THE HUMAN FACE OF THE EUROPEAN UNION

This collection asks a direct but complex question: is the EU humane enough? The implementation of EU law and policy and its balance between economic and social values continues to provoke debate. Providing fresh insight, Nuno Ferreira and Dora Kostakopoulou present a novel analytical framework, centred on the notion of humaneness, for assessing EU law and policy. This innovative approach leads to recommendations for policy change towards a more humanistic philosophy for the EU. Broad in its scope, this remarkable volume draws together interdisciplinary perspectives from contributors who examine key EU law and policy fields, including economic integration, asylum, free movement, citizenship, development and security. This book is essential reading for scholars, students and policy-makers seeking new ways of exploring the economic versus social values debate in EU law.

NUNO FERREIRA is Professor of Law at the University of Sussex.

DORA KOSTAKOPOULOU is Professor of European Union Law, European Integration and Public Policy at Warwick Law School.

PREFACE

The idea for this book stemmed from the organisation of a conference co-organised by the co-editors of this book and held at the University of Manchester in July 2012. That conference was generously funded by the Manchester Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence (JMCE, www.socialsciences.manchester.ac.uk/jeanmonnet/) and the University Association for Contemporary European Studies (UACES, www.uaces.org), which the editors gratefully acknowledge.

From the initial conference in 2012 until the publication of this book, plenty of time passed by and considerable amounts of dedication were dispensed. We would therefore like to thank all the people who, one way or the other, have contributed to this book coming to fruition. This includes, above all, all the authors who kindly agreed to contribute to this book, all the staff at Cambridge University Press who have assisted in this publication, the Liverpool European Law Unit (LELU) of the University of Liverpool for sponsoring a workshop gathering many of the contributors, and Julia Bradshaw and Swati Gola for collaborating in the edition of the final outcome.
