The Cambridge Companion to Quakerism offers a fresh, up-to-date, and accessible introduction to Quakerism. Quakerism is founded on radical ideas and its history of constancy and change offers fascinating insights into the nature of nonconformity. In a series of eighteen essays written by an international team of scholars, and commissioned especially for this volume, the Companion covers the history of Quakerism from its origins to the present day. Employing a range of methodologies, it features sections on the History of Quaker Faith and Practice, Expressions of Quaker Faith, Regional Studies, and Emerging Spiritualities. It also examines all branches of Quakerism, including evangelical, liberal, and conservative, as well as non-theist Quakerism and convergent Quaker thought. This Companion will serve as an essential resource for all interested in Quaker thought and practice.

Stephen W. Angell is Leatherock Professor of Quaker Studies at the Earlham School of Religion. He has published extensively in the areas of Quaker Studies and African-American Religious Studies.

Pink Dandelion directs the work of the Centre for Research in Quaker Studies, Woodbrooke, and is Professor of Quaker Studies at the University of Birmingham and a Research Fellow at Lancaster University. He is the author and editor of a number of books, most recently (with Stephen Angell) Early Quakers and Their Theological Thought.
This is a series of companions to major topics and key figures in theology and religious studies. Each volume contains specially commissioned chapters by international scholars, which provide an accessible and stimulating introduction to the subject for new readers and nonspecialists.

OTHER TITLES IN THE SERIES

AMERICAN ISLAM Edited by Juliane Hammer and Omid Safi
AMERICAN JUDAISM Edited by Dana Evan Kaplan
AMERICAN METHODISM Edited by Jason E. Vickers
ANCIENT MEDITERRANEAN RELIGIONS Edited by Barbette Stanley Spaeth
KARL BARTH Edited by John Webster
THE BIBLE, 2nd edition Edited by Bruce Chilton
BIBLICAL INTERPRETATION Edited by John Barton
DIETRICH BONHOEFFER Edited by John de Gruchy
JOHN CALVIN Edited by Donald K. McKim
CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE Edited by Colin Gunton
CHRISTIAN ETHICS Edited by Robin Gill
CHRISTIAN MYSTICISM Edited by Colin Gunton and Patricia Z. Beckman
CHRISTIAN PHILOSOPHICAL THEOLOGY Edited by Charles Taliaferro and Chad V. Meister
CLASSICAL ISLAMIC THEOLOGY Edited by Tim Winter
JONATHAN EDWARDS Edited by Stephen J. Stein
FEMINIST THEOLOGY Edited by Susan Frank Parsons
THE JESUITS Edited by Thomas Worcester
JESUS Edited by Markus Bockmuehl
C. S. LEWIS Edited by Robert MacSwain and Michael Ward
LIBERATION THEOLOGY Edited by Chris Rowland
 MARTIN LUTHER Edited by Donald K. McKim
MEDIEVAL JEWISH PHILOSOPHY Edited by Daniel H. Frank and Oliver Leaman
MODERN JEWISH PHILOSOPHY Edited by Michael L. Morgan and Peter Eli Gordon
MOHAMMED Edited by Jonathan E. Brockup
PENTECOSTALISM Edited by Cecil M. Robeck, Jr and Amos Yong
POLITICAL THEOLOGY Edited by Craig Hovey and Elizabeth Phillips
POSTMODERN THEOLOGY Edited by Kevin J. Vanhoozer

(continued after the Index)
The Cambridge Companion to Quakerism

Edited by

STEPHEN W. ANGELL
Earlham School of Religion

PINK DANDELION
University of Birmingham
Contents

List of Contributors  page ix

Introduction  1
Pink Dandelion and Stephen W. Angell

PART I HISTORY OF QUAKER FAITH AND PRACTICE  11
1 History of Quaker Faith and Practice 1650–1808  13
Robynne Rogers Healey
2 Conflict and Transformation, 1808–1920  31
Thomas D. Hamm and Isaac Barnes May
3 Global Quakerism 1920–2015  49
Timothy Burdick and Pink Dandelion

PART II EXPRESSIONS OF QUAKER FAITH  67
4 Literature  69
Nancy Jiwon Cho
5 Social Justice and Sustainability  88
Katherine Murray
6 Seeking Peace: Quakers Respond to War  106
Elaine Bishop and Jiseok Jung
7 Quakers and Education  128
Stephen W. Angell and Clare Brown
8 The Changing World of Quaker Material Culture  147
Emma Jones Lapsansky
CONTENTS

PART III REGIONAL STUDIES

9 Quakers in North America
Stephen W. Angell and John Connell

10 Latin American Quakerism
Ramón González Longoria and Nancy Thomas

11 Quakers in Africa
George Busolo, Oscar Malande, Ann K. Riggs, and Theoneste Sentabire

12 Quakers in Europe and the Middle East
Hans Eirik Aarek and Julia Hinshaw Ryberg

13 Quakers in Asia-Pacific
Stephanie Midori Komashin

PART IV EMERGING SPIRITUALITIES

14 Unprogrammed Quaker Spiritualities
Michael Birkel and Deborah L. Shaw

15 Quakers and Non-theism
Dan Christy Randazzo

16 Evangelical Quakerism and Global Christianity
Jon R. Kershner

17 Convergent Friends: Renewal, Hybridity, and Dialogue in Twenty-first-Century Quakerism
C. Wess Daniels and Greg Woods

18 Intra-Quaker Ecumenism: Women’s Reconciling Work in the Pacific Northwest and Kenya
Margery Post Abbott

References 348
Index 381
Contributors

HANS EIRIK AAREK is retired Assistant Professor at the University of Stavanger, Norway. His main area of research is the development and transformation of Norwegian Quakerism in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. His published studies in English include “The Norwegian authorities’ methods of restricting the Quaker influence, and the types of punishment meted out when regulations were transgressed” in Geir Skeie and Hans Eirik Aarek eds., Religious Freedom as Seen from a Minority Perspective (2015); “Conscription and conscientious objection in the experience of Norwegian Friends” in Quaker Studies 11/1, September 2006; “A short history of the Troms Quakers and their emigration to America” in Norwegian-American Studies, 35 (2000).

MARGERY POST ABBOTT has been traveling in the ministry, writing, and facilitating workshops of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) for more than twenty years. She has also served as presiding clerk of Friends Committee on National Legislation, the Quaker lobby on Capitol Hill. Her books include A Certain Kind of Perfection (1997); The Historical Dictionary of the Friends (with Pink Dandelion, Mary Ellen Chijioke, and John Oliver) (2007, 2012); To Be Broken and Tender: A Quaker Theology for Today (2010), and Walk Worthy of Your Calling: Quakers and the Traveling Ministry (with Peggy Senger Parsons) (2004). Her newest writing is Everyday Prophets, the Backhouse Lecture for Australia Yearly Meeting. She was a plenary speaker in 2016 at both Australia and Aotearoa/New Zealand Yearly Meetings and visited widely among Friends in both those nations.

STEPHEN W. ANGELL is Leatherock Professor of Quaker Studies at the Earlham School of Religion. His books include Early Quakers and their Theological Thought (with Pink Dandelion) (2015); The Oxford Handbook of Quaker Studies (with Pink Dandelion) (2013); and Black Fire: African American Quakers on Spirituality and Human Rights (with Harold D. Weaver Jr., and Paul Kriese) (2011). He is Associate Editor of Quaker Studies and Quaker Theology, and he has published extensively in the areas of Quaker Studies and African American Religious Studies. With Pink Dandelion, he is editor in chief of the new Brill series in Quaker studies.
x

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

ELAINE BISHOP, a retired social worker, lives in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada on Treaty 1 territory and the homeland of the Manitoba Metis Nation. She practiced in several social justice areas including women’s and Indigenous rights. She served Canadian Yearly Meeting in various capacities, including clerk, and Canadian Friends Service Committee as coordinator. Her PhD studies explored, through the lens of Quaker peace testimony, the roles of land in peace building. She currently serves on several boards and is working with an Indigenous/Settler circle to create a foundation to facilitate Settler engagement in reconciliation with Indigenous peoples. Publications include “The Sacred Nature of Places; Understanding Land as a Contribution to Peacebuilding” in Seeking Cultures of Peace: A Peace Church Conversation (2004); and “Share the Gifts: Honour the Treaties” in Yours, Mine, Ours: Unravelling the Doctrine of Discovery – a special edition of Intotemak (2016).

CLARE BROWN is an independent scholar whose research interests include nineteenth-century Quaker philanthropy and British and American abolitionism. She gained a first-class honors degree in Religious Studies with History in 1996 and received an MA with distinction in Religion and Society in 2000 from Cheltenham and Gloucester College of Higher Education (now the University of Gloucestershire). She was awarded her PhD from the University of Bristol, Trinity College, in 2015. Her doctoral thesis considered the contribution of Joseph Sturge to the British and American antislavery movement and examined the principles that motivated his work.
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

TIMOTHY BURDICK is Social and Human Services Professor at Edmonds Community College. He has served in leadership capacities with several Quaker ministries in Northwest Yearly Meeting, participated in mission projects with Quaker outreach groups in Brazil and Bolivia, and has an extensive vocational background in social service. His doctoral dissertation (2013) focused on the emerging neo-evangelical Quaker identity in early twentieth-century America. He has presented on Quaker issues at national conferences, and he has published various articles and reviews.

GEORGE BUZOLO is currently pastor of Chavakali Yearly Meeting of Friends Church (Quakers), attached to Kizivi Village (local) Meeting in Munugi Monthly Meeting. He also serves as chaplain of Friends School Demesi Secondary. From 2013 to 2016, he served as an adjunct tutor at Friends Theological College teaching residential program certificate and diploma classes at the Kaimosi main campus and also certificate classes at the Samburu-Maralal campus. Previous published work includes an article entitled “Pope Francis’ Visit to Africa: Implications for the Church” and “Pope Francis’ Visit to Africa: A Message of Hope,” both in the Africa Ecclesial Review.

NANCY JIWON CHO is Assistant Professor of English Literature at Seoul National University, South Korea. Her work is located in the fields of religion and literature, English poetry, and women’s writing. She has published journal articles and book chapters on the millenarian prophetic writings of Dorothy Gott, a Romantic-era (ex) Quaker visionary; the work of British women hymn writers (Anne Steele, Susanna Harrison, nineteenth-century Roman Catholic women, Ellen Lakshmi Goreh, and Amy Carmichael); and Evangelical children’s literature.

PINK DANDELION directs the work of the Centre for Research in Quaker Studies, Woodbrooke. He is professor of Quaker Studies at the University of Birmingham and a Research Fellow at Lancaster University. He edits Quaker Studies and convenes the Quaker Studies Research Association. His books include Early Quakers and Their Theological Thought (with Stephen Angell).
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

C. WESS DANIELS is the William R. Rogers Director of Friends Center and Quaker Studies at Guilford College. He has a PhD in Intercultural Studies from Fuller Theological Seminary and served as a “released minister” at Camas Friends Church for six years. Daniels has traveled and taught widely among Friends, including courses at George Fox Seminary and Earlham School of Religion. His book, A Convergent Model of Renewal: Remixing The Quaker Tradition in Participatory Culture (2015), sets out to describe a model of renewal that takes into account both tradition and innovation while fostering a participatory community. Other publications include Spirit Rising: Young Quaker Voices (2010); “Convergent Friends: The Emergence of Postmodern Quakerism” in Quaker Studies (2010); “A Faithful Betrayal: The New Quakers” in Quaker Life (2010); and “I (Hope) I see Dead People” in Friends Journal (2012). He is one of the associate editors of the Brill series in Quaker studies.

THOMAS D. HAMM received his PhD in History from Indiana University in 1985 and since 1987 has been on the faculty of Earlham College, where he serves as Professor of History and Director of Special Collections. He is the author of several books and numerous articles on Quaker history, including The Transformation of American Quakerism: Orthodox Friends, 1800–1907 (1988), The Quakers in America (2003), and Quaker Writings, 1650–1920 (2010). He has just finished a book-length study of Hicksite Friends, 1827–1900.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

JON R. KERSHNER is Lecturer in Theology at Pacific Lutheran University and Honorary Researcher in Quakerism at the University of Lancaster (United Kingdom). He is co-chair of the Quaker Studies Program Unit at the American Academy of Religion and one of the associate editors of the Brill series in Quaker studies. His research has been published in Quaker History, Quaker Studies, and Quaker Religious Thought, and the multi-authored volumes Quakers and Their Allies in the Abolitionist Cause, 1754–1808 (2015) and Quakers and Literature (2016).

STEPHANIE MIDORI KOMASHIN is a doctoral candidate in Religion at Hokkaido University. She was a recipient of the Japanese Government (MEXT) Research Student Scholarship. She holds an MDiv from Princeton Theological Seminary, where she was awarded the Senior Fellowship in History. Her publications include (with Andrew Komasinski) “How Relational Selfhood Rearranges the Debate between Feminists and Confucians” in Feminist Encounters with Confucius (2016); “How Ecology, Economics, and Ethics Brought Winstanley and Nitobe to Quakerism” in Quaker Studies 21(2) (2016); and “Miyabe Kingo no Joseikan” (Kingo Miyabe’s View of Women) in Kirisutokyou-Gaku (Studium Christianitatis) 51 (2016). Komashin’s current research is the Sapporo Band’s view of women with a focus on Inazo Nitobe’s and Kanzo Uchimura’s personal, professional, and Quaker-related interactions with women, and Quakerism in the Asia-Pacific region.

EMMA JONES LAPSANSKY is Emeritus Professor of History and Curator of the Quaker Collection at Haverford College, where she continues to teach and to consult with students and with scholars who visit Haverford’s Quaker Collections. She received her BA in History from the University of Pennsylvania, and her doctorate in American Civilization from the same institution. Her recent publications include Quaker Aesthetics (with Anne Verplanck) (2003); Back to Africa: Benjamin Coates and the American Colonization Movement (with Margaret Hope Bacon) (2005). She has contributed essays to Benjamin Franklin: In Search of a Better World (2006) and Pennsylvania: A History of the Commonwealth (2003) and was a contributing author to The...
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

RAMÓN GONZÁLEZ LONGORIA graduated with a Bachelor in Theology degree in 1976 from the Theological Evangelical Seminary (Matanzas, Cuba) and in Quaker Studies and Construction of Peace and Mediation from the Cuban Quaker Institute of Peace. He is principal and professor of the Cuban Quaker Institute of Peace. He has served as a Quaker pastor and recording minister since 1976, and as Presiding Clerk of CUBAYM for thirteen years. He has also served as Clerk of the Cuba YM Historical Committee and as a member of FWCC Central Executive Committee (1996–2000, 2013–2016, 2017–2019) and International Planning Committee (1996–2000, 2007–2012). He was Presiding Clerk of FWCC (2013–2016) and is now FWCC Assistant Clerk (2017–2019).

OSCAR MALANDE has served as a pastor in Kenya for twelve years at Vihiga Yearly Meeting of Friends. He taught and served as registrar and assistant academic dean at Friends Theological, Kaimosi, for three years. He is currently a graduate student at Earlham School of Religion in Richmond, Indiana.

ISAAC BARNES MAY is a doctoral candidate in Religious Studies at the University of Virginia. He holds a Master of Theological Studies degree from Harvard Divinity School, where he studied the religions of the Americas. His academic articles on Quakerism have appeared in Quaker History, Quaker Studies, and Quaker Theology, among other publications. In addition to studying Quakerism, his other research interests include religious liberalism, secularism, religion and law, and pacifism.

KATHERINE MURRAY is the Hospice Chaplain and Bereavement Coordinator at Hancock Regional Hospice in Greenfield, Indiana. She is also a longtime writer and editor, former publications director of Quaker Earthcare Witness, pastor of Noblesville First Friends Meeting, and adjunct faculty at Earlham School of Religion, where she teaches a course in Eco-Spirituality. Her books include Listening to the Earth: Meditations on Experiencing and Belonging to Nature (2011) and A Simple Guide to Eco-Spirituality (2012).

DAN CHRISTY RANDAZZO is Chester Reagan Chair of Quaker and Religious Studies at Moorestown Friends School in Moorestown, New Jersey. Randazzo serves as Graduate Student Representative at the American Academy of Religion. and co-chair of the Quaker Theological Discussion Group. His publications include a forthcoming article in Quaker Religious Thought on Quaker hybridity through the lens of Ham Sok Heon’s theology. He is a PhD candidate at the University of Birmingham. His dissertation, “The Interdependent ‘Light’: Quaker Models of God in Reconciliation Theology,” explores liberal Quaker reconciliation theology and was submitted in Spring 2017.

ANN RIGGS was Principal (President) and Senior Lecturer in Theology at Friends Theological College from 2009 to 2014. She represents Friends on the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches and the planning committee for the WCC’s 11th Assembly. Her publications include Introduction to Ecumenism (with Jeffrey Gros and Eamon McManus) (1998); Seeking Cultures of Peace: A Peace Church Conversation (2004); Ancient Faith and American Born Churches (with Ted Campbell and Gilbert Stafford) (2006); and God’s Love for the Poor and the Church’s Witness to It (with Shaun Casey, John Crossin, OSFS, Eric Crump, Katherine Grieb, and Beverly Mitchell) (2005). The theoretical bases for the case study on Africa in this volume were developed in her essays “The Global and Ecumenical Reach of Joseph Komonchak’s Realist’s Church” in A Realist’s Church: Essays in Honor of Joseph Komonchak (2015) and “Building on the Legacy of Ecumenical Trailblazers: Ecumenical Ecclesiological Possibilities of Mutual Recognition of the Personal Witness and Good Works of the Redeemed” in Ecumenical Trends.

JULIA HINSHAW RYBERG is a tenth-generation Friend, born and raised in the United States, residing in Sweden since 1975. She serves as pedagogue to Sweden Yearly Meeting and as Ministry and Outreach Coordinator for the Europe and Middle East Section of the Friends World Committee for Consultation. She has served Woodbrooke Quaker Study Centre as European Project Coordinator and continues to serve as Associate Tutor. Her work includes teaching, retreat leadership, travel in the ministry, outreach, writing, and speaking engagements. A special focus is the development of online resources and learning opportunities for Friends. Her presentations over the years at Yearly Meeting sessions and other Quaker gatherings in Germany (Carey Lecture 2011), Britain, Poland, Sweden, and Ireland have been published in various contexts. She is ecumenically active in Sweden and contributed, on behalf of Swedish Friends, to the Swedish Christian Council’s peace anthology Att slå följe för fred. She has been a regular columnist in the progressive Christian Swedish web magazine Dagens Seglora. She holds an MDiv from Earlham School of Religion.

THEONESTE SENTABIRE is a professional teacher and a peace activist. He served as a high school teacher at College George Fox de Butaro (Rwanda) for seven years. He has taught at Friends Theological College, Kaimosi, in Kenya and also served as an interim pastor in one of the Quaker local churches. Sentabire holds a Master of Arts in Religion: Peace Studies from Earlham School of Religion. Currently, he is a PhD candidate at the United Mandated University for Peace (Costa Rica).
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

DEBORAH L. SHAW serves as director of the Quaker Leadership Scholars Program and the assistant director of the Friends Center, both of Guilford College, Greensboro, North Carolina. She leads numerous retreats and workshops in America and Britain on Quaker Spirituality and exploring historic Quaker luminaries and their impact on Quaker faith and practice today. Her publications include chapters in Good and Evil: Quaker Perspectives (2007) and The Quaker Bible Reader (2006); “Being Fully Present to God,” Annual Michener Lecture (Southeastern Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, 2005); and numerous articles in Journal of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting (Conservative) and the Pastoral Care Newsletter.

NANCY THOMAS is currently researching and writing the 100-year history of Friends (INELA) in Bolivia, a five-year project. Nancy and her husband Hal have served alongside Bolivian Friends from 1972 to the present, living in Bolivia for most of that time. As part of her vocation she has trained Latin American Quaker writers in five countries. A poet as well as a scholar, Nancy has published four volumes of poetry, the latest being Close to the Ground (2016). Her other books include La iglesia latinoamericana: su vida y su misión (“The Latin American Church: It’s Life and Mission,” with Alberto F. Roldán and Carlos Van Engen, 2011); Footprints of God: A Narrative Theology of Mission (with Charles Van Engen and Robert Gallagher) (1999), and some ten theological titles in Spanish, published in La Paz, Bolivia. Nancy’s PhD in Intercultural Studies is from Fuller Theological Seminary (1998). Nancy and Hal live in Newberg, Oregon.

GREG WOODS is a Quaker campus minister who has worked at Guilford College and is setting up a network of Quaker campus ministries at non-Quaker higher education institutions. He wrote the chapter entitled “The Sweat Lodge and Meeting for Worship” for Spirit Rising: Young Quaker Voices (2010). He lives in Greensboro, North Carolina, with his wife and daughter.