CONTENTS

List of tables page xi
List of contributors xiv
General editors’ preface xix
Preface xxv

1 The role of the public bureaucracy in policy implementation in five ASEAN countries: a comparative overview 1
JON S. T. QUAH
1.1 Introduction 1
1.2 Review of literature 3
1.3 Purpose and approach 8
1.4 Policy context 10
1.5 Profile of the public bureaucracies 32
1.6 Policy formulation 37
1.7 The public bureaucracy’s role in policy implementation 43
1.8 Two case studies of policy implementation 58
1.9 Conclusion 72

2 Weak central authority and fragmented bureaucracy: a study of policy implementation in Indonesia 98
AGUS PRAMUSINTO
2.1 Introduction 98
2.2 Indonesia’s policy context 100
2.3 Profile of the civil service 113
2.4 Policy formulation 121
2.5 The civil service’s role in policy implementation 127
2.6 Implementing the ASEAN Cosmetic Directive (ACD) 139
CONTENTS

2.7 Implementing the ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Transnational Crime (AMMTC)/Senior Officials Meeting on Transnational Crime (SOMTC) 148

2.8 Conclusion 154

3 The public bureaucracy’s role in policy implementation in Malaysia 171

Nik Rosnah Wan Abdullah
3.1 Introduction 171
3.2 Malaysia’s policy context 172
3.3 Profile of the Malaysian public service 186
3.4 The public service’s role in policy formulation 192
3.5 Implementing the ASEAN Cosmetic Directive (ACD) 206
3.6 Implementing the ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Transnational Crime (AMMTC)/Senior Officials Meeting on Transnational Crime (SOMTC) 216
3.7 Conclusion 225

4 Dysfunctional bureaucracy, corruption and weak rule of law: a case study of policy implementation in the Philippines 233

Vicente Chua Reyes, Jr
4.1 Introduction 233
4.2 Policy context 234
4.3 Profile of the civil service 242
4.4 Policy formulation 249
4.5 The civil service’s role in policy implementation 253
4.6 Case studies on implementing the ASEAN Cosmetic Directive (ACD) and the ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Transnational Crime (AMMTC)/Senior Officials Meeting on Transnational Crime (SOMTC) 264
4.7 Assessing the implementation of the ACD 268
4.8 Assessing the implementation of the AMMTC/SOMTC 277
4.9 Conclusion: implications for current ASEAN processes and outputs 284

viii
CONTENTS

5 Governance and meritocracy: a study of policy implementation in Singapore  297
DAVID SETH JONES
5.1 Introduction  297
5.2 Policy context  298
5.3 Profile of the public bureaucracy  306
5.4 Policy formulation  314
5.5 Policy implementation  319
5.6 Singapore’s implementation of two ASEAN agreements  336
5.7 Implementing the ASEAN Cosmetic Directive (ACD)  341
5.8 Implementing the ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Transnational Crime (AMMTC)/Senior Officials Meeting on Transnational Crime (SOMTC)  347
5.9 Conclusion  353

6 Vietnam’s public bureaucracy and implementation of two ASEAN policies  370
JAIRO ACUÑA-ALFARO AND ANH TRAN
6.1 Introduction  370
6.2 Policy context in Vietnam  371
6.3 Profile of Vietnam’s public bureaucracy  377
6.4 Policy formulation  385
6.5 Public bureaucracy’s role in policy implementation  390
6.6 Implementation of two ASEAN policy initiatives  398
6.7 Implementing the ASEAN Cosmetic Directive (ACD)  401
6.8 Implementing the ASEAN Ministerial Meeting on Transnational Crime (AMMTC)/Senior Officials Meeting on Transnational Crime (SOMTC)  414
6.9 Conclusion  423

7 Policy implementation in ASEAN and the European Union: the problem of asymmetric compliance  432
GIULIO NAPOLITANO
7.1 The public bureaucracy’s role in implementing international policies  432
CONTENTS

7.2 Asymmetric compliance: ASEAN and the European Union compared 436
7.3 Causes of asymmetric compliance across countries 441
7.4 Causes of asymmetric compliance across policies 448
7.5 Remedies for policy implementation failure and asymmetric compliance 452

Executive summary 467
Index 474