

Index

- Academy of Human Resource Development (AHRD), 524, 527–30, 537 Academy of Management (AOM), 537 adaptive performance, 75–92 anticipated vs. unforeseen circumstances closed vs. open skills, 89
 cognitive ability, 78–81
 environment, 88
 maximum vs. typical measurement contexts, 89–90 motivational traits, 82–84
 personality, 81–82
 proximal states, 84
 training design, 84–87
 attitudinal training, 91–92 conceptual relation to transfer, 76–78
 definition, 76
 post-training intervention, 91 adaptive thinking training, 243–44 after-action reviews, 245–46
 American Psychological Association, 523
 American Society for Training Directors (ASTD). See Association for Talent Development (ATD) Association for Talent Development (ATD), 522, 523 attention, 30–32, 159
 augmented reality (AR), 278–89, 299, 308 accelerated learning, 286–87
 definition, 278–80
 embedded training, 281
 feedback, 281–82
 human–machine system interaction, 287–88 medical uses, 282–86 social interaction, 288–89 tunneling effect, 285 automation, 1

 behavioral change, 12–13
 behavioral modeling training, 444, 458, 459, 460 Brunswik Symmetry, 129 business school teaching, 495–514 balancing roles, 507–12 competing commitments, 511
 mindfulness, 510–11
 positivity, 510
 class size, 505–06
 class time, 506
 cultural context, 504
 facilities, 505
 ‘guide’ role, 497–98
 institutional context, 505, 511–12 lectures, 496–97
 program culture, 505
 quality, 514
 relevance to professional trainers, 512–13 ‘ringmaster’ role, 499, 501–02, 503–04, 508
 ‘rockstar’ role, 498–99, 501, 502, 503, 508 ‘sage’ role, 498
 student knowledge, 506–07
 student openness, 506

 Cattell-Horn-Carroll theory of ability, 125 codifiability of knowledge, 46
 cognitive ability, 123–42, 442, 445 aptitude-by-treatment interaction, 134–35, 140, 141–42 crystallized intelligence, 126, 133
 demographic differences, 177–78 domain knowledge, 126–27, 130–31, 133, 138–39 executive control, 133–34
 fluid intelligence, 125–26, 130–31 general vs. specific ability, 127–30, 133, 138 group performance, 136
 historical overview, 124–25 teamwork, 135–38, 140 training technologies, 140–41 cognitive frame-changing, 242–43 cognitive load, 235, 331 extraneous load, 20, 21–22, 23 germane load, 20, 22
 intrinsic load, 20
 communication training, 391 competitive advantage, 41, 42–43, 44, 48, 55, 481, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552–53, 556, 557, 558, 560

- conscientiousness, 53, 77, 78, 81, 82, 90, 104, 114–15, 164, 204, 211, 214, 312, 427, 443, 445, 446, 577 contextual interference, 236–37 corporate social responsibilities, 483
 cross-training, 385
 crystallized intelligence, 138
 cultural intelligence (CQ), 407–33 attribution training, 412, 431 behavioral, 409, 431
 benefits of training, 413 cognitive, 409
 cultural awareness training, 412 Cultural Intelligence Scale (CQS), 410, 423–24 culture of training participants, 432 culture shock, 411
 didactic training, 412, 424 efficacy of training, 413–27, 430 expatriate vs. student studies, 431 experiential training, 412–13, 424, 429–30 individual differences, 426, 432 intercultural experience, 427–29 metacognitive, 409
 motivational, 409
 multinational teams, 425 parallel training methods, 431 psychological capital, 425 research design, 430–31 role-play training, 426 social learning theory, 413
 transfer, 431–32
 trigger events, 425–26
 U-curve of adjustment, 411–12
 Cultural Intelligence Center, 407 deep specialization. See expertise deliberate performance, 239–40 demographic groups, 175–92 age, 177, 179–80, 184–85, 188, 191

 cognitive ability, 177–78
 disability, 178, 180, 185, 189
 diversity training, 91
 gender, 177, 179, 184, 187–88
 goal orientation, 181
 group-specific training, 191 obesity, 180, 186, 189
 parental status, 178, 180, 185–86, 189 race, 177, 179, 184, 188 religion, 178, 180, 186, 189
 self-efficacy, 178–81
 stereotypes
 definition, 182
 tailored overcoming with tailored training, 190–91 trainee internalization, 186–89 trainer prejudice, 182–86 design thinking, 475

 developmental job assignments, 246–47
 diversity training, 91, 413, 471, 568–69, 572, 639
 for trainers, 190

 effortful training, 23–26
 e-learning, 99, 148, 164, 166, 238–39, 298–300, 443, 570, 573, 585. See also augmented reality; mobile learning; simulation-based training engagement, 14–20
 cognitive vs. behavioral, 18 entrepreneurship education, 364 error management training, 27, 444, 457, 459–60, 578 ethics training, 91
 Europe
 effectiveness of training, 637
 overall training levels, 634–35 specific-skill equilibrium, 636
 unequal access to training
 cumulative advantage, 635
 gender, 635
 evidence-based management, 475, 478 experiential learning, 475, 477 expertise, 228–48
 adaptive
 definition, 233–34
 learning from work experience, 235–36, 244–47
 training for, 241–44
 developmental trajectory, 230–31
 importance of, 228
 performance indicators, 231–32 routine
 definition, 233–34
 learning from work experience, 235–36, 239–41
 training for, 236–39
 Explore oil company, 474, 478–79, 482–83, 484

 feedback, 18, 19, 20, 24, 27, 47, 86, 88, 105, 149, 154, 155, 156, 157–58, 161, 165, 263, 443–44, 452, 475, 571, 572 augmented, 237
 augmented reality (AR), 281–82
 customer data, 576
 Feedback Intervention Theory (FIT), 150, 158, 329 hospitality industry, 568, 572, 576
 informal learning, 599
 terminal vs. concurrent, 263 Five-Factor Model of personality, 81, 104, 114
 fluid intelligence, 138

 gamification, 168
 generative processing. See meaningful training German ‘dual system’ training, 627–28

- goals, 85, 86, 87, 151, 152, 153, 155, 157, 160–61, 166–69, 444, 449, 463
- goal hierarchy, 150–51
- goal orientation, 155–57, 162–64, 169–70, 388–89, 443, 445, 451
- demographic differences, 181
- goal-performance discrepancy (GPD), 149–50, 152, 153, 154, 156, 157, 158, 159, 167, 168
- multiple goals, 159–60
- psychological capital (PsyCap), 451–53, 456–58, 460
- guided discovery learning, 241–42
- Hispanic Americans, 345–57
- Corporate Executive Development Program (CEDP), 352–56
- corporate underadvancement, 346–47
- improving career development, 350–51, 357
- improving recruitment
- selection criteria, 349
- strategies, 349
- inadequate mentoring, 347–48, 350
- misleading cultural traits, 348
- negative employer bias, 347, 349, 350, 356
- population growth, 346
- social media use, 348, 349
- hospitality industry, 566–79
- diversity training, 572
- e-learning, 570, 573
- employee satisfaction, 570
- employee turnover, 577–78
- error management training, 578
- evaluation of training, 571–72, 574
- feedback, 568, 571, 576
- flexible human resource
- development, 578–79
- individual differences, 568–69, 573, 574
- informal learning, 570, 573, 577–78
- mystery shoppers, 568, 577
- needs assessment, 568–69, 572, 574
- service-profit chain (SPC), 575–76
- transfer, 571, 573–74, 577
- human capital theory, 551, 553, 626, 633, 637
- Human Information Processor, 12
- human resources development (HRD)
- flexible systems, 578–79
- history, 523–24, 525
- knowledge, skills, abilities, and other characteristics (KSAOs), 549, 550, 551, 552, 554
- mediated effects of training, 551–53
- migration to business schools, 537
- professional organizations, 527–28
- prospects for co-operation with industrial and organizational psychology, 535–39
- research overlap with industrial and organizational psychology, 528–35
- talent strategy, 549, 551
- cultural differences, 558–59
- evaluation of training, 557–58
- implicit vs. explicit, 559
- needs assessment, 554–56
- reevaluation of training, 558
- senior vs. junior roles, 559
- training methods, 557
- transfer, 556–57
- types of human capital, 550–51
- i0553
- learning curve calculations, 616
- industrial and organizational psychology
- history, 524–26
- migration to business schools, 536–37
- professional organizations, 527
- prospects for co-operation with human resources development (HRD), 535–39
- research overlap with human resources development (HRD), 528–35
- informal learning, 585–602
- affective domain, 596
- confidence, 599
- definition, 586–88, 602
- economic rationale, 586
- e-learning, 585
- evaluation, 600–01
- extent of participation, 596–97
- feedback, 599
- hospitality industry, 570, 573, 577–78
- individual development, 52–53
- learning as by-product, 588
- learning embedded in work, 588
- learning materials, 599
- management attitudes, 599–600
- methodological research problems, 590–94, 601–02
- mobile learning, 311
- organizational climate, 598–99
- self-study skills, 598
- 70-20-10 proposition, 594–95, 601
- tacit vs. explicit knowledge, 598
- tenure, 595–96
- transfer facilitation, 586
- triggers framework, 595
- workplace preparation, 585
- in-job training vs. VET sector, 635–37
- interleaving, 24–25
- learner control, 98–115
- general psychology of control, 100–02
- individual
- control motives, 104–06, 114–15
- perceived control, 102–04
- interactionism, 99

- learner control (cont.)
 situational actual control, 107–08
 contextual control, 108–11, 115
- learning
 definition, 13–14
- Massive Open Online Courses, 141
- meaningful training, 20–23
- meta-cognition, 27
- microfoundations, 49–50
- mindfulness, 303–04, 326–28, 510–11
- mind-wandering, 324–26
- mobile learning, 293–313
 accessibility, 300 competence with devices, 305–06 content co-production, 309, 311–12
 data collection, 305
 definition, 294–97
 device selection, 303–04
 distractibility, 300–02
 vs. e-learning, 298–300 electronic performance support systems (EPPS), 585 employee preference, 302 evaluation of learning, 309–10 formal vs. informal learning, 311 individual learning styles, 306 informational vs. instructional resources, 304–05 job flexibility, 302–03
 learner control, 307
 microlearning, 306–07
 relapse prevention, 309 screen size, 308–09
 situational connectedness, 297, 299, 307–08
 work/life balance, 304
- motivation to learn, 19, 52, 78, 84, 86, 99, 104, 105, 123, 150, 153, 154, 164, 166, 167, 169, 170, 175, 176, 179, 209, 242, 261, 281, 283, 301, 307, 313, 442, 445, 454, 456, 458, 462, 501, 524, 532, 573, 599, 639
- multinational corporations, 388, 407
- neuroscience, 26–32
- neuroticism, 445
- non-economic sociology of workplace training, 638–39
- objective self-awareness theory, 328–29
- open book management, 475, 477
- operations management, 607–20 configuration, 609
 co-worker learning, 618
 cross-training, 608
 data collection, 620
 demand uncertainty, 607–08 experience and quality, 616–17 pooling, 608
- skill pattern and allocation, 610–16
 learning curve calculations, 612–16 training and future learning, 618 workload, 618–19
- organizational expertise absorptive capacity, 53–54 dynamic capabilities, 54–55, 57–59 emergence, 39, 56
 evolutionary perspective, 42–43, 49 exploration vs. exploitation, 54, 59–61 first and second order capabilities, 55 human capital, 48–49
 individual development
 informal learning, 52–53
 socialization, 51
 training, 51
 knowledge integration, 47 knowledge-based perspective, 43 operational vs. innovative, 44–46, 47–48, 55 organizational learning, 56–57 resource-based perspective, 41–42 routines, 49–50
 trust vs. control, 46
- performance trajectories, 91, 164–65
- personality, 443
- personalized training, 22
- positive organizational behavior (POB), 447, See also psychological capital
- positive organizational psychology, 447
- positive organizational scholarship, 447
- practice, 23–24, 443–44, 445
 variability, 25
- pre-performance instruction, 245
- pre-training guidance, 22
- process mapping, 391
- psychological capital (PsyCap), 425, 447–65
 collective, 450
 hope, 447–48, 451–52, 454, 456–57 malleability, 450, 463 mediating effects, 450, 463 moderating effects, 450, 463 needs analysis, 455–56
 optimism, 448, 452, 454, 457 PCI training, 451–54, 463–64 resiliency, 448, 452–53, 454
 self-efficacy, 448, 452, 454, 458, 462, 464 training evaluation, 461–62
 transfer, 454, 460–61
 work outcomes, 448–50
- realistic job preview, 257
- realistic orientation programs for new employee stress (ROPES), 458–59
- realistic training preview, 458, 460
- recruitment
 baby boomer retirement, 546 low labor participation, 546

- recruiting skilled workers vs. training, 639–40 skills gap, 546–47
- scaffolding, 237–38
- scenario-based training, 259
- Schlenker's accountability theory, 204–07
- Science of Learning vs. Science of Training, 11
- science–practice gap, 160–62, 165–66, 536
- scientific management, 98
- segmenting, 22
- self-efficacy, 154–55, 156, 157, 159, 178–81, 443, 445, 448, 452, 454, 458, 462, 464, 571, 573, 596, 599
- self-reflection, 328–30
- self-regulation, 17, 29, 131–32, 133–34, 140, 148–70, 237, 388, 444–45, 457 cognitive apprenticeship, 240–41
 slack time, 332–34
 task complexity, 158–59, 170
 teams, 395
- simulation-based training (SBT), 256–71, 444 aviation use, 264
 banking industry use, 265–66 benefits, 257–58
 crew resource management use, 264 debriefing, 263–64
 definition, 257
 development of, 266
 disadvantages, 258
 effectiveness, 269
 feedback, 263
 fidelity, 262, 269–70
 healthcare use, 264–65
 interactivity, 261–62
 management education use, 265 military use, 264
- slack time, 318–37
 breaks, 335
 creativity, 323–24, 325
 definition, 321–22
 emotional states, 335
 engineering definition, 322
 individual differences, 334
 mindfulness, 326–28
 mind-wandering, 324–26
 perspective-taking, 330–31 play, 336
 psychological growth, 335 resource slack (cognitive psychology), 322, 324 self-control, 326–27
 self-reflection, 328–30
 self-regulation, 332–34
 'slow movement', 321, 336 time affluence, 322
 time famine, 320
 time pressure, 322–23, 324 sleep, 28–30
- small and medium enterprises (SMEs), 363–77 attitudes to training, 365–66, 376
 'bite-size training', 368 country-specific differences, 373
 definition, 364, 376
 economic centrality, 363
 effectiveness of training, 371–72
 family vs. non-family, 369–70, 373 growth vs. survival, 369 HR research gap, 374–75 informal training, 367–68, 376–77 owner control issues, 366 poaching, 366–67
 reactive training, 368
 resource constraints, 366 size effects on training, 369, 373 training content, 370–71
- SMU Cox School of Business, 352
- Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology (SIOP), 523, 527, 528–30, 536, 537
- Southwest Airlines, 474, 477–78, 481–82, 483–84
- spaced learning, 18–19, 29, 159
- Stereotype Content Model, 182–83
- stress training, 391
- systems thinking, 471–88
 beneficiary realm, 479–83 business realm, 475–79
 history, 472–74
 job autonomy, 485–86
 societal realm, 483–84
 visual aids, 486–87
- teams
 behavioral modeling, 394–95 collaborative technologies, 400 crew resource management, 385, 387
 cross-training, 387
 cultural intelligence (CQ), 425
 definition, 135
 efficacy, 391, 397
 error management, 394–95 formal vs. informal training, 399 healthcare industry, 387 heterogeneity, 390
 hospitality industry, 577
 information boards, 387 intact team vs. team member training, 398–99 interdependency, 135
 longevity, 390
 mindfulness, 395–96
 psychological safety, 391
 self-regulation, 395
 shared mental models, 391 size, 386
 social networks, 397
 stable vs. ad hoc, 386

- teams (cont.)
 taskwork vs. teamwork, 385, 387 training vs. building, 383
 transfer, 396–98
 virtual, 388, 389–90, 399–400
- testing, 25–26
- Training Within Industry Service, 522
- transfer, 47, 52, 113–14, 157, 263, 445–46, See also adaptive performance conflicting job responsibilities, 214
 cultural intelligence (CQ), 431–32 effects of prior knowledge, 139–40 environment, 18, 20, 88, 90–91 horizontal, 39, 397, 472, 487
 hospitality industry, 571, 573–74
 individual differences, 445
 informal learning, 586
 multidimensional framework of
 transfer, 207–10
 near and far, 24, 76, 77, 113, 242
 organizational climate, 304, 445–46, 461, 487–88, 577
 post-training support, 446, 462, 556
 practice, 445
 psychological capital (PsyCap), 454, 460–61
 relapse prevention, 309, 446, 460, 462, 463
 talent strategy, 556–57
 team training, 396–98
 trainee accountability, 201–23 attitude cultivation, 215 communicating employer expectations, 211–13 employee selection, 214–15, 217
 importance of, 202–04
 managing expectations, 218
 post-training support, 217–18
 rewarding transfer, 213–14
 Schlenker's accountability theory, 206–07 training–job mismatches, 215–16 vertical, 39–40, 397, 473, 487 compilation, 44, 47
 composition, 44
- USA
 apprenticeship, 628
 community colleges, 628–29
 effectiveness of training companies, 632–33
 employees, 632
 unemployed, 632
 for-profit colleges, 629
 liberal market economy, 636
 overall training levels, 630 underdeveloped training system, 627 unequal access to training, 630–31
 cumulative advantage, 630–31
 gender, 631
- virtual reality, 279–80, 308
 visual aids, 22–23
 'VUCCA' world, 345–46
- Zingerman's, 474, 475–77, 481, 483