CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-02308-5 - The Architectural History of Canterbury Cathedral
Robert Willis
Table of Contents
More information

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

PAGE

PREFACE v
CONTENTS vii
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS ix
INTRODUCTION xi

CHAPTER I.

The Architectural History of Canterbury Cathedral, from the earliest period to the year 1130, translated from the works of Edmer the singer, and others 1

CHAPTER II.

On the Plan and Arrangement of the Saxon Cathedral 20

CHAPTER III.

Gervase his History of the Burning and Repair of the Church of Canterbury.

1. The Conflagration 32
2. The Operations of the first year 34
3. Of the Church of Lanfranc 37
4. Of the Choir of Conrad 41
5. Operations of the first five years 48
6. The Entry into the new Choir 52
7. Remaining Operations of the sixth year 55
8. Explanations 58
9. Operations of the seventh, eighth, and tenth years 61

CHAPTER IV.

On the Church of Lanfranc 63

CHAPTER V.

The Works of Ernulf and the two Williams 72

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-02308-5 - The Architectural History of Canterbury Cathedral
Robert Willis
Table of Contents
More information

CHAPTER VI.

PAGE

The History of the Choir from the twelfth century 97
1. The Choir ..... ib.
2. The Crypt 114
3. The Window of Anselm's Chapel 115

CHAPTER VII.

History of the Nave, Tower, and Western Transepts from the end of the twelfth century.
1. The Nave 117
2. The Lady Chapel, south-west Tower, and Chapel of St. Michael..... 123
3. The Central Tower, or Angel Steeple 125

CHAPTER VIII.

The Monuments 128
List of the Archbishops with their places of Sepulture, and also of some other Personages who were buried in Christ Church 133
Explanation of the Plan and Section 136
List of Dated Examples of Architectural Works 137
List of the principal Works and Editions referred to 138
Additional Notes, and Corrections 140

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org