INDEX OF FIRST LINES
(The numerals in this index refer to pages)

A bird flew tangent-wise to the open window 39
After the band has gone 79
After the sirens sound 26
After the spools of talk are each unravelled 65
A girl there was in a far city 88
All Nature’s agents image war to me 10
All this shall pass 82
All through that year, he, almost still a boy 36
And when lord Death with all his gear 71
A secret map is all that others see 48
As I was walking in the Park 55
Away the horde rode, in a storm of hail 18
Because the world is falling and there comes no answer 5
Bury them deeper, deeper 42
Calamity has befallen our house 40
Casually as a crane dips over the water 75
Clusters of spongy clouds quietly 58
Come! let us dance 2
Death is not in dying 52
Do not ask for impossible gifts 60
Draw-to the curtains then, and let it rain 11
Faint now behind the secret eyes of these 24
Forget the dead, this time 85
Friend, whose unnatural early death 37
From Cornwall to the Hebrides 58
From one shaft at Cleator Moor 23
Gone is the spring 9
Here a hand lay 69
He stopped—hit! 19
His was the coward’s, not the hero’s stance 68
Hugging the ground by the lilac tree 17
