

Contents

Acknowledgements	page viii
Note on transliteration	xi
Select glossary of terms	xii
1 Introduction	1
2 Moral economies of communal violence and refugee rehabilitation	19
3 Unwinding Hyderabad's pan-Islamic networks	55
4 Majority rule versus Mulki rule: government service and the Hindu majority	90
5 Secular Muslim politics in a democratic age	119
6 From the language of the bazaar to a minority language: linguistic reorganisation in Hyderabad State and the fate of Urdu	147
7 Conclusion	174
Select bibliography	185
Index	195