GOOD PASTURES
THE OLD MONASTERY
converted into two farm cottages
GOOD PASTURES

Some Memories of Farming Fifty Years Ago

BY

T. BEDFORD FRANKLIN
M.A., F.R.S.E.

CAMBRIDGE
AT THE UNIVERSITY PRESS
1944
Contents

Preface

1. Introductory
2. A very little geology
3. The country scene
4. Father and his farm
5. The farm workers
6. Weeds
7. Making a new pasture
8. Renovating an old pasture
9. Stocking the larder
10. Getting the bedding ready
11. The new arrivals
12. Wintering in the yards
13. Horses
14. Sheep
15. Repairs
16. Spring cleaning the pastures
17. Summer in the pastures
18. Fat stock
19. Keeping the land in good heart
20. ‘Tout casse, tout lasse, tout passe’
Illustrations

Plates

The Old Monastery
Charles Henry Blunt Franklin, 1904

Map of Shutlanger Grove

Frontispiece

facing p. 32

p. 3
Preface

My Father—C. H. B. Franklin—farmed Shutlanger Grove, Towcester, for 30 years. The following chapters are based on his notes and my own memories of the various operations described.

T. B. F.

May 1944