

Index

- accountability, 221, 231–233, 311 achievement of excellence, 50–51 action (as expression of desires), 5–6 akrasia (Greek), 34
 Althusser, Louis, 96
An Enquiry Concerning the Human Understanding, 79
 Anscombe, Elizabeth, 5
 Aquinas, Thomas
 and achievement of excellence, 50–51, 53
 and achievement of final good, 53 and every desire is for some good, 10–12 and plain persons as practical reasoners, 88–89 and social order under capitalism, 99–100 and theological nature of final good, 55–56 Aristotle
 and achievement of final good, 53 and conflict resolution, 223–224
 and human flourishing, 28–31
 and morality, 117–120
 and philosophical enquiry, 206 and practical rationality, 80
 and prohairesis, 38–39
 and sociological self-knowledge, 213 and the ethics of modern politics, 177–178 and the influence of teleology in achievement of final goods, 227–230 and the tension between social prejudices and human function, 85–87
 on happiness, 54, 200–202
 on moral and political error, 220–221 on reason and action, 189–191 on theoretical enquiry, 76 Arnold, Matthew, 174
 art
 as a human good, 143–146 as a learned value, 148–149 as a means to a new morality, 146–148 assertive sentences, 17–18 Associação Comunitária Monte Azul, 181 asymmetry condition, 185 attitude of approval, 6
 Austin, J. L., 13
 Ayer, A. J., 19, 23
 Baier, Annette, 86
beatitudo (Latin), 54
beatitudo (old French), 229
beatus (Latin), 201
 Becker, Gary S., 186, 188 beliefs, 7
 Benthamite utilitarianism, 282
 Berlin, Isaiah, 163, 222
 Berry, Wendell, 171
Beyond a Boundary, 288–291, 292–294
Beyond Good and Evil, 42, 58
 Bismarck, Otto von, 168
 Blackburn, Simon
 and human flourishing, 39
 and moral reflection, 21–22 and quasi-realism, 41–42 and relationship between meaning and endorsement, 19
 Bloody Sunday, 301
 Boethius, 53
boulēsis (Greek), 80
 Brown, Jonathan, 191 bureaucracy, 124
 Burke, Edmund, 271, 274
 Burns, Tom, 130
Capital, 94
 capitalism
 and commodification of labor, 94–96, 97 and social costs of rational risk management, 103–105
 and surplus value, 96–97
 Cardinal Manning, 107
 Chicago Public Schools, 203–205 choice
 and influence of third person perspective, 159–162
 and the impact of the good enough mother, 36

- Christensen, Kaare, 199
 Churchill, Winston, 144
civitas (Latin), 176
 common goods
 and achievement of as necessary for social justice, 106–110 and constraints of war, 253 and pursuit of as experience in Monte Azul, 181–182 and pursuit of as experienced in Thorupstrand, 178–180 as compared to public goods, 168–169 family pursuit of, 169–170 NeoAristotelianism approach to achievement of, 202–205 politics of achievement of, 177–178 school pursuit of, 172–174 state promotion of, 125 workplace pursuit of, 170–172 communication. See language compartmentalized lives and human failure, 227–228 and modern life, 203
 and Vasily Grossman, 251
 as part of double lives, 250 conflict resolution, 214–216 connectivity condition, 185 cooperation, 20, 26
 cost–benefit analysis, 77
 Craemer, Ute, 181
Cré na Cille, 234–236 cultures (influence of), 27–28 Cummins Engine Company, 172 decision theory, 184, 185 decisive debt, 94

 Deming, W. Edwards, 130, 170–171 desires, See also good and conflict with reason, 42–46 and identification of goods, 9–13 and influence of modern culture on, 120–123 and limits of the imagination, 237 and the influence of cultural norms on, 135–136 as motivation to act, 5–6, 7–12 characteristics of human, 1–3 influence of belief on, 7 transformation of, 129–133
 Desmond, William, 12
 Diderot, Denis, 137–138
 Diener, Ed, 194
 directedness
 and a life well lived, 314–315 and exercise of the virtues, 217–218 disruptions, 4

 Distributism, 108–110
 double lives
 and C. L. R. James, 293–294
 and conflict between pursuit of common and individual goods, 174–176 and Soviet writers, 248–249, 250–251
 and Thomistic Aristotelianism, 166–168 Dunayevskaya, Raya, 280

 eccentric behavior, 81
 economic modernity
 and influence on working class opportunities, 120–123 and inter-relationship between the state and the market, 128–129 influence of academia on, 101–105 emotional education, 147, 148 emotivism, 17–19. See also Stevenson, Charles L., expressivism endorsements, 17–19, 41 Engels, Friedrich, 93
 Episodic self-experience, 240 epithumia (Greek), 80
 equilibrium theory, 101 ergon (Greek), 86
 established hierarchies of power, 211–212 ethical Narrativity thesis, 240 Ethics and the Limits of Philosophy, 164 ethics-of-the-market, 127–128 ethics-of-the-state, 125 eudaimon, 29
eudaimonia, 54
 evaluative disagreements, 22–24, 27–28 evaluative sentences, 17–18 Everything Flows, 259–261 expressivism and conflict between desires and Morality, 138–141 and conflict between reason and desire, 41–42, 47–48, 67–68 and conflict in achievement of desires, 31–33 and determination of good, 20–22
 and evaluative disagreements, 22–24
 and human flourishing, 25–26, 29–30, 39–40
 and on being a rational agent, 57–59 and role of personal relationships in, 61 and the role of reason in the determination of final ends, 47–48 critique of, 152–155

 Fama, Eugene, 104
 Fama's Efficient Markets hypothesis, 104

- Faul, Denis
 impact of hunger strikes on, 305–306 influence of Thomastic principles on, 302–304, 308
 practical rationality of, 299 felix (Latin), 201
 felt need, 2
 Feuerbach, Ludwig, 96
 final ends. See final good final good and achievement of as a characteristic of human distinctiveness, 227–230 and struggles against evil, 309–311 and the achievement of excellence as a human being, 50–51
 and the role of narratives in achievement of, 233–236
 bureaucratic overtake of, 130–131 determination of, 52–54
 the influence of theism on a, 230–231 flourishing. See human flourishing
For a Just Cause, 254–255 Frankfurt, Harry
 and conflict between reason and desire, 44–46
 and second order desires, 6 and the practical live, 149 and what we care about, 143 Franklin, Benjamin, 149 free markets, 177–180
 Freud, Sigmund, 32
- game theory, 185–189
 Gauguin, Paul, 141
 Geach, Peter, 19
 Gibbard, Alan, 19–21, 33, 42
 Gilson, Étienne, 166
Glyukauf, 246
 Gombrich, E. H., 144
 good. See also desires and achievement of as a rational preference, 19–24
 and conflict between hunger strikers and Denis Faul, 305–306
 and human flourishing, 25, 27–28
 and NeoAristotelianism, 36–39
 as motivation to act, 7–12 impact of human development on determination of, 35–39
 qualifications in the use of, 13–14 role of shared deliberation in determination of, 56–57
 use of narrative as a form of evaluation of, 218–220
 good-enough mother, 35–39
- Good Friday Agreement of 1998, 307 good life, 222–223
 Gross Domestic Product, 103
 Gross National Happiness, 193 Grossman, Vasily
 and impact of war on, 251–254
 and practical rationality, 256, 261–262
 and search for truthfulness, 263, 264 and the double life of a Soviet writer, 246–248, 250–251, 253
 life goal, 255
- Hale, Bob, 19
 Hampshire, Stuart, 81, 222
 Hansen, Lars Peter, 104 happiness
 and a diminished sense of possibility, 198–199
 contemporary definition of, 193–196, 200
 Hegel, Georg, 94
 herd mentality, 33
 Højrup, Thomas, 178–180 honest life, 248
 human distinctiveness, 224–226
 human flourishing and attainment of common goods, 106–110 and attainment of desires, 129–133 and human vs. non-human, 24–26 and Marxism, 281
 and prohairesis, 38–39
 and Stalinism, 245
 and the good enough mother, 35–39 Aristotelian components of, 28–31 human rights, 77–78
 Hume, David and achievement of desire, 79–81 and deformations of social order, 86 and how evaluative judgements motivate, 140 and the role of reason in the determination of final ends, 46
 and universal sentiments, 82–85 hunger strikes, 304–306
- idle wishes, 5, 6
 imagination of possibilities, 198–199, 212
 “In the Town of Berdichev” (“V gorode Berdicheve”), 246
 individualism, 283–285
 inequality, 126–127
 institutionalized routines, 7 intentional actions, 10–11 irrational behavior, 46
 Irwin, Terence, 80

- James, C. L. R
 and evolution of personal philosophy, 279–282 and teleological structure of human lives, 295 influence of Marxism on, 275–277 influence of Puritanism on, 274–275 political agenda of, 280–282 Johnson-Forest tendency, 280–282 just war, 304
- Kahneman, Daniel, 191–192, 194
 Kantianism, 150–152
 Kautsky, Karl, 93
 Keynes, John Maynard, 104
- La Nausée*, 232–233
 labor, 94–96, 97, 107
Lady Chatterley's Lover, 147 language, 26–27, 28
 LaSalle, Ferdinand, 100, 198–199
 Lawrence, D. H., 146–148, 149, 150
 Layard, Richard, 195
Le Neveu de Rameau, 137
Learned Optimism: How to Change Your Mind and Your Life, 194
 Levellers, 83, 84
 Lewis, David, 210
 liberal democracies, 126–127, 134 Life and Fate, 254, 255, 256–259, 260–261 life events, 4
 Lubasz, Heinz, 94
- Maimonides, 55
makarios, 229
 Mannheim, Karl, 64
 Marx, Karl
 and influence of Aristotle on his works, 94–96 and surplus value as tenet of capitalism, 96–97 and the destructiveness of capitalism, 99 Marxism
 and influence on C. L. R. James, 275–277 and the need for a working class society, 100–101 and working class politics, 106–110 Mill, John Stuart, 199
 modernity
 and art as a human good, 143–146 and cultural influences on attainment of desires, 133–136 and sources of desire, 129–133 and the dominance of Morality, 138 monetarism, 104
 Monte Azul (Brazil), 181 moral and political error, 220–222 moral conviction, 152–155 moral education, 153
 moral obligation, 151
 moral philosophy and importance of tradition in development of, 287–291 and need for authenticity, 155–156 moral reflection, 21–22
 morality
 and conflict with artistic achievement, 144–146 and flaws in philosophical theory of, 76–78 and Hume's universal sentiments, 80–81 and tension over adherence to moral rules, 65–66 rejection of, 150–152, 156–158 Morality
 and adherence to by modern society, 64 and conflict between practice and theory, 65–66, 67–69 and constraint of desires, 129 and its influence on the maintenance of economic order, 84–85 and secular societies, 136–138 as a constraint on rational maximizers, 187–189 characteristics of, 115–116 conflicts within principles of, 116–120 Morality: An Introduction to Ethics, 154
- narratives and achievement of final ends, 233–236 and disagreements over meaning of, 238–242 and influence on desires, 3 and the dependence on storytelling to comprehend human nature, 236–237 and the power of language, 26–27 as a form of accountability, 231–233 Nash, John, 186
 nation states, 124–125
 natural law, 88–89
 natural slave, 85, 88
 naturalism, 247, 255–256 NeoAristotelianism. See also Thomistic Aristotelianism and achievement of excellence, 50–51
 and arguments against, 48 and being a rational agent, 70–75 and failure to flourish, 39–41
 and human flourishing, 30–31
 and philosophical errors of expressivism, 114 and pursuit of final good, 57–59 and pursuit of goods, 54–57 and role in contemporary life, 164–165 and the desire for good, 33–34, 36–39

- NeoAristotelianism (cont.) and the importance of personal relationships, 60–61 as an alternative practice to capitalism, 98–100 on being a rational agent, 87–88 on being happy, 196–200 Nicomachean Ethics, 38, 90, 95
 Nietzsche, Friedrich
 and conflict between reason and desire, 42–43
 and imposition of beliefs, 33 on Aristotelianism, 48
 on being a rational agent, 57–59
 Nobel Prize for Economics, 104 non-human flourishing, 24–25, 26 nous (Greek), 80
 Nussbaum, Martha, 86, 164
- Ó Cadhain, Máirtín, 234–236
 O'Connor, Sandra Day and adherence to insular traditions, 271–273 and mode of judicial reasoning, 266–268 influence of shared cultural inheritance on, 265–266 “Of the Rise and Progress of the Arts and Sciences” (essay), 82 orexis (Latin), 80
 Ostrom, Elinor, 182
- Padmore, George, 278
 Pareto, Vilfredo, 102, 184 philosophical conflicts and agreement on what is good, 15–16 and attainment of wealth, 90–93 and contemporary philosophy, 34–35, 61–64 and evaluative statements as endorsements, 17–19 and expressivism vs. NeoAristotelianism and achievement of final good, 59–63
 and Morality, 65–69
 philosophical enquiry and distortion of social realities, 78–79 and the need to confront objections to central tenets, 87–88 limitations of, 70–72 philosophical inquiry. See philosophical enquiry Philosophical Papers, 210 phronēsis (Greek), 74, 118
 Pierce, C. S., 63
 Plato, 53, 149
pleonexia (Greek), 109, 127, 218 Plotinus, 53
polis (Greek), 28, 176
Politics, 94
 Pope Leo XIII, 106
 powers of the state, 125–127 practical errors, 75–76, 80 practical rationality. See also rational maximizers and avoidance of failure, 190–191 and awareness of good in desires, 9–12 and choices between incompatible goods, 250 and danger of insularity, 297 and influence of restraint, 275 and the failure of rational agents to maximize preferences, 185
 and Vasily Grossman, 256
 “Preference and Preferability” (essay), 42 preference maximization and management of common resources, 181–182 and the virtues, 216–217 as key to personal success, 135–136 preferences, 19–21
 Prisoner’s Dilemma, 186 progressive taxation, 105 probairesis (Greek), 38–39, 51, 190 prudentia (Latin), 74, 118 psychological Narrativity thesis, 240
- quasi-realism, 41–42
- rank ordering
 and C. L. R. James, 280
 and hunger strikes, 306 and the culture of modernity, 134 disagreement about, 14–15 impact of Stalinism on, 246
- rational agent. See also rational maximizers and determination of good, 37–39
 and maximization of preferences, 101–102 and natural law, 88–89
 and self awareness, 74–76 and the achievement of final good, 52–54 and the decision to take action, 9–12 and the influence of market transactions on preferences, 108–110 Thomistic influence on, 106 rational justification, 111, 210–213 rational maximizers. See also rational agent, preference maximization and achievement of non-optimal preferences, 184 and game theory, 185–189 constraints of Morality on, 187–189 rational risk management, 103–105 rational thinking, 19–24
 Raz Joseph, 10
Rerum Novarum, 107
 right action, 291–292
 Romanticism, 21
 Roschd, Ibn, 55

- Ross, W. D., 14
 Rothko, Mark, 202
- Sartre, 23, 232–233
 satisficers, 184
 Savage, L. J., 102, 108, 184
 Schroeder, Mark, 19
 Schueler, G. F., 19 self-perception and impact of social relationships on, 162–163 and importance of third person standpoint, 153, 157–158, 159–162
 self-rule, 126
 Seligman, Martin, 194 share fishing, 178–180
 shared cultural inheritance and influence of in life of C. L. R. James, 274–275, 287–291
 and influence of in life of Denis Faul, 297–299, 301, 303, 308–309 and influence of in life of Sandra Day O'Connor, 265–266, 271–273 and need for in Caribbean, 286 and social prejudices, 112 and the importance of accumulation of wealth, 89–92
 shared culture, 183
 shared deliberation and right action, 291–292
 and the determination of common goods, 56–57, 314–315
 and the politics of common goods, 177–178
 and Thomistic Aristotelianism, 215
 as a method to reduce human error, 191–192
 Shiller, Robert, 104
 Simon, Herbert A., 184
 Smith, Adam, 91–92, 168, 191 social justice, 106–110 social order and Aristotelianism, 99–100 and conflicts over Marxism, 100–101 and expression of in everyday life, 211–213 and impact on happiness, 199–200 and the impact on feelings and desires, 147–148
 as a requirement for human flourishing, 271–273
 sociological self-knowledge and rational justification, 210–213 and theoretical enquiry, 112–113 Sons and Lovers, 149
 Soviet revisionism of war, 253–254, 256–257
 Stalin, Joseph, 244–245, 253
- Stalingrad, battle of, 254, 258 Stalinism
 and constraints placed on writers, 245, 247–249, 251, 253
 and determination of good, 245, 246, 263
 Steiner, Hillel, 78
 Stevenson, Charles L., 17–19
 Stoicism, 21
 storytelling. See narratives Strawson, Galen, 239–242
Summa Theologiae, 89
 surplus value, 96–97
 Sutherland, Graham, 144
- Tarantino, Quentin, 234
 Taylor, Shelley E., 191
 teleology, 226–231, 295
telos (Greek), 86
 Tengely, Lázló, 238–239
 Thackeray, William, 277
The Black Jacobins: Toussaint L'Ouverture and the San Domingo Revolution, 278–279
The Needs for Common Goods for Coastal Communities, 178
The Rainbow, 147, 149
The Theory of Moral Sentiments, 92
 the virtues
 and influence on rank ordering of goods, 189–191
 and the human condition, 216–220 qualities needed in the development of, 311–312
 theoretical enquiry, 110–113 theoretical inquiry. See theoretical enquiry Thomas, Alan, 19
 Thomism, 106–110
 Thomistic Aristotelianism. See also NeoAristotelianism and double lives, 166–168 and shared deliberation, 192–193
 and the human condition, 215–217 and the need to blend theoretical and practical enquiry, 206–209 and the political dimension of rational agents, 182–183
 philosophical justification of, 209–211
 Thompson, E. P., 83
 Thorupstrand (Denmark), 178–180
thumos (Greek), 80
tilfreds (Danish), 199
 torture, 116
 transitivity condition, 185
A Treatise of Human Nature, 79
 Trotskyism, 245, 247
 Tversky, Amos, 191–192

322 unconstrained maximizer, 186 Union of Soviet Writers, 247, 259 universal sentiments, 82–85 Unwin, Nicholas, 19

 utilitarianism, 77–78, 150–152 utility maximization, 77–78 value of goods, 90–91 value of work, 172

 van Roojen, Mark, 19
 Veenhoven, Ruut, 195 von Neumann, John, 186
 von Wright, G. H., 13
 Voronsky, Alexander, 249–250

wants. See desires war, 252
 West Indies Federation, 286
 whims, 10
 Wilde, Oscar

Index

and art as a learned value, 145–146 and the conflict between morality and art, 141–145
 art as a learned value, 149

Williams, Bernard and authenticity and self-expression, 150 and critique of expressivism, 152–155 and rejection of morality, 150–152, 163–164
 on moral and political error, 221–222
 on moral philosophy, 43

Winnicott, D. W., 35
 Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 202
 Wolf, F. A., 174
Women in Love, 149
 working class influence of economic modernity on opportunities for, 120–123 need for self-organization of, 280–282, 287
 World Database of Happiness, 194