

CONTENTS

Foreword by Air Chief Marshal Sir Angus Houston	page vii
Maps and chart	xiv
Figures and table	xv
Contributors	xvii
Acknowledgements	xxii
Abbreviations	xxiv
Military symbols on maps	xxvi
Introduction	1
PART I STRATEGY	7
1 Advancing National Interests: Deciding Australia's War Strategy, 1944–45 David Horner	9
2 The Southwest Pacific Area: Military Strategy and Operations, 1944–45 Peter J. Dean and Kevin Holzimmer	28
3 Holding on to the Finish: The Japanese Army in the South and Southwest Pacific, 1944–45 Hiroyuki Shindo	51
PART 2 AUSTRALIA AT WAR	77
4 The Long Silence: Australian Prisoners of the Japanese Joan Beaumont	79
	xi

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08346-2 - Australia 1944–45: Victory in the Pacific

Edited by Peter J. Dean

Table of Contents

More information

xii CONTENTS

5	Total War on the Australian Home Front, 1943–45 Michael Molkentin	98
PART 3 GREEN ARMOUR AND SPECIAL OPERATIONS		119
6	Learning and Adapting for Jungle Warfare, 1942–45: The Australian and British Indian Armies Daniel Marston	121
7	Intelligence and Special Operations in the Southwest Pacific, 1942–45 John Blaxland	145
PART 4 THE NAVAL AND AIR WAR		169
8	The RAN at War, 1944–45 Ian Pfennigwerth	171
9	‘On the scrap heap of the Yanks’: The RAAF in the Southwest Pacific Area, 1944–45 Mark Johnston	190
PART 5 THE NEW GUINEA CAMPAIGN		209
10	‘Given a second rate job’: Campaigns in Aitape-Wewak and New Britain, 1944–45 Lachlan Grant	213
11	More Than Mopping Up: Bougainville Karl James	232
PART 6 THE BORNEO CAMPAIGN		253
12	Amphibious Warfare: Training and Logistics, 1942–45 Rhys Crawley and Peter J. Dean	257
13	‘To capture Tarakan’: Was Operation Oboe 1 Unnecessary? Tony Hastings and Peter Stanley	278
14	‘Unique in the history of the AIF’: Operations in British Borneo Garth Pratten	298

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-08346-2 - Australia 1944–45: Victory in the Pacific
Edited by Peter J. Dean
Table of Contents
More information

CONTENTS xiii

15 ‘Calling the tune’: Australian and Allied Operations at Balikpapan Garth Pratten	320
Afterword: And Then Came Peace? Michael McKernan	341
Index	345