and welfare distribution, 229
- Jakobs, Günther
  - Feindstrafrecht* ('enemy criminal law') concept, 274–6
- Joppke, Christian
  - citizenship testing and 'illiberal'/'repressive' liberalism, 169, 179–83
- Judaism. See religion
- justice, economics and political justice, 443–6
- Kant, Immanuel
  - misinterpretations of, 60, 64, 65
  - rationality and culture, 185

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

668

INDEX

- Kedourie, Elie
     claims to self-determination, 67–8 theory of nationalism, 65
- Kiss, Elizabeth
     ‘nationalism’ defined, 437
- Kristeva, Julia foreigners and society, 360
     immigrant’s choice of loyalties, 172
     transformative effect of competing allegiances, 187–8
- labour migration. See migrant labour
- labour rights, citizenship and, 439–49
- land
     constitutional recognition of Indigenous claims, 122 importance for Indigenous identity, 121–2 recognition of historical Indigenous title, 158–9. See also place
- language, common language and
     nationality, 72–3
- Lauterpacht, Elihu
     nationality and human rights, 560
- Le Bon, Gustave
     social Darwinism and ethnicity, 530
- liberalism
     allegiance and, 408–11
     citizenship testing and inclusion/exclusion within, 183–7 cultural identity and, 408–11
     ethnicity and, 524
     identity and, 408–11
     ‘progressive’s dilemma’, 221, 224
     racism and, 355–6. See also equality;
         Rawls, John
- Liechtenstein. See Nottebohm Case
- low-skilled labour. See migrant labour
- MacCormick, Neil
     identity-based constitutional claims, 73–4
- Malaysia
     low-skilled/unskilled migrant labour. See migrant labour
- ‘marginalising racism’
     authors’ analytical approach, 18, 193
     conclusions as to, 218–20
     contemporary expressions of, 193 contradiction within, 193 early expressions of, 192
     essentialism and, 203–4 expression according to audience, 216–18
     fuzzy sets and, 206
     Glass Ceiling effect and, 204–5 group-boundary permeability beliefs, 201–3
     intergroup mergers and re-categorisation in relation to, 205
     origin of, 192
     perceptions of group identity, 206–15
     psychological processes of, 196–201 related social-psychological processes, 203
     self-categorisation theory and, 195–6
     social identity theory and, 194–5 subgrouping and, 205–6 tokenism and, 204
- Marshall, T. H. tripartite division of rights, 427, 439, 443
- Mason, Andrew
     forms of national identification, 234–5, 237
- Matua, Makau
     refugee as powerless, 322
- membership
     allegiance as indicator of, 42–3 indicia of, 34
     individual cases as to inclusion in indigenous group, 152–5
     legal understandings of, 50–1
     of independent political community, 561–3
- migrant labour
     allegiance and identity in relation, 427–8
     authors’ analytical approach, 23–6
     citizenship and labour rights/
         workers’ rights in relation, 439–49
     definition of, 426–7

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

669

- ‘dual labour market’ theory, 444
- economics and political justice in relation, 443–6
- globalisation and, 427, 447–9
- low-skilled/unskilled labour in South East Asia
  - allegiance and identity in relation, 435–9
  - author’s analytical approach, 22–3, 426–8
  - characterisations of, 430–5
  - conclusions as to, 449–50
  - economic dependence on, 429–30
  - non-integration of, 428–9
  - political and security implications, 432–5
  - protection at regional/transnational level, 448–9
  - responsibility for protection of, 428
  - skilled/professional migrants legally distinguished from, 430–2
  - vulnerability as non-citizens, 428–30
- migration as positive choice, 21–2
- resistance to and restriction of rights, 359
- right to work, historical precedents, 446–9
- Solomon Islands. See Solomon Islands
- South East Asia. See Singapore
- temporary migration. See temporary migration
- migration
  - allegiance and, 362–3, 407
  - assisted passage, 359
  - attitudes towards ‘the foreigner’, 21
  - authors’ analytical approach, 20–1, 354–7
  - children, 381–2
  - colonialism and, 123–8, 358–9
  - community and, 360–2
  - conflict with local custom, 124–5, 126–7, 128–30
  - constitutional reform demands as response, 130
  - customary law and, 138–41
  - ethnic unrest, 117, 118, 130–1
  - Europe in nineteenth century, 357–8
  - identity and, 364–5, 407
  - integration and, 101–2
  - legitimisation of dehumanising measures, 354
  - liberalism and, 408–11
    - vulnerability as non-citizens. See also temporary migration
  - local resentments against, 127–8
  - nationality and naturalisation laws, 365–8
  - post-independence, 128–31
  - racial drivers for restrictive legislation, 368–70
  - restrictive jurisprudence
    - continuing influence, 377–9
    - emergence, 373–7
  - rise of non-European, 373
  - Solomon Islands. See Solomon Islands
  - sovereignty and. See sovereignty
  - temporary migration. See temporary migration
  - terrorism prevention and, 20, 291
  - white hegemony and, 359–60. See also freedom of movement; immigration; refugee law
- Mill, John Stuart
  - liberalism and liberty, 183–4
- Millbank, Jenni
  - refugee as powerless, 327–8
- Miller, David
  - trust and welfare distribution, 227
- minorities
  - definitional issues, 522–3, 530–1, 533
  - ethnic and racial persecution of, 67–8
  - ethnicity-based approach to international protection, 539–41
  - ethnicity-based perceptions of, 25, 522–5
  - liberal notions of inferiority, 534
  - ‘otherness’, 524, 531–8
- moral consensus and regional integration, 99–100
- multiculturalism, diversity and cohesion in relation, 225–6

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

670

INDEX

- multinational corporations, allegiance to, 459–60
- multinational states, national democracies compared, 71
- multiple allegiances
  - globalisation and, 472–3
  - Hong Kong. See Hong Kong
  - identity and, 456
  - legal regimen over, 473–5
  - maintenance of, 11
  - new concept of legal order as to, 475–7
  - prisoners. See also dual citizenship. See Hu, Stern
- narrative identities
  - asylum seeking as transformative experience, 311–12
  - author's analytical approach, 20–1, 312–14
  - conclusions as to, 348–53
  - ethical aspects of recognition, 334–9
  - externalisation within legal personhood, 345–8
  - human rights and refugee narratives in relation, 321–9
  - in refugee law context, 329–30
  - institutional aspects of creation, 325–9
  - institutional barriers to creation, 325–9
  - persecution, fear of future recurrence, 330–4
  - retellings of, 340–5
  - self-narrative in human rights context, 321–3
- nation states
  - collapse of, 59
  - formation processes, 71
  - multinational democracies compared, 71
- national identity
  - analytical focus on, 6–7
  - author's analytical approach, 222
  - common language and, 72–3
  - constitutional claims based on. See identity-based constitutional claims
  - definition, 57
  - diversity and, 221–2, 223
  - formation of, 6–7
  - forms of national identification, 234–5, 237
  - immigration and, 18–19
  - in modern constitutional systems, 58
  - industrialisation and, 6–7
  - protection within European Union, 54
  - social cooperation and, 226–7
  - trust and, 227–31
- national law
  - international law in relation, 2
  - welfare distribution. See welfare distribution
- national security
  - achievement of, 3
  - allegiance and, 9–10
  - allegiance and identity as motivation for enlistment, 231–8
  - authors' analytical approach, 19–20
  - citizenship and, 19
  - democracy and, 89–92
  - forms of national identification, 234–5, 237
  - international focus of, 222–3
  - recruitment of migrants, 237–8
  - sovereignty and, 19
- national sovereignty. See sovereignty
- national unity. See unity
- nationalism
  - civic nationalism and common culture distinguished, 223
  - definition of, 437
  - ethnocentrism and, 67–8
  - migrant labour and, 438. See also self-determination
- nationality
  - and individual rights, 560
  - and internet. See internet-based social media
  - as alienage, 259–61
  - 'belonging' and, 26
  - changing conception of, 563–4
  - citizenship and
    - author's analytical approach, 544–5
    - conclusions as to, 565–7

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

671

- membership and belonging in relation, 542–4
- Nottebohm* Case. See Nottebohm Case
- relationship between, 548–51
- concept in international law, 545–7
- definition of, 503–5, 542
- ‘effective nationality’ doctrine. See Nottebohm Case
- international humanitarian law and. See protected persons
- international sport. See Olympic nationality
- migration and, 365–8
- state succession and, 505–8
- ‘native’ defined in native title jurisprudence, 155–8
- Netherlands
  - citizenship testing, 177–83
- New Guinea, Australian mandate, 37–9
- non-citizens
  - citizens’ rights distinguished from, 248–50
  - indefinite detention, 245
- non-indigenous law
  - difficulties with recognition of indigenous title, 149–52
  - effects on indigenous identity, 160–4
  - limitations as to reconciliation with non-indigenous society, 164–5
- Norfolk Island, Australian sovereignty over, 39–42
- Nottebohm* Case
  - critique, 552–5, 557–8
  - ‘effective nationality’ doctrine application, 470–1, 555–7
  - exposition, 47, 503–5, 553–4
  - limitations, 558–60
  - facts, 551–2
  - ICTY jurisprudence and, 499
  - Olympic nationality and, 481, 485–6, 487
- Offe, Claus
  - identity-based constitutional claims critiqued, 62–4
- Olympic nationality
  - and changes in citizenship practice and culture, 482–4
  - author’s analytical approach, 23–4, 478–9
  - commodification of citizenship, 490–2, 564
  - conclusions as to, 495–6
  - future of, 492–5
  - regime of, 480–2
  - restoration of concept of, 484–90
- Ong, Aihwa
  - citizenship and migrant labour, 430–1
- Orgad, Liav
  - ‘inside-out communities’, 171
- ‘otherness’. See ethnicity; minorities
- ‘outsider’, outlaw as, 269–70
- Packer, John
  - definition of ‘minorities’, 537–8
- Patricia Owens
  - refugee as powerless, 326–7
- patriotism and armed forces enlistment, 231–8
- peace
  - achievement of, 3
  - peace and security as goal, 96–7
- ‘people’
  - constitutional concept of, 12–13, 31–2
  - cultural identification of, 43–4, 49–50
- persecution, refugees’ fear of, 315–17
- Pettit, Philip
  - ‘discursive control’ concept, 346
- philosophical insights
  - ethnicity, 523–4
  - expressivism (Taylor), 345
  - externalisation (Hegel), 345–6. See also political philosophy; Rawls, John
- place, importance for indigenous identity, 117, 119
- pledge of allegiance. See citizenship pledges
- ‘political criminal’ concept, 267
- political inequality. See equality

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

672

INDEX

- political justice, economics and, 443–6
- political philosophy
  - ‘discursive control’ concept, 346
  - of regional integration, 98–9
- primordialism. See ethnicity; minorities
- Principle of Constitutional Tolerance (‘PCT’), 109–11
- prisoners. See Hu, Stern
- ‘progressive’s dilemma’, 221, 224
- protected persons
  - author’s analytical approach, 24–5, 497
  - conclusions as to, 520–1
  - general international law as to nationality and citizenship, 503–8
- Geneva Convention IV
  - ICTY approach to interpretation, 512–17
  - ICTY jurisprudence as to nationality requirement, 499–503
  - ICTY jurisprudence critiqued, 503
  - nationality and allegiance, 508–12
  - personal application, 498
  - policy implications, 518–20
  - ‘nationality’ defined, 503–5
  - state succession and, 505–8
- psychology, ‘marginalising racism’. See ‘marginalising racism’
- public law. See national law
- race
  - analytical focus on racial identity, 7
  - constitutional definition of, 146–9
  - difference. See diversity
  - ethnicity and, 525–9, 530–1
  - marginalisation. See ‘marginalising racism’
  - racism and liberalism, 355–6
  - restrictive migration legislation, 368–70
- Ratzinger, Josef
  - religion and secularism, 113
- Rawls, John
  - equality and allegiance in relation, 569–70
- international law of peoples, 573–4
- moral principles of international equality, 584
- moral principles of international relations, 578–9
- plural conceptions of social justice, 575–8
- politics and social justice, 570–3
- Razack, Sherene
  - refugee self-narration, 328
- ‘real and effective nationality’. See Nottebohm Case
- re-categorisation and ‘marginalising racism’, 205
- reconciliation, limitations of non-indigenous law, 164–5
- refugee law
  - categorisation of refugees, 316
  - claims for refugee status, 20–1, 317–21
  - fear of persecution, 315–17
  - narrative identities. See narrative identities
  - principles and processes overviewed, 314
  - ‘refugee’ defined, 315
- regional identity, analytical focus on, 7
- regional integration. See European Union
- regional/transnational protection of migrant labour, 448–9
- religion, balance of religious and secular worldviews, 104–5, 111–13
- republicanism, identity-based constitutional claims and, 70–4
- Ricoeur, Paul
  - refugee self-narration, 330
- rights
  - citizenship and right to work, 439–49
  - citizenship, social rights and labour market participation, 446–7
  - human rights. See human rights
  - tripartite division of, 427, 439, 443
- Risse, Thomas
  - citizenship and migrant labour, 447
- Rothstein, Bo
  - trust and welfare distribution, 229–30

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

673

- Ruth (biblical figure)
  - as exemplar of immigrant's choice of loyalties, 171–5
- Schmidt, Vivian
  - European economic cooperation, 108–9
- Scotland
  - Declaration of Arbroath (1320), 60
  - identity-based constitutional claims, 62–3
- secularism, balance of religious and secular worldviews, 104–5, 111–13
- security
  - national. See national security
  - peace and security as goal, 96–7
- self-categorisation theory and 'marginalising racism', 195–6
- self-determination
  - nationalism and ethnocentrism in relation, 67–8
  - recognition of right, 64–5
- self-identity. See identity
- self-narrative. See narrative identities
- Shachar, Ayelet
  - Olympic nationality and commodification of citizenship, 490–2
- Shils, Edward
  - ethnicity and primordialism, 525
- Singapore
  - low-skilled/unskilled migrant labour. See migrant labour
- social cohesion
  - armed forces recruitment and. See national security
  - citizenship testing as tool for, 175–83
  - immigration and, 18–19, 221–2, 223
  - multiculturalism and, 225–6
  - welfare distribution and, 227, 239
- social Darwinism and ethnicity, 530
- social exclusion
  - analytical focus on, 8
  - authors' analytical approach, 17–19
  - citizenship testing and, 183–7
  - discrimination and, 17
  - social identity theory and 'marginalising racism', 194–5
- social inclusion
  - achievement of, 3
  - analytical focus on, 8
  - authors' analytical approach, 17–19
  - citizenship testing and, 183–7
  - discrimination and, 17
- social psychology. See 'marginalising racism'
- socio-economic inequality. See equality
- sociological notions of ethnicity, 525–9
- Solomon Islands
  - authors' analytical approach, 15–16, 117–20
  - colonialism and migration, 123–8
  - constitutional rights and freedoms
    - customary law and, 123
    - scope of, 122
  - 'Ethnic Crisis' ('the Tension'), 117, 118, 130–1
  - freedom of movement
    - constitutional provision for, 132–5
    - customary law and, 135–7
    - development of Melanesian jurisprudence, 137–8
  - geography, 120
  - land
    - constitutional recognition of indigenous claims, 122
    - importance for indigenous societies, 121–2
  - membership, forms of indigenous, 120–1
  - migration
    - colonial period, 123–8
    - conflict with local kastom, 124–5, 126–7, 128–30
    - constitutional reform demands as response, 130
    - customary law and, 138–41
    - ethnic unrest, 117, 118, 130–1
    - local resentments against, 127–8
    - post-independence, 128–31
- South east Asia. See Malaysia; Singapore

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

674

INDEX

- sovereignty
  - conclusions as to, 379–80
  - definitions of, 36
  - European Union and national, 54
  - historical sovereignty over external territories, 39–42
  - migration and
    - assertion of sovereignty, 354
    - authors' analytical approach, 21, 354–7
  - multiple allegiances and, 10
  - security and, 19
  - Vattel's theory of, 371–3
- sport. See Olympic nationality
- state succession and nationality, 505–8
- 'status crime', Haneef Case as, 292
- 'strangers inside'
  - allegiance and, 171–5
  - definition, 170–1
  - 'inside-out communities', 171
  - positive role of, 169. See also 'foreigner'
- system of law
  - effectiveness, 568–9
  - legitimacy, 569
  - success criteria, 568
- Taylor, Charles
  - expressivism, 345
  - refugee self-narration, 330–1
- temporary migration
  - allegiance and, 411–13
  - authors' analytical approach, 22, 407–8
  - concept of, 414–19
  - conclusions as to, 424–5
  - cultural identity and, 411–13
  - differential rights, 419–24
  - identity and, 411–13
  - liberalism and, 407, 411–13
- territory within state, multiple
  - allegiances. See Hong Kong
- terrorism prevention
  - allegiance and, 9–10
  - authors' analytical approach, 19–20
  - citizenship stripping. See citizenship stripping
  - extra-criminal punishment. See extra-criminal punishment
  - migration law and, 20
  - rhetorical justification for
    - legislation, 276–81
  - terrorism prevention and, 291
  - terrorist as 'political criminal', 268–74
- title to land. See land
- tokenism and 'marginalising racism', 204
- tolerance, Constitutional Tolerance Principle ('PCT'), 109–11
- Torpey, John
  - sovereignty and migration, 361–2
- Torres Strait Islander peoples. See Australia
- transformative effect of competing allegiances, 187–91
- transnational identity, analytical focus on, 7
- transnational law
  - authors' analytical approach, 23–6
  - protection of migrant labour, 448–9
- trust
  - and national identity, 227–31
  - diversity and, 225
  - particularised and generalised trust distinguished, 228–9
- uniformity, goal of, 3
- United Kingdom
  - child migrants to Australia. See child migrants
  - citizenship and national security, 19
  - citizenship stripping. See citizenship stripping
  - identity-based constitutional claims, 73–4
  - migration jurisprudence, 377, 378
  - migration law, 365
  - nationality and naturalisation laws, 366–7
  - socio-political notions of race, 526. See also Scotland
- United Nations
  - refugees. See refugee law
  - right of self-determination, 65
- United States
  - allegiance and identity and armed forces enlistment, 232–5

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07433-0 - Allegiance and Identity in a Globalised World

Edited by Fiona Jenkins, Mark Nolan and Kim Rubenstein

Index

More information

INDEX

675

- citizenship and migrant labour, 430–1
- identity-based constitutional
  - claims, 74
- impartiality and moral equality, 581–5
- migration jurisprudence, 374–5
- nationality and naturalisation laws, 367–8
- political inequality, 570
- racial/ethnic difference and welfare
  - distribution, 224–5
- rhetorical justification for anti-terrorism legislation, 276–8
- socio-economic inequality, 579–81
- unity
  - analogical unity in European Union, 109–11
  - citizenship pledge as statement of, 175–6
- unskilled labour. See migrant labour
- Uslaner, Eric
  - particularised and generalised trust distinguished, 228–9
  - trust and welfare distribution, 229–30
- van den Berghe, Pierre
  - ethnicity and primordialism, 525–6
- Vattel, Emer de
  - judicial interpretations of, 375–9
  - theory of sovereignty, 371–3
- voluntary migration. See migration
- Walker, Neil
  - constitutional sovereignty principle, 53–4
- Walzer, Michael
  - citizenship and migrant labour, 443
- Weiler, Joseph
  - European economic ideal, 97–8
  - European integration goals, 95
  - European political ideal, 98–9
  - idea of European Union, 55, 56, 103–4
  - notion of peace in Europe, 96–7
  - Principle of Constitutional Tolerance ('PCT'), 109–11
  - welfare distribution
    - as national law function, 222–3
    - conclusions as to, 239
    - diversity and trust, 225
    - 'progressive's dilemma', 224
    - racial/ethnic difference and, 224
    - social cohesion and, 227
    - social cooperation and national identity, 226–7
    - trust and national identity in relation, 227–31
- white hegemony, migration and, 359–60
- Woodruff, Todd
  - allegiance and identity and armed forces enlistment, 233–4
- workers' rights, citizenship and, 439–49
- Yugoslavian ethnic conflict. See protected persons
- Zetter, Roger
  - 'refugee' defined, 326
  - refugee self-narration, 328