Index

Abbreviations: acronym usage, 177; and citing sources, 61–62, 83–84; in introductions, 61–62; in practice, 211–12; problems with, 212–13; standard, 213; Système International (SI) prefixes, 210, 213; in tables, 95; in titles, 43, 83–84; units of measure, 212; usage principles, 210–11
Abstract noun problems, 200–201
Abstracts: communication with, 57–58; conclusion sections in, 53–54; in conference reports, 56; defined, 53–55; examples of, 54–56; extended abstracts, 23; for grant proposals, 244; length of, 34; for oral presentations, 173; overview, 18–20; for poster displays, 181; of thesis, 231; titles for, 39; types of, 22, 23, 55–57; writing, 14
Academic Phrasebank website, 223
Acceptance by editors, 128–29
Acknowledgments section, 76–77
Acquisitions editor, 160, 262
Acronym usage, 177
Active vs. passive voice, 198–99
Address listings, 50–52
Ad hoc reviewers, 126–27
Advise and Consent (Drury), 72
Alphabet-number system, 82, 84
American Association for the Advancement of Science, 70, 253–54, 265
American Institute of Biological Sciences, 253
American Medical Writers Association, 265
American National Standards Institute, 21
Analysis. See Statistical analysis/procedures
Animal treatment, 27
Appendix section, 8, 229, 241
“Assertive sentence title” (AST), 42
Assignment of Copyright Act, 114
Association of Earth Science Editors, 265
Association of Health Care Journalists, 265
Audience: communication with, 4, 28–30, 39; engaging, 166–67; level of, 59; marketing to, 162; in oral presentations, 176–77; rudeness of, 177–78; writing for, 150, 154, 157, 164
Audio recordings, 19
Authenticity in writing, 24–25
AuthorAID website, 223–24
Authors/authorship: address listings, 50–52; bylines, 45; coauthors, 45;
Index

complaints by, 141–42; copyediting, 135–36; corresponding author, 52; defined, 47–48; editors of, 16, 262; first author, 45–46; international authors, 50, 219; listing order of, 45–49; marketing by, 162–63; name consistency, 49–50; peer reviews of, 259; reagent availability by, 65; senior author, 46; specifying contributions, 49

Bar graphs, 98–99
Bibliographic research, 30
Biomedical journals, 34
Bishop, Claude, 74
Blackboard presentations, 175
Blogs/blogging, 163, 218
Book reviews, 152–53
Book writing: chapters, 156–57; manuscript preparation, 159–60; marketing, 162–63; publishing, 157–59; reasons for, 157
Bylines, 45
Chase, Stuart, 205
Chemical names, 64
Circulation research, 31
Citation order system, 82–83, 84
Citing sources: and abbreviations, 61–62, 83–84; author identification, 51; care with, 85; in conclusions, 85; electronic aids to, 79; electronic materials, 85; in materials and methods section, 64, 66; permission for, 77; preparation of, 13; reference styles, 80–83; as research, 31–32, 35; rules for, 25–26, 78; in text, 79–80; titles in, 83
Clarity concerns, 3, 39, 60, 70, 73, 167, 216, 219–20
Coauthors, 45
Collaborative research, 47
Color photographs, 109
Communication: with abstracts, 57–58; with audience, 8, 28–30, 39; audience responsibilities, 177; early types, 6–7; mind-set needs, 11; with scientific writing, 4. See also Oral presentations
Conclusion section: in abstracts, 53–54; citations in, 85; clarity in, 3, 73; location of, 10; on poster displays, 180; in progress reports, 248; for review papers, 147, 150–51, 153; rules for, 61, 75
Conference reports: abstracts in, 56; defined, 18, 20, 22–23, 184–85; editing, 186–87; formatting, 185; new ideas for, 186; publishing, 186–87
Content considerations, 167–68
Controlled-circulation journals, 20
Conventional submissions, 119–20
Copyeditors/copyediting, 8, 124, 135–36, 156, 161, 259
Copyright, 113–15, 231
Copyright Act (1976), 114–15
Copyright Clearance Center, 115
Corporate publications, 20
Correction of proofs, 138
Corresponding author, 52
Council of Biology Editors (CBE), 18–20
Council of Science Editors (CSE), 18
Cover letters, 120–21, 236–37
Creative Commons, 116
Crediting. See Citing sources
Cropping photographs, 105
Curriculum vitae (CV): content of, 235; cover letter for, 236–37; defined, 233–35; example, 234; personal statement for, 237–38; structure of, 235–36
Dangling modifiers, 192–93
Deadlines, 13, 130–31, 138
Descriptive abstracts, 56
Descriptive style, 8
Determinations, 70, 89
Digital imaging, 25
Discussion section: in book reviews, 153; components of, 73; factual relationships in, 73–74; and introduction section, 73; and verbiage, 72
Dissertation. See Thesis
Domagk, Gerhard, 9
Drafting paper, 13–15
Drury, Allen, 72
Dry-labbing (fabrication), 24
Dual publication, 22

Economy of words, 57–58
Editors/editing: acceptance by, 128–29; acquisitions, 160, 262; conference reports, 186–87; of conference reports, 185; decisions by, 127–28, 160; editorial style, 35; as gatekeepers, 134; grant proposals, 246; modification requests by, 129–31; precision needs of, 9, 11; rejection by, 131–33; during review process, 122–24
Ehrlich, Paul, 9
Electron micrographs, 105
Electronic processing: aids to citations, 79; appendixes, 8; of conference reports, 185; decisions by, 127–28, 160; editorial style, 35; as gatekeepers, 134; grant proposals, 246; modification requests by, 129–31; precision needs of, 9, 11; rejection by, 131–33; during review process, 122–24
E-mail writing, 217
EndNote (software), 13, 79
English as a second language: challenges, 222; cultural considerations, 220–21; essentials of, 220; international writing, 219; resources, 223–24; strategies for, 222–23
English language usage: active vs. passive voice, 67, 198–99, 223; dangling modifiers, 192–93; euphemisms, 199; good writing, 193–94; metaphors, 194–95; misused words, 195–97; noun problems, 200–201; numbers, 201; odd references, 201–3; simplicity with, 191–92; singulars and plurals, 199–200; tense considerations, 197–98. See also Jargon
“Et al.” rule, 81
Ethics: in acknowledgements, 77; authenticity/accuracy, 24–25; conflicts of interest, 27; crediting, 26–27; as foundation, 24; with humans/animals, 27; originality, 25–26
Euphemism usage, 199
European Association of Science Editors, 265
Experimental procedures, 69–70, 174. See also Materials and methods section
Exponents in table headings, 94
Extended abstracts (synoptics), 23
Fabrication (dry-labbing), 24
Factual relationships, 73–74
Feedback: from book reviews, 153; importance of, 11, 54–55, 62; from peers, 223, 231, 250; on proposals, 240; providing, 255, 259, 261; rating scales as, 258; requesting, 16, 160, 182, 229; using, 15–16, 246
Fellowship programs, 265
Figures, 66, 71
First author, 45–46
Flesch-Kincaid Grade Level score, 215
Flesch Reading Ease score, 215
Flip chart presentations, 175
Footnotes, 51–52, 79, 93, 95
Formatting: conference reports, 185; grant proposals, 244; photographs, 104–5; submissions, 117–18, 149
Framing photographs, 105
Freelance writing, 165
Funding for grant proposals, 240, 246
“Funnel” shape for introductions, 61
Gardner, John W., 205
Gatekeeper role of editors, 134
Grammar concerns, 41–42, 67–68, 118, 135
Grammar Girl website, 223
Grant proposals: common parts of, 241; funding sources for, 240, 246; overview, 239; preliminary letters, 240–41; problems with, 245–46;
Index

rejection of, 244–45; resubmitting, 246; in scientific writing, 3; writing, 242–44

Graphs: as illustrations, 176; preparing, 99–102; proofing, 141; symbols and legends, 102; tips on, 103; when not to use, 97–98; when to use, 99

Guides in photographs, 105–9

Gutenberg, Johannes, 7

Handouts, 181, 183

Hanging title, 43–44

Harvard system (name and year system), 81, 84

Heading abstract, 57

Headings, 65

Historical analyses, 149

Historical perspectives of publishing, 6–10

Hook, 60–61

Illustrations: graphs as, 176; by hand, 7; photographs vs., 109; on poster displays, 181–82; proofs, 141

Imitation in writing, 12

Impact factor, 32–33

IMRAD. See Introduction, methods, results, and discussion

Inclusive pagination, 83

Index/indexing, 39, 161–62

Indicative abstracts, 56

Informal peer reviews, 261

Information-retrieval services, 20

Informative abstracts, 55–56

Informed opinion, 152

International authors, 50, 219

International readers, 216–17

Internet: blogs/blogging, 163, 218; electronic publication, 19–20, 115–16, 118; electronic submissions, 173; e-mail writing, 217; online writing, 217–18; supplementary material on, 71

Internship programs, 265

Interview conduct: after, 255–56; during, 254–55; preparation for, 253–54

Introduction, methods, results, and discussion (IMRAD): development of, 6, 8–10; importance of, 20–21; for poster displays, 180; in review papers, 147; for theses, 228

Introduction section: abbreviations in, 61–62; in book reviews, 153; citations in, 61; of conference reports, 186; and discussion section, 73; examples of, 62; exceptions in, 61; of poster displays, 180; purpose of, 60–61; of review papers, 150; rules for, 59–60; of theses, 229

Invited editorials, 154

Jargon: bureaucratese, 206–7; “case” usage, 208–9; defined, 204; examples, 206; during interviews, 254–55; mumblespeak, 204–5; in titles, 43

Journal Citation Reports, 31–32

Journals/articles. See Scientific journals/articles

Keys in photographs, 105–9

Labeling titles, 42–43

Laboratory papers, 21

Language in scientific writing, 4–5

Legends in graphs, 102

Letters of intent, 240–41

Letters to the editor, 154–55

Line drawings. See Illustrations

Line drawings vs. photographs, 109

Literary flair, 21–22

Literature review: ad hoc reviewers, 126–27; book reviews, 152–53; of conference reports, 185; of presentations, 61

Machine-indexing systems, 42

Magazine writing, 165–66
Magnification of photographs, 105, 107
Managing editors, 122–24
Manuscripts: for books, 159–60; composing, 12; decisions about, 28–30; impact factor, 32–33; and IMRAD, 9–10; journals’ instructions, 34–35; mailing of, 7–8; open-access journals, 31; other factors, 33; prestige/access, 30–33
Marketing books, 162–63
Materials and methods section: in book reviews, 153; grammar in, 67–68; headings, 65; measurements and analysis, 65–66; overview, 64–65; purpose of, 63–64; references, 64, 66; tables and figures, 66, 71
Measurements and analysis, 65–66
Medical papers, 21
Meeting abstract, 22, 23, 57
Mencken, H. L., 134
Metaphor usage, 194–95
Methodology importance, 9
Methods section, 10
Micrographs, 104, 105
Mind-set, 11
Misspelled words, 136–38
Misused words, 195–97
Modification requests by editors, 129–31
Monthly journals, 33
Morrison, J. A., 127
Multiple author listings, 47–49
Mumblespeak, 204–5
Name and year system (Harvard system), 81, 84
National Association of Science Writers, 253, 265
Neter, Erwin, 70
Newsletters, 20, 56
News releases, 193, 253–54, 263
Noun usage problems, 200–201
Numerical data, 90, 201
Online. See Internet
Open-access journals, 31, 116
Opinion writing: book reviews, 152–53; editorials, 154; informed opinion, 152; letters to the editor, 154–55
Oral presentations: audience considerations for, 176–77; how to, 173–74; organization of, 174; poster displays vs., 181; in scientific writing, 3; with slides, 175–76
Organization: of oral communication, 174; of poster displays, 180; scientific papers, 4–5, 20–22
Originality, 25–26
Outlining, 13, 148–49, 229
Overhead projector presentations, 175
Passive voice, 67, 198–99, 223
Pasteur, Louis, 9
Peer reviews: of books, 160–61; of conference reports, 185; editors of, 126–27, 264; informal, 261; materials and methods section, 64; number of, 7; requests for, 257–58; for scientific papers, 20, 258–59; signed, 259–60. See also Literature review
Permission requirements, 77
Personal statements, 237–38
Persuasive editorials, 154
Photographs: in books, 166; color, 109; cropping, 105; illustrations vs., 109; keys and guides, 105–9; magnification of, 105, 107; and micrographs, 104; proofing, 141; submission formats, 104–5
Plagiarism, 26–27, 114, 175, 194, 221
Poster displays: conclusion section on, 180; oral presentations vs., 181; organization of, 180; popularity of, 179–80; preparing, 181–82; presenting, 182–83; in scientific writing, 3
Powell, John Wesley, 70
PowerPoint presentations, 223
Preliminary letters, 240–41
Preparation/preparing: graphs, 99–102; for interviews, 253–54; manuscripts,
Index

159–60; poster displays, 181–82; review paper, 148–49; scientific communications career, 264–65; sources, 13; writing, 12–13
Prepositional phrase considerations, 222
Presentations, 61, 182–83. See also Oral presentations
Press releases, 254
Prestige, 30
Pre-writing, 13
Primary publication, 18, 23, 185
Printing, 7, 33
Private funding sources, 243
Progress reports: overview, 247–48; structure of, 248; suggestions for, 248
Proofs: additions to, 139–40; to authors, 135–36; for books, 161; complaints over, 141–42; copyediting, 135–36; correction of, 138; for illustrations, 141; misspelled words, 136–38; proofreading, 68, 135, 137–39; and references, 140; reprints, 142–43
Proposals, 157–58, 165. See also Grant proposals
Publication: of books, 157–59; circulation research, 31; conference reports, 186–87; of conference reports, 18, 184–85; electronic, 19–20, 115–16, 118; for general readership, 164–66; importance of, 18–19; need for, 4; participation in, 160–62; speed of, 33; of thesis, 231–32; by university presses, 157, 158. See also Copyright; Proofs; Review process; Submissions
Quarterly journals, 33
Query letters, 165
Question and answer period, 177–78
Quill, Henry B., 206–7
Raistrick, Howard, 41
Readability of writing, 214–15
Readership considerations, 30
Reagent availability, 65
Receipt confirmation for submissions, 121
Recommendation letters: information for, 250; requesting, 252; when needed, 249–50; writing, 250–51
Redundancy concerns, 71
Reference Manager (software), 13, 79
References: alphabet-number system, 82, 84; citation order system, 82–83, 84; list of, 13; name and year system, 81, 84; and proofs, 140; styles of, 80–85; for thesis, 229
RefWorks (software), 13, 79
Register of Copyrights, 114
Rejection: by editors, 131–33; of grant proposals, 244–45
Repetitive determinations, 70, 89, 97
Reproducibility of experiments concept, 9, 63–64
Research. See Scientific research
Results section: in book reviews, 153; clarity in, 70; of conference reports, 186; content of, 69–70; determinations in, 70, 89; redundancy, 71; scientific truth, 75; significance of, 75; strengths and limitations, 74–75; supplementary material, 71
Resume, 234–35. See also Curriculum vitae
Review paper, 22; audience for, 150; characteristics of, 147–48; conclusions for, 147, 150–51, 153; conference reports as, 185; introductory paragraphs, 150; preparing outline, 148–49; thesis vs., 229; types, 149–50
Review process: editors, 122–24; overview, 124–27
Revising, 15–17, 230–31
Rights and permissions, 113–14
Running titles/heads, 43
“Salami science,” 25–26
Savile, Doug, 72
Scale bar in photographs, 107
Scientific communications career: entering, 265; options in, 262–63; preparation for, 264–65; questions about, 263–64

Scientific journals/articles: acknowledgments section, 76–77; appendix section, 8, 229, 241; and book reviews, 153; defined, 3, 18–20, 22–23; early types, 7; historical perspectives, 6–10; instructions for, 34–35, 94–95; organization of, 20–22; peer-review for, 20, 258–59; reprints, 142–43; submitting to, 33, 149; title abbreviations, 83–84. See also Conclusion section; Discussion section; Introduction section; Manuscripts; Materials and methods section; Publication; Results section; Review paper

Scientific research: and author list, 47–49; growth of, 9; limitations of, 74; as reproducible, 63–64; truth in, 75; writing paper during, 59

Scientific writing: for audience, 150, 154, 157, 164; book chapters, 156–57; clarity needs, 3; communication with, 4; descriptive style in, 8; drafting paper, 13–15; grammar concerns, 41–42, 67–68, 118; grant proposals, 242–44; the hook, 60–61; imitation in, 12; language in, 4–5; mind-set for, 11; organization in, 4–5, 20–22; plagiarism, 26–27, 114, 175, 194, 221; preparation, 12–13; recommendation letters, 250–51; during research, 59; revising, 15–17. See also Abstracts; Citing sources; Formatting: Jargon; Manuscripts; Thesis; Titles

Secondary sources, 78

Senior author, 46

Series titles, 43–44

Signals, 4

Signed reviews, 259–60

Significance of results, 75

Simultaneous submissions, 25, 158

Singulars and plurals, usage, 199–200

Slide presentations, 175–76

Society for Technical Communication, 265

Society of Environmental Journalists, 265

Sources. See Citing sources

Specific titles, 40–41

Specifying contributions, 49

Squid technique, 72

Standard abbreviations, 213

“State of the art” reviews, 149–50

Statistical analysis/procedures, 25, 65–66, 70

Strengths and limitations, 74–75

Style manuals, 12–13

Subheadings, 65, 148–49

Submissions: conventional, 119–20; cover letters, 120–21; deadlines, 13, 130–31, 138; electronic publication, 19–20, 115–16, 118; formatting, 117–18, 149; journal selection, 33; letters to the editor, 155; online, 173; photograph formatting, 104–5; receipt confirmation, 121; simultaneous, 25, 158

Summaries, 53

Supplementary material, 71

Symbols in graphs, 102

Syntax concerns, 41–42, 66, 192–93, 202, 214

Système International (SI) prefixes, 210, 213

Tables, 66, 71; abbreviations, 95; arranging, 92–94; examples of, 91–94; exponents, 94; footnotes, 95; and journal instructions, 94–95; proper use of, 89–92, 176; tips on, 95–96; titles, 95. See also Graphs

Technical terms, 167–68
Index

Tense considerations, 197–98, 222
Terminology concerns, 167–68
Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), 223
Thesis: copyrighting, 231; literature review of, 148; publication of, 231–32; purpose of, 227–28; requirements for, 164; tips for, 228–29; when to write, 230–31
Titles: abbreviations, 43, 83–84; for abstracts, 39; and citation sources, 83; for grant proposals, 244; hanging title, 43–44; importance of, 39; jargon, 43; as label, 42–43; length of, 40; running titles/heads, 43; for series, 43–44; specifics, 40–41; syntax importance, 41–42; and tables, 95
Track Changes feature, 131
Trade names, 64
Truman, David B., 5
Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals, 34, 81–83
Units of measure, 212

University presses, 157, 158
Unsolicited opinion pieces, 154
Verbiage, 72
Verb tenses, 222
Visual aids, 175–76
Waste words, 40, 42
White board presentations, 175
Wood, Earl H., 122
Word list, 90, 92
World Association of Medical Editors, 265
Writing for public: audience considerations, 166–67; authenticity in, 24–25; content, 167–68; e-mail writing, 217; emulating experts, 168–69; freelancing, 165; international readers, 216–17; magazine writing, 165–66; online writing, 217–18; overview, 164; publication, 164–66; readability, 214–15; wording consistency, 216. See also Book writing; English language usage; Jargon; Opinion writing