

INDEX

- Abbot, George, archbishop of Canterbury, 372, 406, 436
- abdication of the crown, not legally possible, 342
- abridgements of cases, 77, 345
- absolutist monarchy: Francis Bacon and, 305–7; the Church of England and, 137, 293, 350–1; Civil lawyers and, 20, 119, 391–2; discretionary rule and Magna Carta, 357; Lord
 Ellesmere and, 345; James I and,
 339–40; medieval popes and, 3, 9, 30,
 120; see also under prerogative, royal (absolute prerogatives)
- actions founded on Magna Carta:
 authorised implicitly by the charter, 429, 503; authorised by Marlborough, 49, 94–5; damages in,
 353; first brought in the King's Bench (1501–32), 97–9, 456–62, 503; new formula including false imprisonment (1606–7), 310, 352–3, 514–16, 531–3; may be brought in the Common Pleas, 507;
 revived in the Common Pleas (1595), 277–8, 484–7; suit stopped by the Privy Council, 277–8, 487; used in respect of a Chancery suit, 377, 462
- Acts of Parliament see statutes
- Added Parliament (1614), 407–8, 427;
 thought to be the last parliament ever (1616), 421
- Adgore, Gregory, of Inner Temple, 77, 96
- Admiralty, Court of, 166, 209–10, 430, 516; follows Civil law, 454–5; origin of, 306
- adultery, punishment of, 139–41, 290, 372
- advowson, usurpation of, contrary to Magna Carta, 61; see also
 commendams; quare impedit
- Agmondesham, John, of Middle
 Temple, imprisonment of, 166,
 495–6
- aid prayer of the king, 94, 181
- alderman, office of: as a liberty, 396;
 restoration to, by mandamus, 205–6,
 396–8, 488
- Alexander II, king of Hungary, 41
- Alexander III, king of Scotland, 299–301
- Alfield, Thomas, Jesuit missionary, 129
- aliens, 34, 112, 191, 203, 431; when bound by English statutes, 105
- alimony see under husband and wife (suits for maintenance or alimony)
- Allen, Thomas, cardinal, 129
- Allen, Thomas, haberdasher, 320
- Altham, Sir James, B., 394
- amercement, 88; of earls and barons,
 92–3, 452
- America see United States of America
- Anabaptists, 131
- 'ancient constitution', 444–5
- Anderson, Sir Edmund, CJCP: and Magna Carta, 250, 276; complains of abuses by conciliar jurisdictions, 210,
 303; mentioned in will of Robert Snagge, 276; warns of danger of encroachments by Requests, 485, 487
- Andrews, Euseby, of Lincoln's Inn, 23
- Anger, Richard, of Gray's Inn, suspected of murder, 170

- Annesley, Brian, warden of the Fleet, 165, 179
- Anstis, John, Garter King of Arms, 234
- Antigonus I, king of Macedonia, 147, 473
- appeal of death, by a woman, 85
- appeal of felony, against a peer, 39, 92, 455, 464, 510
- apprentices, 203, 323
- Aquinas, Thomas, advocate of religious intolerance, 122
- arbitrary rule see absolutism; discretion arcana imperii, 145, 401; ‘the mysteries that keep up states’, 306
- Arches, Court of, 139
- Arden, Mary, 182
- Arianism, 131, 294–5
- aristocracy, undesirability of government by, 256, 306
- armour, obligation to find, 257
- arrest see false imprisonment; warrant for arrest
- Articles of Religion, 134, 525
- Arundel, earl of, see FitzAlan
- Arundel, Sir John, 154
- Arundel, Thomas, archbishop of Canterbury, 63
- Arundell, John, of Quarnack, 264–5
- Ashley, Francis, of Middle Temple: reading on chapter 29 of Magna Carta (1616), 427–35; defender of royal prerogative under Charles I, 434
- assizes: availability of habeas corpus at, 163; commissions read in public, 135; jurisdiction over darrein presentment and quare impedit, despite Magna Carta, 22; jurisdiction over recusancy, 134; prohibition lies to, 376
- Athelstan, king of England, laws of, 85
- attainder of treason, without trial, 32, 36, 67–8
- attorneys: their appointment saves litigants the hardship of travel, 136; committed for suing an action contrary to injunction, 210; interference with profession of, 49; Northern attorneys complain of harassment by Council in the North, 380; put in stocks, 352–3, 531
- Atwell, Walter, of Gray’s Inn, 76
- Aubrey, Andrew, lord mayor of London, executes a miscreant without trial, 478, 480–1
- Audley, Thomas, of Inner Temple, later Baron Audley, lord chancellor, 217, 462, 505
- Babthorpe, Leonard, of Middle Temple, 137–8
- Bacon, Sir Francis, of Gray’s Inn, later Baron Verulam: appointed king’s counsel extraordinary (1594), 305; appointed a Privy Councillor in order to bring down Coke (1616), 420; appointed LK (1617), 440; on benevolences, 407–8; compared with Coke, 440–1; complains against the judges, 383, 425; on the Council in the Marches, 305–7; defends monopolies, 197; defends Star Chamber power to award damages, 404; on impositions, 329; on imprisonment, 361; on the king’s judicial capacity, 306; on ‘novelists’ and papists, 131; objects to counsel speaking against the prerogative, 422–3; opinion on the Bridewell charter wrongly attributed to, 241; on proclamations, 154; proposes removal of independent-minded judges, 419; prosecutes a barrister for impugning the prerogative, 400–1; scheme to codify the law, 344–5; suggests summary dismissal of Coke, 436; supports absolutist monarchy, 305–7, 345, 440–1; suspected of spying on the Commons, 427; on the two kinds of prerogative, 306; on the value of ‘tenures of favour’ and ‘personal dependences’, 306
- Bacon, Sir Nicholas, LK, 157; creation of Subpoena Office, 423; imprisonment by, 265; on Chancery jurisdiction, 211; tolerant of nonconformists, 134

- Badlesmere, Bartholomew, Baron
 Badlesmere, 53–4
- Bagg, James, alderman of Plymouth,
 396–7
- Bagshaw, Edward, of Middle Temple,
 108, 115, 375
- bail and mainprise, 136, 161, 290, 476,
 503; bail for prisoners of the Council,
 401
- Bancroft, Richard, archbishop of Canterbury, 134, 355, 360, 366
- banishment see exile
- bankruptcy commissions, 242
- baptism: godparents addressed in singular, 259; sign of the cross, 129, 134, 142
- Bar see barristers; counsel; serjeants at law
- Bardolf, John, Baron Bardolf, 61
- Barnstaple, Devon, mayor called a fool, 201
- barrister: acting as a solicitor, 239; call to the bar, 70, 313, 402, 475; exemption from burdensome local offices, 432–3; see also counsel
- Bate, John, importer of currants, 328–31
- Bayfield, Richard, 121
- Baynham, James, of the Temple, 122
- Beale, Robert, clerk of the Council,
 259–60, 271–2, 274
- Beauchamp, Thomas de, earl of Warwick, 63
- Beaufort, Lady Margaret, mother of Henry VII, 229
- Belknap, Robert, CJCP, exile of, 478, 509
- Bell, Robert, of Middle Temple, 189
- benefice, ecclesiastical, see advowson;
 commendams; quare impedit
- benefit of clergy, 30–1, 81,
 111–12, 119
- benevolences and forced loans, 185–6,
 407–9
- Benn, Anthony, of Middle Temple, 430
- Bereford, William de, CJCP, 47
- Bertie, Robert, Baron Willoughby
 d’Eresby, 299
- Berwick-upon-Tweed, subject to the King’s Bench in England, 299–301
- bible, English, possession of, evidence of heresy, 116
- bigamy, canonical, 83, 111
- Bill of Rights (1689), 449
- Bilney, Thomas, 122
- Bindon, Viscount, see Howard
- bishop: absence from Parliament punishable in King’s Bench, 503–4; not triable by peers, 463–4
- Black Death, 34, 51
- Blackstone, Sir William, edition of Magna Carta, 1, 4, 10
- Blackwall, Richard, of Inner Temple, reader of Clement’s Inn, 101
- Board of Green Cloth, 325–7
- Bodin, Jean, 249
- bonds, penal: to abide by order of court, 378, 389; relief against, 103
- Boniface of Savoy, archbishop of Canterbury, 18
- Bonner, Edmund, bishop of London, 160
- Book of Common Prayer, 134, 142,
 358, 374, 529
- Bowes, Robert, monopolist, 320
- Bowes, Sir William, 179
- Brackley, Viscount, see Egerton,
 Thomas
- Bracton*: cited in late-medieval readings, 79, 85, 223, 227; cited by Coke, 344, 367; cited by Fleetwood, 228, 244; cited by Snagge, 252; on the king being bound by the law, 180; on the king being under God and the law, 43, 48, 87, 344–5, 367; on sanctions against the king, 42;
 printed edition of, 144, 367–8; says
 the law cannot destroy a man, 408
- Brearley, Henry, 299
- Brereton, Richard and Thomas, 403
- brewing, monopoly of, 319
- bribery, 40, 98, 440, 465
- Bridewell Prison, 212, 241–3, 245, 266–9
- Bristol, city, 308, 325–6
- Britain, ancient, law in, 86, 223, 225

- Brooke, Ralph, York Herald, 375
 Brooke (Broke), Sir Richard, JCP, later CB, 79, 104
 Brooke, Robert, of Middle Temple, later CJCP, intolerant views of, 112
 Browne, Sir Anthony, JCP, on the succession, 231
 Browne, Humphrey, sjt, later JCP, imprisonment of, 100–1, 399
 Brownlow, Richard, chief prothonotary of the Common Pleas, 422–4, 484
 Brut, legendary king of Britain, 86, 223, 225
 Bulkeley, Sir Richard, 212
 Burcot, Dr, see Kranich, Burchart bye-laws, 202–3, 311–18, 338, 432–3, 468–76, 487–9
- Caesar, Dr (later Sir) Julius: chairs tribunal on Darcy's monopoly, 320; master of requests, 277, 279, 282; minutes proceedings in the Privy Council, 369, 383; on the antiquity of the Star Chamber, 405
 Caesar, Thomas, 399
 Calais, habeas corpus to, 496
 calamine stone, 193–4
 Calthorpe, Henry, of Middle Temple: on Coke and the reasons for his dismissal, 436–7
 Cambridge, Cambs: bailiff of, restored to office, 205; Tolbooth prison, 205
 Cambridge University: attempt to suppress theological enquiry at, 121; custom of imprisoning prostitutes, 268; Magdalene College, 416; Pembroke College (Valence Mary Hall), 61; writ of protection against the town, 107
 Camden, William, discourse on the prerogative, 434, 444
 Campion, Edmund, Jesuit priest, 130, 153
 canon law, 110; commission for review of, 221, 521, 523; common law and, 113–14; not lex terrae, 429; treated as foreign law, 137, 521, 527; see also inquisitorial procedure; provincial constitutions
 Canons Ecclesiastical (1604), 297–8, 521
 Canterbury (province), Audience Court of, 120, 139
 Canterbury, Kent, unlawful custom concerning butchers in, 318
 Canute see Cnut
capias, writs of, 92, 101, 453–4 cards see playing-cards
 Carew, Martha, widow of Sir Wymond, 160
 Carew, Thomas, Presbyterian minister, 160
 Carey, Henry, Baron Hunsdon, lord chamberlain of the Household, 165–6, 495
 Carr, Robert, earl of Somerset, 436 castle, widow's right to remain in, 71, 89 castle-ward, 84, 112
 Catcher, John, sheriff of London, 266–9
 Catesby, William (d. 1479), of Inner Temple, 72
 Catesby, William (d. 1485), of Inner Temple, 75
 Catlyn, Sir Robert, CJKB, 121; awards habeas corpus for a recusant, 160; on the supremacy of the King's Bench, 159; on absolute and ordinary prerogatives, 144
 Cave, Sir Ambrose, chancellor of the duchy, 158, 242
 Cavendish, Richard, MP, 266
 Caversfield, Bucks, manor of, 176
 Cawdray (Caudrey), Robert, nonconformist minister, 141–3
 Cecil, Robert, earl of Salisbury, 183, 273, 330, 341, 370, 422
 Cecil, William, Lord Burghley, 134, 254, 256, 260, 268–70, 273, 341, 520
Certain Errors upon the Statute, 231
certiorari, to quash orders of quarter sessions, 201, 338
 Chagos Islanders, 448

- Chambers, Henry, 296
 chancellor of England (lord chancellor):
 an ‘arbitrary disposition’ entrusted to him, 411; as the instrument of the king’s prerogative, 421; as keeper of the king’s conscience, 411; ordinary and extraordinary power of, 413; the sole judge of equity, 411; see also Chancery; Bacon; Egerton; equitable jurisdiction
 Chancery: assault on a clerk of, 50;
 commission from, held illegal, 59–61; fees for its clerks, 453; see also writs
 Chancery, Court of: always open,
 411; appeal to judges delegate, 288;
 attempt to restrict its jurisdiction in the fourteenth century, 52;
 depositions in, 430; dispute between Coke and Ellesmere over, 410–21, 426; follows conscience rather than lex terrae, 455; growing activity under Henry VIII, 101;
habeas corpus for prisoners of, 162–3, 412–18, 462; injunctions after judgments at law, 338, 378,
 414–21; injunctive power, 212–14,
 284–9; limits on its jurisdiction, 36,
 102–3, 288–9, 339, 411;
 jurisdiction operates in personam, 485; not a court of record, 287, 386;
officina justitiae, 411; origin of, 349, 407; petitions to, 50; prohibition to,
 376–7, 412; represented by Ellesmere as the ‘very treasury of the ancient prerogative’, 419; serjeant at arms may not break into a private house, 433; Star Chamber decree as to its jurisdiction (1616), 420–1; Subpoena Office, 423;
 suits become ‘immortal’ after 1616 decree, 420; whether relief must be sought before judgment at law, 417; see also conscience; equitable jurisdiction and procedure
 Channel Islands: law in, 300–1; writs sent from King’s Bench to, 302
 Chapel Royal: conscription of boys for,
 170; dean of, as judge of requests,
 459, 461
 Chauncy, Sir William, 372–3
 Chelmsford, Essex, oyer and terminer at, 58
 Cheney, —, nonconformist minister,
 139–41
 Cherry Island (Bear Island), near Norway, 192
 Chester, county palatine of, 105, 211,
 387; chamberlain of, 387; Chancery of, 386; chief justice of, 304
 ‘chief justice of England’, as title of CJKB, 438
 Chisnall, Richard, of Gray’s Inn, 105
 Church of England, separated from Roman jurisdiction: chapter 1 of Magna Carta and, 30–1; historical research and, 220–1; not a new church but a continuation of the old, 111, 295–6, 298; purpose of Henry VIII’s legislation, 357, 522; see also
 Ecclesia Anglicana; Reformation
 Parliament; supremacy
 Church see also canon law;
 Convocation; ecclesiastical
 jurisdiction
 Church, English, see Ecclesia Anglicana churches, not legal persons, 83 churchwardens: custom as to, 297;
 imprisonment by, 352
 Cinque Ports: habeas corpus sent to, 168; lex terrae and, 454; prohibition to, 376; unlawful custom of withernam, 26–8, 317, 489–94 cities and towns: prescription against mortmain legislation in, 24–9, 491;
 summary jurisdictions in, 301, 478,
 480; see also alderman; London;
 urban disputes
 Civil law: absolutism associated with,
 20, 119, 391–2; doctors of, 106, 110, 210, 475; jurisdiction may not be granted by the king, 385; regarded as foreign, 113; time wasted in universities studying ‘the emperor’s law’, 66; torture and, 170–1;

- used in the Admiralty and Marshal's Court, 454–5
- Clement V, pope: orders the torturing of the Templars, 117; purports to annul Magna Carta, 9, 120
- Clement's Inn, reading in, 101
- clergy: adultery by, 372; cannot make laws against the law of the land, 524; division between the clergy and lawyers after Fuller's case, 362; examinable on oath as to questions of religion, 359, 374, 522; insolence towards, 296–7, 364; laying violent hands on, 18, 50; must be free men, 83; only partly bound by Magna Carta, 33, 114, 119; ordination, control of, 104–5; whether they should wear gowns or surplices, 259; see also benefit of clergy
- Clifford's Inn, 217
- Cnut, king of England, 80, 85, 225
- Cobham, John de, Baron Cobham, 63
- Cobham, Lord, see also Oldcastle, Sir John
- codification, dangers of, 344–5
- cognizance of pleas, may be granted by the king, 468
- Coke, Edward, of Inner Temple: prominence at the Bar, 335; cites Magna Carta (1588), 482–3; representation of nonconformists, 138; speaker of the Commons, 273
- Coke, Sir Edward, as a law officer of the crown, 277: appointment as solicitor-general, 336; appointment as attorney-general, 148–9, 336; argues in support of the High Commission, 138; argues against an ordinance in restraint of trade, 316–17; attacks purveyance, 324–8; attempts to control monopolies, 197–8; attempts to prevent abuse of concealments, 200–1, 338; collects habeas corpus cases from controlment rolls, 265; extols the King's Bench, 283; memorandum on chapter 29 of Magna Carta (1604), 346–7, 500–10; reliance on Magna Carta, 335–9; report of Cawdray's Case (1605), 141, 295–6, 370; reports continued under James I, 343–4
- Coke, Sir Edward, CJCP and CJKB: appointment as CJCP (1606), 351; appointment as CJKB (1613), 351, 386; accused of manufacturing myths, 442–7; accused of saying that Chancery injunctions would overthrow the common law, 426; attitude to heresy, 294–5; attitude to history, 347–51; brought down by Bacon's machinations (1616), 420, 426, 435–8; praised as worthiest CJKB since the Conquest, 437; refuses to give extrajudicial opinion on case pending before him, 425–6; summoned to justify his decisions to the king, 379, 385; tried to balance law and prerogative, 437, 441
- Coke, Sir Edward, in general: character of, 437–8; compared with Bacon, 440–1; his copy of Bracton, 367–8; criticisms of his reports, 90, 314, 397–8, 435; election as sheriff of Bucks, 295; mentioned in the will of Robert Snagge, 276; ownership of Dyer's notebooks, 157; torture and, 172; use of history by, 405–6, 443–4
- Coke, Sir Edward, specific opinions and arguments of: on acts of king de facto, 408–9; on the antiquity of the common law, 15–16, 444; on benevolences, 408–9; on common law as artificial reason, 367; on the Council in the North, 380–1; on the 'craft of the prelates' in keeping a statute from being printed, 116; on the dangers of law reform, 344; on declaring statutes void, 90; defence of common law and constitutional monarchy, 440–1, 446–7; defence of prerogative writs of supersedeas, 182–3; on delegability of prerogatives, 145; denies the

- authority of Star Chamber to award damages, 405–6; on discretion, 99, 338; on ecclesiastical jurisdiction, 363–4; on Elizabeth I, 149; encomiums of Magna Carta, 1; on the enforceability of Magna Carta, 46; on the entrenchment of Magna Carta, 21–2; on freedom of conscience, 130, 132, 365; on James I and law books, 369; on jurisdiction of Chancery, 410; on the King's Bench and its supremacy, 302, 308–11, 339, 386–7, 397–8, 412, 504, 519; on the king's judicial capacity, 39, 344; on the law in Berwick, 299–300; on legislation by proclamation, 394–5; on Magna Carta as common law, 14–17; on the misuse of penal legislation touching religion, 128; on monopolies, 317, 329; opposes the use of the heresy law, 131; on ordinary and absolute prerogatives, 144–6; on peers of commoners, 300; on prerogative writs and the King's Bench, 308–11, 512–13; on proclamations, 153; on prohibitions, 22, 376–7, 383–4; on recusancy, 127–8; respect for Star Chamber, 403; on right and justice, 94; on the rule of law and the prerogative, 345–6; on trial by jury, 38, 300; on teaching Magna Carta in the thirteenth century, 70
- Colchester ('Gloucester'), Essex, castle, 58
- collection of offerings during a church service, punishable, 374
- College of Physicians, 313, 475, 525
- Colshill, Robert, 156
- commendams, 424, 436
- Commissioners for Ecclesiastical Causes see High Commission
- commissions: for bankrupts, 242; to arrest Lollards, 116; to arrest or examine malefactors without indictment, 242, 479; to charge body, lands or goods, 58–60, 357, 470, 486, 501; to determine a title without a jury, 157; to investigate offences against Magna Carta, 99; to punish prostitutes in Bridewell without due process, 245, 266–9; for purveyance, 325; for sequestration of goods, 280; must not be contrary to law, 44–6, 68, 208, 291, 331, 519; ought not to be secret, 135, 208; subject to review by the King's Bench, 308–9; to relieve poor debtors, 164, 167, 283; unlawful commission condemned by the Commons as threatening slavery (1378), 60–1; when goods may be taken under, 475; see also assizes; High Commission
- common law: as artificial reason, 367; as general custom, 433; as the inheritance of every subject, 146, 291, 312, 332, 338; contrasted with legislation, 14; courts of, and lex terrae, 454–5; dearer than any other possession, 508; depriving the subject of, a disseisin, 332; early schools of, 69; immemorial nature of, 77, 85–6, 223–6, 252, 349; nature of, 13–16; no subject can be barred from his inheritance in, 261, 468; three interpreters (sources) of, 519
- Common Pleas, Court of: origin of, 81, 306; chief prothonotary of, 266, 422–4; exigentship in, 156; conservatism of, 276; could prohibit the King's Bench from hearing common pleas, 376, 384; dispute with the Exchequer, 179; jurisdiction inferior to the King's Bench, 351–2; jurisdiction to award habeas corpus, 157, 354, 496, 507; jurisdiction to grant prohibitions, 280, 282, 378, 384, 387; see also under words and phrases (communia placita)
- communion see mass; sacrament
- concealments of crown lands, 200–1, 338
- conciliar jurisdictions, 206–14, 258, 379–90; not delegations from the

- king but direct assistances to the king, 306; see also Council; Privy Council; Requests; Star Chamber
- confession, as evidence of guilt, 172; see also oath ex officio
- conquest, legal consequences of, 105, 300–1, 342, 515
- conscience (as the basis of Chancery jurisdiction), 103; conforming ‘the corrupt conscience of the party’, 286–7, 416; distinguished from lex terrae, 455; the king’s conscience, 411; mitigation and moderation of the rigour of the law according to, 501
- conscience (in matters of belief and intellectual judgment), freedom of: Coke’s views on, 130, 132, 365; Elizabeth I and the saying ‘no need to make windows into men’s hearts’, 125; James I and, 366; ‘not convenient to enforce consciences’, 125; not recognised by the medieval Church, 111; ‘thought is free’, 260, 365; see also religious toleration
- conscription see impressment
- Constable and Marshal, Court of, 426; see also Earl Marshal
- constables, powers of, 39, 41, 470, 475–6
- constitutional learning, in the inns of court, 86–8, 101–9, 144
- conventicles, schismatical, 356, 374, 521, 529
- Convocation of the Clergy: heresy and, 294; how far it may bind the laity, 106, 114
- Coppin, Sir George, clerk of the crown in Chancery, 435
- Cornwall, stannaries of, 193, 303
- coronation oath: binds the king to observe the law, 381, 407, 480; binds the king’s judges to do justice on his behalf, 525; constitutional significance of, 64; deposal of Richard II predicated on breach of, 63; said to include the observance of Magna Carta, 20–1, 252–3
- corporations: how far they may make laws, 469–71; nature of, 473; see also bye-laws; London livery companies
- corpus cum causa*, 281
- Cosin, Dr Richard, president of Doctors’ Commons, 161, 171, 256, 274, 298
- Council at York see Council in the North
- Council in the Marches of Wales: authorised by commission to use torture, 171; Gatehouse prison, 309–10, 514; habeas corpus for its prisoners, 209, 302–11, 339, 507, 511–14; injunctive power, 302–11, 511–14; jurisdiction curbed by Coke, 437; jurisdiction over the four English counties, 304–5, 307, 381, 386, 514–15; oppressive imprisonment by, 173, 514; prison called ‘Little Ease’, 308, 514; process by subpoena from, 100
- Council in the North: habeas corpus for its prisoners, 84, 209, 506; injunctive power, 303; jurisdiction curbed by Coke, 437; origin of, 380–2; prohibitions to, 305–6, 379, 381–2, 384
- Council Learned in the Law, 100
- Council see King’s Council; Privy Council
- counsel: assigned by the court, 359–60; censured by the Privy Council for an opinion against the prerogative, 401; complaint of being ‘watched’, 412; freedom to argue against the king’s commissions and grants, 359–60; freedom to argue against the prerogative, 422–3; immemorial custom to represent clients freely, 359–60; imprisoned by the LC for drawing an indictment of praemunire, 214; imprisoned by the Privy Council for an opinion questioning the prerogative, 400–1; James I tells judges to stop barristers arguing against the prerogative, 425; punished for contempt, 137–8, 434;

- punished for intemperate speech, 359–60; restrained by injunction, 212–13, 283, 485–6; stopped from speaking against the prerogative, 385–6, 404; unseemly for them to be ‘afraid of every frown’, 142; see also attorney-general; barristers; king’s counsel; serjeants counties: attributed to King Alfred, 306; regulation by Magna Carta, 79 counties palatine see palatinates courts see Admiralty; Arches; Chancery; Council; High Commission; Privy Council; Requests; Star Chamber; Wards; and courts of common law courts of common law: origins of, 223–4, 226; reading on, 77; see also Common Pleas; Exchequer; King’s Bench
 Coventry and Lichfield (diocese), bishop of, 424
 Coventry, Thomas, of Inner Temple, 316; passed over as CJKB because too close to Coke, 438
 Cowell, Dr John, regius professor of Civil law, on absolute monarchy, 20, 391–2
 Cranach see Kranich creed, not standing for, 359
 criminal offences: crimen stellionis, 478; invention of, by proclamation, 394–5; invention of, by the Star Chamber, 154, 211; see also treason
 Croke, George, of Inner Temple, 142; argument in Maunsell’s Case, 358; complains of being watched, 412
 Crompton, Richard, of Middle Temple: on jury trial as trial by peers, 38; on the queen of Scots, 255; on Magna Carta, 260–1; on the queen’s courts, 208–9
 Cromwell, Oliver, disdain for Magna Carta, 23
 Cromwell, Thomas, Lord Cromwell, 32, 161, 221, 505 crown: inquisition into crown titles, 100; rights of, reading on, 255–8; titles dependent on matter of record, 43–4, 189; see also abdication; concealments of crown lands; king; law of the crown; prerogative curia militaris, 64
 customary courts, lex terrae and, 454 customs, general (customs of the realm): common law and general custom, 433; custom for counsel to represent clients freely, 359–60 customs, local: custom to arrest for battery, contrary to Magna Carta, 481–4; custom to arrest for contempt, contrary to Magna Carta, 476–81; custom to punish one man for the fault of another, contrary to Magna Carta, 26–8, 489–94; due process varied by, 263; judicial review of, 473; monopoly established by, 192; mos antiquus, 226; prescription against a statute, 24–9, 263; reasonableness, 147; not abrogated by a statute confirming the common law, 25–6; triable by jury, 297; usage and, 483 customs duties, 52, 184; see also impositions
 Dale, Matthew, of Middle Temple, 142, 205
 Dalton, James, of Lincoln’s Inn, 174, 273 damages: exemplary, in an action on Magna Carta, 353; in Star Chamber, 404
 Daniel, William, of Gray’s Inn, 471–2
 Darcy, Edward, groom of the chamber and monopolist, 183, 196, 319–23
 Davenant, Edward, merchant tailor, 315
 Davenport, Humphrey, of Gray’s Inn, 329
 Davies, John, of Middle Temple, treatise on impositions, 331
de excommunicato capiendo, writ, 114, 522
de heretico comburendo, writ, 114, 361

- de homine replegiando*, writ, 46, 496–8, 502–3, 521
- de moderata misericordia*, writ, 95
- de vi laica removenda*, writ, 298, 502
- Deane, Henry, archbishop of Canterbury, 457
- debtors: liability of a gaoler for the escape of, 164–5; see also under commissions (to relieve poor debtors)
- defamation, 135, 143, 221, 365, 430; imprisonment for, 314, 488; ‘papist’ not defamatory, 126; see also under clergy (insolence towards)
- ‘defender of the faith’, royal title, 116, 121
- delays in litigation, when justified, 181, 183, 425
- delegated legislation, 152
- democracy, dangers of, 256, 407
- Dispenser, Hugh le, earl of Winchester, 52
- Dethick, Sir Willam, Garter King of Arms, 204
- Devereux, Robert, earl of Essex, expedition to Ireland, 145–6, 337
- Dialogus de Scaccario*, 224, 227
- dignity, ranks of, 225
- discretion: discretionary decisions reviewable by the courts, 99, 338; discretionary government contrary to Magna Carta, 357; discretionary powers may only be granted by Parliament, 242–3; ‘the uncertain and crooked cord of discretion’, 100
- disparagement of wards see under wardship
- dispensing and suspending power, royal, 187–90, 246, 320–1, 391–2, 432, 468
- disseisin: of a free tenement, 36; of liberties, 431–3; of an office, 266, 422
- Diversité de Courtes*, 412
- divorce jurisdiction, 141, 209
- Dodderidge, John, of Middle Temple: asked to write a treatise on the prerogative, 249; on absolute and ordinary prerogatives, 144; on artificial reason, 367; proposes reform of the High Commission, 355; Sol.-Gen., 329
- double jeopardy, 139
- dower, 81, 466
- Drake, Richard, monopolist, 319
- Dudley, Edmund, of Gray’s Inn, 77, 99–100, 203
- Dudley, Robert, later earl of Leicester, 156, 266
- due process of law: action founded on statute of, 460–1; bill procedure and, 33, 66–7, 103, 502; the Church and, 18, 33, 119, 122–3; as a clarification of chapter 29 of Magna Carta, 40–2, 51; confused with jury trial, 37; customary exceptions to, 26–8, 493; equated with natural justice, 450; equated with ordinary common-law procedure, 59–61, 92, 448; explained by Coke, 500–2; expression in use before the 1354 statute, 51–2; not always required, 41, 92, 247, 263; oath ex officio inconsistent with, 260, 272–3; ordo judicarius, 41; United States version of, 35, 450; used in the palatinates, 387; see also the Table of Statutes (28 Edw. III, c. 3, and 42 Edw. III, c. 3)
- Dunn, Dr Daniel, 298
- duress: ambivalence of canon law towards, 117; effect on Magna Carta, 3, 117, 333
- Durham, county palatine of, 105, 387
- Dyer, Sir James, CJCP: judicial conservatism, 276; habeas corpus and, 121, 156–63; mandamus and, 204; on access to the courts and Magna Carta, 249–50; questions a Chancery injunction, 162; questions a prerogative power to release parties from execution, 180; questions prerogative protections, 175–7

- Earl Marshal of England, Court of, 64, 430, 455; see also Constable and Marshal
- Ecclesia Anglicana: grant of liberties to, 29–31, 65, 110–11, 119–20; not a legal person, 83
- Ecclesia Romana, 30–40, 111, 120
- ecclesiastical jurisdiction: common law will not interfere with a final decree, 140–2; effect of Magna Carta on, 33, 114, 119; no power at common law to fine or imprison, 114, 373, 430, 518, 521; readings on, 81; see also High Commission; prohibitions
- Edward I, king of England:
confirmation of Magna Carta in his name (1297), 8–12; confirmation of Magna Carta (1301), 8, 20–1
- Edward II, king of England: deposition of, 49, 63; murder of, 342
- Edward III, king of England:
confirmations of Magna Carta by, 50; judges in his time, 57–8, 60
- Edward the Confessor, king of England, laws of: confirmed by Henry I, 14; confirmed by William I; confirmed by and embodied in Magna Carta, 15–16, 446, 463, 532; cult of, 14; embodied the old common law, 226, 445; mentioned in coronation oath, 21; see also Leges Edwardi Confessoris
- Egerton, Sir Richard, 403
- Egerton, Sir Thomas, LK, later Baron Ellesmere LC, and Viscount Brackley: accused of pursuing private ends in contempt of the common law, 421; advises judges to maintain the prerogative, 394; alarmed by democracy, 407; on benevolences, 408; character of, 439–40; claims that LC is answerable to the king alone, 411; criticises Coke's reports, 90, 314, 397–8; defends injunctions after judgment, 286–9, 416–17; on Elizabeth I, 149–50; informs James I that his prerogative transcends the common law, 421; informs James I he would decree whatever he directed, 411; likens questioning the prerogative to sacrilege, 381; his malice towards Coke, 436; praemunire against, 418; regarded as the enemy of the common law, 439–40; says men in high office should avoid popularity, 438; sends law officers to confute and reprove the chief justices, 385; speech in the Star Chamber about religion (1605), 293; speech on swearing in Montagu CJKB (1616), 438–9; supports the absolutist views of James I, 345; supports legislation by proclamation, 154, 394; religion and, 126, 130; tract on the prerogative, 145; treatise on statutes wrongly attributed to, 234; on the varieties of proclamation, 151; willing to imprison barristers for representing clients contrary to injunctions, 213
- Eleutherius, pope, forged letter of, 223
- Elizabeth I, queen of England: attempts to influence private lawsuits, 286, 303; attendance at a reading, 225; disapproves of lay criminal jurisdiction over ecclesiastical judges, 139; forbids Parliament to discuss matters of state, 273; 'Golden Speech' (1601), 198–9, 318; judicial confidence in her commitment to the law, 148–50; martial law under, 430; monopolies and, 197–9; national pride during her reign, 258, 270; purported deposal by two popes, 127; religious toleration and, 125, 128, 130, 293; speech to Coke as attorney-general, 148–9, 336; speech to Coke as solicitor-general, 336
- Ellesmere, Lord, see Egerton, Thomas
- Eltonhead, John, of Lincoln's Inn, 74
- Empson, Richard, of Middle Temple, 97, 99–100, 203, 242, 460
- entrenchment of legislation, 12–13, 17, 21–2, 87, 244, 357
- equitable jurisdiction: as lex terrae, 251–2, 410, 417, 430; derived (in the case of Chancery) from Magna

- Carta, 212; derived (in the case of Chancery) from the absolute prerogative, 211, 411; equitable procedure as due process, 410, 501–2; immune from appeals, 377; may not be conferred by charter or patent, 265–6, 305, 379–80; may not be prescribed for, 28–9; not derived from canon law, 113; see also Chancery; injunctions
- equity: Elizabeth I and, 148; of a statute, 233; two meanings of, 113
- evidence, law of, 172
- Exchequer: barons of, 93, 452; penalties from the High Commission estreated in, 290, 296
- Exchequer, Court of: controversial decision as to impositions, 328–31; dispute with the Common Pleas, 179; dispute with the King's Bench, 163; jurisdiction to award habeas corpus, 507; prerogative protections issued by, 171; prohibited from hearing common pleas, 376; said to be the original royal court, 224, 306
- excommunications, general, pronounced against infringers of Magna Carta, 17–20
- execution of process see process
- exile, 52–3, 56, 250, 448, 478, 509
- false imprisonment, action of: against a judge of requests, 279; against mayors, 201, 476; provides a remedy for breach of chapter 29 of Magna Carta, 46, 155, 302, 314, 413, 476; special form founded on Magna Carta see action founded on Magna Carta; superior orders no defence, 106
- Family of Love, heretical sect, 131
- favourites: abuses of authority by or for the benefit of, 156–7, 258, 266, 421–2, 447; Bacon argues in favour of 'tenures of favour', 306
- Fawkes, Guy, 132, 172
- Finch, Henry, of Gray's Inn, 142, 273, 404; argument in Maunsell's Case, 358, 527; another argument on the oath ex officio, 374
- Finch, Sir Moyle, 284–5, 288
- fishing: the right to fish in the sea, 193
- FitzAlan, Richard (d. 1376), third earl of Arundel, 50, 57
- FitzAlan, Richard (d. 1397), fourth earl of Arundel, 63
- Fitzherbert, Sir Anthony, JCP, 76, 107
- Fitzjames, Sir John, CJKB, retirement of, 436
- Fleet Prison, warden of, 164–5
- Fleetwood, John, 234–5
- Fleetwood, Robert, of Middle Temple, 216
- Fleetwood, William, of Middle Temple, later sjt, 216–48; as a collector of manuscripts, 218–19; as a legal historian, 149–206, 218–19; his Annalium, 219–20; on the antiquity of the common law, 444–5; argument against the Tallow Chandlers' charter, 240, 243, 245; argument in support of the Joiners' charter, 240, 245, 472–6; arguments in draft, 238–41; on bishops, 222; Certain Errors attributable to, 231; cites Magna Carta against himself, 247, 477–81; commentary on Magna Carta by, 216, 226–32, 463–7; on common informers, 134; his constitutional approach, 245–6; on the customs of London, 25, 29; his Instructions (for interpreting statutes), 232–6, 466–7; on the justiciability of the prerogative, 147; on legal delays, 181; on the liberties of the Ecclesia Anglicana, 31; on Magna Carta, 16, 243–8, 260, 263–4; on monopolies, 196; opinion on the Bridewell charter, 241–3, 269; on the origin of tenures, 222; praises the judges of Edward III's time, 60; on proclamations, 152; prosecutes Jesuits and seminary priests, 129, 263; his reading on the recontinuance of liberties in the crown, 219; readings from the inns of

- court used in his works, 225, 227, 232, 237–8; on readings in the inns of court, 82; on statutes against the word of God, 105; his treatise on Justices of the Peace, 236–7
- Fleming, Sir Thomas, of Lincoln's Inn, later CJKB: as Sol.-Gen., 198, 316–17; conduct in the case of impositions, 330; less assertive than Coke as CJ, 385–6
- Flood see Lloyd
- forced loans see benevolences and forced loans
- forest law, 96, 479, 505
- Fortescue, Sir John, CJKB, 95, 105, 144
- franchises see liberties and franchises
- Fray, John, CB, 342
- Freeman, Edward, of Gray's Inn, 23
- French language see Law French
- Frith, John, 122
- Frowyk, Thomas, of Inner Temple, 77; reading, 183
- Fuller, Nicholas, of Gray's Inn: counsel for Cawdray, 142; counsel for Maunsell, 356–63, 517–19, 526–8; arguments against impositions, 321–2, 329, 331; introduces bill to restrict Chancery injunctions, 414
- fundamental law, 14–24
- gaol delivery system, a means to prevent perpetual imprisonment, 509
- Gascony, writs sent by the King's Bench to, 299
- Gawdy, Sir Thomas, JKB, 32
- Gerard, Thomas, Baron Gerard, knight-marshal, 340
- Glanvill*: cited in readings, 79, 85; cited in the 1550s, 244; a guide to the law before Magna Carta, 223, 227
- Glanvill, Richard, 415–16, 418–20
- Gloucester castle see Colchester
- Gloucester, duke of, see Woodstock
- God: not a legal person, 82; word of, 105; see also law of God; vow
- gold and silver mines, 193
- Golden Bull (1222), 41
- Gooch (Googe), Dr Barnaby, master of Magdalene College, Cambridge, 416
- grant, royal: distinguished from statute, 12–13; construction of, 96, 243; see also commissions; liberties and franchises
- Gray's Inn: an inn of court time out of mind, 359; benchers elected to the Reformation Parliament, 102; murder of a bencher, 170; probable visit by Elizabeth I, 225; a reading on constitutional law in, 101–8
- Great Britain, name favoured by James I, 341, 343
- Green, Bartholomew, of Middle Temple, 129
- Gregory XI, pope, attempt to suppress unorthodox Oxford theology, 115, 120
- Grevyle, Lewis, 171
- Guala, papal legate, 5
- Guernsey, island of, 300, 505
- Guisnes, habeas corpus to, 496, 505
- Gunpowder Plot (1605), 131–3, 294, 401
- Gynes, Richard, of Inner Temple, 81, 220
- Gypsies, 111–12
- habeas corpus*, 46, 141, 155–6, 261, 503; availability out of term, 163; availability outside the realm, 299–302, 338, 347, 413, 504, 512, 521, 523; fifteenth-century precedent of, 156; general returns to, 161–2, 264, 297–8, 361, 375, 412–14; judges' memorandum on (1592), 166–8, 399, 496–9; linked to Magna Carta, 169, 247, 250, 308, 310, 347, 446; for prisoners of the Church, 120, 506, 513, 523; for recusants, 125, 158–60; return not traversable, 361, 413–14, 497, 530
- habere facias seisinam*, writ of, and nullus disseisiat in chapter 29, 101

- Hakewill, William, of Lincoln's Inn, 198; argument on impositions, 331–2
- Hales, Christopher, of Gray's Inn, 91, 104; as attorney-general brought Wolsey to heel, 282
- Hales, Edward, of Inner Temple, 106–7
- Hales, John, B., 79
- Halifax, Yorkshire, custom of summary execution ('Gibbet Law'), 263, 470–1, 478, 493
- Hall, Edward, of Gray's Inn, 124
- Hampton Court Conference (1604), 295
- Harcourt, Simon, JP, 173
- Harlakenden, Thomas, of Gray's Inn, 78–81
- Harris, Thomas, sjt, prosecuted in the Privy Council for an opinion, 401
- Hatton, Sir Christopher, LC, 214, 251
- Heath, Sir Robert, Att.-Gen., 10, 37
- Hedley, Thomas, of Gray's Inn, argument on impositions, 332–3
- Hele, John, sjt, 213–14, 282
- Hemmings see Hunnings
- Heneage, Sir Thomas, vice-chamberlain of the Household, 166, 264, 285
- Henry I, king of England, coronation charter (1100), 5, 14, 532–3
- Henry II, king of England, conquest of Ireland by, 225, 301
- Henry III, king of England: charter of 1216, 5–6; charter of 1225: called Magna Carta, 3, 257; actions founded on, 98–9, 352–3, 531–3; as a grant, 12, 257; as a statute, 4–9; circumstances behind, 6–8, 252, 463; his compliance with the provisions of Magna Carta, 1
- Henry IV, king of England: sanctions burning of heretics in return for a clerical subsidy, 114; introduces oath ex officio to please the pope, 430; usurpation of the throne by, 430
- Henry V, king of England: confirmation of Magna Carta (1416), 13; suppression of Lollards by, 118
- Henry VII, king of England: rapaciousness of some of his councillors, 99–100; reintroduces forced loans, 185; reversal of his attainder, 67
- Henry VIII, king of England: consults judges as to attainder without trial, 32; his coronation oath, 253; discourages readings on the prerogative, 108; invocation of Magna Carta by, 99; proclamations and, 151; religious orthodoxy of, 121, 124; story of his fool, 27
- heresy: abjuration of, 106; due process legislation of Henry VIII concerning, 124, 518; late-medieval and early-Tudor treatment of, 114–24; not favoured by common-law judges, 131, 294–5; sentence of death by burning for, 114, 295
- Hervy, Humphrey, of Inner Temple, 75
- Hesketh, Richard, of Gray's Inn, 85, 96
- Hesketh, Thomas, Att.-Gen. of the Wards, 183
- Heydon, Sir William, 178
- High Commission for Ecclesiastical Causes: Ashley's arguments against, 429–30, 433; assumes a power of imprisonment, 136; Coke's attempts to curb, 353–75, 436; complaints about, 135–7, 429–30; decisions reviewable by special commission, 140, 364, 523; habeas corpus for prisoners of, 159–61, 289–98; judges attempt to curb its excesses, 289–98, 353–75; Morice's campaign against, 258, 270–5; origin and history of, 133–43, 207, 527; power to fine and imprison challenged, 291–2, 296, 371, 373, 517; prohibitions to, 141, 353–75; unlawful conduct of its pursuivants, 291, 371; whether dependent on statute or prerogative, 142–3, 242; see also oath ex officio
- High Court of Justice (1650), 23
- history and law, differences between, 76–7, 85–6, 443–4, 448–9

- Hitchcock, Thomas, of Lincoln's Inn, 329–30
- Hobart, Sir Henry, Att.-Gen., 22; argument in Fuller's case, 361; defence of the High Commission, 370; proposed reform of High Commission, 355
- holidays see Sundays and holidays
- Holnshed, Raphael, Chronicles of England, 3, 81
- Holt, William, of Gray's Inn, 404–5
- Hooker, Dr Richard, master of the Temple, 342
- Hopton, Sir Owen, lieutenant of the Tower, 155
- Hoskins, John, of Middle Temple, 392
- House of Commons: Elizabeth I stops it discussing the High Commission and habeas corpus, 273; its decisions treated as legal authorities, 428; members imprisoned, 169, 246; whether the attorney-general may sit in, 427
- Howard, Charles, Baron Howard of Effingham, lord admiral, 166
- Howard, Frances, countess of Essex and then of Somerset, 436
- Howard, Philip, earl of Arundel, 264–5
- Howard, Thomas (d. 1572), duke of Norfolk, 254
- Howard, Thomas (d. 1582), Viscount Bindon, 212
- Howard, Thomas (d. 1626), earl of Suffolk, 330, 436
- Hughes, Hugh, of Lincoln's Inn, 177
- Hull see Kingston-upon-Hull
- human rights, 450–1
- Humberston, William, clerk, 61–2
- Hunne, Richard, 104, 123
- Hunnings (Hemminges, Hunnyngs), Francis, 309–10, 513–16
- Hunsdon, Lord, see Carey
- Hunt, Dr John, commissary of Norwich, 138–9
- Hurdys, Nicholas, 315
- husband and wife: criminal liability of husband for wife's offences, 406, 490; husband escaping from custody of wife, 84; suits for maintenance or alimony, 279, 291, 364, 371–2, 375; see also divorce
- Hussey, Sir William, CJKB, 426
- Hynde, John, litigant, 161–2
- immigrants: Gypsies, 111–12; negroes, 112
- impeachment, 55
- impositions, 184–5, 245, 328–34, 427
- impressment, 169–70
- imprisonment: purpose of, 173, 269; two kinds of, 361; use of shackles on prisoners, 173; see also false imprisonment; habeas corpus; process
- informers, 134, 199; monopoly of compounding with offenders, 199
- injunctions: common injunctions from the Chancery, 100, 102; to stay proceedings at law after judgment, 162, 212–14, 284–9, 302–3, 511–14
- Inner Temple: readings on Magna Carta in, 72, 75–8, 106–7; readings on other statutes see Gynes, Marow; rebuked for calling too many barristers, 402
- Innocent III, pope, 3, 5, 120
- Innocent IV, pope, 18
- inns of chancery, 101
- inns of court: constitutional law not prominent in their teaching, 86–8, 101–9, 144; nature of education in, 67, 82–5; the 'Ordinary Gloss' on Magna Carta, 72–3, 92, 96; origin and early character of, 69–70; religion in, 126–7, 134, 254; see also readings
- inquisition of life and member see odio et atia
- inquisition post mortem, 43–4, 183
- inquisitorial procedure, canonical, 119
- international law, see conquest; fishing; jus gentium; law of nations; law of war; laws of the sea; treaties; war

- inventions see patents for inventions
 Ipswich, Suffolk, 376
 Ireland: application of Magna Carta to, 33, 103; conquest of, 225; English Acts of Parliament do not extend to, 105; Irish expelled from England, 111; Irish not a constituent element in Parliament, 105; lex terrae used in, 454; Parliament of, 454; subject to the King's Bench in England, 302, 505
 Isle of Man, 299–301
 Jacob, Abraham, purveyor, 325–6
 James I, king of England (James VI of Scotland): absolutist theories of, 339–40, 350–1, 447; accession to the English throne, 339–45; announces his intention to defend royal prerogatives to the utmost, 382; calls the judges his 'shadows and ministers', 366, 382; his decree concerning the Chancery (1616), 368; forbids his supreme power to be debated in court, 425; freedom of conscience and, 366; interference in jurisdictional disputes, 309, 366–8, 420, 423, 514; minded to imprison the judges, 362; offers to strike Coke, 368; orders a summary execution (1603), 340; professes to accept Magna Carta, 343, 351, 370; purported excommunication by the pope, 132; reprehends the judges for disputing matters of prerogative, 420; resents rumours that he favours religious toleration, 292–4, 390–1; tells judges how to decide cases, 381
 Jarret, Sir Thomas, alderman of London, 201
 Jenks, Edward, on the 'myth' of Magna Carta, 13, 442–4
 Jenour, John, his book of entries, 156
 Jersey, island of, 300
 Jesuits and seminary priests, 128–31, 153–4
 Jews, 111
 John, king of England, his charter (1215), 4–6, 532–3 judges (of the common-law courts): access to the sovereign, 148; called to account in the Privy Council, 368–70, 373, 381–3, 424–6; extrajudicial opinions given to the crown, 425–6; independence of, 44, 63, 68, 330, 362; James I calls them his 'shadows and ministers', 366, 382; 'the king's strong arms', 362; kneeling before the king, 368, 419, 425–6; office is jus dicere, non jus dare, 420; not to desist from doing justice by reason of the king's letters, 102, 179, 339 (see also judicial oath); ought not to 'overrule' or 'inspire' the law, 306; ought to know the law of the land, 39; removal of, 174, 436; threats of 'disgrace' (removal), 419, 421; see also judicial oath judicial oath: injunctions and, 485–6; James I claims the right to interpret, 382, 425; not to desist from doing justice by reason of letters under the great or petty seal, 52, 181–2, 424; procuring the king's profit, 385; rege inconsulto and, 182, 424; supersedeas and, 181 judicial review of legislation, 90, 104; see also statutory interpretation jury, grand, 452
 jury, trial by, 37–8, 43, 93, 247, 357; subjects are instruments of justice to each other, 517; trial of knights, 37, 510
jus see under king; law justice see under words and phrases (justicia); delaying justice see under words and phrases (nulli differemus); selling justice see under words and phrases (nulli vendemus) justices of the peace, 80, 201, 236–7; origin within time of memory, 477, 482–3
justicies, writ of, 48, 93, 453, 455

- Kebell, Thomas, of Inner Temple, 77, 114
- Kidwelly, Morgan, of Inner Temple, 75–8, 85, 88, 104
- kindness to inferiors, as evidence of heresy, 117
- king (and queen): acts of a de facto king, 408–9, 430; can do no wrong, 44–6, 62, 106, 150, 328, 367, 494; cannot abdicate, 342; cannot be a disseisor, 45; cannot change the law, 257, 332–3, 468; cannot grant a power of imprisonment, 312; cannot interfere with the common law, 208; cannot send anyone to prison extrajudicially, 45–6, 169 (cf. below: power of imprisonment); competence to sit in court, 106, 257, 382 (cf. below: power of judicature); conviction by the king's record alone, 53–5; debts of, 88, 179; as God's lieutenant or vicar on earth, 342, 392; grants by, 96; immune from suit in his own courts, 43, 48, 94; jus regale and jus politicum, 105; 'king' includes queen, 228; legislative power vested in, 469–72; may appoint law for newly conquered regions, 105, 300, 342; minority of, 6, 533; not bound by mandatory law, 44; not bound by statute without express mention, 86, 187; potestas absoluta, 120, 146; power of imprisonment without cause shown, 100–1, 155, 504–5, 521; power of judicature, 39, 257, 306, 344, 366–8, 420; two bodies of, 6; see also commissions; coronation oath; crown; dispensing and suspending power; prerogative (royal); proclamation
- King's Bench: as the supreme court in England, 302, 308–11, 339, 386–7, 397–8, 412, 504, 519; activity under Coke CJ, 386; called by Coke the 'school of the law', 418; dispute with the Exchequer, 163; jurisdiction in respect of Parliament, 503–4; jurisdiction over the Chancery, 412; power to correct any manner of misgovernment, 397–8, 439; tries facts disputed on the common-law side of the Chancery, 44; see also chief justice of England
- King's Council: bill procedure complained of (1420s), 66–7; imprisonment by, 161–2, 398–402; limitations on jurisdiction, 36, 50, 52, 97; petitions based on Magna Carta, 49; see also Privy Council; Star Chamber
- king's counsel: first king's counsel extraordinary, 305; punished for advising on tax avoidance, 101; see also attorney-general
- king's peace, 18–19, 80
- Kings Lynn, Norfolk, alderman restored to office, 206
- Kingston-upon-Hull, port of, 52
- knights see under jury
- Knights Templar, 115, 117
- Knollys, Hanserd, stoned from the pulpit, 293
- Knollys, William, Baron Knollys, later earl of Banbury, 406
- Knowles, Sir Francis, 273
- Knox, John, 231
- Knyvet, John, CJKB, 58, 62
- Kranich (Cranach), Burchart, alias Dr Burcot, 193, 195
- Ladd (Lad), Thomas, merchant of Yarmouth, 356
- Lake, Sir Thomas, 362
- Lambarde, William, of Lincoln's Inn: his Archeion, 240; on Chancery jurisdiction, 212; on judicium parium and jury, 38; as a legal historian, 218; on Magna Carta, 260
- Lamberd, William, purveyor, 325–6
- Lancaster, duchy chamber of, 306, 388
- Lancaster, Thomas, earl of, 53–5
- Langton, Stephen, archbishop of Canterbury, 17–18
- Lateran Council (1215), 18

- law: different kinds of, 225, 239; cannot be mythical or fictional, 444; contra legem distinguished from praeter legem, 21, 317; history and, 443–4, 448–9; jus publicum, 226; jus regni, 16; lex, 87; a liberty in itself, because it sets men free, 390–6; only the king may make, 469–72; reform of, dangerous, 344; private law (jus privatorum), 146; see also canon law; Civil law; common law; legislation
- Law French, 228, 236
- law of the crown, 226, 246
- law of God, 480, 492–3, 520
- law of the land see under words and phrases (lex terrae)
- law of nations, 474; jus gentium, 27, 226, 254, 490
- law of nature, 474, 480, 493, 520; jus naturale, 226, 484; part of lex terrae, 484
- law of war, jus belli, 28, 492
- laws of Oleron, 226, 239
- laws of the sea (hydronomiae), 239
- lay rectories, 209, 363
- leather, monopoly of sealing, 168, 183, 196, 320
- Lee, Sir Henry, 200
- Lee, Sir John atte, 58–60 and see the Table of Cases under his name
- leet, court, 26
- legal history: in the late-medieval inns of court, 76–7, 85–6; the first English legal historians, 149–206, 218–19
- Legatt, Bartholomew, 295
- Leges Edwardi Confessoris* (so-called), 76
- legislation see bye-laws; delegated legislation; entrenchment of legislation; statutes
- lex mercatoria*, 226
- Liber Assisarum*, 58, 61
- liberties and franchises: disseisin of, 431–3; grants of, 12–13, 44; quo warranto and, 80
- liberty of the subject: compatible with sovereignty, 333; early references to, 155, 312; habeas corpus and, 513; mentioned by Coke as attorney-general, 291–2, 308, 316, 318; mentioned by Coke CJ, 378; threatened by prerogative-minded chancellors, 421
- licences, royal: may not prejudice individuals or subvert the law, 106; non obstante a statute, 187–90; trade with infidels, 112
- Lincoln's Inn: recusants in, 126; twelve members said to be researching against the prerogative, 381; two fifteenth-century readings on chapter 29 of Magna Carta in, 452–5
- Liskeard, Cornwall, mayor of, 398
- Littleton, Sir Thomas, JCP, his Tenures, 75, 77–8, 217
- liveries (to heirs of tenants in chief), 100, 507–8
- Lloyd (Flood), Humphrey, 279
- Lollards, 115–16, 295
- London, city of: custom as to mortmain, 24–5, 27; custom of bailing prisoners from eyre to eyre, 47; custom of punishing prostitutes, 268; customs protected by Magna Carta, 29; lord mayor executes a malefactor summarily, 478, 480–1; prescriptive equitable jurisdiction, 28–9, 380; Sheriff's Court, 49; relations with the Cinque Ports, 26
- London livery companies: Dyers, 315; Joiners, 241, 312–14, 468–76; Merchant Taylors, 315–17; Tallow Chandlers, 240
- London prisons see Bridewell; Fleet; Marshalsea; Tower of London
- lord chancellor see chancellor of England
- Lostwithiel, Cornwall, mayor of, 206
- Low Countries, customs as to withernam, 27
- Lucius, legendary king of Britain, 86, 223
- Ludlow, Salop, Council at, see Council in the Marches of Wales
- Luther, Martin, 121–2

- Mabbe, John, goldsmith, 177
 mainprise, writ of, 503; see also bail and mainprise maintenance and champerty, 477, 480 majority decisions, 470
 Malet, Baldwin, of Inner Temple, 81
 Maltravers (Mautravers), John, Baron Maltravers, 56–7
malum in se, and malum prohibitum, 188, 246, 328, 395 Man, Isle of, see Isle of Man
mandamus (writ of restitution), 203–6, 396–8, 436; linked to Magna Carta, 347
mandamus (writ to remove a chief justice), 435 manorial tenants, reliance on Magna Carta by, 65
 Mansell, Sir Robert, 400
 Mansell see also Maunsell
 Marches of Scotland, 304
 Marches of Wales, 4; see also Council in the Marches of Wales
 Marion, Mrs, punished for refusing to be churched, 136
 Markham, Sir John, CJKB, discharge of, 436
 Marow, Thomas, of Inner Temple, 73, 80–1, 237 marriage ceremony, use of ring in, 134, 142
 Marshal, William, earl of Pembroke, 5
 Marshal of England see Earl Marshal
 Marshalsea, Court of, 207, 389–90, 454
 Marshalsea Prison, marshal of, 164
 Marten, Dr (later Sir) Henry, king's advocate, 374 martial law, 53, 55, 106–7, 226, 430, 515–16
 Mary I, queen of England: forced loans under, 186; imposes martial law on possessors of heretical books, 430; misuse of her 'absolute power', 184; religious intolerance under, 125; submission to papal authority under, 125, 230
 Mary, queen of Scots, 127, 130, 230–2, 254–5
 mass, celebration of, legislation against, 128, 130, 364, 430
 Maunsell, Richard, Presbyterian minister, 356–9, 517–30
 Maunsell see also Mansell maxims, as 'grounds' of the law, 82
 maxims and proverbs: Beneficium juris nemini est auferendum, 508; Constitutions ought to be brief and obscure, 447; Consuetudo privat communem legem, 473; Every man's house is his castle, 433; Generalia specialibus non derogant, 26; Justicia est suum cuique tribuere, 180; Leges posteriores leges priores abrogant, 22; Lex anima reipublicae, 473; Lex facit regem, 342; Lex regis praesidium, 473; Lex regis solium sive statio, 473; Might is right, 65; Misera servitus ubi jus aut vagum aut incertum, 383; Miserrima est servitus ubi jus est incognitum, 208; Natura est optima conservatrix sui, 520; Nemo pro alieno delicto est puniendus, 27, 492; Nemo tenetur seipsum prodere, 138, 365, 385; Nihil simul inventum est et perfectum, 350; Parliamentum omnia potest, 529; Potestas principis non est inclusa sub legibus, 86; Quod in practica non est receptum in jure est merito suspectum, 520; Quod principi placuit legis habet vigorem, 119, 145, 147, 473; Rex est lex loquens, 345; Rex est supra legem, 48, 86, 246; Salus populi suprema lex, 146, 374, 404; Summum jus est summa injuria, 417, 501; Thought is free, 260, 365; Ubi major pars ibi totum, 470
 Mayne, Cuthbert, seminary priest, 128
 McIlwain, C. H., on common law as fundamental law, 14–16
 Medes and Persians, laws of, 21, 378, 388, 405
 Merchant Adventurers, 192–3, 472, 474 merchants: law of, 430; privileges of, 26, 192, 245, 329–30, 474; see also lex mercatoria

- Metham, Thomas, seminary priest, 161
- metonymy, in statutes, 83, 232
- Middle Temple: notes of arguments in, 240; readings on chapter 29 of Magna Carta in, 251–5, 427–35; recusants in, 127
- Mildmay, Sir Anthony, commissioner of sewers, 419
- military service: whether it may be required overseas, 170, 257; see also castle-ward; impressment; martial law; navy; protection
- mines royal, 106, 180, 193–4
- Mirror of Justices*, on the defects of Magna Carta, 42
- Modus tenendi Parliamentum*, 223
- monasteries, dissolution of, 209
- monopolies, varieties of, 187; see also dispensing and suspending power; mines royal; regrating; and under informers (monopoly of compounding with offenders)
- monopolies of trade and industry: against Magna Carta, 318–23; customary forms of, 192; as a disseisin of liberty, 432; imprisonment for infringement of, 167–8, 194–7; introduced under Elizabeth I, 190–9; prerogative power to grant, 192, 258; in respect of inventions, 195–6, 474
- monstrans de droit, 44, 49
- Montagu, Sir Edward, CJCP and CJKB, 78, 438
- Montagu, Sir Henry, recorder of London, later CJKB: ‘feeble’ argument by, 302; on the dispensing power, 26; succeeds Coke as CJKB, 438–9
- Montagu, John, earl of Salisbury, 57
- Moore, Francis, of Middle Temple, later sjt, 198, 316; praemunire against, 418, 430
- moots, 70, 217
- More, Sir Thomas, LC, 98, 101; accused of bribery, 98; imprisonment of a litigant by, 98, 462; persecution of heretics under, 121–4; signatory of the articles against Wolsey, 100, 213; tried for treason, 30–1
- Morice, James, of Middle Temple: campaign against the High Commission and the oath ex officio, 142, 270–5; introduces a bill to explain Magna Carta, 273–4, 402; on imprisonment, 173; on monopolies, 191; on prerogative powers of taxation, 184; on proclamations, 152; his reading on the rights of the crown, 255–8
- Mortimer, Roger, earl of March, 53, 55–6
- mortmain: customs as to, 24–9; legislation objected to by prelates, 30
- mortuaries, 104, 123
- Mounson, Robert, JCP, 174, 250
- Mowbray, John, Baron Mowbray, 55
- municipal see urban
- Muscovy Company, 192
- Muslims, 112, 431
- Mytton, Edward, 159
- natural justice, 450
- natural law see law of nature
- navy, commission to investigate abuses in, 400–1
- ne exeat regno*, writ of, 184
- negro immigrants, 112
- Nevill, Edmund, claimant to the barony of Latimer, 267–8
- New Inn, 217
- Newark-on-Trent, Notts, summary execution at, 340, 434
- Newcastle-upon-Tyne: Merchant Adventurers in, 318; not in the Marches of Scotland, 304
- Newnham, Jane, 267
- non procedendo rege inconsulto*, 181, 422–6, 439
- nonconformists see Puritans and their sympathisers
- Norfolk, duke of, Thomas, a hypothetical duke of, 255; see also Howard

- Norman Conquest, 301, 349
 Normandy: customs as to withernam, 27, 492; law in, 301
 Northern Rebellion (1569), 127
- oath ex officio: Burghley against, 260, 269; Coke against, 138–9, 354–5, 375; contrary to Magna Carta, 429–30; Fuller’s campaign against, 356, 361, 517–30; habeas corpus and, 143, 160; introduced into the ecclesiastical commission by Whitgift, 136; laymen exempt from, 354–5, 358–9, 372, 374; likened to the Spanish inquisition, 260
- oaths: taken on the bible, 112; see also coronation oath; judicial oath; oath ex officio
- odio et atia*, writ, 21–2, 89, 509
- office (inquisition of office) see inquisition post mortem
- offices: interference with, as disseisin, 266, 422; removal from, 204, 353, 435–8; sale of, 422; see also mandamus
- Oldcastle, Sir John, Lord Cobham (jure uxoris), 73, 118, 518
- Oleron see laws of Oleron
- Oliver, John, sheriff of Essex, 59
- outlawry, 431, 464, 508; due process and, 39
- Overbury, Sir Thomas, murder of, 436
- Owen, Sir Roger, of Lincoln’s Inn: on the antiquity of the common law, 445; on the coronation oath, 253; on the law of Normandy, 301; ‘weapons have no force over the soul’, 126
- Owner, Edward, merchant of Yarmouth, 356, 517–30
- Oxford University: attempted papal interference with, 115; equitable jurisdiction challenged, 265; grant to hold pleas according to Civil law, 385; jurisdiction over licensed lodgings, 60; medieval lectures on conveyancing at, 69
- Oxford, Provisions of (1222), 18
- Pagula (Paull), William de, pastoral manuals by, 19, 117
- palatinates, 105, 211, 387, 454
- pardons, 106
- Paris, Matthew, his text of Magna Carta, 4, 10, 37, 270
- Parker, Matthew, archbishop of Canterbury, 126, 134
- Parliament: antiquity of, 223–4; bicameral constitution of, 52, 116; cannot abolish absolute prerogatives, 188; early forms of, 11; expected to observe the rule of law, 31–2, 50–7; law relating to, 87–8, 103–4; leaving without permission, punishable in the King’s Bench, 503–4; members of, may make laws where they have no expertise, 317; presumed not to act against law or reason, 91; privileges of, 23; rumoured to be on the verge of extinction after 1614, 421; supremacy of, 23–4, 68, 87, 90, 529; supremacy and estoppel by record, 23; votes carried by a majority 470; see also Addled Parliament; House of Commons; Rump Parliament; statutes
- Passeley, Edmund de, king’s serjeant, 53
- patents for inventions, 195–6, 474; see also monopolies of trade and industry
- peace see king’s peace
- peace-time, defined in terms of the courts being in session, 53–4, 430
- Peasants’ Revolt, 35, 65
- peers of the realm, trial by, 39–40, 54, 92, 452, 455, 464; extended to wives of peers, 34, 247, 455, 463; not available to bishops and abbots, 463–4
- peers: all subjects are entitled to trial by their peers, 517; commoners as, 65, 452; judgment of see under words and phrases (judicium parium, pares); see also jury trial

- Pembrokeshire, petition of the Englishmen of, 66
- perjury: ambivalence of the canon law towards, 123; in an inferior conciliar court, 281
- perpetual legislation see entrenchment of legislation; Medes and Persians, laws of
- Perrot, Sir John, lord deputy of Ireland, 130, 178, 265–6
- petition of right (in Chancery), 43, 49, 61, 453
- Petition of Right (1628), 449
- petitions, popular, regarded as seditious, 293–4
- Phelips, Edward, of Middle Temple, later sjt, 142, 342, 380, 390
- Philips, Thomas, imprisoned by Sir Thomas More, 123
- piepowders, courts of, 454
- Pilgrimage of Grace, 380
- pillory, without trial, 478
- Pine, John, Bluemantle Pursuivant, 4
- Pistor, Tristram, of Middle Temple, 253
- Pius V, pope, bull against Elizabeth I (1570), 127
- planning regulations, contrary to Magna Carta, 393
- playing-cards, manufacture of, 319–23
- Plowden, Edmund, of Middle Temple: argument against the calamine patent, 194; on impositions, 184; on the succession, 231; recusancy of, 127
- Plucknett, T. F. T., on common law and statute law, 15; on the Discourse, 234
- Plymouth, Devon, alderman restored, 396
- pope: annates payable to, 105; dispensations by, 111, 221; doctrine of papal supremacy, 30, 120; excommunication of all heretics by, 132; medieval popes' dislike of constitutional monarchy, 3, 9; papal authority in late medieval England, 66, 105, 115–16
- Popham, Sir John, Att.-Gen. later CJKB: argument against the Joiners' charter, 312–14, 468–72; citation of Magna Carta (1582), 250, 261, 312, 468, 472; on Chancery jurisdiction, 289; on conquest, 301; on habeas corpus, 309, 513, 521; on the High Commission, 142, 374; on martial law, 431, 515; on monopolies, 197, 322; on prohibitions, 524; on the Requests, 282
- praemunire*: Coke favours prosecutions, 418–20, 426, 437, 439; for aiding a maintainer of the pope, 128; for exceeding the jurisdiction of the High Commission, 273; for exercising inferior equitable jurisdiction, 209–10, 265; for misusing ecclesiastical courts (after 1534), 298; for suing in Chancery after judgment at law, 213–14, 288, 417–20
- Prayer Book see Book of Common Prayer
- precedents: as lex terrae, 404; said to make law, 406
- prerogative, royal: absolute prerogatives, 144–7, 183, 305–7, 322, 330, 337, 400; controlled by equity, 148; granting privileges for the public good, 60; inherent prerogatives, 306; judicial review of, 147, 322–3, 420, 425, 472–3; mercy, 188; ordinary prerogatives, 108, 144–5, 183, 306; power to stay lawsuits or release parties in execution, 179–81, 306 (see also non procedendo rege inconsulto); two kinds of, 144–7, 183, 322; see also dispensing and suspending power; licences; mines royal; monopolies; proclamation; supremacy, royal
- prerogative courts, encroach on the prerogative themselves, 485; see also conciliar jurisdictions
- prerogative writs, 310–11, 351; see also certiorari; habeas corpus; mandamus; prohibition
- prescription see custom
- pressing see impressment
- printing, monopoly of, 190
- prisage of wine, 184

- privilege, writs of, 107, 120, 157, 160
 Privy Council: commits a barrister for contempt, 434; imprisonment by councillors, 155–6, 165–8, 398–402, 432, 499, 506; interrogatories used in, 153; jurisdiction of, 211–12; legislative activities complained of, 154; Orders in Council as lex terrae, 448; proclamations and, 151; stops an action on Magna Carta, 485–7; stops lawsuits, 176–7, 179, 278, 303, 485–6; torture ordered by, 170 privy seal, subpoenas under, 100
procedendo in loquela (and ad iudicium), attributed to Magna Carta, 94 procedure, ordinary, see due process of law process, service of: abuse of, 453; pursuivants and serjeants at arms may not break into homes, 291, 308, 371, 433, 499, 511; process may not be executed in an inn of court, 164 proclamation, legislation by, 105, 151–4, 390–6, 430
Prohibitio Formata de Statuto Articulorum Cleri, supposed statute, 358 prohibition, writ of, 141, 143, 209–10, 295, 307; designed to maintain the king's jurisdiction, 387; linked with Magna Carta, 210, 307, 310, 347, 429; not awarded after decree, 388; special consultation, 360; suggestions reciting Magna Carta, 292; unlawfully granted under the royal prerogative, 64 protection, writs of, 47, 107, 469; prerogative forms of, 174–9, 266 proverbs see maxims and proverbs provincial constitutions, may not change the law of the land, 114 provincial councils see conciliar jurisdictions public law see constitutional learning punishment: corporal, 174; exorbitant forms of, 173–4, 398; imprisonment as, 361; loss of a hand, 174; see also burning Puritans and their sympathisers, 134, 205, 253, 255–6, 355–6, 364 pursuivants, arrest by, see under process, service of purveyance: for castles, 84; for the royal household, 186–7, 324–8, 339
 Pye, Robert, of Inner Temple, 402
Quaestiones compilatae de Statutis, 71, 73–4 quarantine, of a widow, 42, 89
quare impedit, 22, 62, 424
 queen, included in 'king', see under king quo warranto, readings on, 74, 80
 Ravenstone, Bucks, manor of, 285, 288 readings (in the inns of court): origin and early character of, 70–5; constitutional learning in, 86–8, 101–9, 144; legal history in, 222–3; manuscripts of, 219; readers discouraged from discussing royal prerogative, 108 record (of a court), due process and, 46, 97, 100, 300
 recusancy, 125, 127–8, 133; recusants protected by habeas corpus, 158–60 Reformation Parliament, 101, 104–5
rege inconsulto, regina inconsulta, see non procedendo rege inconsulto
 Register of Writs, antiquity of, 405
 regrating, 196
 religious toleration, 125–31, 292–4; see also under Elizabeth I; James I remedies: every wrong has a remedy by reason of Magna Carta, 428; see also actions founded on Magna Carta; certiorari; damages; habeas corpus; mandamus; prohibition repeal of legislation see under statutes
 Requests, Court of: action on Magna Carta for suing in, 97, 277–8, 484–7; grants commissions of sequestration, 280; grants injunctions to restrain judgments at common law, 162, 210,

- 338; habeas corpus for prisoners of, 162, 281–2; its proceedings as lex terrae, 430; judges try to curb its excesses, 277–84, 376–9; lacks a written commission, 208; origin and purpose of, 207, 278, 281, 306, 407, 484–5, 487; threatened abolition of (1509), 100
- restitution, writ of: for clergy and their families, 298; see also mandamus
- restraint of trade see trade, freedom and restraint of
- Reynell, Sir George, marshal of the King's Bench, 353
- Richard II, king of England: deposition of, 63–5, 407; oppression of preachers by, 116
- Richard III, king of England: abolition of 'benevolences' (forced loans) by, 185, 407; a 'cruel tyrant', 230; law officers of, 75; usurpation of the crown by, 408–9
- Ridley, Dr Thomas, chancellor of Winchester, 298, 364
- right see under words and phrases (rectum)
- right, writ of, 453, 455; see also under words and phrases (rectum)
- Rodes, Francis, of Gray's Inn, later JCP, 86
- Roman Catholics: in Lincoln's Inn, 126; in Wales, 306; not treated as heretics, 131, 295; 'papist' not defamatory, 126; supposed toleration of, 292–3, 390–1; women papists regarded as dangerous, 137, 160, 267; see also Jesuits and seminary priests; recusants
- Roman Curia see Ecclesia Romana
- Roman law: thought less ancient than common law, 86, 343, 445; Twelve Tables, 290; see also Civil law
- Roper, Sir Anthony, 363
- Rule of Law: as the essence of chapter 29 of Magna Carta, 16, 33, 449; Elizabeth I and, 150; how it binds the king, 64; 'certain rule of law' (1610), 393, 449; observed by Parliament, 31–2; see also under words and phrases (lex terrae)
- Rump Parliament, 23
- Runnymede (near Egham), Surrey, the charter conceded at, 3–4, 8, 243
- Sabbath see Sundays
- Sackville, Richard, of Gray's Inn, 102
- Sackville, Robert, earl of Dorset, 330
- Sackville, Thomas, Lord Buckhurst, 249
- sacrament, not kneeling to receive, 365, 374
- St Albans, Hertfordshire: alderman of, restored to office, 206; courts adjourned to (1593), 314–15, 487–9
- St German, Christopher, of Middle Temple, 36, 94–5, 102, 122, 124
- St John, Oliver ('Black Oliver'), 407–9
- Salisbury, Wiltshire, alleged custom contrary to Magna Carta, 262–4, 481–4
- salt, monopoly of making, 194–5
- Saltonstall, Sir Samuel, 401
- saltpetre, commissions to take, 194, 327–8
- sanctuary, 31, 81, 119, 470
- Sandwich, Kent, 26, 61, 489–94
- Saunders, Sir Edward, CB, 157, 250
- sayings see maxims and proverbs
- Scotland: application of Magna Carta to, 300; Marches of, 304; Scottish peers and commons not a constituent element in the English Parliament, 105; union with England proposed, 341–3, 350; see also Scots law
- Scots law, 299–301
- Scrogges, Alexander, attorney, 156–7
- sea see fishing; laws of the sea; walrus
- Selden, John, of Inner Temple: awareness of John's charter (1215), 5, 10; on the antiquity of the common law, 348, 444; on judicium parium and jury trial, 38; on lex terrae, 16, 38; on Magna Carta as a statute, 7

- Seler, Jasper, grant of a salt monopoly to, 194–5
- self-incrimination, privilege against: connected with Magna Carta, 36, 430; first objections to, 160; in the High Commission, 160, 208, 429, 518; in the Privy Council, 153–4; in the Requests, 376; when a juror is challenged, 519–20; whether limited to the avoidance of temporal penalties, 524; see also oath ex officio
- seminarians see Jesuits and seminary priests
- serjeants at law, prevented from representing clients, 212–13, 485–6
- sewers, commissioners of, 338, 439
- sexual misconduct, jurisdiction over, 135, 138, 141, 143, 364, 430
- Shakespeare, William, 4
- Sheffield, Edmund, Baron Sheffield, president of the Council at York, 383
- Sheffield, Sir Robert, of Inner Temple, 99, 157–8, 242, 460, 503
- sheriffs, law relating to, 79, 84, 453; see also justices
- ship money, 186, 407, 448
- Shrewsbury, Salop, alleged custom contrary to Magna Carta, 476–81
- silver see gold and silver mines
- simony, 292, 430
- Six Clerks' Office, 423
- Sixtus V, pope, bull against Elizabeth I (1588), 127
- Skinner, Ralph, dean of Durham, 247
- Skyenner, Thomas, sheriff of London, 266–9
- slavery: not recognised by the common law, 35; oppressive commissions likened to, 61; uncertainty of law likened to, 208, 383
- Smith, Jane, wife of Edmund Nevill, styled Lady Latimer, 267
- Smith, Sir John, 169
- Smyth, Thomas (1589), servant, 171–2
- Smyth, Thomas ('Customer Smyth', d. 1591), 328
- Snagge, Robert, of Middle Temple: character, 253–4; cites chapter 29 of Magna Carta in court (1587), 262; mentions Anderson CJ and Coke in his will, 276; reading on chapter 29 (1581), 251–5
- Soame, Sir Henry, lord mayor of London, 168
- solicitor: barrister acting as, 239; not an occupation recognised by the law, 387; prohibited from representing clients, 283
- Solomon, king of Israel, the lions under his throne, 423
- Somer, Will, fool to Henry VIII, 27
- South Mimms, Hertfordshire, blacksmith of, 313–14
- Southampton, Hants, monopoly provision in its charter, 190–2, 250, 312, 472, 474–5
- Spanish armada, repulse of (1588), 186, 194
- Spanish Inquisition, 260
- Spelman, John, of Gray's Inn, 81
- Stafford, Edmund, bishop of Bath and Wells, LC, 50
- Stamford, Lincolnshire, alderman restored to office, 205
- Stannaries, 193, 303
- Stanshawe, Nicholas, of Lincoln's Inn, 66
- Star Chamber: decree concerning the Chancery (1616), 420–1; described as an arbitrary court of discretion, 393; described as malleus delinquentium, 405; harsh interrogation ordered by, 419; invention of misdemeanours by, 154, 211; judges attend and advise, 402; jurisdiction of, 211–12, 402–6, 426; origin of, 211, 306, 404–5; proceedings as due process, 501–2; proceedings as lex terrae, 430; prosecutions commenced orally, 212; punishes distributors of papist books, 126; punishers deceivers, 478; punishes JP for oppression, 173; punishes recusancy, 137; readers of the inns of court admonished in, 108
- Statham, Nicholas, of Lincoln's Inn, 74
- Statuta Nova*, 95, 99
- Statute Law Committee, 11

- statutes (Acts of Parliament): actions founded on, 353; contrasted with common law, 14; effect of confirmation, 13, 20–1, 52; estoppel by record and, 23; every statute made against a mischief implies a remedy, 46; lex condita, 226; meaning of ‘statute’, 2–3, 6–8; prescription against, 482; repeal of, 11–12; statute kept unprinted ‘by the craft of the prelates’, 116; statutes by reputation, 7, 478, 480; void statutes, 88–91, 104, 244, 439; see also entrenchment of legislation; judicial review of legislation; statutory interpretation
- Statutes at Large*, 10
- Statutes of the Realm*, 10–11
- statutory interpretation: absurdity to be avoided, 88–91, 104, 477; doubtful statute interpreted by the law of reason, 521; equity, 233; importance of knowing the previous common law, 222–3; judges assert the exclusive right of, 354, 364; judges said to interpret statutes as broadly as shipmen’s hose, 366; obvious errors, 91; penal legislation construed strictly, 128–9
- Stauford, William, JCP, 144
- Stephen, king of England, 233
- Stoke Goldington, Bucks, manor of, 285, 288
- Stokesley (Stokysley), Dr John, master of requests, 97–8, 461
- Stratford, John de, bishop of Winchester: draws articles against Edward II, 63; indicted in the King’s Bench for absence from Parliament, 503–4
- Streater, Colonel John, printer, 23
- Stubbe, John, of Lincoln’s Inn, 174
- Suárez, Francisco, Jesuit theologian, 132
- subdisjunctive, 38
- subpoena, origin of, 103, 430
- summary trial: for misdemeanours, 99, 479; for offenders caught red-handed, 56, 479; in towns, 478, 480; summary execution by mayor of London, 478, 480–1
- Sundays and holidays, working on, 290, 297, 430
- supersedeas*, writs of, 181–3, 266
- Supplication of the Ordinaries (1531), 124, 518
- supremacy (supreme headship or governorship) of the monarch over the English Church: as an absolute prerogative, 137, 293, 350–1; founded on common law, not on the legislation of Henry VIII, 220–1, 258, 293, 298, 519; how far consistent with constitutional monarchy, 143, 272
- suspending power see dispensing and suspending power
- Symeon, Geoffrey, dean of the Chapel Royal, master of requests, 459
- Talbot, William, Irish barrister, 132
- Tanfield, Lawrence, of Inner Temple, 262, 300, 316, 527
- Tate, Francis, of Middle Temple, 219
- taxation: excessive taxes against Magna Carta, 433; grants of exemption from, 187–8; history of, 331; imposed without consent in Parliament, 36, 184–7, 257–8, 328–34; tax avoidance, 101, 108; see also benevolences; customs; impositions
- Temple (New), London: arrest in, 164; forfeited by the knights Templar, 115; meeting of barons at (1215), 14; see also Inner Temple; Middle Temple
- tenures, origin of, 222
- Thetford, Norfolk, manor of, 62
- Thornton, William, of Lincoln’s Inn, 108, 255
- Thorp, Robert de, CJCP, 58–9, 62
- Throckmorton, Sir Robert, 285
- Throckmorton, Thomas, 285
- Tilney, Norfolk, advowson of, 61–2
- tin, pre-emption of, 193
- tithes, 104, 139, 209, 432
- tolls, 433
- torture, 111, 170–2; under canon law, 117

- Tourneur, Timothy, of Gray's Inn, on the events leading to Coke's downfall, 419–21, 424, 437, 439
- Tower of London: habeas corpus for prisoners in, 302, 496–7, 505–6, 523; the highest prison in the realm, 513; liberty of, 28; 'Little Ease' in, 173; the rack used in, 171
- towns see alderman; cities and towns; urban disputes
- Townshend, Dorothy, wife of Sir Henry, 403
- trade: freedom and restraint of, 155, 202, 245, 312–14, 318, 321, 329, 393, 432, 468–76; trade with infidels, 112
- treason: arrest for, 46, 159, 168, 371, 499, 504–5; attainder for, 32, 36, 53–5, 67, 182; bail in cases of, 401; heresy compared with, 124; judges coerced by Richard II into extending the law of, 63; religion and, 30–40, 118, 125–33, 153, 264–5
- treaties, 61, 145, 147, 239, 322
- Tregeon, Francis, 128
- Treherne, George, of Lincoln's Inn, 96
- Tresham, Sir Thomas, 154
- Tresilian, Robert de, CJKB, 63
- United States of America, Constitution of, 37, 41–2, 90
- universities: English law not on the syllabus, 66, 69, 110–11, 113; study of 'the emperor's law' (Roman law) in, 66; see also Cambridge; Oxford
- urban disputes, 163, 201–6, 262–4
- usury, 135, 161, 430
- Valence, Mary de, dowager countess of Pembroke, 51, 61–2
- Vaux, William, Lord Vaux of Harrowden, 153
- vegetarianism, as evidence of heresy, 116
- Venice, doge of, 394
- Vergil, Polydore, 224, 228
- villains, 51, 431; amercement of, 88–9; as liberi homines, 247; cannot be priests, 83; manumissions of, 200; wreck and, 79
- vow, to God, in chapter 1 of Magna Carta, 83, 243
- wager of law, 271–2; equated by Selden with 'lex terrae', 16, 38
- Wales: English Acts of Parliament apply in, 105; English common law does not run in (c. 1500), 454; habeas corpus to, 505; Welshmen not a constituent element in Parliament, 105; Welshmen unwilling to travel to London for litigation, 306; writs sent from the King's Bench to, 302; see also Council in the Marches of Wales; Marches of Wales
- Walmsley, Sir Thomas, JCP: habit of dissenting, 287, 365, 384, 490; on abuses by the Court of Requests, 381, 485; on equitable jurisdiction, 280; on excessive pride in municipal corporations, 202; on the importance of the Cinque Ports, 493; on imprisonment by the High Commission, 290; on the measures needed to curb inferior courts of equity, 282–3, 304, 377
- walruses, 192
- Walsingham, Sir Francis, secretary of state, 166
- war, declaration and conclusion of: belongs to the absolute prerogative 145, 337; effected by proclamation, 151, 257; not justiciable in the courts, 147, 322
- Waram (Wharam), Richard, 177–8
- Warburton, Peter, JCP, reports by, 395
- Wards, Court of, 183
- wardship: disparagement of wards, 42, 83, 89; readings on, 81; whether due before homage taken, 466, 477–8, 482
- Warene, John de, 62
- warrant for arrest: blank warrants unlawful, 41; general warrants, 496; when necessary, 482–4, 496
- Warwick, earl of, see Beauchamp
- wedding see marriage ceremony

- Wendover, Roger of, 4, 247, 263, 477
 Wharam see Waram
 Whetherly (Witherley), Walter, oppressed by the Council in the Marches, 307–10, 511–14
 Whig school of history, 442
 Whitelocke, James, of Middle Temple:
   praises Coke, 438–9; imprisoned, 400–1, 427; on impositions, 331, 334;
   reports the Case of Monopolies, 316
 Whitgift, John, archbishop of Canterbury, 134, 136, 258,
   260, 274
 widows: the king's (tenant's) widow, 84, 466; marriage of, 88; right to quarantine, 42, 89; right to remain in a castle, 71, 89, 466; see also dower
 Wightman, Edward, 295
 William I, king of England, and English law, 76, 85, 306, 445, 532; laws and decrees of, 85
 Williams, Sir David, JKB: angry with Fleming CJ, 386; on Coke's arrogance, 437; on the High Commission, 525
 Williams, Thomas, of Inner Temple,
   37, 247
 Willoughby, Lord, see Bertie
 Willoughby, Richard, CJKB, 57–8
 Winchester (diocese), bishop of, see Stratford
 Winchester, Hants, usher of the school,
   364
 Windsor, Berks, royal castle at, 423 wine: import of, 152, 184, 190; licence to retail, notwithstanding a statute,
   189; measures of, 87
 Winwood, Sir Ralph, secretary of state,
   406, 423
 Witherley see Whetherly
 withernam, customs as to, 26–8, 317,
   488–94
 Wode, Thomas, of Middle Temple, possible reading on Magna Carta, 80
 Wolsey, Thomas, cardinal archbishop of York: as LC, 98, 101; as king's almoner, 459; brought to heel by the attorney-general 282; charges against, 100, 121, 213; feud with Sir Robert Sheffield, 157–8; imprisonment by, 157–8; introduces forced loan (1523), 185
 women: apparent mysogyny explained by politics, 229–31; female hereditary sheriff, 84; included under liber
   homo, 34, 230, 247, 431, 463–4;
   supposed to be unfit for government, 230–1; see also husband and wife;
   widows; and under Roman Catholics
 Woodhouse, Captain Thomas, 178
 Woodstock, Thomas, duke of Gloucester, 63
 Woodville, Elizabeth, queen of
   Edward IV, 229, 231
 Woolton (Wootton), John, physician of Exeter, 365
 words and phrases (in Magna Carta):
   boscus, 324; capiatur, 92, 101, 453–5,
   500–7; communio placita, 76–8, 81, 86,
   376, 466, 482; concessimus Deo, 82,
   243; contenementum, 88; curia nostra,
   78, 88; ecclesia, 466; erga suos, 33,
   119; judicium parium, 37–8, 92, 247,
   429, 452, 455, 463; justicia, 48, 453;
   legale iudicium, 39–40, 398; lex terrae,
   16–17, 87, 103, 245, 251, 400, 404,
   429–31, 448, 454–5, 464, 475–6, 484,
   500; liber homo, 34–5, 230, 247, 340,
   430–1, 463–4; liberae consuetudines, 25, 433; locus certus, 466; nulli
   differemus, 47, 94, 149, 175, 179–80, 247; nulli negabimus, 453; nulli
   vendemus, 40, 47–8, 88, 93–4, 149, 247, 453, 455, 465; nullus (gender-free), 34;
   nullus destruat, 340, 408, 509; nullus
   disseisiat, 101, 464, 507–8; nullus
   exuletur, 448, 509; nullus utlagetur, 464, 508; pares, 92–3, 427, 447
   and above (judicium parium); pax
   nostra, 80; puer, 230;
   rectae consuetudines, 330;
   rectum, 48, 93–4, 453; super
   eum ibimus, 36, 340, 429, 464
   509–10; super eum mittimus, 36–7, 340, 464, 509–10; vel, 38–40;
   wainagium, 88

- Wray, Christopher, of Lincoln's Inn, later CJKB: argument against the Southampton charter, 190, 250; on the role of the High Commission, 140; rejects a prerogative protection, 178; speaker of the Commons, 137
- wreck, law of, 74, 79
- writs, fines and fees charged for, 47–8, 89, 93, 453, 455
- Wroth, Robert (1529), of Gray's Inn, 91
- Wroth, Sir Robert (1601), of Gray's Inn, 198
- Wycliffe, John, theologian, 65, 115, 120
- Wykeham, William of, bishop of Winchester, LC, 60
- Yelverton, Sir Christopher, of Gray's Inn, later JKB; on habeas corpus, 309, 513, 523–4; on prohibitions, 523; readings collected by, 102; reprimands Fuller, 528; speaker of the Commons, 197
- Yelverton, Sir Henry, JCP, 102
- York, city: mayor's court of equity, 387; cathedral of, 62
- Young, Thomas, archbishop of York, 159
- Zouche, Edward, Baron Zouche, lord president of Wales, 303–5, 307, 309–10, 346, 406, 507