PREFACE

Our debts are too numerous to be acknowledged exhaustively, but we must mention the extremely valuable advice given to us by Mr Michael Derrick of The Tablet, Mr E. H. Carr of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Mr T. H. Willetts, formerly of Manchester University. None of them is, of course, in any way responsible for the contents of this book.

At the stage of planning the book, we continually consulted Professor Cecil Driver, Chairman of the Department of Political Science at Yale University. It is impossible to exaggerate what this book owes in its final form to the influence of his wide knowledge and long teaching experience.
