

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07025-6 - Hogarth's London: Pictures of the Manners of the Eighteenth Century

Henry Benjamin Wheatley

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

	PAGE
DEDICATION,	v
PREFACE,	vii

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

Interest of the eighteenth century. Admirers of Hogarth's Engravings. Hogarth a writer of Comedy. Praises of Fielding, Coleridge, Lamb, and Hazlitt. Acknowledgments of Hogarth's Merits as a Painter after the Exhibition of his Pictures in 1814. Increase of this appreciation at the present time. Delineator of Manners and Illustrator of London Topography. Gay's Trivia. Hogarth's reason for designing the 'Four Stages of Cruelty.' Characteristics of the century. Hogarth as a Moralist. Analysis of the different chapters of the book. Love of London. London Localities illustrated by Hogarth, 1

CHAPTER II

HOGARTH'S LIFE AND WORKS

Particulars of Hogarth's life. Richard Hogarth, Auld Hogarth. Hogarth's want of Education. Apprenticed to a silver engraver. Set up in business as an engraver, maker of bookplates, and book illustrator. First two satirical engravings not successful. Attendance at Sir James Thornhill's School of Painting. Illustrations of Hudibras. Mary Tofts, the rabbit-breeder. Law case against Joshua Morris. Hogarth runs away with Thornhill's daughter. Father reconciled. Acquaintance with Tyers of Vauxhall Gardens. Objections to Academies. Painted Conversation Pieces. 'Harlot's Progress.' Important works following that series. Attainment of success. Prey of pirates. Copyright Act for artists called Hogarth's Act. His gratitude to Parliament. Attempts in the great style. Life in Leicester Square. J. T. Smith's absurd condemnation of Hogarth's character. Hogarth's fame abroad. Troubles in France. Quarrels with the Connoisseurs. Battle of the Pictures. Sale of some of his pictures. Marriage à la Mode. Athenian Stuart.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07025-6 - Hogarth's London: Pictures of the Manners of the Eighteenth Century

Henry Benjamin Wheatley

Table of Contents

More information

xii

HOGARTH'S LONDON

PAGE

'Sigismunda.' Bonnel Thornton's Exhibition of Sign-Paintings.
Enmity of Paul Sandby. Society of Arts. Analysis of Beauty .
Sterne's Praise. Pictorial Satires on Hogarth. Proposed History of the Arts.
'No Dedication.' 'The Times, No. 1.' Hogarth's own justification. Quarrel with Wilkes. The North Briton . Portraits of Wilkes and Churchill,	22

CHAPTER III

HIGH LIFE

Resorts of Fashion. 'Lady's Last Stake.' Conversation Pieces. 'Wanstead Assembly.' Wellesley Pole. Portraits and other Conversation Pieces. Lord Charlemont's friendliness. Mrs. Thrale (Piozzi). Sir Richard Grosvenor and 'Sigismunda.' Lord Charlemont's earldom. Scenes in Marriage à la Mode . The Wallop family. Dr. Misaubin. Italian Singers and Flute-players. Turk's Head Bagnio. 'Rake's Progress.' Farinelli. Pope and Burlington House. 'Taste in High Life,'	92
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

CHAPTER IV

LOW LIFE

Extracts from the book on Low Life. Betty Ireland. 'Four Times of the Day.' Tom King's Coffee-House. French Church in Hog Lane. Charing Cross. The Cockpit. Art of Self-Defence: Figg Taylor, and Broughton. Gin Lane and Beer Street. Acts against the sale of gin,	128
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER V

POLITICAL LIFE

Hogarth not a politician. Bribery and Corruption. Tibson the Politician. The House of Commons. Lord Lovat. 'The Stage Coach, or Country Inn Yard.' The Sailor from the Centurion . Four Pictures of the Election. 'The Times, Plate 1.' Wilkes's attack in the North Briton . Churchill's Epistle to William Hogarth. Portraits of Wilkes and Churchill. 'The Times, Plate 2,'	164
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07025-6 - Hogarth's London: Pictures of the Manners of the Eighteenth Century

Henry Benjamin Wheatley

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

xiii

CHAPTER VI

CHURCH AND DISSENT

	PAGE
Want of earnestness in Church and State. 'The Centaur not fabulous.' Bishops Gibson and Hoadly. Archbishop Herring. 'The Sleeping Congregation.' Dr. Desaguliers. London Churches. Johnson and the 'Idle Apprentice.' Kent's Altarpiece. Orator Henley. 'Enthusiasm Delineated' and 'Credulity, Superstition, and Fanaticism,'	198

CHAPTER VII

PROFESSIONAL LIFE

Law. —'The Bench.' The Lawyer in Butler's Hudibras . 'Paul before Felix.' Medicine. —Portraits. Consultation of Physicians. St. André and Mary Tofts. Literature. —'The Distressed Poet.' Theobald and the Dunciad . Fielding's portrait. Sterne and Hogarth. Portrait of W. Huggins. Art. —'The Enraged Musician.' 'The Modern Orpheus,'	216
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER VIII

BUSINESS LIFE

Business Cards and Shop-bills. Book-plates. Funeral tickets. 'Industry and Idleness.' Spitalfields Weavers' Workshop. Goodchild's Marriage. Banquet at Fishmongers' Hall. Trial in the Guildhall. Lord Mayor's Show. Run upon Child's Bank, and Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough. 'The South Sea Bubble.' 'The Lottery,'	244
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER IX

TAVERN LIFE

Taverns and City Inns. Pontack's. Devil Tavern. The Mitre. 'Midnight Modern Conversation.' Chorus of Singers. The Elephant. Covent Garden. 'The Frolic.' Button's Coffee-House. Old Slaughter's. Isaac Hawkins Browne. Rummer Tavern. Man loaded with Mischief. White's Chocolate House, and White's Club, 272	272
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER X

THEATRICAL LIFE

'Laughing Audience.' Beggar's Opera . Benefit tickets for actors. Portraits of actors: Theophilus Cibber, Garrick as 'Richard III.'
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-07025-6 - Hogarth's London: Pictures of the Manners of the Eighteenth Century

Henry Benjamin Wheatley

Table of Contents

More information

xiv

HOGARTH'S LONDON

	PAGE
Portrait of Garrick and his wife. 'The Farmer's Return.' Garrick and Churchill. Green-room of Drury Lane Theatre. Miss Pritchard. Fielding's plays. Pasquin ticket. Plays illustrated by Hogarth. Private Theatricals. Rich's Glory, Chorus of Singers. Burlington gate. Attack on Masquerades and Italian Operas. Heidegger. Fielding's condemnation of Masquerades,	302

CHAPTER XI

HOSPITALS

Foundling Hospital. Hogarth's gifts to the Hospital. Pictures at St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Accuracy of Hogarth's representation of diseases. London Infirmary. Bedlam. Picture of St. George's Hospital,	360
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER XII

PRISONS AND CRIME

Incompetence of the watchmen. Magistrates .—Fielding, Saunders Welch, Sir Thomas de Veil, Sir John Gonson. Prisons .—The Fleet. Examination of Bambridge. Bridewell. Sarah Malcolm. Elizabeth Canning. Earl Ferrers. Theodore Gardelle. The Idle Apprentice at Tyburn. 'Four Stages of Cruelty.' Surgeons' Theatre in Monkwell Street,	377
----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER XIII

THE SUBURBS

'March to Finchley.' Tottenham Court. Old Marylebone Church outside and inside. Executions at Tyburn. Spitalfields. Vauxhall Gardens. Sadler's Wells. Southwark Fair. Johnson and Mallet at the Fair. Chiswick, Twickenham, and Cowley,	404
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

CHAPTER XIV

LITERATURE OF HOGARTH

Books on Hogarth. Editions of his Works. Pamphlets on the principal series of his Engravings,	439
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

INDEX,	456
------------------	-----