The 2007–2010 financial crisis is indicated as Financial Crisis in capitals. Other crises are indicated by financial crisis, crisis, or crises in lower case.

Acocella, Nicola, 153, 199n4, 213n3, 222n12, 225n14, 227 AD–AS models, 67, 84 aggregate supply (AS), 36, 85–86, 162, 163, 277–278. See also supply side policy Aiyagari, S. Rao, 183n23
Albonico, Alice, 165–166
Alesina, Alberto, 137, 171 anchors. See explicit anchors; implicit anchors; nominal anchors Andersen, Torben, 172 André, Christophe, 168 animal spirits, 20, 101 antitrust laws, 1
Argentina, 251n4, 257, 277–278
ARRA (American Recovery and Reinvestment Act), 104–105 Arrow, Kenneth, 7
Aschauer, David, 183n23
Asian Infrastructure and Investment Bank, 261 asynchronous game theory, 178–179 Atomic Energy Community (European), 264 austerity measures. See also fiscal consolidation benefits distribution of, 204 and debt targeting, 181 and employment, 165 in the euro area, 104, 107, 167Fig8.1, 169 and the Financial Crisis, 161 and fiscal multipliers, 165 and the IMF, 165 and public debt, 201–202 and quantitative easing, 165 and revenue rules, 183 in theory and practice, 169–172 Australia, 147–148, 193–194, 223, 229n18 Austria, 223, 292
automatic policy instruments, 56–57 automatic stabilizers, 2, 105, 161, 162, 175–176, 180–181, 273, 288, 291 Backhouse, Roger, 73
Bank of Canada, 106n3, 111–112
Bank of Japan, 111–112, 112n8, 135–136, 145, 149–150
Barro, Robert, 65, 137, 140–141
Barro-Gordon model, 217, 220 Barro–Ricardo proposition, 58–59
Barry, Frank, 172
Basel Committee for Banking Supervision, 257 Baxter, Marianne, 163
Bayoumi, Tamim, 193n1
Index

in the Great Moderation, 9–10
and monetary policy, 287
New Keynesian analyses of, 100 political business cycles, 138–140, 139n11, 139Fig7.4, 219, 220n18 in the UK, 234n2–235n2

Caballero, Ricardo, 100
Caffè, Federico, 25, 26, 219, 260n10
Calmfors, Lars, 211–213
Calmfors-Drifill curve, 211–213, 212Fig10.1, 229
Calvo price setting model, 83
Cameron, David, 222
See also Bank of Canada capital movements, 252–256, 260, 271–272, 282 Caribbean economies, 199–200 the central bank (US). See also Federal Reserve; infation biases; stabilization biases and the conservative central banker, 95Fig5.4 economic theory reconciled with, 79–81 and the Financial Crisis, 124
and inflation, 56, 77, 120
and Keynesian stabilization policy, 72 and monetary transmission, 78–79 and money supply/demand, 18 and optimal policy under discretion, 90–93 and quantitative easing, 107
and the ZLB, 119
central banks. See also Bank of England; conservatism (monetary); ECB; Federal Reserve overview, 129–160 conservatism of, 215–216, 220n10, 220, 221–222 central banks, 94n26, 95, 95Fig5.4, 131, 136n8, 143–144, 175, 275 discretionary policies of, 56, 96, 143–145, 151–152 and the dollar, 262
d the DSGE model used by, 82, 86, 113–114
and the EMU, 272
and exchange rate targeting, 146n17, 147 and fiscal policy, 179–180
and full employment, 144 goals and priorities of, 132, 133Fig7.1
and the Gold Standard, 235
and the Great Depression, 22, 130 independent central banks, 136, 137Fig7.3, 138, 144, 174n13, 175, 226, 271, 290 and inflation, 94–95, 131n2, 132–135, 143n15, 145, 148n19, 177 institutional design recommendations for, 287 liberal central banks, 143n14 and money supply targeting, 145–146 operating principles of, 130–132, 131n2, 143n13, 147
and quantitative easing, 107
and unemployment, 77
and unions, 221
centralized wage bargaining, 211–213

Index

Beetsma, Roel, 275
Belgium, 195n2, 223n13, 264
Benati, Luca, 89
Benigno, Pierpaolo, 158
Bernanke, Ben, 100, 108–109, 115–116, 116n13, 117
Bernoth, Kerstin, 180–181
Beveridge Report, 15
Bikhchandani, Sushil, 256
Blibe, Florn, 163n2
Blanchard, Olivier, 1n1, 3–4, 218n7
Blinder, Alan, 141n12
Bokan, Nikola, 202 boom and recession regions, 194–195 boom and slump cycles, 75. See also business cycles; Real Business Cycle (RBC) theory
Bovenberg, Arij Lans, 275
Brazil, 261, 293–294. See also BRICS Bretton Woods conference/system collapse of, 49–50, 224, 233, 236, 265 and fixed exchange rates, 261–262
and the Gold Standard, 130 international monetary systems deriving from, 9, 130, 233, 240
legacy of, 245–247
purposes of, 238–239
tempered liberalism deriving from, 233
BRICS (five-nation finance group), 261
Britain, 229n18, 268–269, 270n7, 271. See also United Kingdom Brunner, Karl, 73
bubbles, 197
asset bubbles, 148, 197 in business cycles, 101–102 credit bubbles, 197
dot.com bubble, 102–103 housing/real estate bubble, 100–103, 150n20, 286 budget deficits. See also deficits and austerity policies, 169 and debt restructuring, 186–187
and employment, 9
in the Eurozone, 280
and fiscal consolidations, 169–170
and GDP ratios, 272 and macroeconomic imbalances, 196 in recession regions, 194 reductions in, 255
Bundesbank, 58, 130–132, 149, 269, 272
Burns, Arthur, 138n10
Burns-Miller era, 89
Bush, George W., 104–105
Bush tax cuts, 159 business cycles. See also RBC theory asymmetric, 146–147, 236 boom and slumps in, 70–72 bubbles and crashes in, 101–102 business cycle theory, 1n1 discretion, 56–57
Federal Reserve reacting to, 75

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org
Crowding out, 57, 64, 65, 162
Cukierman, Alex, 138, 141n12, 221–222
Cúrdia, Vasco, 118–119
Czech Republic, 272–273
Czechoslovakia, 48
Davig, Troy, 202
De Bonis, R. A., 259
De Gasperi, Alcide, 265
De Grauwe, Paul, 217
Debelle, Guy, 226
debt. See also private debt; public debt competitiveness, 186–187 consolidation, 288
debt ceiling, 105, 183–184, 187–189, 290 deflation, 280n15
dynamics of, 16, 21, 24, 26, 159, 160Fig7.11, 184–186 government debt, 280n15 levels of, 181, 182n20, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 202 restructuring of, 186–187 rules of, 178, 182, 189–190 targeting of, 177–178, 182n20, 183n23, 184, 185Fig8.4, 186–187, 202–203 thresholds of, 189
Debt Commission Rule, 184 debt/GDP ratios and debt limits, 189 in deteriorating demographics, 202–203 dynamics of, 160Fig7.11, 184–186 in the ECB, 179
in Europe vs. US, 278n14
in the Eurozone, 272, 273, 280 increases in, 105Fig6.1, 105 policy responses to, 281 reduction in, 159
debtor countries, 239, 240n5, 241, 260n10 deficit/GDP ratios, 169, 272–273 deficits, 23–24, 57, 182n21, 290. See also budget deficits deflation
and consumption, 23
and contractions, 239
in EMS countries, 268 and expenditure rules, 183
and fiscal policy, 281
and the Friedman rule, 156
and inflation, 138, 152
and interest rates, 23
and monetary policy, 111
and policy outcomes, 175Fig8.3, 176–177 and private investment, 23 symmetric adjustment avoiding, 296
and the ZLB, 122
Del Negro, Marco, 113–114
DeLong, J. Bradford, 62n11 demand management, 34, 56, 288. See also aggregate demand credibility, 98, 110, 113, 114, 132, 138, 144, 147, 151, 153, 154, 165, 174, 175, 178, 182, 183, 190, 244, 257, 262, 267, 268
credit bubbles, 197
credit crunches, 22, 101, 102
credit easing, 106, 108–109, 115
creditor countries, 77, 239, 240n5, 241, 248, 260n10 crisis. See financial crises; Financial Crisis (2007–2011)
crowding, 57, 64, 65, 162, 172 crowding in, 172

Index

Chicago School, 72–73, 79, 98–99. See also Friedman, Milton Chile, 195n2, 218, 253, 258
China. See also BRICS; RMB and the Asian Infrastructure and Investment Bank, 261 as co-hegemon, 263n12 and currency internationalization, 261–262 economic growth in, 261 economic bloc activity of, 293–294
and the Financial Crisis, 102 Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, 48 and the IMF, 263
market deregulation in, 102 and reserve currency status, 262, 263, 295 Christiano, Lawrence, 80, 117–119, 141
Clará, Richard, 75, 86–87, 88, 96
Clinton, Bill, 173
Coenen, Günter, 165–166
Colombia, 253
Common Agriculture Policy, 265n2 Common Market (European), 264–265 communication revolution, 151–154 conservatism (monetary), 131, 135–145. See also central banks: conservative central bankers consumption aggregate, 163
and central banks, 90, 96–98 in contractions, 23, 170–172
and deflation, 23
Euler equation for, 83 fluctuations in, 90, 96
and full employment, 24 and the GDP, 156–157, 157n33, 171 households, 85, 107, 118
and interest rates, 107–108, 111
and private, 20–21, 24, 65, 157n32, 162, 163, 289 public, 156–157, 159, 163n1, 163, 169–170 rationing of, 16, 24, 25 and the stock market crash (1931–32), 22 and taxation, 65, 163n1, 167, 187 coordination between fiscal and monetary policies, 172–177, 274–275, 288 Coricelli, Fabrizio, 213n3 corporatism, 209, 219–220, 222, 224, 225, 227–228 291–292. See also neo-corporatism Council of Economic Advisers (US), 33, 42 credibility, 98, 110, 113, 114, 132, 138, 144, 147, 151, 153, 154, 165, 174, 175, 178, 182, 183, 190, 244, 257, 262, 267, 268
credit bubbles, 197
credit crunches, 22, 101, 102
credit easing, 106, 108–109, 115
creditor countries, 77, 239, 240n5, 241, 248, 260n10
crisis. See financial crises; Financial Crisis (2007–2011)
crowding, 57, 64, 65, 162, 172
crowding in, 172

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
www.cambridge.org

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-11772-3 - Macroeconomic Paradigms and Economic Policy: From the Great Depression to the Great Recession
Nicola Acocella, Giovanni Di Bartolomeo and Andrew Hughes Hallett
Index
More information
Index

and price stickiness, 125, 274 and redistributive fiscal policies, 204 Dunlop, John, 218n8 dynamic controllability, 46–47, 112, 154 East Germany, 173–174, 269–270 Eastern Europe, 48, 258 ECB (European Central Bank) crisis response of, 281 discretionary monetary policies of, 149 fiscal architecture, 266 in fiscal leadership role, 175–176 fiscal policy responses of, 179–180 and forward guidance, 112 functions and objectives of, 272–273 implicit anchors used by, 145 liquidity required of borrowers by, 259n9 price stability commitments of, 107, 132–133, 135–136 private/sovereign debt problems in, 286 econometrics depression fears indicated by, 25–26 in economic policy, 11 and economic theory supremacy, 82 and the Lucas critique, 82, 98–99 as macroeconomic tool, 4n2 and policy evaluation, 59–60 and rational expectations, 80 vs. RBC theory, 80 and state economic intervention, 15 in targets of policy makers, 46 Economic and Monetary Union. See EMU economic liberalism, 233, 248–249 economic policy, 1–12, 44–47, 284–296. See also Keynesian economics economic policy as a discipline. See also logic of economic policy; theory of economic policy definition, 5 ingredients, 8 economic policy as action, 7 Economic Report of the President (1962), 33 economic systems and economic/political analysis, 8 evolution of, 3, 100, 284–285 Friedman on, 49, 63–64 ideas and techniques as factors in, 284 and inflation, 133 in the IS-LM model, 19–20 liquidity in, as policy objective, 26 and price increases, 24 state intervention in, 15 and the trickle down theory, 246 economic theory, 11, 26–27, 79–81, 100, 284–296. See also New Keynesian Theory/approach ECU (European Currency Unit), 267 Ecuador, 251n4 EEAG (European Economic Advisory Group) report, 280 equilibrium. See also DSGE model; goods markets; money markets; Nash equilibrium; securities markets in balance of payments, 253–254, 255–257 discretionary, 94626, 95
Index

in financial markets, 256n7 in goods markets, 17–19 and opaque monetary policies, 152 and policy interventions, 20 and political business cycles, 139 in RBC, 70–72
in securities markets, 17–19
Eriksen, Neil, 60–61
EU. See European Union; Eurozone/euro area Euler equation, 83 euro-dollar market, 252–253 European Atomic Energy Community, 264 European Central Bank. See ECB
European Commission, 200, 201, 259n9
European Common Market, 264–265
European Court of Justice, 190 European Currency Unit (ECU), 267
European integration, 264 European Monetary Union. See EMS
European Monetary System. See EMS
European Monetary Union. See EMU
European sovereign debt crisis, 103–104, 189, 198–199, 279–280, 293
European Union, 147, 264, 266, 276 Eurozone/euro area. See also European sovereign debt crisis architecture of, 272–274, 286 austerity measures in, 167–169 bail out plans in, 180–181 crisis mismanagement in, 280–281 debt ratios in, 188
financial crisis in, 198–199, 279–283 Financial Crisis reaction of, 107 fiscal consolidation in, 167–169, 168 Table 8.1 fiscal fragility of, 198–199 fixed exchange rates in, 257 GDP in, 167–169
inflation in, 104 Table 6.1
and the Maastricht agreement, 272–273
mismanagement in, 290
monetary policy in, 104
optimal inflation target in, 154–155
and public debt, 197, 280 regional budget control in, 192 roots of, 282
trade asymmetries in, 242 unemployment in, 104 exchange rate targeting, 146n17, 147 exchange rates (dual), 261–262 exchange rates (EMS), 268–271 exchange rates (fixed) overview, 231–247 employment economics. See Keynesian economics EMS (European Monetary System) collapse of, 77, 266 creation of, 266
in crisis, 257, 269–271, 270Fig13.1 elements of, 267–268 exchange rates in, 268–271 and fluctuating exchange rates, 250n1
and inflation, 266–268
and monetary stability, 267
speculative attacks on currencies in, 268–271 EMU (Economic and Monetary Union) crisis management in, 280–281, 282 type policies in, 273 fixed exchange rates in, 232n1 monetary and fiscal coordination in, 274–275 and OCA theory, 274–275 shock effect contagion in, 294 and social pacts, 224 sovereign debt crisis in, 279–280 successes of, 282
deriogenous variable definition, 26–27 types, 26–27
equalization grants, 193

Eggertsson, Gauti, 118–119, 125n23 Eichenbaum, Martin, 80 employment. See also central banks; full employment; Phillips curve menu; RBC theory; unemployment and corporatism, 222–224 and debt restructuring, 186–187
and financial accelerators, 117
and fiscal contractions, 170–172 and fiscal policy councils, 200–201 and fixed exchange agreements, 238–239 and floating exchange rates, 251
and the Gold Standard, 238
and income levels, 34–38
and inflation, 33–34, 35–38
and inflation/unemployment trade-offs, 34–38
Keynesian analysis of, 10
Keynesian pro-employment policy, 15, 17–24 and labor institutions, 210–211 lower investment expectations vs., 20 and market failures, 10
and monetary stability, 31–34
and policy neutrality, 65–69
as policy target, 1–2, 9–10, 16–17, 33, 152 policy-change effects on, 162
in the Second World War, 25 and shocks, 20
and social pacts, 222–224, 229–230
and state economic intervention, 239 and wage centralization, 212–213 and wage restraints, 217, 223–224

324

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-11772-3 - Macroeconomic Paradigms and Economic Policy: From the Great Depression to the Great Recession
Nicola Acocella, Giovanni Di Bartolomeo and Andrew Hughes Hallett
Index
More information
and commodity standards of, 232 and currency boards in, 232n1 defined, 232
in Europe post-1990, 232
in the Eurozone, 257
and external rules, 251 vs. floating exchange rates, 249 Friedman on, 250
inadvisability of, 257
Triffin dilemma under, 243–245 exchange rates (floating), 232, 245, 248–252, 251n4, 293 exchange rates (general) and Chinese currency, 261–262 fluctuations in. See floating exchange rates and the IMF, 240, 252n5 international monetary regimes in, 231–234 and market forces, 249 overvalued, 267
and prices/incomes, 251 exchange rates (in post 1990 Europe), 271–272 exchange rates (real), 199, 235, 240n6, 267, 277 exogenous variable
definition, 26–27
types, 26–27
expansionary fiscal contractions. See fiscal contractions expectations. See rational expectations theory expectations management, 93 expenditure management, 93
exchange rates (in post 1990 Europe), 271–272
exchange rates (real), 199, 235, 240n6, 267, 277 exogenous variable
definition, 26–27
types, 26–27
expansionary fiscal contractions. See fiscal contractions expectations. See rational expectations theory expectations management, 93–94, 152–154, 288n4, 288 explicit anchors, 149Fig7.7, 150 external economic factors, 12 Federal Funds rate, 58, 85, 106 Federal Reserve balance sheet of, 108, 109Fig6.3
and business cycles, 75
as a central bank, 74 credit measures taken by, 63 everly failures of, 74
and employment, 150
and the Federal funds rate, 85 in fiscal leadership role, 175–176 and forward guidance, 110, 111n7, 112–114 founding of, 74 fund target rate of, 109Fig6.3
in the Great Depression, 22 and the Great Inflation, 74–75 Great Moderation researched by, 76–77 and inflation reduction, 58–59, 150
and interest rates, 27
monetary policies eased by, 75 and Operation Twist, 108–109 political pressures on, 138n10, 140 primary targets of, 132–133 priorities of, after recession, 103 and TALF, 106
Treasury-Federal Reserve Accord, 130 US government dependence on, 104 feedback rules, 64–65, 66, 94n26, 97, 145 Fernandez-Villaverde, Jesus, 89 financial accelerators, 22, 100, 115–118, 117Fig6.5 financial crises. See also crises in specific countries; EMS; European sovereign debt crisis; Eurozone/euro area
in the Eurozone, 279–283
IMF measures against, 259 international, 77
and international capital movements, 253–255 macroeconomic imbalances causing, 196–200 unpredictability of, 100 Financial Crisis (2007–2010). See also Great Recession and agent based computable models, 125 and age-related spending, 201–204
and central banks, 124
and economists’ models’ failures, 124 emergence of, 101
in England, 107
and excessive inequalities, 204 fiscal policy after, 286–288 and the global economic growth rate, 294n10 and globalization, 293
and market deregulation, 286 and models’ failures, 124 monetary policy after, 296–288 and private debt, 102
and quantitative easing, 153
roots of, 77
unconventional monetary policies in, 103, 107–110, 119–124
world-wide spread of, 107 financial regulation, 3, 103, 234, 286 financial stability, 10, 109–110, 129, 244–245, 248–249, 255–258
Finland, 34, 42, 197, 223, 227–228 fiscal autonomy, 192–195 Fiscal Compact, 174, 182, 184, 189, 202–203, 272–273, 281
fiscal consolidation, 167, 168 Table 8.1, 169–170, 190n27
fiscal contractions, 170–172 fiscal federalism, 191–196, 277–278 fiscal imbalances, 180–181, 196–197, 201–202, 204 fiscal intervention, 25, 106, 289 fiscal irresponsibility, 197n3, 198, 199 fiscal leadership, 175–177, 290–291 fiscal multipliers, 162–169, 166n6, 167Fig8.1, 168 Table 8.2, 281, 289 fiscal policy. See also debt targeting overview, 161–190
active, 119, 137, 161–162, 273, 291 Barro on, 65
central banks’ reaction on, 179–180 commitment, 172–181, 274
constraints on, 288
fiscal policy (cont.)
coordinated with monetary policy, 172–177, 274–275, 288 councils on, 200–201
discretionary, 11, 104–107, 165–166, 180–181
and the EMU, 272
endogenous fiscal imbalances in, 180–181 and Eurozone mismanagement, 281
expansionary, 20–21, 33, 69, 104–106, 289
after the Financial Crisis, 288–291 goals of, 164–165
in the Great Recession, 103–104, 124–125
and income levels, 20
in IS-LM model, 38
Keynesian models of, 20
Keynesian vs. non-Keynesian effects on, 162–164 leadership role for, 175–177, 290–291 limitations of, 69
monetary policy led by, 290–291 outcomes in inflation-deflation space, 175 Fig. 8.3 passive, 161–162, 286
and rational expectations theory, 79
and stagflation, 2
sustainability of, 21 fiscal space, 184–186, 185n24 Fischer, Stanley, 226
Fisher, Irving, 10
Fisher, Richard, 110
Fitzgerald, John D, 141 fixed prices, 17–24, 32, 129n1, 249–250 FOMC (Federal Open Market Committee), 113, 135n10, 150 forward guidance and the central bank, 93–94, 107, 110–114, 113n10 communication in, 152–154 in DSGE models, 113–114 effects of, 114 Fig. 6.4 and the Federal Reserve, 110, 111n7, 112–114 and GDP growth, 114
and private sector expectations, 121n19 and rational expectations, 154 types of, 111–113
France
in the Atomic Energy Community, 264 centralized economy of, 192
as creditor country, 242 currency of, 270–271
deflationary measures in, 268
in the EMS, 268–269, 270–271 and European social pacts, 223n13 financial instability in, 237 1968 protests in, 48 sanctions avoided by, 190, 273 in the GSP, 272–273
trade barriers of, 238

Index
free market economics. See also Chicago School; Friedman, Milton
and the IFM, 72n23
and monetarism, 62–63, 73
outside the US, 72n23
pro-market policies promoting, 52 Smith on, 5
vs. tariff barriers, 231
and Thatcherism, 73
and the World Bank, 72n23 free trade policies, 231, 234n2–235n2, 236, 238, 246n11, 248
Friedman, Milton
advancements made by, 79 banking reforms advocated by, 62–63 British economists challenging, 60–61 on economic freedom, 49 on economic policy effectiveness, 11 on financial stability, 49 on fixed exchange rates, 250 free-to-choose doctrine of, 72n22 and inflation, 10, 56, 57n5 vs. Keynesian economics, 51 monetarism of, 125 monetary growth rule of, 93 on money demand, 61
as money supply targeting advocate, 145–146 and natural rate theory, 52–58, 82 on optimal trend inflation, 155 and rational expectations theory, 11 and the simple rule of money, 56 vs. state intervention in economic systems, 49 and Thatcher, 60, 73n24
Friedman rule, 156, 159n34 Frisch, Ragnar, 17 full employment
and central banks, 144
and consumption, 24
and deficit spending, 23–24 and free trade, 248
and income levels, 36
and inflation, 31, 41
and market failures, 10
as policy target, 28, 31, 130
and price increases, 24 in Second World War, 15–16, 24
and stagflation, 294
state intervention maintaining, 15 and wage/price increases, 32–33 Gallbraith, John Kenneth, 11, 72n22
Gali, Jordi, 76n3, 78–79, 115–116, 163n2, 274 Gambetti, Luca, 76n3 game theory, 45, 94n26, 99, 175–176, 178–179, 220n9, 225
GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade), 3, 240, 246–247

Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, 48 Great Recession. See also Financial Crisis (2007–2010); recession(s) overview, 101–125 accelerating in Europe, 103–104, 104 Table 6.1 analytical models of, 114–125 credit crunch leading to, 102 and deregulation, 9–10 and the DSGE model, 99–100, 115–119, 124–125
Index

Hansen, Bent, 16–17
Harrod, Roy, 10, 15
Hayek, Friedrich, 49
Healey, Denis, 60n8
Henderson, D. W., 87n15
Hendry, David, 60–61
Hicks, John, 17–24
housing/real estate bubble, 100–103, 150n20, 286
Hughes Hallett, Andrew, 153, 168, 190n27, 204, 221n11
Hume’s specie flow mechanism, 235n3
Hungary, 195n2
Iacoviello, Matteo, 118–119
IBRD (International Bank for Reconstruction and Development), See World Bank imbalance(s) in the EMS, 269–271
in the Eurozone, 198–199, 282
and the Financial Crisis, 102
fiscal imbalances, 180–181, 201–202, 204
and fiscal policy, 289–290
and globalization, 293–296 international imbalances, 269–271, 296 macroeconomic imbalances, 8, 130, 196–200 private debt caused by, 282 regional imbalances, 191–196 and the sovereign debt crisis, 279–280 structural asymmetries causing, 278 substitutability between, 196–197
in workers’ rights, 210 IMF (International Monetary Fund) and austerity measures, 165 and BRICS, 261
creation of, 240 credit crisis management of, 77 criticisms of, 258–260 current functions of, 245 evolution of, 251–252
on the Financial Crisis, 202–203 and financial crisis management, 77, 253–255
and fiscal policy, 200
functions of, 240, 251–252 Group of Ten in, 242n8 and the Meltzer report, 259n8 multiple equilibria in, 242–243 responses to criticisms, 260 implicit anchors, 145, 149–150 impossible trinity, 130, 269, 271–272 impossibility theorem, 7 income levels, 20, 34–38 incomes policies and prices, 41–43 India, 261, See also BRICS inertial policy rule, 97 inflation. See also central banks; the central bank (US); conservatism (monetary); disinflation; Great Inflation; inflation targeting; inflation/ unemployment trade-offs; Phillips curve; Phillips curve menu; taxes

Great Recession (cont.)
- and excessive inequalities, 204
- and fiscal consolidations, 170
- and forward guidance, 110–114
- GDP growth in, 101, 165–166
- and government intervention, 2–3, 105
- institutional failure leading to, 2–3
- and international governance, 233
- and Keynesian policy, 104–107
- and large-scale asset purchases, 107–110
- and macroeconomic modeling, 124–125
- and monetary policies combatting, 103–104
- and multiplier indications, 170
- and optimal debt levels, 188
- and pro-market economic policies, 286
- since the Second World War, 294n10
- Stability and Growth Pact, 273
- and the Trifecta dilemma, 243–245
- in the UK, 33
- guidepost determination, 42
- Gyfason, Thorvaldur, 220n9 American conquest of, 58–63 anti-inflation policies, 2, 16 costs of, 57n5, 132, 135n5, 219
and deflation, 138, 152
and demand side policies, 49–50
and the EMS, 266–268
and the EMU, 274–275
and expansionary policies, 33, 49–50 expectation of, 22, 83n10, 88, 97–98, 110–114, 138n10, 227n17, 275
and forward guidance, 111
and Friedman, 10, 56, 57n5, 155
and full employment, 31, 41
and government spending, 287–288 in the Great Inflation, 285
in the Great Moderation, 75–77, 285 and hyperinflation, 135, 209, 237
and the Maastricht agreement, 221
and monetarism, 59–60, 73
and monetary conservatism, 138–141
and monetary policy, 286–288
and monetary stability, 16
and money supply, 57–58, 61–62 natural limits to, 53–54, 145–146 and the New Keynesian approach, 82–84, 83n10 in the 1970s, 49–52 and the OCA theory, 276–279 optimal inflation policies, 158–159 optimal mix with unemployment, 38–41 and optimal monetary policy, 90–93 optimal trend inflation, 155n31
and policy outcomes, 175Fig8.3
as policy target, 9, 33
policymaker’s problem regarding, 40Fig3.2 post Great Depression, 104
post-war, 59–60
and price stickiness, 135Fig7.2 and productivity, 136n6
and rational expectations, 63–65 and redistribution, 133, 204
and social pacts, 226–227
and stagflation, 9
and tax dynamics, 158Fig7.10 and the Taylor principle, 86–90
and Thatcherism, 73
and the time inconsistency problem, 141–143
in the UK, 60
and unemployment, 75
unions’ aversion to, 218–222, 220n9, 225, 226, 227–228 in the US, 33, 42, 49–50, 58–63, 86, 104 Table 6.1, 285 in the Volcker-Greenspan period, 75 and wages, 31–33, 211–215 inflation bias of central banks, 95n27, 96–98, 140–141, 143n15, 216–217 institutional solutions to, 143–145 modeling of, 141n12
and the Nash equilibrium, 142Fig7.5 and time inconsistency, 141–143, 142Fig7.5 inflation race, 207–210, 217 inflation targeting and the Bank of England, 136n6 by central banks, 131n2, 132, 143–145, 148n19 criticisms and successes of, 148Fig7.6 disadvantages of, 148
by the Federal Reserve, 141 as a nominal anchor, 145–151 optimal, 84n12, 154–160, 156Fig7.8, 157n33, 287 Svensson’s inflation targeting rule, 93–94
in the UK, 147–148
inflation tax, 157, 205n11 inflation/unemployment trade-offs
overview, 38–41
and central banks, 77
difficulties in achieving, 16 and econometrics, 59–60
Friedman on, 53
as non-existent, 80
and the Phillips curve, 32–38, 43–44, 50, 55–56, 130 policies adopted to manage, 130
and stagflation, 50
ingredients of economic policy, 8–12 institutions (defined), 4–5, 9 interest policy rates, 103, 106Fig6.2, 107–108, 110–114, 119–124, 294 interest rates. See also stagflation ceilings to, 62n12
and deflation, 23
in early conventional Keynesian policies, 104–107, 106n3
and the EMS, 266–271
at equilibrium, 53
as Federal Reserve policy instrument, 27 and the Financial Crisis, 101–103
and fiscal multipliers, 168
and forward guidance, 110–114
in the Great Depression, 22
and the impossible trinity, 271–272
and inflation, 58–63
and the IS–LM model, 19, 21–24 in large-scale asset purchases, 107–110 long-term, 107
and monetarism, 78–79
and monetary expansions, 50 and monetary policies, 16, 20–21, 25–26 and monetary unions, 276 natural interest rates, 52, 53 and natural unemployment rate, 52–58 and the New Keynesian approach, 81–84
and the New Neoclassical Synthesis, 84–86 and nominal GDP targeting, 150–151 nominal interest rates, 58, 80, 81, 88, 93, 111, 174, 271–272 interest rates (cont.)
and optimal policy under discretion, 90–93
post-war, 25–26
in pro-employment policies, 17–24
and public debt, 21
in the Second World War, 24–25
short-term, 107
and the sovereign debt crisis, 279–280
and stagflation, 2
and the Taylor principle, 86–90
and Tinbergen’s model, 26–30
in the UK, 60
and unconventional monetary policies, 107, 119–124, 245
and US monetary policy, 74–75
in World War II, 16, 24–25 international currency, 262n11, 262–263 international governance, 231–234, 239, 293 international institutions. See globalization International Trade Union Confederation, 292 inverse-reduced form, 29 investment autonomous expenditure for, 20n4 and the Bretton Woods agreement, 245–247
and financial accelerators, 115–119
and fiscal consolidations, 169–170
and fiscal contractions, 170–172
and fiscal policy, 162–164
Friedman on, 57, 62–63
and the Great Depression, 2 and imbalances, 196–197
in IS-LM models, 84–86
and large-scale asset purchases, 107–110
and optimal debt levels, 188
and pro-employment policies, 17–24
in the Second World War, 24–25
and the sovereign debt crisis, 279–280
and stagnation, 294
and unconventional monetary policies, 107
and US hegemony, 240–242 invisible hand (social benefits metaphor), 5n4 Ireland
credit boom in, 197
credit-led strategy of, 282 financial crisis in, 197, 279–280 fiscal contractions in, 171–172 labor market decentralization in, 223–224 private sector demand in, 171
social pacts in, 223–224
Ireland, Peter, 141
IS-LM models, 17–24, 18Fig2.1, 20Fig2.2, 25, 57, 85
Israel, 147–148
Italy
in the Atomic Energy Community, 264
deflationary measures in, 208 disguised unemployment in, 31n1 and the EMS, 268–269, 270–271
Index
in the European Atomic Energy Community, 264
social pacts in, 223
ITO (International Trade Organization), 240, 246, 247
Japan. See also Bank of Japan balance of payments in, 50
economy bloc activity of, 293–294 growth rate reduction in, 9–10 inflation in, 135–136, 285 interest rates in, 106n3 speculative attacks in, 147 stagnation in, 106n3, 294
Johnson, Lyndon, 31, 50
Kalecki, Michal, 27
Karadi, Peter, 117–119
Kenen, Peter, 276
Kennedy Administration, 31, 42, 108–109
Keynes, John Maynard and the Bretton Woods agreement, 239, 240n5 on capital movements, 253–254 on deflation, 23 on the Gold Standard, 238
and the IMF, 241
macro/microeconomic policies initiated by, 1–2 and state economic intervention, 15
and war reparations, 3
Keynesian age (overview), 15–30
Keynesian economics. See also New Keynesian Theory
overview, 15–30
arguments against, 289 and balanced budgets, 23–24 circuits of capital policies in, 16 deterioration of, 223–224 discretionary interventions in, 56–57 and employment fluctuations, 82–83 fixed prices in, 32 and free trade, 246n11 Friedman’s adaptations of, 52
and full employment, 130
and government public spending, 73 and the Great Recession, 104 Hicks’ analysis of, 17–24
and stagnation, 50
limitations of, 104–107
and market stability, 52 neo-liberal attacks on, 224
post-war, 48
pro-employment policies in, 15, 17–24 vs. pro-market economics, 285 rational expectations theory vs., 12 rediscovery of, 16, 25–26, 103 and the Second World War, 15, 24–25 stabilizing policies in, 63, 72
and stagflation, 51
and state economic intervention, 15–17 structural form model in, 26–27
and Tinbergen’s model, 26–30 and the Tinbergen-Theil approach, 46
in the US, 75
King, Robert, 163
Kiyotaki, Nobuhiro, 115–116, 118
Korean War, 26
Kotlikoff, Laurence, 202 labor costs, 44n4, 170–172, 187–190, 192–193 labor demand, 53, 163 labor markets
overview, 207–230
and central bank conservatism, 141 conflicts in, 209
domestic tensions in, 50 in full employment equilibrium, 67 future roles for, 291–292 and the Great Moderation, 76 labor market institutions, 210–211 and Political Monetarism, 63 pro-market incentives for, 2 and real wages, 53
and stabilization, 76n3 unregulated, 292
the working poor in, 73 labor productivity, 35 labor supply, 53, 157n32, 163n1 labor unions. See unions laissez-faire economics, 72, 73 Lambertini, Luisa, 174, 274 large-scale asset purchases. See quantitative easing Latin America, 72n23, 77, 136n7, 294n9 leadership. See asynchronous game theory; fiscal leadership; fiscal policy lean against the wind policy, 91 Leith, Campbell, 182n20
Levin, Jonathan, 153
Lewis, John, 190n27
Lindbeck, Assar, 220n9
Lippi, Francesco, 221–222 liquidity
and business cycles, 163, 236
and central banks, 108–109
and the EMU, 272–273
and expansionary monetary policies, 106 and fiscal deficits, 199–200
and the Gold Standard, 233, 234–236, 244
and the IMF, 259n8
liquidity constraints, 65–66, 163 liquidity crisis, 196 liquidity effect, 80, 81 liquidity evaporation, 100 liquidity traps, 289
and monetary policy, 236
as policy objective, 26 and the separation principle, 201
and the sovereign debt crisis, 279
Long Term Refinancing Operations, 281
Lucas, Robert Emerson, Jr., 63–72, 68n16, 79–80, 99 Lucas critique
defined, 64
and econometrics, 82, 98–99
of government intervention, 7 and Keynesian stabilization policies, 72 summarized, 69–70 of the Tinbergen-Theil approach, 63 VARs immunity from, 80
Luxembourg, 264
Maastricht agreement
disinflation, 219
and EMU admission requirements, 224, 273 European Union created by, 266 and the impossible trinity, 271–272
and inflation, 221
and price stability, 136 price stability imposed by, 135–136 and sanctions, 190n27
and social pacts, 224, 230
Macleod, Iain, 50n1 macroeconomic policies. See also New Classical macroeconomics; rational expectations 1980s as turning point for, 78–79 debates on reliability of, 99–100 evolution in, 4n2
failures of, 265
and the Financial Crisis, 99–100
and the Great Depression, 1–2, 21
and the Great Recession, 99–100 imbalance in, 196–200
IMF as monitor of, 241
Keynes as originator of, 1 and macroeconomic market failure, 6
and monetary policy, 78
and monetary stability, 257
in monetary unions, 275 and natural rate theory, 52n2 and the New Classical Macroeconomic School, 79–80 new macroeconomic approach, 71
post-war, 31
and state intervention, 1 termiology of, 1n1
Mahadeva, Lavan, 149
Mander, Benedict, 200
Marimon, Ramon, 60 market complementarities, 217 market failure(s) fiscal activity required in, 191, 289–290
and full employment, 10
and government intervention, 5, 7
Keynesian analysis of, 10
as macroeconomic failures, 6, 8, 82, 265 market failure(s) (cont.)
as microeconomic failures, 8n5 and multiple government objectives, 30 in the New Keynesian approach, 82 and public failures, 286 and public policy, 79–80 and Tinbergen’s theorem of static controllability, 30
and unions, 210, 217
market fundamentalism, 72 market liberalization, 2, 102, 218n7, 286 markets (defined), 5
Marshall, Alfred, 5
Marshall Plan, 3, 241–242, 264
Masson, Paul, 193n1
McCallum, John, 118–119, 141n12
McGrattan, Ellen, 183n23
McKibbin, Warwick, 37n15
McKinnon, Ronald, 243, 276
Meade, James, 10
Meltzer Report, 259n8
Mexico, 77, 147, 257, 258 microeconomic policies, 1, 5, 6–7, 8n6, 8n5, 66, 71, 212–213 military spending, 15–16 Miller, George, 89
Ministerial Conference in Qatar, 247n12, 258
Minsky, Hyman, 10
Mirkles, James, 191 misery index, 212
Modigliani, Franco, 17n2, 57n6
Modigliani-Miller theorem, 125 Monacelli, Tommaso, 274 monetarism advancement of, 49
critiques of, 61–62
and free market economics, 62–63, 73 and Friedman, 49, 62–63, 125 as governmental non-intervention, 73
and inflation, 59–60, 73
and interest rates, 78–79
and market stability, 52 models of, 71n20
and monetary transmission, 78–79
and NAIRU, 57–58
and the New Classical Macroeconomic School, 60n7
New Monetarism theory, 125n23
in the 1980s, 135–136 Political Monetarism, 62n11, 62n12, 63 termology of, 73
and Thatcher, 60 monetary policy
active, 166
and active fiscal policies, 161–162
after the Financial Crisis, 286–288
commitment, 172–181, 274 coordinated with fiscal policy, 172–177, 274–275, 288
Index
differing goals for, 287 discretionary, 11, 149, 150n20 domestic, vs. prevailing foreign, 251
and the EMU, 272
and Eurozone mismanagement, 281
expansionary, 20–21, 25–26, 103, 105–106
fiscal policy leading, 290–291
Friedman on, 56
and the GDP, 80–81
in the Great Depression, 23
in the Great Recession, 103–104
and income levels, 20
indeterminacy region in, 86
and inflation, 286–288
in inflation-deflation space, 175Fig8.3
in IS-LM model, 38
and macroeconomics, 78
monetarist views on, 56 monetary policy theory, 286 non-neutrality of, 80, 81Fig5.2, 85–86 optimal, 90–96, 119–120, 142, 204, 214, 288 under optimal discretion, 90–93, 91Fig5.3 and output growth, 58 prices affected by, 58
and rational expectations theory, 79
rediscovery of, 16, 25–26
Sargent and Wallace on, 65, 66 stagnation, 2 success of, 78
supremacy of, 74–79
sustainability of, 21
transmission of, 84 unconventional, 103, 107, 116, 119–124, 121n20, 122Fig6.6
in the US, 74–75, 86
wartime, 74
monetary stability, See also equilibrium and central banks, 132–133, 287 conditions for, 257–258
and the EMS, 267
and the Eurozone, 272
as financial stability, 257–258 Friedman’s program for, 62–63
and inflation, 16
as policy target, 16–17, 26, 41 re-emerging issue of, 31–34 money demand, 61–62, 64–65 money illusion, 53
money markets, 17–19, 84, 252–253 money supply (M1), 25, 57–58, 61–62, 64–65, 68, 80 money supply targeting, 145–146, 147 money velocity, 27, 56–57, 58, 61–63, 150–151 monopolistic competition, 83n9 Moore, John H., 115–116, 118 moral hazard, 256n7, 257, 259 Morgenthau Plan, 264 mortgage–backed securities, 107–108
Index

Motta, Giorgio, 204
multipliers. See fiscal multipliers Mundell, Robert, 243n9, 276
Mundell and Fleming model, 172–174, 173Fig8.2
Mundell–Tobin effect, 23
NAIRU (non-accelerating inflation rate of unemployment), 57n6, 58
Nash, John, 99
Nash equilibrium, 94n26, 142, 176, 227n16, 227, 274 natural rate theory of unemployment (Friedman), 52n2, 52–58, 55Fig4.2, 59, 69 neo-corporatism, 42–43, 222, 224. See also corporatism neo-liberal economics. See also economic liberalism overview, 248–263 economic problems rooted in, 73, 233–234
and the Gold Standard, 234–236
as international paradigm, 233–234
vs. Keynesian economics, 224 pro-market policies vs., 52, 72–73 Neri, Stefano, 118–119
Netherlands
as creditor country, 242 economic policies introduced in, 34
in the European Atomic Energy Community, 264 in the European Common Market, 264 labor market decentralization in, 223–224
and public debt, 197
social pacts in, 223
Theory of Economic Policy in, 6–8 welfare policies in, 223
New Classical Macroeconomic School/Theory and disinflation, 130–132
and interest rates, 78–79
vs. Keynesian economics, 69
and Keynesian stabilization policies, 72
limitations of, 79–80
and the Lucas critique, 79–80
and macroeconomics, 79–80
and monetarism, 60n7
and monetary transmission, 78–79
and the New Keynesian approach, 82
and RBC theory, 71
New Keynesian Theory/approach. See also DSGE (dynamic stochastic general equilibrium) model; non-Keynesian effects and business cycle analysis, 100 continuity in, 98–100
debates on reliability of, 99–100 failures of, 99–100
and fiscal policy, 78n6 and Friedman’s natural rate theory, 82 innovation in, 98–100 interest rate focus of, 85 in an IS curve, 82–84
and the Lucas critique, 81–82
main framework of, 81–84 and market expectations, 288
and market failures, 82
and monetary policy transmission, 84 and monopolistic competition, 82–84 and the New Classical methods, 82 and the New Keynesian Phillips curve, 85–86 New Neoclassical Synthesis in, 84–86 in a Phillips curve, 82–84 and price stickiness, 82–84, 125 and principal-agent theory, 116, 143n15 and rational expectations, 78n6, 81–82 and US monetary policy, 75n1, 75
new macroeconomic approach, 71
New Monetarism theory, 125n23
New Neoclassical Synthesis, 75n1, 75, 84–86
New Zealand, 136, 147–148, 153n27 Nickell, Stephen, 210–211 night-watchman state, 5 Nixon, Richard, 138 nominal anchors, 129–130, 136, 143n13, 145, 147. See also explicit anchors; implicit anchors nominal GDP targeting, 150–151 non-accelerating inflation rate of unemployment (NAIRU), 57n6, 57–58 non-Keynesian effects, 162–164, 170–172, 171n11 Norway, 223, 253
Obama administration, 104–105
OCA (Optimum Currency Area), 276–279
OECD (Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development) countries, 101, 170, 188, 210–211 Office of Budget Responsibility (UK), 200 oil crises, 2, 9, 59, 77, 278 Okun, Arthur, 212
Olson, Mancur, 222
Operation Twist, 74, 108–109, 245 optimal inflation targeting. See inflation targeting optimal monetary policy
and central banks, 90–96, 142, 214
under discretion, 90–93 expectation management in, 93–96 optimal inflation target, 84n12, 154–160
and rational expectations, 288
in recessions, 119–120 redistributive effects of, 204 target rules representing, 93 and the Taylor rules, 93 optimal stabilization policies, 155–156, 157Fig7.9, 288n4 optimum currency area. See OCA Orphanides, Athanasios, 141
Pagano, Marco, 170–171
Panama, 251n4
Papademos, Lucas, 57n6
permanent income hypotheses, 49, 52, 85
Perotti, Roberto, 171
Persson, Torsten, 174
Phelps, Edmund, 11, 68n16, 155, 156–157
Phillips, A. W., 15–16, 31–33 Phillips curve
overview, 31–47
alternative versions of, 43–44
defined, 43–44
expectations-augmented Phillips curve, 54n4, 54–55 and fiscal policies, 69
and inflation, 9–10, 41, 42, 50, 59–60, 138–140 innovations introduced by, 31–33 instabilities in, 43–44 menu of, 34–38, 53
New Keynesian Phillips curve, 82–84, 85–86 Old Phillips curve, 85–86
and optimal policy under discretion, 90–93 and political business cycles, 138–140, 139Fig7.4 supply and demand in, 32 for the US, 32Fig3.1, 50, 51Fig4.1
Pigou, Arthur C., 5
Pigou effect, 23
Pinochet, Augusto, 218
Plasmans, Joseph, 275
Poland, 189
policy actions, 1–4, 197–198. See also fiscal policy;
monetary policy
policy neutrality, 65–69, 68Fig4.5, 72n21, 144, 217n4 policy preference function, 215 Portugal, 197, 223, 280, 282 price controls, 2, 24, 25, 34, 37, 42, 130, 138n10 price flexibility, 71, 79, 133, 163, 277 price level stability
and central banks, 107, 130–131, 135–136
and corporatism, 209 and European integration, 272–273 and the Federal Reserve, 103
in the Great Recession, 9–10
and inflation, 132–135, 145, 147–148, 219
and stagflation, 136
and unions, 210, 219–220
price stickiness, 82–84, 125, 135Fig7.2, 155–163, 274 prices and exchange rates, 251 in the Financial Crisis, 101–103 and financial stability, 256 and the floating exchange rate, 250–251 and incomes policies, 34, 41–43 and inflation costs, 57n5 and the inflation rate, 207–210 and Keynesian economics, 81–84, 162–164
and monetary policy, 58
and monetary stability, 31–34
in monetary unions, 199 and the Mundell and Fleming model, 70–72, 172 in natural rate theory, 53
and OCA theory, 276–279
and the Phillips curve menu, 34–38, 43–44
policy change effects on, 162 and policy neutrality, 65–69, 72n21 and production, 68n17
and pro-employment policies, 53
and rational expectations theory, 53
and RBC theory, 70–72
and stagflation, 2
and unemployment, 31–33, 43–44, 58
wage-price objectives, 42 in wartime, 24–25, 26 primary surpluses, 183–186, 187 principal-agent theory, 116, 143n15 private consumption, 20–21, 24, 65, 157n32, 162, 163, 289 private debt, 102, 104, 196–197, 197n3, 280n15, 281.
See also European sovereign debt crisis private investment, 20–21, 22, 23, 24, 163, 196, 245 private sector and central banks, 94n26, 142, 143, 150, 151–152, 153 and the Chicago School, 98–99 debt in, 196–197
expectations of, 78–79, 93–96, 121, 140–143, 153
and forward guidance, 112, 121n19, 152–154
Friedman on, 54–55
government guideposts, 42 in Ireland, 171
in the Lucas critique, 64 in the Nash equilibrium, 143 in the Phillips curve, 54–56 and policy changes, 180
and the separation principle, 201 in the sovereign debt crisis, 280 pro-market economic policies
overview, 48–52
and the EMU, 272
of European founding fathers, 265n3 issues leading to, 17
vs. Keynesian economics, 12, 63, 285 problems arising from, 285–286 of the WTO, 258
public debt and anti-recessionary measures, 105
consolidation, 26–27
and demographic changes, 201–204 financing of, 16
and fiscal councils, 200
and interest rates, 21
macroeconomic imbalances increasing, 196–197, 199–200 monetization, 25–26
post-war, 25–26
private debt becoming, 196–197 and private vs. public risk, 201 sanctions regarding, 189–190 separation principle in managing, 201
in World War II, 24–25
Index

336

reserve currency (cont.)
and the hegemon country, 244 and international currency, 243–245, 262n11, 263 stability of, 260

Ricardian equivalence, 65–66, 119
Ricardo, David, 129n1, 237n4 Risager, Ole, 172
risk sharing, 146–147, 191, 193–195
RMB (Renminbi; Chinese currency), 261–262, 263, 295 Rogoff, Kenneth, 137, 140–141
Romer, Paul, 10
Ross, Arthur, 218n8
Rubio–Ramírez, Juan, 89
Russia, 77, 261, 293–294. See also BRICS Samuelson, Paul, 15–16, 17n2, 31, 32–33 sanctions, 189–190, 190n27
Sargent, Thomas, 64–65, 65n13, 66, 79n7, 141 Saudi Arabia, 293–294
Scandinavia, 6–8, 16–17, 34, 223, 229n18, 230, 292
Schmitt–Grohé, Stephanie, 155–158, 155n31, 158Fig7.10, 160, 181n19, 262n11
Schumacher, E. F., 246n11
Schwar, Anja, 60–61
SDRs (Special Drawing Rights), 245, 260, 263
Second World War
European integration following, 264–265 European recovery from, 48 full employment in, 15–16, 24 governmental economic policies following, 4 and Keynesian economics, 15, 24–25 wage and price controls in, 34 secondary markets, 42
securities markets, 17–19
Securities Markets Programme, 281
SGP (Stability and Growth Pact), 273n10, 281

Sharma, Sunil, 256
shocks asymmetric shocks, 199, 273, 277
and central banks, 179–180 cost-push shocks, 83, 90–93, 94, 98 demand shocks, 83, 93, 117, 145–146, 166, 276Fig13.2 and discretion, 98 and the DSGE model, 115–119
and employment, 64
in the EMS, 269–270
in the EMU, 273–279, 294 external, 49, 52, 71, 75–76, 296 financial shocks, 100, 115–116, 118, 122 and fiscal policy/rules, 165–166, 181–182 in Germany, 269, 270Fig13.1
institutional solutions to, 143–145
and interest rates, 20
and the New Keynesian approach, 82–83
and the New Neoclassical Synthesis, 85–86
and OCA theory, 276–279 oil shocks, 2, 31, 50, 58–63, 75–76, 89, 136, 211 and policy targeting, 9 and productivity shocks, 71
and rational expectations, 63 spread shocks, 123, 124Fig6.7 stochastic shocks, 20, 47n9, 84, 85, 144 supply shocks, 77, 83, 91Fig5.3, 117, 152, 278 and unconventional monetary policies, 119–124 Sidgwick, Henry, 5 simple rule of money, 56–57 Sims, Christopher, 80 single currency, 266, 276 Skidelski, Robert, 246n11
Slovakia, 189
Smets, Frank, 168
Smith, Adam, 5n4, 210
Smoot–Hawley tariffs, 238 the snake (European currency plan), 266–267 social conflict, 48
social pacts, 225, 228Fig10.2, 229Fig10.3, 229n19, 230, 295
social pacts in, 223
social stability, See financial stability; monetary stability; price stability

Stability and Growth Pact (SGP), 273n10, 281 stabilization bias, 96–98, 145, 152 stabilization policies overview, 74–100 Keynesian stabilization policies, 72 and labor markets, 76n3 management of, 49, 52
and rational expectations theory, 79–80
and RBC theory, 71
stabilization (regional), 191–196, 193n1 Stackelberg games, 175–176, 177n14 stagflation defined, 2, 9, 50n1
disinflation, 136
emergence of, 48–52
and the Great Recession, 104
and interest rates, 2

© in this web service Cambridge University Press
Index

and monetary policy independence, 130–132
and the Phillips curve, 50 policy responses to, 2, 9, 78, 124–125, 204–206 and social policies, 223 stagnation, 2, 106n3, 285n2, 294n11 state intervention in economics as crisis prevention, 281 evolution of, 5
Friedman vs., 49
full employment maintained by, 15 and international monetary stability, 239 and market creation, 256–257 and market economies, 6 microeconomic intervention, 5 post-Keynesian forms of, 2 pre-Keynesian forms of, 1, 15–17 Stern, Leonard, 149
sticky prices. See price stickiness Stiglitz, Joseph, 8, 124–125
Stiroh, J. K., 76n3
Stiglitz, Joseph, 8, 124–125
Stiglitz, Joseph, 8, 124–125
Taylor, John B., 74, 77, 176
Taylor principle, 86–89, 93
Taylor rule, 66n15, 86–90, 87n15, 88n17, 151, 168, 179
Taylor, John B., 74, 77, 176
Taylor principle, 86–89, 93
Taylor rule, 66n15, 86–90, 87n15, 88n17, 151, 168, 179
Thatcher, Margaret, 60, 63
Thatcherism, 3–4, 52, 72, 73
Theil, Henri, 17.
See also Tinbergen-Theil approach Theory of Economic Policy (Theil), 6 as state intervention, 1 230
Tobin tax, 253, 257
Taylor, John B., 74, 77, 176
Taylor principle, 86–90, 93
Taylor rule, 66n15, 86–90, 87n15, 88n17, 151, 168, 179
Thatcher, Margaret, 60, 63
Thatcherism, 3–4, 52, 72, 73
Theil, Henri, 17.
See also Tinbergen-Theil approach
Theory of Economic Policy (Theil), 6–8, 16–17, 44.
See also Tinbergen-Theil approach theory of static controllability (Tinbergen), 29–30 time inconsistency/consistency problems, 98n30, 141–143, 142Fig7.5, 146, 150, 154 timeless commitment, 97Fig5.5, 97–98 timeless perspective, 90, 97, 98n30
Tinbergen, Jan, 16–17, 25, 29
Tinbergen theorem of static controllability, 29n6, 30, 37, 41
Tinbergen’s model of economic policy, 16–17, 26–30, 42
Tinbergen-Theil approach, 46–47, 63, 63–70, 113
Tinbergen, Jan, 16–17, 25, 29
Tinbergen’s model of economic policy, 16–17, 26–30, 42
Tobin, James, 17n2, 31, 32, 74–75. See also Tinbergen, Jan, 16–17, 25, 29
Mundell-Tobin effect
Tobin tax, 253, 257
Tokyo round (GATT), 247 trade unions. See unions Treasurer (US), 72n23, 74, 106. See also large-scale asset purchases

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org ultra-rationality, 65 underemployment, 22, 23 unemployment. See also Calmfors and Driffill curve; inflation/unemployment trade-offs; natural rate theory of unemployment; Phillips curve: menu; real wages; stagflation and actual employment, 35 and demand side policies, 69n18 disguised, 31n1
equilibrium level of, 53, 221n11
in the Financial Crisis, 107
Friedman on, 49
and full employment, 35
in the Great Depression, 21–22, 23–24 and labor market institutions, 210–211 as macroeconomic failure, 8n6
monetarist views on, 49 natural unemployment rate, 52 optimal mix with inflation, 38–41
as policy target, 9
policymaker’s problem regarding, 40Fig3.2
and real wages, 217
in the UK, 60
and wages/prices, 31–33, 43–44 unions behavior of, 218n8
and central banks, 221
and centralized wage bargaining, 141, 211, 215–216 contributions of, 141
and fiscal contractions, 171–172
Free Trade Union, 3 inflation aversion of, 218–222, 220n9, 225, 226, 227–228 left-wing parties favored by, 229n18 under Thatcherism, 73
United Kingdom (UK). See also Bank of England; Britain
balance of payments in, 9, 33, 236 business cycles in, 234n2–235n2 centralized economy of, 192 economic recovery in, 60 economy bloc activity of, 293–294 exiting the EMS, 270–271
financial instability in, 237 and free trade, 234n2–235n2 free-market policies in, 4 Friedman’s influence in, 60n7
and the Gold Standard, 234, 236, 237 growth in, 33
hegemony relinquished by, 237 inflation in, 49–50, 60, 285 inflation targeting in, 147–148 interest rates in, 60
Keynesian economics in, 31
labor market decentralization in, 223–224 monetarist policies in, 60 and Phillips curve data, 31–33 production decreases in, 60 quantitative easing in, 153n27 in recession, 60, 238 and the SGP, 272–273
unemployment rates in, 60
wage and price controls in, 34
United States (US). See also the central bank (US)
balance of payments in, 9 balance of payments of, 50 and the Bretton Woods agreement, 239–240, 244
credit boom in, 197
as a debtor country, 241–242 Economic Report of the President (1962), 33 economy bloc activity of, 293–294
free-market policies in, 4
and the Gold Standard, 236, 237
and the Great Depression, 21–22, 23 growth in, 9–10, 104 Table 6.1 guidepost determinations in, 42 as hegemon, 240–242, 243, 244, 247 inflation in, 33, 42, 49–50, 58–63, 104 Table 6.1, 285
vs. Keynes at Bretton Woods, 239–240 Keynesian economics in, 31 monetary history episodes in, 89 monetary policy in, 74–75, 86
and operation twist, 245
optimal inflation target in, 154–155
as post-war economic leader, 239 and post-war European integration, 264 in recession, 62Fig4.7, 75, 104, 105, 173 regional taxation in, 193, 195–196 social conflict in, 48 steel industry of, 42
trade deficit of, 262
unemployment in, 9–10, 104 Table 6.1 US debt/GDP dynamics, 160Fig7.11
wage and price controls in, 34
welfare policies in, 223
unregulated markets, 2, 252–253, 261, 292 Uribe, Martin, 155–156, 158Fig7.10
VAR (Vector Auto-Regression), 80n8 Vietnam War, 50
vindications of econometric policy evaluation, 59–60
Volcker, Paul, 58, 59Fig4.3, 74–75, 86–90, 130–132, 145–146 Volcker era, 89
wage bargaining and central bank conservatism, 215–216, 220n10, 220, 221–222
Index

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>centralized, 211–213, 292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>decentralized, 213–216, 291–292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>on the Phillips curve, 38, 43–44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage controls, 34, 41–42, 130, 138n10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage demand, 50, 139, 142, 217, 227–228, 251</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage inequality, 285</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wages. See also real wages; stagflation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and central bank conservatism, 216–217</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and fiscal contractions, 170–172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and fiscal policy, 170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and growth rates, 186–187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and income level equilibrium, 35–38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and inflation, 34–38, 133–134, 207–210</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and market complementarities, 217</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and the OCA, 276–279</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>policy change effects on, 162</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>pressures on setting of, 41–42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and price levels, 34, 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rate of changes in, 31–33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and rational expectation theory, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>restraints on, 171, 223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and social pacts, 225–230</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and supply/demand, 31–33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>taxes on, 203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and unemployment, 31–33, 43–44, 53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and unions’ inflation aversion, 218–222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage stickiness, 92, 133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>wage-price objectives, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wallace, Neil, 64–65, 65n13, 66</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Walras, Léon, 5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Walras’s Law, 18–19, 243</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington Consensus, 52, 72n23, 73, 246, 249, 252, 255</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Wealth of Nations (Adam Smith), 5n4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>welfare state, 48–49, 73, 226–227, 273, 285n1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Werner proposal, 265–266</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>West Germany, 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weymark, John, 204</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>White, H. D., 239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wigglesworth, Robin, 200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Williamson, John, 72n23, 125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Woodford, Michael, 118–119, 125n23, 158</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World Bank, 240, 246, 255, 258</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World War I. See Great War</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>World War II. See Second World War</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wouters, Rafael, 168</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wren–Lewis, Simon, 182n20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WTO (World Trade Organization), 240, 247n12, 258</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ZLB (zero lower bound)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and deflation, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and fiscal interventions, 289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and GDP, 150–151</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>of nominal interest rates, 103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and optimal trend inflation, 155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and policy rates, 103, 106Fig6.2, 107, 294</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and quantitative easing, 119, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>and recession, 119–120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in unconventional monetary policies, 119–124</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>