Index

Aboriginal languages, teaching of 490 academic language 488
academic literacies distinguishing features 453–4 stages of development 484–6 transforming everyday knowledge into disciplined knowledge 455–6 academic meanings, representing and communicating 450–2 access to dominant language 489–90 accessibility of new media 35 active learning 135–8, 157–8 active meaning-making 128–9 adjectives 290, 291
adverbs 290, 291
affinity spaces 54
African praise poems 421–2 age differences, and literacies learning 482–6 agency balance of 8, 54–6
and diversity 56–8
Allpress, Aly 448–9
alphabetical principle 267 American sign language (ASL) 389, 472 analytic phonics 121–3, 255, 260 analytical literacies learning 79–80
Anderson, Richard 263, 482–6
Andrew, David 393
Animal Farm 252–3
Antram, Christopher 449
Apple, Michael 179 applied literacies learning 80 Arnold, Matthew 100, 192
Aspden, Mike 402–3
assessment see literacies assessment Au, Kathryn 470
audio meanings 232, 401
grammar of 403
learning 402–3
music and multimodal literacies 405–6 representation and communication in sound 403–5
Australian Aboriginal language map 22
Australian Curriculum
approaches to grammar 304
aspects of authentic pedagogy 141 aspects of critical pedagogy 201 aspects of didactic pedagogy 87 conceptual and experiential aspects of literacy 266–7
general capabilities 52, 447–8 intercultural understanding 52–4 literacy across the curriculum approach 447 standard for Year 3 English 497–8 visual knowledge 355 authentic literacy 74, 85 authentic literacy curriculum learning to mean 133–5 natural learning 131–2
organisation 131–5
student-centred curriculum 447 authentic literacy knowledge active meaning-making, 128–9
analytic phonics 121–3
contents 121–9
handwriting 124–5
process, conference or workshop writing 125–7, 135
self-directed reading 127–8
authentic literacy learners active learning and experiential immersion 135–8, 157–8
different interpretations and methods 135–7
generating motivation 137–8 authentic literacy learning for modern world 140–1
social relationships of 138–42
valuing of authenticity 138–40 authentic literacy pedagogy 120
constructivism 142–3
and knowledge processes 86, 142–3 limitations 139–40
moral economy of learning 138 process approach 157 progressive approach 128–9, 139–40, 157 whole language approach 123, 133–4, 260 authentic reading pedagogies 257 authenticity, valuing of 138–40 Ayers, William 179
balance of agency 8, 54–6 balanced approach to reading 263 Balraj, Shanthi 456–8
Bennett, William 114
Bernstein, Basil 468–70
big data 517
bilingualism
access principle 489–90
diversity principle 490–1 steps to 488, 489
BioStories project 458–62
Black Death 71
Black English Vernacular 180, 193
blogging 69
Bloom, Alan 114
Bloom, Harold 100
Bloom’s Taxonomy of Educational Objectives 204 bodily configuration 386 bodily sensations, meanings of 379–83 body talk 390–3
Body Tracings project 393 bottom-up education reform 11–12 boundary-crossing communicators 46
Braille 381
Brenner, Joni 393
broadcast media 55–6
Brown, Ann 483–4
Bruner, Jerome 441
Callow, Jon 364
cars, idea of 344
Carter, Stephanie Power 394
Cazden, Courtney 416–19, 444–5 change, capacity to deal with 32 child development
complex thinking 436
developing academic literacies 484–6 initial literacies 484–5
linguistic-cognitive development 435–7 and literacies learning 483–4 towards conceptual thinking 437–8 Chomsky, Noam
on culture 297
on deep structures of meaning and surface structures of language 295–6 on learning 298
transformational-generative grammar 296–7
citizenship and cultural and linguistic diversity 51–4 literacies for 49–54, 61 and literacies pedagogy 51–4 civic-economic participation 7 classroom discourse difference from other discourses 444–5 in old and new media 416–19 classroom-embedded EAL/D or ELL teaching 490 classroom learning ecologies, analytical framework 88 clause 291–2
Cloonan, Anne 69–70, 242
cloud computing 517–18
codes, Bernstein’s theory of 470 cognition
complex thinking 436
designing meaning 434–5 human cognition and literacies 431 human thinking compared to other thinking in animals 430 and phonics 268–70
cognitive development in children 437–8
literacies and 430–8
towards reflexive consciousness of adult cognition 445–6 Collaborative Reasoning strategy 482–6 communication definition 212
and meaning-making 217–18
representation and 5–7, 212–13 communication skills, for new workplace 46–7 communications technology, rise of new forms 32–4 community life, literacies for 54–60
complex thinking 436
comprehension 84
  as decoding 257
  reading comprehension 96–7
  strategies for developing 275–8
  concepts 433
  conceptual literacies learning 77–9 conceptual thinking, development of 437–8 conceptualisation process 433–4 conference writing 125–7
  conformity, and didactic literacy pedagogy 112–14 conjunctions 290, 291
  consonants 271
  constructivism 142–3
  constructivist theories of learning 433 Bruner’s stance 441 developing metarepresentations 442–3 literacies as extensions of mind 441–2 Piaget’s stance 440 role of literacies in learning 441–2
  school learning 444
  towards reflexive consciousness of adult cognition 445–6 Vygotsky on social learning 440–1 copying (handwriting) 104–6 corporeal differences in literacies learning 470–2 Create school, Wisconsin 320
  criterion-referenced assessment 513 critical literacies curriculum creation in new media 189–90
  multiple ‘Englishes’ 193
  organisation 188–93
  postmodern concerns 190–2 voice 188–9
  critical literacies knowledge addressing discrimination and disadvantage 181–7
  contents 177–88
  critical thinking 177–9 identity and literacy 180–1
  interrogating texts 185
  popular culture 182–4
  critical literacies learners building on lived experience 194–5 working in participatory media 195–6 critical literacies learning human differences and social justice 198–201 social issues and moral dilemmas 196–8 social relationships in 196–201 critical literacies pedagogy aim 179 dimensions 195
  focus 179
  and knowledge processes 86, 201–2
  moral economy of learning 198
  overview 176
  values 179
  critical literacy 74, 79, 85 critical reading, strategies for developing 275–8 critical thinking, through literacies 177–9 crosswalk approach 202
  Cuban, Larry 114
  cultural and linguistic diversity see diversity culture wars 114
  Cummins, Jim 480–1, 488, 491
  Cuthbertson, Ed 450
  De Rooy, Sharon 448–9
  deliberate semantics 442 democratic curriculum 179 design
  in differentiated literacies instruction 139–40
  in practice 225–6
  reading as 262
  design analysis 230
  dimensions of 249
  elements of 239–43
  language choices and change types 294–5 of written language 319–20 of written meanings 289 design elements, metalanguage to describe 238–9 design pedagogy 226–7
  designing
  acts of 222–3
  and learner identities 227–8 designs
  available designs 221–2
  meanings of ‘design’ 220–2
  the re-designed 223–4
  Dewey, John 85, 128
  on assimilative force of education 139–40 on generating motivation 137–8 on natural learning 131–2 on progressivist education 128–9, 139–40 diagnostic assessment 502, 508 didactic literacy 74, 85 didactic literacy curriculum organisation applying objective thinking 103–4 delivering structured and sequenced knowledge 102–3 following syllabus, textbook and teacher 102–4 didactic literacy knowledge
contents 89–101
correct usage 93
extending vocabulary 96–7
literature appreciation 99–101
namming language structures 94–6
reading comprehension 97–8
reading fluency 98–9
synthetic phonics 89–91, 255
traditional grammar 91–3
didactic literacy learners activities 104–10
copying 104–6
formulae and repetition 106–9
memory work 109–10
didactic literacy learning social relationships of 111–14
testing literacy 111–12
valuing of conformity 112–14 didactic literacy pedagogy 78, 79, 84 and authority in language knowledge 111–14 exploring 86–7
and knowledge processes 86, 114–17
values 179
didactic teaching 86 difference, effects in literacies learning 467–75 differentiated literacies instruction alternative navigation paths 481–2 creating learning environment of productive diversity 482–3 the idea of design 139–40 knowledge processes 142–3
multimodality 140–1
digital citizenship 513 digital media, accessibility of 35 digital technologies, and communication of meaning 32–4 Disadvantaged Schools Program 468 discrimination and disadvantage, addressing 181–7 diverse identities, literacies and diversity and citizenship 51–4 and globalisation 49–50
as universal 56–8
Diving into Books Learning Module 250–2 drama 394–5 dual language education 490
Dudgeon, Dean 449
Dyirbal language 24–5
e-portfolios 328
economy, transition from industrial to knowledge economy 41 education distinguished from training 179 as a market 50
objectives 39
postmodern education 181, 190–2 primary function 38
progressivist education 128–9 promise of 7–8 traditional classroom 44 education reform, sources of change 11–12 elaborated code 469
Electricity Learning Module 235
Elementary and Secondary Act 1965 (US) 468, 469 emancipatory literacy 179 empiricism 352
employees see workforce endogenous growth theory 41
engaging with 277–8
English as an Additional Language or Dialect (EAL/D) or English Language Learner (ELL) instruction
access principle 489–90
diversity principle 490–1
politicisation of approaches 490–1 social and academic languages 488 varieties of 487
English language
Black English Vernacular 180, 193
internal divergence 34 morphophonemic nature of 286
multiple ‘Englishes’ 193
standard English 193
traditional grammar 289–95
epistemology 21
ergative-absolutive case 24–5 exophoric reference 444 experiential immersion 135–8 experiential literacies learning 77 explanation genre 161–4 Felicity television sitcom 366 field 155–6
Finn, Chester 114
first globalisation, emergence of first languages 20, 33 first languages
character of 21
decline and death of 21–3 divergence between and within 24–5 diversity 23–4
dynamism 25
emergence 20
multimodal communications 25–6
synaesthesia 26
written languages compared to 26 flows, meanings of 373–8 Flynn effect 502
formative assessment 502, 508, 517, 520–1 Four Resources Model of reading 264 frames of action 386–8
Freebody, Peter 264
Freire, Paulo 179
Froebel, Friedrich 235
Fterniati, Anna 68–9
functional grammar 300–1
functional literacy 74, 85, 150 functional literacy curriculum genre concept 158–9
metalinguage development 160–1
organisation 157–64
writing an explanation text 161–4 functional literacy knowledge
contents 147–57
field, tenor and mode 155–6 language structures and functions 153–5 purpose of texts 147–9 stages of a genre 149–53 functional literacy learners, narrative writing 165–6 functional literacy learning social relationships of 168–72
uses of genres in schools 168–70 using socially powerful texts 171–2 functional literacy pedagogy 146
development of 157–8
gene-based pedagogy 147–8, 158
and knowledge processes 86, 173
learners doing literacy 165–6 school success and social power 147–57 teaching learning cycle 171–2 and zone of proximal development 173 Gee, James Paul 40, 184, 196 gender/gendre differences, and literacies
learning 473–5
generalisation 433
Generation P, characteristics as learners 8–10 genre-based pedagogy 147–8, 158 genres at school 159, 168–70 concept of 158–9
in curriculum areas 170 exploration genre 163–4 stages of 149–53
gesture 388
gestural meaning 232
grammar of 387–8
learning through 373
making connections with other modes of meaning 390–8 representation and communication of 386–90 gestural signing 389
Gill, Keteurah 373
Gill, Prue 450
globalisation, and diversity 49–50
Good Vibrations learning module 402–3 Goodman, Kenneth 123, 133–4
Gorman, Sue 373, 402–3
Goulah, Jason 395
government, changing status in society 50–1 Graff, Harvey 112
grammars
approaches to 305
of audio meanings 403
of gestural meaning 387–8 of oral meanings 408 of spatial meaning 375–6 of tacile meaning 380–1 of visual meaning 337–8 See also systemic-functional grammar; traditional grammar, transformational-generative grammar graphemes 255
graphonics 272–4
Graves, Donald 135
Green, James 141
group demographics, and learner differences 475–6 Growing to Give learning module 448–9
Gutierrez, Kris 135
Halliday, Michael 155
comparison of written meaning and oral meaning 412–11 functional grammar 300–1
Hamlet 283
handwriting
authentic literacy pedagogy 124–5
copying 104–6
Hass Dyson, Anne 189
heritage language education 490
Hertzberg, Mary 394
Hi-5 television series 69–70, 187
Hicks, Laura 450
Index

Hirsch, E. D. 100–1, 114
historical writing, assessment 514 Huckleberry Finn 415
human differences, and social justice 198–201
human ear 405
human vision 344
The Hunger Games 70–1
icons 431
ideational metafunction of language 301 identity, and literacy 180–1
image-making process 350 images, and words 341–2 imagination 348–9
indicators 432
Indigenous Australian students 472 industrial economy 42 industrial-era employees 41 inequality and emergence of writing 27 in workplace 45–6
initial literacies 484–5
intelligence assessments, compared to standards-based assessment 501 intelligence testing 499–502 interactionist theory 500
interjections 290
internet, regulation 50 interpersonal metafunction of language 301 interpretation 215–16
interrogating texts 185
intervention strategies 481–2
IQ bell curve 500
IQ testing 499–502
Japanese language learning 395

Kenway, Jane 475
Kiddy, Robyn 448–9
kindergarten 235
knowledge economy 38, 42
knowledge processes
approach to literacies 72, 73–4 in authentic pedagogy 86, 142–3 and Bloom’s Taxonomy of Educational Objectives 204 in classroom terms 74–7 and critical literacies pedagogy 86, 201–2 and didactic pedagogy 86, 114–17
in differentiated literacies instruction 142–3 emphases of literacies pedagogies 86 and functional literacy pedagogy 86, 173 historical roots of 74 in learning theory 77
literacies activities 76
as pedagogical principles 82 as teaching and learning repertoire 80–1 knowledge representation and communication 514 knowledge society, literacies for 41–2 knowledge-era employees 41 Ladson-Billings, Gloria 142–3 language, metafunctions of 300–1
language choices and change types 294–5
language differences
first languages 21, 23–5
renewed importance 34–5 language knowledge, authority in 111–14 language structures and language functions 153–5 naming 94–6
in transformative-generative grammar 295–6 language turn 335
learner differences
corporeal differences 470–2
demographic dimensions 467 effects on literacies learning 467–75 intervention strategies 481–2 language background 487 lifeworld attributes 476–8 material differences 467–70 problems of group demographics and 475–6
symbolic differences 472–5
learners doing literacy
active learning and experiential immersion 135–8
authentic pedagogy 135–8
copying 104–6
didactic pedagogy 104–10
formulae and repetition 106–9
functional literacy pedagogy 165–6
gene scaffolds and independent construction 165–6
memory work 109–10
learning
role of literacies in 441–2 and synaesthesia 234–6
and transformation 224
in zone of proximal development 439 Learning by Design project 75 learning theory, knowledge processes in 77 lexico-grammatical features 168 Libbis, Kylie 403
lifeworld attributes, and learning 476–8 lifeworld meanings, transforming into academic meanings 456–62 Lin Yi’s Lantern 373
literacies across the curriculum 446–8 for citizenship 49–54, 61 and cognitive development 430–8 for community life 54–60 and diverse identities 54 as extensions of mind 441–2 for knowledge society 41–2 for learning 439
new literacies for changing times 59–60 opportunities and 39
paradigms 85–8
purposes 40
role in learning 441–2
as tool for taking control of one’s life 196–201 as tools for meaning 7–8 for work 40–9, 61
literacies assessment across discipline areas 513–15 classical assessment types 502
criterion-referenced assessment 513 diagnostic assessment 502, 508
formative assessment 502, 508, 512–13, 517, 520–1 historical writing 514 measures 503
for new media and new learning 509–15
norm-based assessment 515
norm-referenced assessments 503 perspectives 503
purposes of 502–3
reflexive assessment 513
science writing 513–14
select response assessment 506–7, 516
self-referenced assessment 505
situated assessment 508
summative assessment 502, 508, 517, 520–1
supply response assessment 506, 507–8, 516 testing controversies 505–9 literacies assessment technologies 515–21
big data 517
cloud computing 517–18
NLP technologies 518
semantic tagging technologies 518–19
literacies learning across the curriculum 448–50
age differences and 482–6 and child development 483–4
corporeal differences 470–2
and different language backgrounds 487 effects of difference 467–75 gender/gendre differences 473–5
initial literacies 484–5 lifeworld attributes and 476–8 material differences and 467–70 and physical and mental abilities 471–2 and race 469
and sex/sexuality differences 471 symbolic differences in 472–5 literacies pedagogy
comparison of approaches 205
crosswalk approach 202
examples from contemporary classrooms 68–72 framework for analysing 88 knowledge process emphases 86 knowledge processes approach 71 timeline of paradigms 85 towards a robust literacies pedagogy 202–4 literacies standards
assessing 499–502
idea and practice of 497–9 literacies teaching and learning multiliteracies approach 1–2 multimodality and 2
new basics 4–5
old basics 3, 5
orientations to 73–4
social diversity and 1–2 literacy
across the curriculum 446–8
as emancipatory practice 179 and identity 180–1
and nationalism 31, 49
and social logic of industrialised society 30 and social pressures to uniformity 30–1 literacy curriculum, organisation of applying objective thinking 103–4 authentic literacy pedagogy 131–5
delivering structured and sequenced knowledge 102–3
didactic literacy pedagogy 102–4
functional pedagogy 157–64 process pedagogy and natural language growth 131–5 literacy knowledge, contents of authentic literacy pedagogy 121–9
correct usage 93
critical literacies pedagogy 177–88
didactic literacy pedagogy 89–101
extending vocabulary 96–7
functional pedagogy 147–57
literature appreciation 99–101
naming language structures 94–6
reading comprehension 97–8
reading fluency 98–9
school success and social power 147–57
traditional grammar 91–3
traditional topics and approaches 89–101 literary canon 84, 100
literature appreciation 99–101
look–say approach to reading 258–60, 275
Lopez-Gopar, Mario 473
Luke, Allan 264
Macedo, Donaldo 179
Mackey, Margaret 366
Martin, Karen 472
material differences, and literacies learning 467–70 mathematics writing, assessment 515 McLaren, Peter 188 meaning
designing 434–5
modes of 232–3, 407
meaning-design process 222 meaning-making 211
cycle of 217
as design process 220–8
as dynamic process 218–19 five questions about meaning 317–18
interpretation 215–16
primary ways of 215
reading as 256–7
in representation and communication 212–19 resources for 220
in today’s world 212–13 meaning-making systems first globalisation 20, 33 history of 20
inheritance of 434–5
second globalisation 26–9, 33
third globalisation 32
meaning systems see meaning-making systems meanings in situations, realised by texts 301
memory work 109–10
mental abilities, and literacies learning 471–2 mental images 334, 347–8 mental models, and reading 260–2 metalanguage development 160–1
dimensions of 160
metarepresentations, developing 442–3 micro-organisms activity 458
Miller, Bill 403
Mills, Kathy 69, 235–6
mode 155–6
modernity 29
Montessori, Maria 85, 128, 132, 235
Moodie, Ruth 390–1
moral dilemmas, investigating 196–8 moral economy of learning 138, 198
morphemes 275, 291
morphophonemic language 286 motivation, generating 137–8 Multicultural Choral Connections learning module 405–6 multilingualism and first languages 24
return to 34–5
social languages and 39–40 transformative multilingual learning 491–3 multiliteracies’ approach to literacy agendas 3–5
major aspects 1 multimodal communicators 46–7 multimodal early literacies 357 multimodal literacies image and other modes of meaning 399–61 and music 405–6
towards 236–8
visual representation and communication 336–41 multimodal literacies learning 395–8 multimodal meaning elements of design analysis 239–43
grammar of 242
multimodal theory of representation and communication, modes of meaning in 230 multimodal writing, using new media 243–4 multimodality
in differentiated literacies instruction 140–1
first languages and 25–6 literacy learning and 2 nature of 230–1
and new media 228–9
Index

return to 34
towards multimodal literacies 236–8 Murray, Donald 135
music, and multimodal literacies 405–6

narrative dimensions of genre 166 engagement with 55 nature of texts 170
writing 165–6

nationalism, and literacy 31, 49
Natural Language Processing (NLP) 293 natural language processing (NLP) technologies 516, 518 neoliberalism 50–1
Neville, Mary 365–6
new basics of literacy learning elements 4–5 and new learning 6
new capitalism see Post-Fordism new learners see Generation P new learning learner characteristics 11 and new basics of literacy learning 6 teaching practices 11
New London Group 1, 75
new media accessibility 35
multimodal writing using 243–4 and multimodality 228–9 students as creators in 189–90
No Child Left Behind Act 2001 (US) 468
norm-based assessment 513
norm-referenced assessments 503
Nott, Jennier 450
nouns 290, 291

objective thinking, applying 103–4 old basics of literacy learning 4–5
Onion Tears 394
opportunities, literacies and 39 oral meanings 232, 401
classroom discourse in old and new media 416–19 compared to written meanings 409–14 crossovers with written meanings 414–23
grammar of 408
how speaking is different from writing 406–9
learning 402–3
synaesthesia and learning 419–23 writing-like speech and speech-like writing 414–16

Ordinary People, Extraordinary Destinies
Learning Module 283
Other, the 181

Palinscar, Annemarie 483–4
Pandian, Ambigapthy 456–8
Parkin, Bianca 448–9 participant communicators 46 participatory culture 195 participatory learners see Generation P participatory media, working in 195–6 passion project 68, 189–90 pedagogical scaffold 155 perception, psychology of 345 perceptual images 334, 343–7, 348 Perceptual Reasoning Index 501 personal enablement 7 phonemes 255, 271
phonics
analytic phonics 121–3, 255
approaches to 256, 266–7
and cognition 268–70 complexity of 257, 270–2
concepts 268–9
and learning written meaning 274–5 synthetic phonics 89–91, 123, 255
phrases 291
physical abilities, and literacies learning 471–2 Piaget, Jean 78
constructivist theory of learning 440 pictorial turn 336
Pierce, Charles Sanders 431
Placemat Curriculum Planning Tool 76
popular culture 182–4
Post-Fordism 42–4
postmodern education 181, 190–2
praise poems 421–2
prepositions 290, 291
probability concept 450 procedures (factual texts) 168 process writing 125–7, 135, 157 productive diversity 482–3 progressive pedagogy see authentic literacy pedagogy progressivist education 128–9, 157
pronouns 290, 291
proto-writing 225
pseudo-concepts 436
psycholinguistics 260
Purcell-Gates, Victoria 468 race, and literacies learning 470–1 Ramus, Petrus 102–3
Index

rap 422–3
Ravitch, Diane 114
reading balanced approach 263
  beginning reading 267
  as decoding 255, 256–7
  as design of meaning 262 Four Resources Model 264 hybrid approaches 263–4 immersion approach 263
  interpretation 135–7
  learning to read in written mode 250, 264–6 look–say approach 258–60, 275 as meaning-making 256–7 and mental models 260–2
  self-directed reading 127–8 strategies for developing critical reading 275–8 synthetic phonics approach to 255
  whole language approach 123, 133–4, 260
  working at 253–4
  reading comprehension 97–8
  reading fluency 98–9
  Reading Recovery 482
  reading skills, constrained and unconstrained 262 reading wars 257, 266
  Reciprocal Teaching strategy 483–4 recounts 168
  reference (symbolising) 434
  reflexive assessment 513
  reflexive communicators 46 reflexive pedagogy 520 reports 168
  representation 212 communication and 5–7, 212–13
  and meaning-making 215–17 representations about 442–3 resource sharing sites 56 Response to Intervention strategy 481–2 restricted code 469
  Rimmington, Ryan 405–6
  Rousseau, Jean-Jacques 85
  saccades 258
  schemas 261
  Scholar 10, 15–16, 320, 517, 520 school genre types 159 success and social power 147–57 uses of genres 168–70
    School Fun Fair project 69
    school learning 444

  Schools Commission 468
  science literacies 451–5
  assessing 513–14
  for early childhood 367
  in practice 456–62
  second globalisation, emergence of writing 26–9, 33 select response assessment 506–7, 516
  self-directed reading 127–8
  self-referenced assessment 505
  semantic tagging technologies 518–19
  semiosis 213–15
  semiotics 213
  Sense about Science literacy project 456–8 sense (symbolising) 434 sentences 292
  sex/sexuality differences, and literacies learning 471 shadow puppetry learning module 373
  The Shark Net 367
  Shor, Ira 188
  sign language 389, 472
  sign systems 213–15
  signs
    icons 431
    indicators 432
    symbols 432–4
  Singing Together, Giving Together learning module 403
  situated assessment 508
  Smith, Kim 373
  social diversity, and literacy learning 1–2 social equity 7
  social groups, demographics of 467 social issues, investigating 196–8 social justice, and human differences 198–201 social languages 488 and multilingualism 39–40 and older EAL/D learners or ELLs 488 social media spaces 57 social mobility 7, 470
  social networking 56 social power 147–57
  social relationships of literacy learning authority in language knowledge 111–14 benefits of learning powerful text forms 168–72
    functional literacy pedagogy 168–72
    self-expression in learner-centred pedagogy 138–42
    testing literacy 111–12
    valuing authenticity 138–40 valuing authority 112–14

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org socio-economic differences, and literacies learning 467–70

Soundscapes learning module 403

'Soweto for Young Freaks' [poem] 421–2 spaces, meanings of 373–8

spatial meaning 232

grammar of 375–6

learning through 373

making connections with other modes of meaning 390–8 spaces and flows 373–8

speaking, and writing 284–6 speech-like writing 414–16

spelling

invented spelling 124

memorising 109–10

standard English 193

standards see literacies standards standards-based assessment, compared to intelligence assessments 501

Stanford-Binet Intelligence Test 499, 500

state, the, changing significance of 50–1

student-centred curriculum 140–1

summative assessment 502, 508, 517, 520–1

supply response assessment 506, 507–8, 516

syllables 272

symbolic differences, in literacies learning 472–5 symbolising, dimensions of 434

symbols 432–4

synaesthesia

and learning 234–6, 419–23 paths to 359–68, 390–8, 414–23 process of 233–4

synaesthetic civilization 26

synaesthetic learning, classroom examples 364–8 syntax, in traditional grammar 291–2

synthetic phonics 89–91, 123, 255, 260

systemic-functional grammar compared to traditional and transformative grammars 302–8

Halliday’s functional grammar 300–1 meaning and function in 302 systems of meaning see meaning-making systems tactile meaning 232

bodily sensations 379–83

children, toys and tactile learning 383–5

grammar of 380–1

learning through 373

making connections with other modes of meaning 390–8

Tan, Jennifer Pei-Ling 69

Taylor, Lisa 491

teaching practices

for new learning 11

new teachers 10–11

television 55–6

tenor 155–6

Terman, Lewis 499

testing literacy 111–12

textbooks, invention 102–3

texts

engaging with 277–8

interrogating 185

purpose of 147–9

socially powerful texts 171–2 textual metafunction of language 301

third globalisation 32

Thompson, E. P 138

thoughtful communicators 46

top-down education reform 12

Torres Strait Kriol 366–7 toys, and tactile learning 383–5

traditional grammar 91–3

complexities and challenges 292–3

correct usage 93

of English 289–95

parts of speech 289–91

pedagogy of 293–4

syntax 291–2

training, distinguished from education 179 transformation, and learning 224

transformational-generative grammar

application to education 298–300

Chomsky’s grammar 296–7 culture and learning 297–8 deep structures of meaning and surface structures of language 295–6 sentence structure 296–7 similarities to traditional grammar 300

transformative multilingual learning 491–3 transitional bilingual education 490

Trash 252

ubiquitous learning 10

US Common Core State Standards

approaches to grammar 304

authentic pedagogy 141

critical pedagogy 201

didactic pedagogy 87

literacy across curriculum 447 writing standard for Grade 7 497 Van Haren, Rita 72, 373, 402–3, 448–9, 450

Verbal Comprehension Index 501 verbs 290, 291
video games 184, 196
visual communication 349–52
visual design 336, 352–4 visual design analysis, making visual meaning 358–9 visual design process
available designs 352–3
in the classroom 354–7
designing 353
(the re-)designed 354
visual communication 349–52
visual design 352–4
visual meaning 232
grammar of 337–8
making connections with other modes of meaning 359–68 parallels and differences with other modes of meaning 361–4 visual meaning-making 334, 354, 358–9 visual representation and communication multimodal literacies 336–41 word and image 335–6 vocabulary extending 96–7
strategies for developing 275–8
voice, finding 188–9
vowels
and consonants 271
learning 268
Vygotsky, Lev 77, 78, 173 on development of writing 441–2 on reflexive consciousness 445 on school learning 444–5 on social learning and language development 440–1 stages of child linguistic-cognitive development 437–8 zone of proximal development 77, 140–1, 173, 439
Wagner, Tony 40–1
Warrgamany language 24–5
Wechsler Intelligence Scale for Children 500
What's with the Weather learning module 449 whole language approach to reading 123, 133–4, 260 Wombat Stew 250
words 272, 289–91
work, literacies for 40–9, 61 workforce past compared to present 41 skills needed for future 47–9 workplace communication skills for 46–7 drivers of change and future skill requirements 47–9 Fordist compared to post-Fordist organisation 44 inequality 45–6
new language of work 44–5 post-Fordism in 42–4
workshop writing 125–7
World War 1 learning module 450 World Wide Web Consortium 50
writing
as artefact or technology 19 as cognitive and social learning process 329–30 conference writing 125–7
cultural effects 31–2 developing across the school years 308–13 development of 441–2
emergence of 26–9
impact on ways of life and thought 30 learning to write 282–3 loss of privileged place 34 as privileged mode of meaning 31
process writing 125–7, 135
social and cognitive interactions in 330 speaking and 284–6
speech-like writing 414–16
spread of 28–9
working at 284–9
workshop writing 125–7
writing analytics, in Scholar 520 writing-like speech 414–16 writing process
annotations 327
checker tools 324
feedback 326
impact of technologies on 287 phases 318–29, 512
planning a draft 323
prewriting stage 322
producing a draft 323
review ratings 325, 326 review stage 324
revision stage 327
written language, multiliteracies design analysis 319–20 written meanings 232, 248 compared to oral meanings 409–14 compared to visual meanings 363 crossovers with oral meanings 414–23

design analysis 289

learning both ways 274–5

priority of graphemics over phonics 272–4 privileged over visual meaning 335–6 written mode, learning to read in 250 written text, errors and changes in 287–9

Yolŋu Garma Festival 25

Zanotto, Tayla 402–3

zone of proximal development 77, 140–1, 173, 439