

Index

- abdominal breathing, 80
- adaptive grieving, 6
- adolescence, 1, 5
 - aspects of development, 1–2
- adolescent expert reframe, 27–28
- adversities, coping with, 273–275, See also
 - secondary adversities
- alarm mode, 52–53
 - distraction through positive activities, 56
- alternative interpretations, generation of, 66, 67–68
- anger, 43
 - about a death, 200–201
 - at people responsible, 201–202
 - facts about angry feelings, 202–203
- appreciation activity, 292
- Armenian earthquake, 1988, 4
- avoidance reactions, 37, 83
- belief problem statement, 161
- bereavement. See also grief reactions; life
 - changes following a death; loss reminders; Module 3
- adaptive grieving, 6
- feeling alienated/ostracized, 221–222
- how to talk about the death, 219
- other people's expectations, 223
- primary bereavement, 18
- rumors about the death, 221
- situations that usually involve the
 - deceased, 221
- staying connected after a loss, 212–213, 248
- stigmatized deaths, 222
- trauma interactions, 6
- who to tell about the death, 219
- bereavement-related distress, 18
- blame for not preventing death, 202
- Bosnian civil war, 4
- breathing, 35
 - deep (abdominal) breathing, 35
 - stress reduction exercise, 35
- calming activity, 49
 - calming exercises, 56
 - calming self-talk, 55, 103
- Can't Stop Thinking About the Way He Died handout, 194–195
- caregiver engagement, 321–322
- causal reasoning ability development, 1
- Check-In procedure, 25, 33
- Child and Adolescent Trauma Treatments and Services Consortium (CATTS), New York, 4
- circumstance-related distress, 176, 184, 264
 - anger at people responsible, 201–202
 - blame for not preventing death, 202
 - guilty thoughts related to a death, 199–200
 - risk factors, 176
 - shame over circumstances of death, 194
 - unable to stop thinking about the manner of death, 194–195
- cognitive triangle for situation–thought–feeling–behavior link, 60
- communication, 71
 - aids and barriers to, 71
 - “I” messages, 72–73
 - purpose of communication focus, 71
- community-based settings, 319
- complexity of the traumatic experience, 133–134
- coping strategies. See also positive personal coping toolkit
 - development, 1, 27
 - positive and negative strategies, 53
 - sharing within group, 32
- counterfactual reasoning, 1
- daily occurrences, dealing with, 219
- death. See bereavement; grief reactions;
 - loss reminders; Module 3
- deep (abdominal) breathing, 80
- developmental adversities, 8
- developmental derailment, 263
- developmental disruptions, 262–264
- developmental themes, 135
- difficult days
 - anticipating, 218
 - dealing with, 218–219
- emotions
 - color of, 43
 - locating in the body, 43
 - monitoring changes exercise, 44–45
 - reading emotional expressions in others, 43
- engagement with adolescent, 14–15
- existential distress, 176, 183, 264
 - feeling nothing matters anymore, 192–193
 - giving up on future plans, 192
 - reunification fantasies, 191
 - thinking they will never love again, 193–194
- externalizing symptoms, 4
- Fear of Getting Close handout, 191–192
- Feeling Thermometer, 35, 47, 79, 162, 224
- Feelings Selfie, 42–43, 90
- fight response, 53
- fixing other people's problems, 280–285
- flight response, 53
- freeze response, 53
- gender differences, 5
- Giving Up on Future Plans handout, 192
- goals, 18–19
 - goal statement, 19

Index
goals (cont.) Grief Goals handout, 228 Group Goals handout, 130 Personal Goals handout, 18, 21, 77 sharing within group, 32 graduation celebration, 292 grief, 181, See also circumstance-related distress; existential distress; grief reactions; separation distress Grief Goals handout, 228 riding the waves of grief activity, 184–185 sharing the loss, 180 true–false grief statements activity, 181–183 grief reactions, 6, 8, 27, 36, 86, 175 educational handout, 226 identifying, 38, 183–184, 238 linking loss reminders, grief reactions and consequences, 189–195 normalizing, 35–38 Rating My Grief Reactions handout, 225 therapy objective, 6 group cohesion, 4 group contract development, 31 sample contract, 75 group narrative sessions alternative ways to share a narrative, 136 co-leader’s role, 141 format, 142 group member’s role, 141 leader’s role, 141 narrative sharer’s role, 141 notes on conducting the trauma narrative exercise, 144 options, 136 preparing for, 140–141 review of group sharing, 151–152 scheduling, 141 steps for eliciting the narrative, 144–146 timeline creation, 136, 146–147 group-based therapy, 7–8, See also group narrative sessions advantages of, 10 building the group, 25 explaining the purpose of the group, 15 group cohesion development, 25 group norms establishment, 27–28 structure, 14 versus individual treatment, 10 clinical decision-making, 13–14 guilt, 265 guilty thoughts about a death, 199 handouts, 199–200 helpful thoughts checklist, 112 helpful and hurtful thoughts exercise, 63 “helping out a good friend” exercises, 189–190, 199, 201, 273–277 processing, 195 helping with problems that are not your job to fix, 285 hurtful thoughts, 147, See also anger; grief reactions; loss reminders; thinking errors checklist, 111 evidence for and against, 170 generating alternative interpretations, 66, 67–68 guilty thoughts related to a death, 199 handouts, 199–200 helpful and hurtful thoughts exercise, 63 identifying, 62, 147, 203, 239 replacing, 62–63, 169, 203 skits, 66–67, 124 hyperarousal, 37–38, 85 “I” messages, 72–73, 128 I Will Never Love Again handout, 193–194 identity distress, 176, 264 impact-focused narrative, 138 individual pull-out sessions, 140 coaching on impact-focused narrative, 159 eliciting a narrative, 156–158 guide for narrative prompts, 157–158 indicators for, 136 narrative processing for subsequent sessions, 159–161 review and updating of general beliefs and expectations, 159–160 review and updating of specific thoughts and beliefs, 159–160 review of current stressors, challenges and positive experiences, 161 narrative timeline review, 159 selection of experience, 155–156 chronic or repeated forms of trauma, 156 violent, graphic, or stigmatized forms of trauma, 155 individual treatment. See also individual pull-out sessions advantages of, 10 versus group therapy, 10 clinical decision-making, 13–14 internalizing symptoms, 4 intervention fantasy interpretation, 147 intrusive questioning by friends, 220 juvenile justice settings, 318–319 layering of threat to self and others, 134–135 life changes following a death identifying, 217–218, 252 making positive life changes, 252 relationships before and after the death, 254 listening without giving advice, 73 loss reminders, 8, 26, 44, 48, 188–189, See also circumstance-related distress; existential distress; grief reactions; separation distress avoiding, 190–191 identifying avoidance, 27 coping with future reminders, 277 identifying, 238 linking loss reminders, grief reactions and consequences, 189–195 personal loss reminders activity, 189 positive and negative coping strategies, 53 preparing for, 55 reacting to and coping with distressing reminders, 48–49 reducing unnecessary exposures, 55 worksheet, 48, 95 mementos, reminiscing with, 213–214 Module 1 addressing danger, protection, and safety as an adolescent developmental task, 27 building the group, 25 coping strategy development, 27 focus on distressing reminders, 26 foundation for treatment, 25 group norms establishment, 27–28 identification of undetected trauma and loss reminders, 27 objectives, 3 progress indicators, 29 reframing posttraumatic stress reactions, 26–27 social support access, 28 Module 1 – Session 1, 30–33 getting to know you group rounds, 32 greeting group members, 31 group contract development, 31 implementation with individual clients, 33 preparation, 30 program overview, 32–33 session format review, 33 sharing coping strategies, 32 Module 1 – Session 2, 34–39 Feeling Thermometer introduction, 35 implementation with individual clients, 39

Index
normalizing posttraumatic stress and grief reactions, 35–38 practice exercise assignment, 38 stress reduction exercise, 35 Module 1 – Session 3, 40–45 implementation with individual clients, 45 mood changes practice exercise, 44–45 What are you feeling? activity, 268 Why am I feeling this way?, 44 Module 1 – Session 4, 46–50 calming activity, 49 implementation with individual clients, 50 reacting to and coping with distressing reminders, 48–49 SLOW down technique, 49 trauma and loss reminders, 48 Module 1 – Session 5, 51–57 getting stuck in alarm mode, 52–53 implementation with individual clients, 57 positive and negative coping strategies, 53 positive personal coping toolkit devel- opment, 54–56 Module 1 – Session 6, 58–63 distinguishing thoughts, feelings, and behaviors, 60 identifying hurtful thoughts, 62 implementation with individual clients, 63 replacing hurtful thoughts, 62–63 sizing up a situation, 60–62 Module 1 – Session 7, 64–68 generating alternative interpretations, 66, 67–68 implementation with individual clients, 68 replacing hurtful thoughts skits, 66–67 Module 1 – Session 8, 69–74 communication aids and barriers, 71 getting support, 71–72 “I” messages, 72–73 implementation with individual clients, 73–74 Module 2 complexity of traumatic experience, 133–134 developmental themes, 135 indicators for individual narrative work or pull-out sessions, 136 layering of threat to self and others, 134–135 narrative work with adolescents, 133 objectives, 3 progress indicators, 136–137 protective intervention thoughts, 134	trauma narrative process, 135–136 worst moments, 134 Module 2 – Session 2.1, 138–141 individual pull-out sessions, 140 introduction to narrative work, 139–140 preparing for group narrative sessions, 140–141 selection of specific event for narrative work, 140 Module 2 – Session 2.2, 142–149 gentle updating of problematic thoughts, 147–148 introduction, 143–144 notes on conducting the trauma narra- tive exercise, 144 steps for eliciting the narrative, 144–146 timeline creation, 146–147 Module 2 – Session 2.3, 150–153 review of group sharing, 151–152 Module 2 – Session 2.4, 154–161 coaching on impact-focused narrative, 159 eliciting a narrative, 156–158 narrative processing for subsequent sessions, 159–161 narrative timeline review, 159 selection of experience, 155–156 Module 3 introduction, 175 objectives, 3, 175 overview, 176–178 Module 3 – Session 3.1, 179–186 focus on loss, 180 grief psychoeducation, 183–184 implementation with individual clients, 185–186 Module 3 – Session 3.2, 187–196 implementation with individual clients, 196 linking loss reminders, grief reactions and consequences, 189–195 review loss reminders, 188–189 Module 3 – Session 3.3, 197–204 dealing with strong emotions related to death, 199–203 implementation with individual clients, 204 Module 3 – Session 3.4, 205–210 identifying both positive and negative traits, 206–209 implementation with individual clients, 210 Module 3 – Session 3.5, 211–215 implementation with individual clients, 214–215 reminiscing with mementos, 213–214 staying connected after a loss, 212–213	Module 3 – Session 3.6, 216–223 identifying life changes and secondary adversities, 217–218 implementation with individual clients, 223 planning for difficult days, 218–223 Module 4 bridging a sense of discontinuity, 261 identifying developmental disruptions and disrailment, 262–264 indicators of therapeutic progress, 265–266 introduction, 261 objectives, 3 special considerations, 265 termination issues, 264–265 transitioning to focus on others, 262 transitioning to focus on the present and future, 262 Module 4 – Session 4.1, 267–270 implementation with individual clients, 270 my next five years exercise, 269 stop goal and start goal selection, 269–270 Module 4 – Session 4.2, 271–278 coping with current life challenges, 277–278 implementation with individual clients, 277–278 Module 4 – Session 4.3, 279–288 feeling responsible for fixing other people’s problems, 280–285 helping with problems that are not ours to fix, 285 implementation with individual clients, 287–288 self-care importance, 285–286 Module 4 – Session 4.4, 289–292 appreciation activity, 292 drawing a new narrative timeline, 290–291 ending in a good way, 291 implementation with individual clients, 292 reviewing what has been learned, 291 thoughts about transitioning from the group, 291–292 mood changes monitoring, 87 moral development, 2 mourning, 181 multidimensional grief theory, 8, 175–176, See also grief reactions multi-tiered interventions, 7 MUPS, 53, 101 muscle relaxation guide, 167 my next five years exercise, 269

Index

- narrative timeline. See timeline narrative work, 133, See also group narrative sessions introduction to, 139–140 selection of specific event, 140
 National Child Traumatic Stress Network (NCTSN), 5 negative self-talk disruption, 54–55, 103 negative thinking errors. See thinking errors negative thoughts and feelings, 37, 84, See also anger; guilt; hurtful thoughts Nothing Matters Anymore handout, 192–193 numbing, 37, 83
 outpatient settings, 319 pat on the back exercise, 292
 Persistent Complex Bereavement Disorder Checklist (PCBD-Checklist), 16, 17 Personal Goals handout, 18, 21, 77 personal loss reminders activity, 189 personal timeline chart, 16–17 planning for difficult days, 218–223, 255 positive and negative trait identification, 206–209 positive personal coping toolkit, 165 development of, 54–56, 102 building resilience, 56
 calming exercises, 56
 calming self-talk, 55, 103
 distraction through positive activities, 56
 negative self-talk disruption, 54–55, 103 preparing for reminders, 55 reducing unnecessary reminders, 55 seeking support, 56
 SLOW down technique, 54
 taking a time-out, 56
 “That was then, this is now,” 55 workbook writing, 56
 using the toolkit, 104, 129, 141 posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD), 36
 gender differences, 5
 posttraumatic stress reactions, 6, 26, 36 avoidance and numbing, 37, 83
 gender differences, 5
 hyperarousal, 37–38, 85 identifying, 36–38
 negative thoughts and feelings, 37, 84 normalizing, 35–38
 re-experiencing, 36–37, 82 reframing, 26–27
 therapy objective, 6
 Pressure To Do Something handout, 274–275 pre-treatment assessment interview, 2–3 assessment procedure overview, 14 formal assessment, 16–19 goal development, 18–19 invitation to participate or referral, 17–18 PCBD Checklist, 17
 personal timeline chart, 16–17 selection of trauma or loss to focus on, 18 summary of findings, 17
 UCLA-RI, 17
 meeting with the adolescent, 14–16 engagement, 14–15
 explaining the purpose of the group, 15 risk screening measures, 15–16 participant selection, 13–14 preparation, 14
 prevention fantasies, 147
 primary bereavement, 18
 primary trauma, 18
 primary traumatic bereavement, 18 problem statement, 19 problems that are not your job to fix, 280–285 helping with, 285
 protective intervention thoughts, 134 Rating my Grief Reactions handout, 225 re-experiencing traumatic events, 36–37, 82 referral for alternative treatment, 18 relapse prevention, 218–223 relationships before and after a death, 254 relaxation breathing, 35 Reluctance to Form New Relationships handout, 276–277 reminiscing with mementos, 213–214 resilience building, 56 resource caravans, 5 resource gain cycles, 8 resource loss cycles, 6
 reunification fantasies, 191 revenge fantasies, 147, 148 riding the waves of grief activity, 184–185 risk factor caravans, 5, 6 risk management, 5–6
 risky behavior, 263
 school settings, 319–320
 secondary adversities, 8
 feeling alienated/ostracized, 221–222
 handout, 273–274
 identifying, 217–218
 insensitive expressions of support, 220 intrusive questioning by friends, 220 Well-Meaning Teacher handout, 221 seeing the future more clearly, 273 Selecting My Event handout, 163 self-care importance, 285–286 self-regulation capacity, 1 separation distress, 175, 183, 263 avoiding loss reminders, 190–191
 reunification fantasies, 191
 social withdrawal, 191–192
 Shame over Circumstances of Death handout, 194 Sharing the Same Sad Fate as the Deceased handout, 275–276 sizing up a stressful situation graphic, 189
 SLOW down technique, 49, 54, 99 group cohesion activity, 49 social contract, 2
 adult failure to uphold, 2 social referencing, 10 social support, 56
 five steps to getting support, 71–72, 127 getting the right kind of support, 220–221
 insensitive expressions of support, 220 recruitment, 28
 social systems, judgments of, 2
 social withdrawal, 191–192, 276–277
 start goals, 269–270, 296
 staying connected after a loss, 212–213, 248 sticks and stones activity, 207–208 stigmatized causes of death, 222 stop goals, 269–270, 295 support. See social support taking charge of your thoughts and feelings activity, 67–68, 115, 125 Telling My Story handout, 164 termination issues, 264–265
 “That was then, this is now” technique, 55 Think Trauma, 4
 thinking errors, 66, 118, See also hurtful thoughts challenging, 66
 checklist, 117
 timeline
 drawing a new narrative timeline, 290–291 group narrative sessions, 136, 146–147 individual narrative sessions, 156–158 review, 159
 personal timeline chart, 16–17
 transitioning from the group, 291–292 trauma. See also posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD); posttraumatic stress reactions bereavement interactions, 6 chronic trauma, 18

Index
complexity of the traumatic experience, 133–134	multi-tiered intervention framework, 7	trauma-focused therapy, 6
multiple traumatic events, 18	recent clinical and scientific advances, 8	trauma-related distress, 18 narrative process, 135–136	Tier 1 intervention, 8	traumatic bereavement-related distress, 18
primary trauma, 18	Tier 2 intervention, 9	Traumatic Bracing handout, 275
Trauma and Grief Component Therapy for Adolescents (TGCTA), 2, See also	Tier 3 intervention, 10
pre-treatment assessment interview; specific modules and sessions	treatment modules, 4	UCLA Reaction Index for Children and Adolescents (UCLA-RI), 15, 17 developmental history, 5	Trauma Goals handout, 18, 22, 76 group versus individual treatment modality, 10	trauma reactions, 44, See also posttraumatic stress reactions	violence exposure risk, 265 intervention program customization, 8–10	trauma reminders, 8, 26, 44, 48 primary strengths, 5–8	activity, 48	Well-Meaning Teacher handout, 221 focus on adolescence, 5–6	identifying avoidance, 27	Why Not... Nothing Matters Anymore handout, 192–193 group-based format, 7–8	positive and negative coping strategies, 53	Wishes and Regrets handout, 246 interplay between bereavement and trauma, 6	preparing for, 55	workbook writing, 56
modularized assessment-driven format, 6–7	reacting to and coping with distressing reminders, 48–49, 96	World Trade Center terrorist attacks, 4
	reducing unnecessary exposures, 55	worst moments, 134 worksheet, 94
		yellow and purple paper activity, 208–209