Contents

List of figures viii
Foreword by Sir Edwin Southern xv
Acknowledgements and original sources xviii
Brief chronology xxi
Honours xxii
Introduction xxv

1 · A Quaker upbringing 1

2 · How about studying insulin? 9

3 · Radioactive sequencing of proteins and nucleic acids 16

4 · Interview of Fred by the author in 1992: Early life 40

5 · Interview of Fred by the author in 1992: Insulin and the Biochemistry Department, University of Cambridge 68

6 · Interview of Fred by the author in 1992: Nucleic acids at the MRC Laboratory of Molecular Biology, Cambridge 98

7 · Post-Sanger sequencing: high-throughput automated sequencing 136

8 · Cancer: the impact of new-generation sequencing 146

9 · Commentaries on Fred Sanger’s scientific legacy 153
   Paul Berg, Elizabeth Blackburn, Sir John Sulston,
   David Bentley and Paul Nurse

Epilogue 167

Appendix: Complete bibliography of Fred Sanger 171

Notes 179

Index 190