

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07572-6 - Representing the Advantaged: How Politicians Reinforce Inequality

Daniel M. Butler

Index

More information

Index

Note: page numbers followed by b, f, n, or t indicate boxes, figures, notes, or tables respectively.

- advanced placement programs. See also children
 mayors' background and issues regarding, 6, 9–10
 testing information, mayors, and SES using, 64–66, 67–68, 68b, 70–74, 126
- African Americans. See black legislators;
 blacks
- aliases
 differentiating personal preferences from strategic discrimination using, 20–21
 holding other variables constant using, 89–90
 for race and ethnicity and personal bias study (2010), 93n, 93–94, 94n, 95, 95n
 for race and personal bias study (2008), 86–87, 87n, 90t, 90, 93–94n reasons for, 25
 used in study of gender bias, 75, 75n
 used in study of retiring legislators, 32, 32–33n
- Almanac of American Politics*, 16
- American Municipal Officials Survey (2012)
 density distribution by response type for cities, 59f
 details of, 57–58, 58t, 58n, 59
 geographic distribution of state legislators surveyed in, 60f
 municipal officials participating in, 60f
 testing for bias in processing constituents' opinions using, 45–46
 testing for city officials' perceptions by constituents' gender using, 50–51, 51b, 52t, 53
 answered-question measure, definition of, 29–30, 70–74
- Arab American Institute, 87n, 93n
- attorney. See bias in processing constituents' opinions
- background of politicians. See also bias in processing constituents' opinions;
 demographics of legislators
 bias in representation and, 1–2, 3, 10–11, 127
 inequality and, 118
 information efficiency and, 5–6, 12, 62–63
 insight-based information and, 16
 as key information source, 15
 proactive behavior and, 13–16
 staff for, casework behavior and, 7
- Bartels, Larry M., 3, 19–20
- Bertrand, Marianne, 20–21
- bias against given groups, 19–20
- bias in legislative outputs, 85
- bias in politics
 concluding thoughts on, 127
 differences in information and, 118–119
 different, for different groups, 120–121, 121t
 discounting opinions of low-SES constituents and, 121–122

- bias in politics (cont.)
- districts maximizing political interests of
 - minority voters and, 124–126
 - diverse staffs and, 126
 - economics paradigm for, 117
 - gender and, 122–123
 - multimember districts and, 123–124
 - politicians' background as source for
 - inequality, 118
 - potential of end to, 119–120
 - potential solutions for, 123–126
- bias in processing constituents' opinions
- descriptive representation, SES and, 49–50
 - details of National Municipal Official Survey (2012), 57–58, 58t, 59f, 59, 60f
 - details of state legislator survey (2012), 59–60, 60f, 61t, 61
 - discussion of field experiments on, 56–57
 - by female state legislators, 74–80
 - information gathering and, 43
 - Kingdon on two rationalizations for, 17–19
 - legislators' responses to SES tests of, 47–48, 48t
 - by municipal officers, constituents' gender and, 50–51, 51b, 52t, 53
 - by municipal officers, constituents' SES and, 43, 45f, 45n, 46n, 46, 46–47n, 50, 56–57
 - pluralism and, 56
 - rationalizing discounting some constituents'
 - opinions, 43–44, 44n, 45
 - as respondents in state legislator survey (2012), 60f
 - Schattschneider's critique of pluralism and, 56
 - by state legislators, constituents' race or ethnicity and, 53–54, 54b, 55t, 56
 - survey experiments testing for, 45f, 45n, 45, 46
- bias in representation. See also background of politicians; personal bias or preferences
- differences in information as source of, 5–6, 118–119
 - different, for different groups, 120–121, 121t
 - doubts regarding, 6–7
 - evidence of, 2–3
 - experiments on, advantage of, 6–8
 - factors leading to, 12
 - political participation effect on, 1
 - politicians' background and, 1–2, 3, 10–11, 127
 - politicians' personal preferences and, 3–5
 - projecting an end to, 119–120
 - representatives as source of, 1–2
 - voter turnout differences and, 3
- black legislators
- issues regarding blacks and, 4n
 - partisanship and in-group favoritism by race and ethnicity by, 99
 - personal bias and race and ethnicity among, 96n, 98–99, 110n
 - Voting Rights Act and elections of, 113
- blacks. See also racial and ethnic groups; racial discrimination; racial redistricting
- aliases used for, 86–87, 90, 93–94n
 - Georgia's Eleventh District and, 16
 - preferences of, as policy change predictors, 2–3
- Broockman, David E., 24n, 84n, 86–87, 103, 112
- Burden, Barry C., 4n, 15
- Cameron, Charles, 4n
- campaigning. See also reelection-motivated politicians
- time for constituent communication during, 38
- candidate emergence, research on elite political participation and, 127
- Canon, David T., 7
- car taxes
- mayors' responses to questions about, 70–71, 74
 - questions about, as SES indicator, 69b, 69–70
- caring about issues, intensity of, as rationalizing discounting some constituents' opinions, 17, 44
- Carmines, Edward G., 88
- casework. See also constituents' requests
- experiments on bias in representation and studying responses to, 7
 - as lawmaker duty, importance of studying, 31–34, 34t, 35
- Center for American Women and Politics, Rutgers University, 75
- children. See also advanced placement programs; education issues; school vouchers
- discrimination by city officials and, 69–70
 - of mayors, information about schools and, 64–66
 - private schooling for, legislators and, 5

Index

143

- cities
 mayors' responsiveness by SES treatment and wealth of, 64n, 70–73, 73f, 74
 types of, in American Municipal Officials Survey (2012), 58t, 58–59, 59f, 60f Citizens United (2010), 120
 city officials. See also mayors constituents' SES and school voucher letters to, 43, 45f, 45n, 46, 46n
 finding contact information for, 57–58, 58n, 59
 civil rights issues. See also black legislators; blacks; minority legislators; Voting Rights Act
 black legislators' and issues regarding, 4n Cobb-Douglas equation, 14n, 14, 15
 committee assignments, for legislators, information from, 66, 66n Congress, members of (MCs)
 approval ratings and communication by, 36t, 36
 not responding to all communications to, 37–38
 rationalizing discounting some constituents' opinions, 17
 retirement and roll call behavior of, 32–34, 34t, 35
 studies of state and local officials compared to studies of, 26–28
 Congressional Management Foundation, 28, 31
 conservatives, ideological, Reagan's positions and preferences of, 2 constituency service field experiments. See also constituents' requests; mayors; state legislators
 aliases used for, 32–33n
 design and interpretation issues for, 9
 electoral benefit of responding to constituent requests, 35–36, 36t, 37
 e-mail as tool for, 28
 ethical considerations in, 24–25, 25n, 26, 26n
 on information and gender, 74–75
 as measurement tool, 24
 measuring responses to constituents' requests, 28–30 politicians' view of responsive service as duty, 31–33, 33n, 34t, 35
 questions used for, 39–42
 reasons all requests not responded to, 37–38
 roll call vote studies compared to, 30–31
 state and local officials as target of, 24n, 26–28
 states selected for, 33n
 subjects for, 23–24
 constituency size, for Congress vs. state and local officials, 27
 constituents' requests. See also bias in processing constituents' opinions
 descriptive representation and study of, 7, 7n
 electoral benefit of responding to, 35–36, 36t, 37
 examining other forms of service provision than, 88–89
 importance of studying responses to, 31
 measuring legislators' responses to, 4
 reasons officials not responding to all, 37–38
 for service, responses to policy requests vs., 27–28
 signaling partisan preferences and race of sender, 86–87n
 using real names vs. aliases for studies of, 89–90
 Cooperative Congressional Election Study (CCES) (2008), 36t, 36
 Cyert, Richard M., 13
 Dahl, Robert A., 53–54
 Deardorff, Alan V., 13–14
 deception. See also aliases
 field experiments on public officials by academics and, 25
 DeLauro, Rosa, 38
 democracy. See also representation
 APSA task force on inequality and, 1
 Democratic Party
 aliases used to indicate, 90t, 90
 blacks and, 87–88
 influence districts and, 124
 minority legislators' of, partisan responsiveness to minority constituents by, 100, 102t, 110n
 time to respond to race and personal bias e-mails, 90–91, 92f
 demographics of legislators. See also background of politicians behavior in office and, 4n
 bias in representation and, 5n
 information gleaned from and work on issues related to, 15

- descriptive representation
 bias against racial minorities and, 10
 bias in processing constituents' opinions and, 48t, 49–50
 bills legislators sponsor and, 4n
 city mayors' background and responsiveness to issues, 9–10
 gender bias and, 10
 information and gender study and, 79–80
 informational advantage of, 123–124
 Latino discrimination and, 98–99
 mayors' responses and, 70–74
 observed benefits of, racial redistricting debates and, 99–100
 quality of deliberation over new issues and, 15–16
 state legislators' responsiveness to constituents' requests and, 88–89
 in state legislatures, committee assignments and, 66–67
 studies of Congress vs. state and local officials of, 26–27
 study limitations, 7
 substantive representation and, 124–126
- descriptive representatives, quality of deliberation over new issues by, 16
- direct discrimination
 discussion of personal bias and legislative responsiveness and, 111–112 discussion of race, ethnicity, party, and public policies and, 112–113
 discussion of strategic discrimination and, 112
 in legislative outputs, 85
 partisanship and in-group favoritism by race and ethnicity, 99–100, 101t, 102t
 personal bias related to gender, 110, 111t
 personal biases, legislative responsiveness and, 85–86
 racial redistricting and, 115–116
 results on race and personal bias, 96t, 96–97, 97t, 99
 scenario with potential for, 84–85
 strategic discrimination and in-group bias by race or ethnicity, 100–104, 104t, 107t, 109t, 110
 testing race and personal bias, 86–87, 87b, 90t, 92f, 93
 testing race, ethnicity and personal bias, 93–94, 94b, 96
 Voting Rights Act and, 113–114, 114f, 115
- district offices. See also racial redistricting
 racial composition of neighborhoods and location of, 7
- Doherty, David, 17–18
- Dowling, Conor M., 17–18
- Dynes, Adam, 45–46, 57–59
- economics, understanding elections and representation and, 117
- education issues. See also advanced placement programs; free lunch programs; school vouchers legislators' sending children to private schools and, 5
 mayors' information about, 64–66
 personal roots of representation and, 4n
 reasons for studying mayors, SES, and, 66n, 66, 67
 as women's issue, 76t, 77, 77n
- efficiency of information
 politicians' background and, 5–6, 12
 reelection-motivated politicians and, 120
- elections. See also reelection-motivated politicians; voter turnout
 economics paradigm for representation and, 117
 as incentive to respond to constituents' requests, 35–37
 by plurality vote, racial discrimination and, 119–120
 primary, state legislators' responsiveness to constituents' requests and, 92–93
 testing personal preferences and race among state legislators before, 90–91
- elite political participation
- e-mail
 asking for help, roll call votes vs., 30–31
 increased volume of, 38
 language for, potential SES differences in, 48–49
 phone surveys compared to, 57–59
 separating effect of information from effect of in-group bias and, 68b, 68–69, 69b, 70
 simplicity and generic nature of, 26
 for testing gender bias in processing constituents' opinions, 50–51, 51b, 52t, 53
 for testing mayors, information, and SES, 63n, 63, 64, 64n, 68b
 for testing racial or ethnic bias in processing constituents' opinions, 53–54, 54b, 56

Index

145

- for testing SES bias in processing
 - constituents' opinions, 45f, 46, 46n
 - text of, possible discrimination against low-SES individuals and, 67–68
 - use of, for constituency service field experiments, 28
- employment, information and gender study
 - question on, 76t, 77, 77n
- Epstein, David, 4n
- ethics, field experiments on public officials by academics and, 24–26
- ethnic groups. See Latinos; racial and ethnic groups
- expertise of other legislators
 - forwarding constituents' request to take advantage of, 81–82
 - reliance of legislators on information from, 118–119
- favoritism. See also in-group bias
 - Bartels on political participation and, 3
 - as direct group bias, 19–20
 - economics paradigm for representation and, 117
 - policy debates on institutional design and, 85–86
 - politicians' personal preferences and, 5, 118
- federal officials. See also Congress, members of favoring high-SES individuals, 67
- female legislators. See also women
 - abortion and women's health issues and, 4n, 5
 - information, constituents' requests and, 74–80
 - information about women's issues and, 122–123
 - numbers of and representation by, 81
 - personal bias related to gender by, 111–112
 - responding to state legislator survey (2012), 59–61, 61t
 - responsiveness to constituents' requests by, 77–78, 78t, 78n, 80
 - two-candidate vote share of, 75, 75n
- Fenno, Richard F., 17–18, 19–20
- Fiorina, Morris P., 31
- Ford, Harold, Jr., 7
- form letters
 - constituents' SES in processing opinions and, 46–47
 - gender bias in processing constituents' opinions and, 50–53
 - legislators' perceptions of, 48t
 - race or ethnicity in processing constituents' opinions and, 53–54
- free lunch programs. See also education issues
 - mayors' background and issues regarding, 9–10, 70–74
 - politicians' background and issues regarding, 6
 - testing information, mayors, and SES using, 64
- Fryer, Roland G., Jr., 20–21, 90
- gender bias. See also women
 - descriptive representation and, 10
 - legislators' perceptions of letters and, 45–46
 - in processing constituents' opinions, 50–51, 51b, 52t, 53
 - race and economic discrimination compared to, 122–123
 - representation and, 120–121, 121t
 - by state legislators, partisanship and, 110, 110n, 111t
 - studies of Congress vs. state and local officials of, 26–27
- Gerber, Alan S., 17–18
- Griffin, John D., 3, 30–31
- Grose, Christian R., 7, 124–126
- Ha, Shang E., 9–10, 63–64, 80–81
- Hall, Richard L., 13–14, 26
- Harden, Jeffrey J., 31
- harm from experiments, minimizing, 25
- health, as women's issue, 76t, 77, 77n
- high-SES constituents. See wealthy voters
- housing, renting or owning, as SES indicator, 69–70
- Huber, Gregory A., 17–18
- income level of legislators. See also
 - low-income voters; middle-income Americans; wealthy voters
 - bias in processing constituents' opinions and, 49–50
 - low, numbers of and representation by, 81
 - surveys and, 47, 47n
- inequality
 - APSA task force on American democracy and, 1
 - politicians' background as source for, 118
- influence districts, 124–126

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07572-6 - Representing the Advantaged: How Politicians Reinforce Inequality

Daniel M. Butler

Index

More information

146

Index

- information. See also background of politicians
 baseline, of elected officials, 12, 118
 bias driven by lack of, projecting an end to, 119–120
 bias in, legislators' background and, 13–16
 city mayors, SES and, 63–68, 68b, 69b, 70
 Cobb-Douglas equation on voters and, 14n, 14, 15
 as collective benefit, 81–82
 on constituent group membership, strategic discrimination and, 20–21
 costs of, in shaping legislators' behavior, 13
 costs of, officials proactive effort levels and, 62, 80–83
 costs of, statistical analysis of legislators' behavior and, 14–15, 15n
 differences in, as source of bias, 5–6, 118–119
 differentiating other factors' effects on politicians' behavior from, 8
 discussion of field experiments on, 80–83
 on education, mayors, SES and, 66–67
 gathering, about constituents' opinions, 43
 importance of, 62–63
 Pareto improving effect of, 123
 quality of deliberation over, 15–16
 results of study on mayors, SES, and, 70t, 70–72, 72f, 73f, 74
 separating effect of in-group bias from effect of, 68–70
 sources of, for mayors, 64–66
 sources of, politicians' background as, 15
 state legislators' gender, constituents' requests and, 74–76, 76t, 78t, 80
 study of mayors, SES and, 63n, 63, 64
- in-group bias (personal preference)
 information and gender study and, 77
 by mayors, in SES and information study, 71, 72f
 mayors' use of information and, 67–68
 by minority legislators, 97t, 98–99
 by race or ethnicity, 111–112
 by race or ethnicity, partisanship and, 97t, 99–100, 101t, 102t
 by race or ethnicity, strategic discrimination and, 100–104, 104t, 110
 separating effect of information from effect of, 68–70
 testing for, 21–22
 use of term, 21–22, 85–86
- insight-based information, deliberation over new issues and, 16
- issue politics
 constituents' level of interest and, 17
 decision making by politicians and, 18–19
 public officials on constituents' understanding of, 17–18
- Jacobs, Lawrence R., 17–18
 janitor, office park. See bias in processing constituents' opinions
 Justice, Department of, 16
- Karpowitz, Christopher, 27–28, 36–37, 89–90
 Kerr, Brinck, 98–99
 Kingdon, John W., 13, 17
- labor, organized, legislators' working-class backgrounds and, 4n
 labor market discrimination
 fictitious names and resumes used in studies of, 25
 personal preferences and, 20–21
- Latino legislators, personal bias and race and ethnicity among, 95–96
- Latinos. See also racial and ethnic groups
 aliases used for, 93–94n
 discrimination by state legislators against, 98–99
 personal preferences of state legislators and, 93–94, 94b, 96
 preferences of, as policy change predictors, 2–3
- legislators. See also background of politicians; bias in representation; Congress, members of; expertise of other legislators; political elites; staff, legislative; state legislators
 average comparisons across groups of, 25
 bias effects on constituent preferences and, 8–9
 discounting intensity and thoughtfulness of low-SES constituents by, 9
 ethical considerations in experimenting on, 24–26
 field experiments on, as racial discrimination audits, 25n
 gender differences and responsiveness by, 9
 ideology of, constituents' personal preferences and, 2
 increased volume of communications sent to, 38

Index

147

- liberal, working-class backgrounds and, 4n
 measuring bias toward racial minorities,
 women, and low-income constituents by,
 4–5
 measuring not changing behavior of, 24
 measuring responses to constituents’
 requests of, 4, 28–30
 proactive behavior of, information costs
 and, 80–83
 responses to constituency service field
 experiments and, 23–24, 24n
 retiring, constituent requests and, 9, 124
 as subjects of study, 7
 testing responsive service as duty, 31–33, 33n, 34t, 35
 testing responsiveness to constituents’
 requests by, 7
 as trustees of low-income constituents’
 opinions, 121–122
- Levitt, Steven D., 20–21
- library, public
 mayors’ information about, 64–66
 mayors responding to questions about, 70–71, 74
 questions about access to, 62, 68b
 separating effect of information from effect
 of in-group bias and, 68–69
- linked fate, as nonstrategic motive for bias, 19–20
- local officials. See also city officials; mayors
 as study group, 26–28
- low-income constituents. See also low-income
 voters
 city officials and, 81–82
 discounting opinions of, 121–122
 gender bias compared to discrimination against, 122–123
 information and gender study question
 indicating, 77
 in mayors’ study, balance of town’s wealth
 and size and, 64n
 preferences of, as policy change predictors,
 2
- low-income legislators
 numbers of and representation by, 81
- low-income voters. See also low-income constituents
 discrimination against, e-mail text and potential for, 67–68
 measuring legislators’ bias toward, 4–5
 politicians’ background and issues for,
 5–6
- public officials discounting intensity and thoughtfulness of opinions of, 9
 rationale for political participation by, 49
 strategic targeting of, 19–20
- Lublin, David I., 99, 125
- mail. See constituents’ requests; e-mail
- majority-minority districts
 Democrats in office and, 115–116
 in Georgia (1995), 16
 for increased access to office for racial minorities, 120
 maximizing political interests of minority
 voters and, 124–126
 substantive representation and, 99–100
- Making Democracy Work* (Putnam), 24
- managers, mayors as, 66–67
- Mangum, Maurice, 126
- Mansbridge, Jane, 16
- March, James G., 13
- Martin, Christopher, 126
- Mayhew, David R., 66–67
- mayors
 aliases used in studies comparing behavior
 of, 25
 e-mail text and possible discrimination against low-SES individuals by, 67–68
 information sources for, 64–66
 personal knowledge of, 62
 reasons for studying education, SES, and, 66n, 66, 67
 responsiveness to constituents’ requests by, 9–10
 separating effect of information from effect
 of in-group bias by, 68–69, 69b, 70
 SES, information and, 63–70, 80–81
 SES, personal bias and, 81–82
 study of SES, information and, 63n, 63, 64, 68b
 study results on SES, information, and, 70t, 70–72, 72f, 73f, 74
- MCs. See Congress, members of
- media, scrutiny of Congress vs. state and local officials by, 27
- members of Congress. See Congress, members
 of
- middle-income Americans, preferences of, as policy change predictors, 2
- Miller, Will, 98–99
- Miller v. Johnson* (1995), 16
- minority legislators. See also black legislators
 among state legislators, 93–96

- minority legislators (cont.)
 identifying, 93n
 numbers of and representation by, 81
 partisanship and in-group favoritism by race and ethnicity by, 100, 102t
 personal bias and race among, 96n, 96, 98
 strategic discrimination and in-group bias by race or ethnicity by, 100–104, 104t, 110, 110n
 use of race or ethnicity for strategic discrimination by, 108–109, 109t, 110
- minority voters. See also blacks; Latinos
 districts maximizing political interests of, 124–126
- minority-decisive districts, 124–126
- Morrella, Connie, 15
- Moss Kanter, Rosabeth, 81
- motivated reasoning, decision making and, 18–19
- Mullainathan, Sendhil, 20–21
- multimember districts, representation and, 123–124
- names. See aliases
- National Association of Latino Elected Officials, 87n, 93n
- National Caucus of Native American State Legislators, 87n, 93n
- National Conference of Black State Legislators, 87n, 93n
- neighborhoods, racially- and economically-divided, bias in representation and, 5n
- new issues, descriptive representatives and quality of deliberation over, 16
- Newman, Brian M., 3, 30–31
- nonstrategic bias. See also strategic discrimination
 motives for, 19–20
- nonvoters, legislators' appeals to, 20
- O'Halloran, Sharyn, 4n
- omitted variable bias, constituency service field experiment on information and gender and, 75
- out-group bias (prejudice)
 as nonstrategic motive for bias, 19–20
 policy debates on institutional design and, 85–86
- Pareto improvement, definition of, 123
- participation. See political participation
- partisan preferences (partisanship
 of constituents, legislators' response to requests and, 10
 in-group favoritism by race or ethnicity and, 97t, 99, 101t, 125
 in-group favoritism by race or ethnicity by minority legislators and, 100, 102t
 personal preferences or strategic discrimination and, 87–88
 race, ethnicity, public policies and, 112–113
 strategic discrimination and indicators of, 95
 strategic discrimination, in-group bias and, 103–104, 104t
 Swain on majority-minority districts and, 115–116
 use of aliases to randomly assign, 25
- personal bias or preferences
 bias driven by, projecting an end to, 119–120
 bias in politicians' proactive actions and, 6, 10–11, 12
 differentiating information effects on politicians' behavior from, 8
 differentiating strategic discrimination from, 20–21, 87–88
 in-group, 21–22, 85–86
 information and gender study and, 77
 as nonstrategic motive for bias, 19–20
 of politicians, 3–5
 and race among state legislators, 86–87, 87b, 93, 96t, 96n, 96, 98
 and race and ethnicity among state legislators, 93–94, 94b, 96, 97t, 98–99
 socioeconomic status and, 81–82
 of state legislators, VRA and, 114f, 114–115
 strategic discrimination compared to, 22
 of wealthy Americans, Reagan and, 2
- personal experiences, mayors' information about schools and, 64–66
- personal roots of representation, Burden on, 4n
- pluralism
 proponents on characteristics of, 56
 representation and, 17
 Schattschneider's critique of, 56
- political elites. See also Congress, members of; legislators; mayors
 as subjects of study, 7, 23–24, 24n
- political participation. See also elections; voter turnout
 APSA task force on inequality and, 1
 Bartels on favoritism and, 3

Index

149

- bias related to race and, 117n
- elite, candidate emergence research and, 127
- equal representation and equal treatment and, 117
- by high-SES vs. low-SES individuals, 49
- research on representation and inequality and, 127
- types of and responses to, 31
- politicians. See also Congress, members of; legislators; mayors
 - issue salience, issue information, and decision-making by, 18–19
- poll results, public officials on constituents' understanding of issues and, 17–18
- Pope, Jeremy C., 27–28, 36–37, 89–90
- preclearance provision, Voting Rights Act, 113–114, 114f, 115
- primary elections
 - state legislators' responsiveness to constituents' requests and, 91–93
- professionalism of legislative offices
 - diverse staffs and, 126
 - responses to constituency service field experiments and, 23–24, 24n
- proportionality standard, representation and, 81
- public library. See library, public
- public opinion, constituents' political knowledge and, 44
- public policies, race, ethnicity, party and, 112–113
- public schools, personal roots of
 - representation and choices with regard to using, 4n
- Putnam, Robert D., 24, 26
- questions
 - used in constituency service field experiments, 39–42
 - used in information and gender study, 76t, 77, 77n
 - used in personal bias and race and ethnicity study, 93, 95n
 - used in personal bias and race study, 86–87
- racial and ethnic groups. See also blacks; Latinos
 - aliases used to indicate, 90t, 90
 - bias against, descriptive representation and, 10
 - bias in representation of, 120–121, 121t
 - Griffin and Newman on voter representation and, 3
 - legislative staff background and casework for, 7
 - legislators' perceptions of letters and, 45–46
 - legislators' race and responsiveness to, 30–31
 - measuring legislators' bias toward, 4–5
 - numbers in Congress vs. state and local officials, 26–27
 - partisanship, public policies and, 112–113
 - preferences of, as policy change predictors, 2–3
 - representatives' responsiveness and political participation by, 31
 - state legislators' bias in processing opinions by, 53–54, 54b, 55t, 56
 - strategic discrimination and information conveyed by, 20–21
 - testing for nonstrategic bias against, 19–20
- racial discrimination
 - elections by plurality vote and, 119–120
 - federal agency audits of government programs on, 25n
 - gender discrimination compared to, 122–123
 - personal preferences of state legislators and, 86–87, 87b, 93–94, 94b, 96t, 96n, 96, 98
 - politician's personal preferences and, 118
- racial redistricting
 - Democrats in office and, 115–116
 - in Georgia (1995), 16
 - maximizing political interests of minority voters and, 124–126
 - substantive representation and debates on, 99–100
- rationalizations, for discounting some constituents' opinions, 17, 43–44, 44n, 45
- Reagan, Ronald, 2
- reelection-motivated politicians
 - elections by plurality vote and, 119–120
 - importance of information for, 62–63
 - inequality and, 127
 - information costs shaping behavior of, 13–14, 118
 - information differences as source of bias in, 5–6
 - responses to constituents' requests by, 35–37
 - voter targeting by, 19–20
- religious affiliation
 - choices with regard to using public schools and, 4n
 - gender bias compared to discrimination due to, 122–123

- representation. See also bias in representation;
 descriptive representation
 breakdown of, bias in processing
 constituents' opinions and, 17–19
 breakdown of, overview of, 12
 critical thresholds of representatives for, 81
 direct group bias and, 19–20
 districts maximizing political interests of
 minority voters and, 124–126
 diverse staffs and, 126
 economics paradigm for elections and, 117
 equality in, APSA task force on political participation and, 1
 groups' rate of political participation and, 12–13
 legislators' strategic considerations in study
 of, 20–22
 multilevel districts and, 123–124
 pluralism and, 17
 of politically disadvantaged groups,
 informational benefit of, 81–82
 potential solutions for improving, 123–126
 proactive, background of politicians' effect
 on, 13–16
 substantive, racial redistricting debates and,
 99–100
- Republican Party
 aliases used to indicate, 90t, 90
 blacks and, 87–88
 minority legislators of, responsiveness to minority constituents by, 100n
 racial redistricting and, 124
 time to respond to race and personal bias
 e-mails, 90–91, 92f
 white legislators, use of race or ethnicity for strategic discrimination by, 106–108, 108n
- responded measure, definition of, 29–30, 70–74
- retirement, constituents' requests and
 prospects of, 32–34, 34t, 35, 124
- “The Right to Write: Some Suggestions on Writing Your Congressman” (Udall, 1967), 37
- Robert, John G., 114
- roll call votes
 constituents' preferences predicting, 52–53
 retirement prospects and behavior toward, 32–34, 34t, 35
 studying constituency communication
 compared to study of, 30–31
- Rothenberg, Lawrence S., 32–35
- Rouse, Stella M., 16
- Rutgers University's Center for American Women and Politics, 75
- Salisbury, Robert H., 23–24, 126
- Sanders, Mitchell S., 32–35
- Schattschneider, E. E., 56
- Schiller, Wendy J., 123
- school vouchers. See also children
 constituents' SES and letters to city officials
 on, 43, 45f, 45n, 46, 46n
- schools, public, personal roots of representation and choices with regard to using, 4n
- Shapiro, Robert Y., 17–18
- Sharp, Phil, 15
- Shelby County, Alabama v. Holder* (2013), 114
- Shepsle, Kenneth A., 23–24, 126
- Shor, [no first name], 53n
- Smith, Melancton, 118–119
- Sniderman, Paul M., 88
- Snyder, James M., 124
- social desirability bias
 constituency service field experiment on information and gender and, 74–75
 officials not responding to constituents'
 requests and, 37–38
 self-reporting problems and, 88
- social interactions, bias in representation and, 5n
- socioeconomic status (SES)
 bias in processing constituents' opinions
 and, 45n, 45, 46–48, 48t, 49–50, 56–57
 bias in representation and, 120–121, 121t
 mayors, information and, 63–70
 personal bias and, 81–82
 reasons for studying mayors, education,
 and, 66n, 66, 67
 results of study on mayors, information,
 and, 70t, 70–72, 72f, 73f, 74
 separating effect of information from effect
 of in-group bias, 68–69, 69b, 70
 strategic discrimination and indicators of,
 91–93, 95
 strategic targeting of voters and, 19–20
 study of mayors, information and, 63n, 63, 64, 68b
 text surveying legislators' perceptions of
 letters and, 45f
- staff, legislative
 background of, casework behavior and, 7

Index

151

- diverse, improving representation with, 126
- responses to constituency service field experiments and, 23–24, 24n
- state legislators. See also female legislators; minority legislators; white legislators, non-Latino
 - campaign season, constituents' requests and, 90–91, 92f
 - e-mail addresses for, 86n
 - gender and responsiveness to constituents' requests by, 78t
 - geographic distribution of, in 2012 survey, 60f
 - information from committee assignments for, 66, 66n
 - not responding to all communications to, 37–38
 - personal bias and race among, 86–87, 87b, 93
 - personal bias and race and ethnicity among, 93–94, 94b, 96, 111–112
 - personal bias related to gender by, 110, 110n, 111t
 - racial or ethnic bias in processing constituents' requests by, 53–54, 54b, 55t, 56
 - response rates for personal bias and race and ethnicity study, 97t, 98–99
 - response rates for personal bias and race study, 96t, 96n, 96, 98
 - response to partisan preferences of putative constituents, 103–104, 104t
 - response to past turnout behavior of putative constituents, 104t, 104–106
 - selection for retirement and roll call behavior study, 33, 33n
 - as study group, 26–28
 - survey details (2012), 59–60, 60f, 61t, 61
- states
 - selected for American Municipal Officials Survey, 58–59, 60f
 - selected to test representatives on responsive service as duty, 33n
- Stevens, John Paul, 16
- strategic discrimination
 - aliases used for study of, 25
 - definition and use of, 85
 - differentiating personal preferences from, 20–21, 87–88
 - in-group favoritism by race or ethnicity and, 100–104, 104t, 107t, 110, 112
 - personal preference compared to
 - sources for, 91–93
 - substantive representation, racial redistricting debates and, 99–100
 - Supreme Court, 113, 114, 120
 - Swain, Carol M., 115–116, 125
 - Swers, Michele L., 16
- taxes. See also car taxes
 - information and gender study question on, 76t, 77, 77n
- time, burden of
 - in field experiments, 26, 26n
 - response rates and, 53, 53n
- timely-response measure, definition of, 29–30, 70–74
- tobacco use, choices with regard to using public schools and, 4n
- turnout. See voter turnout
- UCLA Asian American Studies Center, 87n, 93n
- Udall, Morris K., 37
- Ueda, Michiko, 124
- validity, external, in constituency service field experiments, 23–24
- Verba, Sidney, 7n, 12–13
- voter targeting, vote maximization for reelection and, 19–20
- voter turnout. See also elections; political participation
 - political inequality and, 3
 - strategic discrimination and indicators of, 91–93, 95
 - strategic discrimination, in-group bias and, 104t, 104–106, 112
- voting, information and gender study question on, 76t, 77, 77n
- Voting Rights Act, Supreme Court on, 113–114, 114f, 115
- wealthy Americans
 - government service by, 118–119
 - mayors as, 70–74
 - in mayors' study, balance of town's wealth and size and, 64n, 70–73, 73f, 74
 - preferences of, as policy change predictors, 2
- wealthy voters
 - influence over public officials by, 49
 - politicians' background and issues for, 5–6
 - reasons for mayors' possible in-group bias toward, 67–68

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07572-6 - Representing the Advantaged: How Politicians Reinforce Inequality

Daniel M. Butler

Index

More information

152

Index

- welfare, as women's issue, 77, 77n
- white legislators, non-Latino
 - bias in favor of white constituents by, 10–11
 - partisanship and in-group favoritism by race and ethnicity by, 100, 101t
 - personal bias and race among, 96–98
 - personal bias and race and ethnicity among, 93–95, 96n, 97t, 98–99
 - Republican, use of race or ethnicity for strategic discrimination by, 106–107, 107t, 108, 108n
 - strategic discrimination and in-group bias by race or ethnicity by, 100–104, 104t, 110
- whites, non-Latino
 - aliases used for, 86–87, 90, 93–94n
 - identifying, 93n
 - state legislators' personal bias and race and ethnicity, 93–96
 - women. See also female legislators; gender bias
 - measuring legislators' bias toward, 4–5
 - representatives' responsiveness and political participation by, 31
 - testing for nonstrategic bias against, 19–20
 - working-class backgrounds
 - support for organized labor issues and, 4n
 - underrepresentation of people with, 120
 - work-related experience, mayors' information about schools and, 64–66