

Unit 1 Getting higher qualifications

Starting off

- 1 Work in small groups. Explain what it means to have each of these personal qualities, using your own words. When you have finished, look at page 96 to check your answers.

a You do things like read documents very carefully and focus on all the small points, checking their accuracy.

- a an eye for detail
- b creativity
- c an enquiring mind
- d the ability to work in a team
- e vision
- f an outgoing personality
- g good communication skills
- h management skills

- 2 Which of the qualities in Exercise 1 do you think each of the photos illustrates? Some could illustrate more than one quality.
- 3 Work in pairs.
- What type of work do you do or want to do? Why?
 - Which of the qualities in Exercise 1 do you need? Why?
 - What other qualities would be useful? Why?

Listening Section 1

Exam information

- You hear a conversation between two people on a social topic.
- This is the easiest part of the Listening test. The other three parts are in increasing order of difficulty.
- In this section only, you are given an example at the beginning.

- 1 Work in pairs. You are going to hear a conversation between a university student and a company representative at a graduate fair. Before you listen, look at this advertisement, then discuss the questions below.

Are you a high achiever?

Do you want a job as soon as you graduate? The world's biggest companies in IT, marketing, finance, and telecoms want graduates!

Visit the fair and register with them now!

- What do you think happens at a graduate fair? Why do you think they are useful?
- Why do many jobs require you to have a university degree? When is vocational training more useful than a university degree?
- What might improve a graduate's chances of getting the job they want?

- 2 Look at Questions 1–10 and quickly check what type of information you need to fill each gap.

Questions 1–10

Complete the form below.

Write NO MORE THAN THREE WORDS AND/OR A NUMBER for each answer.

Graduate Fair Registration TGS Global

Graduate details

Area of work: Example: Marketing
 Name: Dominika 1
 Nationality: 2
 Email address: 3@gmail.com
 University: London
 Type of course: 4 BA
 Date available: 5

Personal information

Other activities: organised a 6 for charity
 Interests: 7 and
 Previous job(s): 8
 Career plans: wants to be a 9
 Heard about fair through: 10

- 3 1 Now listen and answer Questions 1–10.

Exam advice Form completion

- Before you listen, think what type of information you need for each gap.
- Read ahead as you listen, because you only hear the recording once.
- Check your spelling and any standard abbreviations (e.g. cm for centimetres) that you use.
- If you need to write numbers, write them as figures, not words, as you are less likely to make mistakes.

- 4 Work in pairs. Imagine you are talking to another student who you have met at the coffee bar at a graduate fair. Introduce yourselves and tell each other about your:

- studies and qualifications / current job
- career plans and reasons for them
- free-time interests and related qualifications.

Vocabulary

Dependent prepositions

- 1 Complete these extracts from the Listening section by writing a preposition in each gap. Sometimes more than one answer is possible.
- Obviously our interest is related the class of degree that you get.
 - I haven't actually had any experience business yet.
 - I want to concentrate getting my qualifications first.
 - So when would you be available an interview?
 - I'm quite good cooking.
 - Have you done any other work in the past that would be relevant a marketing career?
- 2 Choose the correct preposition in italics in each of these sentences.
- The money spent on / in research was more than expected.
 - Some bosses are not very sensitive for / to their employees' needs.
 - The company has a reputation of / for producing top-quality toys.
 - It is important to have confidence in / at your own abilities.
 - A lot of students participated on / in the job fair.
 - Working parents have little time to take care of / for their children.
- 3 IELTS candidates often make mistakes with prepositions after adjectives and verbs. Find and correct the mistakes in these sentences by changing or adding a preposition.
- To be a leader, you have to compete your colleagues. with/against
 - Youngsters today are better prepared with working life.
 - It is sometimes hard to get involved into your studies.
 - Universities should provide students the facilities they need.
 - Managers have to be responsible to the staff below them.
 - The government should pay more attention on the education of women.
 - In my job, I have to deal many different types of people.

Reading Section 1

Exam information

- This is the easiest of the three Reading sections.
- The passage tends to be descriptive and factual, while the passages in the other sections contain more argument and discussion.
- You should spend 20 minutes at most on this section so that you have enough time to complete the other two sections.

- 1 Work in pairs. You are going to read a passage about a prestigious university. Before you read, discuss these questions.
- What are the most prestigious universities in your country?
 - In general, what makes a university prestigious?
 - Why do many students want to go to a prestigious university?
- 2 Scanning and skimming are skills that will save you time when you do the IELTS Reading paper.
- Complete these definitions by writing scanning or skimming in each gap.
 - involves running your eyes down the passage quickly in order to find a particular word or phrase. Often these words or phrases will stand out because they are proper nouns, e.g. names.
 - means reading something quickly in order to understand the main points, without studying it in detail.
 - How will each skill save you time?
- 3 Skim the passage on pages 11–12. Which of these best describes the writer's purpose?
- to review the courses at MIT
 - to explain why MIT has been so successful
 - to describe the history of MIT
- 4 Writers use referencing techniques to link their ideas and avoid repetition. Understanding referencing can help you do IELTS questions. Scan the passage to find these phrases, then underline the idea(s) that they refer back to.
- This unusual community MIT (as a whole)
 - that single unifying ambition
 - the list of innovations
 - This down-to-earth quality
 - That symbiosis of intellect and craftsmanship
 - As such
 - You can see that

The MIT factor: celebrating 150 years of maverick genius

by Ed Pilkington

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology has led the world into the future for 150 years with scientific innovations.

The musician Yo-Yo Ma's cello may not be the obvious starting point for a journey into one of the world's great universities. But, as you quickly realise when you step inside the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, there's precious little going on that you would normally see on a university campus. The cello, resting in a corner of MIT's celebrated media laboratory – a hub of creativity – looks like any other electric classical instrument. But it is much more. Machover, the composer, teacher and inventor responsible for its creation, calls it a 'hyperinstrument', a sort of thinking machine that allows Ma and his cello to interact with one another and make music together. 'The aim is to build an instrument worthy of a great musician like Yo-Yo Ma that can understand what he is trying to do and respond to it,' Machover says. The cello has numerous sensors across its body and by measuring the pressure, speed and angle of the virtuoso's performance it can interpret his mood and engage with it, producing extraordinary new sounds. The virtuoso cellist frequently performs on the instrument as he tours around the world.

Machover's passion for pushing at the boundaries of the existing world to extend and unleash human potential is not a bad description of MIT as a whole. This unusual community brings highly gifted, highly motivated individuals together from a vast range of disciplines, united by a common desire: to leap into the dark and reach for the unknown.

MIT students at a physics class take measurements in 1957

The result of that single unifying ambition is visible all around. For the past 150 years, MIT has been leading the world into the future. The discoveries of its teachers and students have become the common everyday objects that we now all take for granted. The telephone, electromagnets, radars, high-speed photography, office photocopiers, cancer treatments, pocket calculators, computers, the Internet, the decoding of the human genome, lasers, space travel ... the list of innovations that involved essential contributions from MIT and its faculty goes on and on.

From the moment MIT was founded by William Barton Rogers in 1861, it was clear what it was not. While Harvard stuck to the English model of a classical education, with its emphasis on Latin and Greek, MIT looked to the German system of learning based on research and hands-on experimentation. Knowledge was at a premium, but it had to be useful.

This down-to-earth quality is enshrined in the school motto, Mens et manus – Mind and hand – as well as its logo, which shows a gowned scholar standing beside an ironmonger bearing a hammer and anvil. That symbiosis of intellect and craftsmanship still suffuses the institute's classrooms, where students are not so much taught as engaged and inspired.

Take Christopher Merrill, 21, a third-year undergraduate in computer science. He is spending most of his time on a competition set in his robotics class. The contest is to see which student can most effectively program a robot to build a house out of blocks in under ten minutes. Merrill says he could have gone for the easiest route – designing a simple robot that would build the house quickly. But he wanted to try to master an area of robotics that remains unconquered – adaptability, the ability of the robot to rethink its plans as the environment around it changes, as would a human. ‘I like to take on things that have never been done before rather than to work in an iterative way just making small steps forward,’ he explains.

Merrill is already planning the start-up he wants to set up when he graduates in a year’s time. He has an idea for an original version of a contact lens that would augment reality by allowing consumers to see additional visual information. He is fearful that he might be just too late in taking his concept to market, as he has heard that a Silicon Valley firm is already developing something similar. As such, he might become one of many MIT graduates who go on to form companies that fail. Alternatively, he might become one of those who go on to succeed in spectacular fashion. And there are many of them. A survey of living MIT alumni* found that they have formed 25,800 companies, employing more than three million people, including about a quarter of the workforce of Silicon Valley.

What MIT delights in is taking brilliant minds from around the world in vastly diverse disciplines and putting them together. You can see that in its sparkling new David Koch Institute for Integrative Cancer Research, which brings scientists, engineers and clinicians under one roof. Or in its Energy Initiative, which acts as a bridge for MIT’s combined work across all its five schools, channelling huge resources into the search for a solution to global warming. It works to improve the efficiency of existing energy sources, including nuclear power. It is also forging ahead with alternative energies from solar to wind and geothermal, and has recently developed the use of viruses to synthesise batteries that could prove crucial in the advancement of electric cars.

In the words of Tim Berners-Lee, the Briton who invented the World Wide Web, ‘It’s not just another university. Even though I spend my time with my head buried in the details of web technology, the nice thing is that when I do walk the corridors, I bump into people who are working in other fields with their students that are fascinating, and that keeps me intellectually alive.’

5 Work in pairs.

- 1 Look at Question 1 in the task below and the underlined words. Scan the passage to find the same or similar words.
- 2 Underline words or phrases in Questions 2–5 that might also occur in the passage.
- 3 Scan the passage and underline the same or similar words to those in the question.

Questions 1–5

Do the following statements agree with the information in the reading passage?

Write

TRUE if the statement agrees with the information

FALSE if the statement contradicts the information

NOT GIVEN if there is no information on this

- 1 The activities going on at the MIT campus are like those at any other university.
- 2 Harvard and MIT shared a similar approach to education when they were founded.
- 3 The school motto was suggested by a former MIT student.
- 4 MIT’s logo reflects the belief that intellect and craftsmanship go together.
- 5 Silicon Valley companies pay higher salaries to graduates from MIT.

6 Read Questions 1–5 carefully, then read around the words you have underlined in the passage and decide whether each question is True, False or Not Given.

Exam advice True / False / Not Given

- Underline words or phrases in the question that will help you quickly scan for the right place in the passage.
- Read each statement carefully and decide on the main idea. Compare this with what is stated in the passage.
- Write ‘TRUE’ if the ideas are the same. If the passage says the opposite of the information in the question, write ‘FALSE’; if the passage does not include the information expressed in the question, write ‘NOT GIVEN’.

- 7 Read Questions 6–9 and quickly check what information you need for each gap. Then, using the title to find the right part of the passage, answer the questions.

Questions 6–9

Complete the notes below.

Choose NO MORE THAN TWO WORDS from the passage for each answer.

Christopher Merrill – student at MIT

Degree subject: 6

Competition: to 7 the automated construction of a house

Special focus on: the 8 of robots

Future plans: to develop new type of 9

Exam advice Note completion

- Use the title to find the right place in the passage.
- Read the notes and decide what type of information you need for each gap.
- The information in the notes may be in a different order from the information in the passage.
- Be careful to copy words from the passage in exactly the same form.

- 8 Work in pairs.

- 1 Read Questions 10–13 and quickly check what information you need.
- 2 Underline words in the questions which will help you to find the right place in the passage.
- 3 Answer Questions 10–13.

Questions 10–13

Answer the questions below.

Choose NO MORE THAN TWO WORDS from the passage for each answer.

- 10 What proportion of workers at Silicon Valley are employed in companies set up by MIT graduates?
- 11 What problem does MIT's Energy Initiative aim to solve?
- 12 Which 'green' innovation might MIT's work with viruses help improve?
- 13 In which part of the university does Tim Berners-Lee enjoy stimulating conversations with other MIT staff?

Exam advice Short-answer questions

- Underline words in each question which help to find the right place in the passage. The questions follow the order of information in the passage.
- Read that part carefully and underline the answer.
- Copy the answer exactly, without including any unnecessary words.

- 9 Check your answers. You can lose marks with:

- answers that are hard to spell.
Did you copy your answers for Questions 6, 8 and 9 correctly?
- answers that consist of a phrase, rather than a word.
Did you write both words for Questions 6, 9, 11 and 12?
- questions that can easily be misinterpreted.
Is your answer to Question 10 a proportion and not a number?
Is your answer to Question 12 an innovation?

- 10 Work in small groups.

- 1 What personal qualities do you think inventors require?
- 2 Which areas of technology do you think governments should spend money on at the moment? Why?
- 3 What sort of things do you think will be invented in the future?
- 4 If you could invent something, what would it be?

Speaking Part 1

Exam information

- In this part of the Speaking test, the examiner asks questions about your home town, work or studies and some other familiar topics.
- This part lasts between four and five minutes.

- ① ②–⑤ Listen to four students answering some Part 1 questions. As you listen, decide on the focus of each student's answer, then complete the examiner's question by writing one word in each gap. In some cases, more than one answer is possible.

Student	Examiner's question
	Why are you taking your current 1 course of study?
	Have you ever owned a 2
	When did you last make something by 3
	How much 4 do you do now compared with the past?

- ② ②–⑤ In order to achieve a vocabulary score of Band 6 or more, you need to use some advanced vocabulary. Listen again and complete each of these extracts with a word/phrase.

- 1 A couple of years ago, I decided that I wanted to work in the
- 2 I'm looking forward to graduating and getting into
- 3 We used to have a black and white cat.
- 4 She would make these when we came home after school.

▶ Pronunciation: Sentence stress 1

- ⑤ Work in pairs. Ask and answer these Part 1 questions using:

- some advanced vocabulary
- the different forms of used to and would
- sentence stress to express yourself clearly.

Your school days

- 1 At what time did you used to get up to go to school?
- 2 How did you feel about getting up early as a child?
- 3 Which teacher did you like best at school? Why?
- 4 What did you particularly dislike about your school days?
- 5 What did you look forward to most at school?
- 6 What skills did you learn at school that might be useful in your work?

Exam advice Speaking Part 1

- You can expect to be asked questions on a range of familiar topics. Prepare yourself for this by thinking of a range of higher-level vocabulary you can use with these topics (see Speaking reference, page 97).
- Aim to answer questions using two to three sentences, giving reasons and extra details.
- Use stress to emphasise important information.

Pronunciation

Sentence stress 1

Speakers often stress nouns, adjectives and verbs when they answer questions. However, other words (pronouns, contractions, etc.) can be stressed, if they are important to your message.

1 6 Read and listen to these Part 1 extracts.

- 1 Underline the words in the sentences that the speakers stress.
 - 1 A couple of years ago, I decided that I wanted to work in the hotel industry.
 - 2 So that's why I've been doing a hotel-management course for the past two years.
 - 3 I know that cats don't talk, but this one did!
 - 4 He's two – he's a toddler now.
 - 5 I think my fitness level's a bit better than it used to be!
- 2 In which of the above sentences is stress used to emphasise a pronoun because the speaker is:
 - a using it to refer to something in a previous sentence?
 - b making a contrast between two things?

2 7 Work in pairs. Look at the sentences below.

- 1 Underline the words in each sentence that you think should be stressed, and say why.
- 2 Listen and check your answers.
 - 1 I really don't like having animals in the home.
 - 2 I go running in the afternoon because I feel more energetic at that time of day.
 - 3 I think everyone's too busy these days to make anything by hand!
 - 4 I tried sewing at school, but I just couldn't do it.
 - 5 My brother did badly at school, yet he earns more than I do!

3 Take turns to read the answers in Exercise 2 to your partner.

Writing Task 1

Exam information

- You write a summary of information from one or more graphs, tables, charts or diagrams.
- You must also compare some of the information and write an overview.
- You write at least 150 words in about 20 minutes.

1 Work in pairs. Look at the Writing task below and complete this introductory sentence, using the words in the box to help you.

The graph gives information about how many ...

between Canadian graduated male and female students

The graph below shows the number of university graduates in Canada from 1992 to 2007.

Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features and make comparisons where relevant.

University graduates, Canada, 1992–2007

2 Which FOUR of these statements (1–7) describe main features of the graph?

- 1 The number of graduates fell between 1996 and 1998.
- 2 The overall rise in numbers was not always steady.
- 3 Just under 75,000 male students graduated in 1992.
- 4 More women than men graduated between 1992 and 2007.

- 5 In 2007, there were nearly 150,000 female graduates.
- 6 The gap between the number of male and female graduates widened over the period.
- 7 The trends for male and female graduates were similar.

3 Work in pairs. Read this continuation of the sample answer from Exercise 1 and underline the sentences that describe the main features.

- 2 Graduate numbers rose during the 15 years and reached their highest levels in 2007, but there were always more female than male graduates. In 1992, the difference was less marked, with just over 70,000 males and about 100,000 females. However, by 2007 there had been more significant growth in female numbers. That year, they rose to 147,000, compared to just 95,000 males. Thus the gap between the number of male and female graduates had widened.
- 3 A more detailed look at the graph reveals that the overall growth in numbers was not always steady. Between 1992 and 1995, there was a slight increase. That was followed by a period of about five years, when numbers fell, then flattened out at just over 70,000 for men and 100,000 for women. After 2000, however, graduate numbers saw their strongest growth rate, and this was well above the increases that had been seen in the early 1990s.
- 4 Clearly, there were similar trends for male and female graduates over this period, but the number of women graduating increased at a higher rate than the number of men.

4 Draw two vertical lines on the graph to show how the student has grouped the information in paragraph 3 of the sample answer.

5 Work in pairs. Answer these questions about the sample answer.

- 1 What is the difference in focus between the second and third paragraphs?
- 2 What is the purpose of the last paragraph?
- 3 What phrases does the writer use in the second paragraph to mean ...
 - a not as great?
 - b stronger?
- 4 What verb is used to describe the changing size of the gap between men and women?
- 5 What phrase is used to introduce a close analysis of the graph?
- 6 What verb is used to mean didn't change?
- 7 What phrase is used with data to mean a little more than?
- 8 What adjective is used that means small?

16 Unit 1

6 IELTS candidates often make mistakes using superlative forms (e.g. longest, most interesting). Underline the superlative forms in the sample answer in Exercise 3.

▶ page 119 Superlative forms

7 Choose the correct alternative in italics in these sentences, written by IELTS candidates.

- 1 The steadiest / most steady development can be seen in the USA.
- 2 The second popular / most popular university course is business studies.
- 3 In 2000, the lowest / least number of unemployed graduates was recorded.
- 4 The most / Most important change of school subjects occurred in the 1990s.
- 5 Regional colleges are where the most / greatest number of students choose to go.
- 6 Education is considered the most important / most important area in life.
- 7 Tuition fees are the one / one of the most important considerations for students.
- 8 Watching television is the favourite / most favourite activity for many 17-year-olds.

Exam advice Writing Task 1

- Decide on the key features and the important details in the graph.
- Decide how to group the information into paragraphs, remembering that there are different ways this can be done.
- Write a short introductory paragraph saying what the graph shows. (This may be one sentence.)
- Support the key features with figures.

▶ Key grammar: Past simple, present perfect simple and past perfect simple

8 Work in pairs. Look at this Writing task, then answer the questions below.

The graph below shows the percentage change in the number of international students graduating from universities in different Canadian provinces between 2001 and 2006.

Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features and make comparisons where relevant.

- How would you introduce the task?
- What are the key features in the information?
- How would you highlight the key features?
- How would you group the information?

9 Write your answer to the task in at least 150 words.

2 Choose the correct verb tense to complete these sentences written by IELTS candidates.

- There was a ten-year period, during which figures have gradually fallen / gradually fell.
- By 2008, the percentage of students choosing science subjects decreased / had decreased markedly.
- Between 2000 and the present day, the numbers remained / have remained steady.
- Over the past few decades, there has been / was a rapid development in educational technology.
- After 2005, a more significant increase took place / had taken place.
- Since the 1990s, graduates have experienced / experienced higher unemployment rates.
- The situation remained / had remained unchanged for the next two years until more universities were opened.
- In 2002, the university intake was stable, but prior to that, it fluctuated / had fluctuated.

3 Complete the summary of the graph by writing the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

Male graduates, science faculty, Callum University

The number of men obtaining degrees in science from Callum University 1 has risen (rise) since 1995, but the trend 2 (not always be) steady. Between 1995 and 1997, the university 3 (experience) a slight increase from just over 4,000 science graduates to just under 5,000. This was followed by a period during which numbers 4 (drop) a little and then 5 (remain) stable. However, between 2000 and 2005, the faculty 6 (see) a dramatic increase in male graduates, and by 2005, their numbers 7 (reach) a peak of about 7,800, after which they 8 (fall back) to their current figure of 6,000.
