

Index

- age
 - witness sampling process and, 24, 124
- Albanians, 38
 - belief in ICTY fairness towards Albanian defendants, 156
 - reporting of health issues before and three months post-testifying, 126
 - support for deterrence mandate of ICTY and, 161
- Balkan wars, 38
 - civilian deaths and, 47
 - ethnicity and, 6, 7
 - gender violence in, 8
 - sparing of individuals in Croatia and Serbia, 49
- Bauer, Michael, 146
- bivariate correlations
 - between ethnic minority status and number of traumas experienced, 115
- Bosnia, 14, 23, 25
 - mixed ethnic marriages in, 41
- Bosniaks, 6, 35, 38
 - belief in ICTY fairness towards Bosniak defendants, 67, 156
 - as highest percentage of civilian deaths and, 47
 - interpersonal relations in their community and, 145
 - level of knowledge of ICTY after testimony, 55
 - level of knowledge of ICTY before testimony, 55
 - motivations to testify of, 60–61
 - on national vs. international tribunals for adjudicating war crimes, 155
 - post traumatic symptoms and, 121
 - reporting of economic harm and physical security threats by, 116
 - reporting of health issues before and three months post-testifying, 126
 - reporting on if health is worse due to testifying, 127
 - support for deterrence mandate of ICTY and, 161
 - support for punishment mandate of ICTY and, 161
 - support for truth and responsibility mandates of ICTY and, 159
 - trauma experienced and reported by, 47–51
- Bosnian Croats, 38
 - level of knowledge of ICTY before testimony, 55
 - motivations to testify of, 60–61
 - reporting on if health is worse due to testifying, 127
 - satisfaction with information and assistance from VWS of, 58
 - support for deterrence mandate of ICTY and, 161
- Bosnian Serbs
 - belief in ICTY unfairness towards Bosnian Serb defendants, 156
 - level of knowledge of ICTY after testimony, 55
 - level of knowledge of ICTY before testimony, 55
 - motivations to testify of, 60–61
 - reporting of negative emotions after testifying and, 136
 - reporting on if health is worse due to testifying, 127

- Bosnian Serbs (cont.)
 satisfaction with information and assistance from VWS before testimony, 58 support for deterrence mandate of ICTY
 and, 161
- catharsis, testifying as, 9, 72, 128
- civil conflicts and wars. See also post-conflict societies
 ethnicity and, 6–7
- Clark, Janine Natalya, 143, 144
- closure
 difficulty obtaining post-trauma, 119 providing witnesses with ICTY as goal of study, 19
 testifying as, 9, 34, 73, 128
- Cody, Stephen Smith, 3, 57, 123
- community relations. See also relationships consequences of testimony on, 88–91, 116
 education and, 147
 ethnicity and satisfaction with interpersonal relations, 144–45 gender and satisfaction with interpersonal, 145
 human security threats and issues as negatively related to satisfaction in, 146 need to strengthen local assistance from field offices in, 185 positive outlook on life and, 147 satisfaction with for ethnic minorities in their communities, 145 trauma and witness satisfaction with interpersonal, 145–48
- Conference Language Services Section
 (CLSS), 12
- criticism and disassociation in community, as consequence of testimony, 88–91, 116
- Croatia, 14, 23
 mixed ethnic marriages in, 41
- Croats, 6, 38. See also Bosnian Croats; Serbian Croats
 belief in ICTY fairness towards Croatian defendants, 156 level of knowledge of ICTY after testimony, 55
 level of knowledge of ICTY before testimony, 55
 motivations to testify of, 60–61 reporting of health issues before and three months post-testifying, 126 reporting of negative emotions after testifying and, 136
- support for deterrence mandate of ICTY
 and, 161
 support for truth and responsibility mandates of ICTY and, 160
- Cunningham, Kathleen Gallagher, 7
- deGuzman, Margaret, 150
- deprivation as trauma, 56
- deterrence mandate of ICTY, 35, 159–63, 176
 belief in efficacy of testimony and, 174–75 experiences of human security threats
 and, 167–68
 levels of importance of reasons for testifying
 and, 165–66
 probit model of influence of ethnicity on witness perception on, 169–73
 support for by ethnicity, 161, 161f6.11.
 trauma and, 163–65
 witness perceptions of their contributions to truth and justice and, 166–67
- economic consequences of testifying, 9, 10, 91–94. See also human security threats;
 social consequences of testifying;
 testimony and testimonial process
- Bosniaks reporting of, 117
- economic losses attributed to across time periods, 92
- ethnicity and, 105–06
- gender and, 108
- as negatively related to satisfaction with community relations, 146
- positive and negative changes across time periods, 91, 92
- satisfaction with ICTY financial entitlements during testifying
 and, 92–94
- witness satisfaction with present and future economic circumstances, 139, 140
- education
 as negatively related to satisfaction with community relations, 147
 positive outlook and, 147 reconciliation and, 143
 witness educational attainment levels, 24 witness motivation for testifying and, 77
- effectiveness of ICTY, 34–35, 189–91.
See also deterrence mandate of ICTY; punishment mandate of ICTY; responsibility mandate of ICTY; truth mandate of ICTY
- ethnicity and witness perception of, 176–77

- gender and impact on national and international politics on perception of, 153–54
- probit model of influence of ethnicity on witness perception of, 169–73
- witness belief in efficacy of testimony and perception of, 52, 174–75
- witness perception on, 150–51
- witness perception on ICTY sentences, 152–53
- witness perception on impact of international and national politics on, 153
- witness perceptions on proceedings having moved too slowly, 152
- ethnic cleansing, 6, 72, 106, 162
- ethnic minorities in their communities, 144. See also by specific ethnic group; ethnicity
- human security threats and, 105–08, 112, 115, 117
- as more likely to have positive attitudes about community interpersonal relations, 145
- support for ICTY mandates and, 162
- trauma and, 50, 115, 117
- ethnicity, 182–84. See also by specific ethnic group; ethnic minorities in their communities
- in Balkan wars, 6, 7
- breakdown of by gender in witness survey, 38, 40f2.3.
- civil conflicts and wars and, 6–7
- critical role of in shaping perceptions of international justice, 157–58
- criticism and disassociation in community as consequence of testimony and, 88–91
- economic consequences of testifying and, 105–06
- ethnic identification among key ICTY nationalities in witness survey, 39f2.2.
- ethnic self-identification in witness survey, 26, 39f2.1., 183
- general lack of support for punishment mandate of ICTY and, 160f6.10., 161
- health of witnesses before testifying and three months post-testifying, 123–27
- human security threats and, 96, 105–6, 115
- ICTY support and, 158–59
- ICTY witness motivations to testify, 60–61, 74
- influence of on witness perception of ICTY effectiveness, 176–77
- interethnic marriages and, 39–42
- level of knowledge of ICTY after testimony by ethnic group, 55
- level of knowledge of ICTY before testimony by ethnic group, 55
- on national vs. international courts as better for adjudicating war crimes, 154–55
- perceptions of fairness of ICTY toward witnesses of own ethnic group, 67, 155–57
- post traumatic symptoms and, 121
- probit model of influence of on witness perception of ICTY effectiveness, 169–73
- religion and, 6
- reporting of negative emotions after testifying and, 136
- reporting on if health is worse due to testifying, 127
- satisfaction with interpersonal relations in their community and, 144–45
- on satisfaction and preparation before testifying, 57–58
- sexual violence and, 8
- social consequences of testifying and, 105–06
- support for deterrence mandate of ICTY and, 161, 161f6.11.
- support for responsibility mandate of ICTY and, 159–60
- support for truth mandate of ICTY and, 159–60
- trauma as disproportionately felt along ethnic lines, 37
- witness experience and, 5–7, 37
- fairness of ICTY, 34–35, 189–91, 193
 - gender and, 67
 - negative and positive emotions model and, 136
 - perceptions of by ethnic group, 67, 155–57
 - witness perception of, 65–69
 - witness perceptions of OTP fairness, 78–82
- female witnesses, 3. See also gender; male witnesses
 - ethnicity of in witness survey, 38
 - human security threats and, 112–13
 - on ICTY proceedings having moved too slowly, 152
 - as less likely to be satisfied with interpersonal relations in their community, 145

- female witnesses (cont.)
 level of knowledge of ICTY before and after testimony, 54–55 as more likely to report trauma than male witnesses, 50, 51 on motivations for testifying, 60 perception of fair treatment by ICTY, 67 reporting of negative emotions after testifying, 136
 on satisfaction with their assistance from VWS, 58
 sexual violence and, 179, 180
 on sufficient time and information to prepare for testimony, 57
 Ford, Stuart K., 158
- Gagnon, VP Jr., 7
- gender. See also female witnesses; male witnesses breakdown of by ethnicity in witness survey, 38, 40f2.3. differences between in post-trial phase and, 3
 economic consequences of testifying and, 108 gender ratio and representation in witness survey, 14, 25, 26f1.8., 37 health of witnesses before testifying and three months post-testifying, 123–27
 human security threats and, 108
 on ICTY proceedings having moved too slowly, 152
 ICTY witnesses motivation for testifying and, 60, 75 impact on national and international politics on ICTY effectiveness and, 153–54
 interethnic marriages and, 42
 level of knowledge of ICTY before and after testimony, 54–55 level of trauma by quintiles, 46–47 perception of ICTY fairness and, 67 perceptions about the local courts and, 155
 post traumatic symptoms and, 121
 post-conflict societies and, 7, 124 proportion of male to female witnesses, 25, 26f1.8., 37, 179
 reporting of negative emotions after testifying, 136
 reporting on if health is worse due to testifying, 127
 satisfaction with interpersonal relations in their community and, 145
 sexual violence and, 8, 179, 180
 social consequences of testifying and, 108 trauma as disproportionately felt along gender lines, 37
 witness experience and, 7–8, 37
 witness perceptions of their contributions to truth and justice and, 3 witness support policies and, 180
 Guerrero, Jose Raul, 143
- Hadžić, Goran, 184
- Harvard Trauma questionnaire, 163
- healing, testifying as, 9, 128
- health of witnesses. See physiological health of witnesses; positive outlook; post traumatic symptoms; psychological health of witnesses; sexual violence; trauma
- Herzegovina, 14, 23, 26
 mixed ethnic marriages in, 41
- human security threats, 10, 85–86, 94–98, 104–5, 184–86. See also deterrence mandate of ICTY; economic consequences of testifying; punishment mandate of ICTY; responsibility mandate of ICTY; social consequences of testifying; testimony and testimonial process; truth mandate of ICTY
- Bosniaks reporting of, 117
- ethnic minorities in their communities and, 105–08, 112, 115, 117
- ethnicity and, 96, 105–06
- form of threat delivery, 97
- gender and, 108, 112–13
- human security defined, 85
 as impediment to reconciliation and, 94, 116
- in-court protective measures (PMs) and, 98–102
- as negatively related to satisfaction in community relations, 146
- overall feeling of witness security today, 103–04
- positive outlook and, 112
- positive outlook and satisfaction with current situation and, 114–15
- reporting of and assistance for, 97–98
- trauma and, 108–11, 112–14, 115
- types of threats experienced, 94–95
- voluntary migration and, 102–03
- who and how of threat delivery, 95–96

- ICTY. See also deterrence mandate of ICTY; effectiveness of ICTY; fairness of ICTY; punishment mandate of ICTY; responsibility mandate of ICTY; truth mandate of ICTY
- ethnic minorities in their communities
 - support for mandates, 162
 - history of the establishment of, 10–12
 - in-court protective measures (PMs)
 - of, 98–102
 - knowledge of and the level of trauma, 56
 - preparation process for witnesses and, 53
 - Prosecutor v. Tadic* case of, 99
 - support for and ethnicity, 158–59
 - witness knowledge of before and after testifying, 53–54
 - witness knowledge of before and after testifying by ethnicity, 5655f3.3.
 - witness knowledge of before and after testifying by gender, 54–55
- in-court protection measures, 111
- Institutional Review Board (IRB), 2, 12
- International Criminal Court (ICC), 85, 122, 148, 149, 176
- International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY). See ICTY
- international justice and tribunals, 149–50
- need for post-testimony service programs in, 192
- Karadžić, Radovan, 184
- Kenyatta trial, 85
- Kirsch, Philippe, 149
- Kosovar Albanians, 6
- level of knowledge of ICTY before and after testifying, 55
 - motivations to testify of, 60–61
 - perceptions of fairness of ICTY toward witnesses of own ethnic group, 67
 - post traumatic symptoms and, 121
 - reporting of emotions after testifying and, 136
 - support for truth and responsibility mandates of ICTY and, 160
 - trauma experienced and reported by, 47–48, 50, 51
- Kosovo, 14, 23
- life satisfaction
 - human security threats and, 114–15
 - negative and positive emotions models and, 136
 - witness satisfaction with present and future economic circumstances, 139, 140
 - witness satisfaction with present and future life situations, 139–40
 - witness satisfaction with present and future political situation in their country, 140, 141
- local courts
 - gender perceptions on, 155
- Macedonian, 38
- male witnesses, 3. See also female witnesses; gender
 - on ICTY proceedings having moved too slowly, 152
 - as less likely to report trauma than female witnesses, 50, 51
 - level of knowledge of ICTY before and after testimony, 54–55
 - on satisfaction with their assistance from VWS, 58
 - sexual violence and, 179, 180
 - on sufficient time and information to prepare for testimony, 57
- Meernik, James, 143, 158
- Milosevic, Slobodan, 7
- Milutinovic, Milan, 160
- Mladić, Ratko, 184
- Moreno-Ocampo, Luis, 149
- Muslims from Bosnia. See Bosniaks
- national courts, vs. international for adjudicating war crimes
 - ethnicity and, 154–55
- negative affect. See negative emotions model; post traumatic symptoms; psychological health of witnesses; trauma
- negative binomial regression models, 133
- negative emotions model
 - ethnicity and reporting of negative emotions, 136
 - frequency of testifying and, 136
 - gender and reporting of negative emotions after testifying and, 136
 - life satisfaction and, 136
 - perception of fair treatment by ICTY prosecution and, 136
- Negotiating the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), 2
- Northern Ireland, 144
- Nuremburg trials, 58

- Office of the Prosecution (OTP), 5
- Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, 158
- partial correlations
 - between trauma and testimonial consequences, 109
- physiological health of witnesses, 118–19, 179, 186–89
 - before testifying and three months post-testifying, 123–27
 - coping strategies for stress during testimony, 137–38
 - impact of trauma on, 9
 - witness reporting on if believe have worsened health due to testifying, 126–28
- Poisson regression model
 - of trauma experienced, 49, 51
- political situation
 - witness satisfaction with present and future, 140, 141
- positive affect. See life satisfaction; positive emotions model; positive outlook; psychological health of witnesses
- positive emotions model
 - life satisfaction and, 136
 - motivations for testifying and, 135
 - perception of fair treatment by ICTY prosecution and, 136
- positive outlook, 135
 - education and, 147
 - human security threats and, 111, 114–15
 - as unexpected consequence of trauma, 9–10, 145–46
 - witness satisfaction with community interpersonal relations and, 147
- post-conflict societies, 103. See also civil conflicts and wars
 - post traumatic symptoms and, 121, 122
 - post-war public health and, 122, 123
 - women in, 7, 124
- post traumatic symptoms, 119–22
 - ethnicity and, 121
 - gender and, 121
 - impact of testifying and, 121
 - table of measures of from last 6 months, 119
 - trauma and, 121
- probit models, 78, 144, 168
 - on attitudes of community interpersonal relations, 145
 - for social, economic and security threats, 111
 - witness support for ICTY mandates and, 169–73
- Prosecutor v. Tadic*, 99
- psychological health of witnesses, 4, 10, 118–19, 179, 186–89
 - coping strategies for stress during testimony, 137–38
 - during witness survey interviews, 20, 21f.4.
 - impact of testifying on, 121
 - impact of testifying on healing and, 9
 - positive outlook as unexpected consequence of trauma, 9–10
 - positive and negative affect before and after testifying, 128–32
 - question of whether testifying is re-traumatizing for witnesses, 131, 133
- punishment mandate of ICTY, 35, 159–63, 176
 - belief in efficacy of testimony and, 174–75
 - experiences of human security threats and, 167–68
 - general lack of support for by ethnicity, 160f.10., 161
 - levels of importance of reasons for testifying and, 165–66
 - probit model of influence of ethnicity on witness perception on, 169–73
 - trauma and, 163–65
 - witness perceptions of their contributions to truth and justice and, 166–67
- rape. See sexual violence
- recommendations. See also research
 - to advance theory in international judicial research, 178
 - for best practices in witness security, health, and witness experiences throughout testimonial process, 3, 4, 115, 148, 178
 - for early development of witness support structures in international tribunals before, during, and after testifying, 182
 - to examine impact of testifying over duration of witness' life, 128
 - on examining economic consequences of testifying, 92
 - for further understanding on ethnicity and reporting of post-traumatic symptoms, 122
 - for future tribunals to ameliorate difficulties with frequent appearances, 137
 - for gender sensitive witness support policies, 180

- for human security threats, 185
- on including witness voices in
 - understanding of impact of international tribunals, 23
- on informing witnesses on judgments and (early) release of convicted, 191
- to investigate impact of ICTY personnel conducting witness surveys, 192
- need for future research on ethnicity and witness attitudes, 183
- need to better understand construct of fairness within testimonial process, 157
- to raise awareness on benefits of testifying, 190
- to standardize pre-testimony needs assessment, 188
- for standardized usage of post-testimony survey, 192
- to strengthen local assistance and cooperation with field offices, 185
- for testifying on sexual violence, 179, 180
- for witness support structures providing awareness of rights, 186
- for witness survey on those who took part in Mladić, Karadžić, Šešelj, and Hadžić trials, 184
- for witness well-being post-testimony, 122
- reconciliation, 38, 119, 194
 - community relations and, 88
 - education and, 143
 - human security threats and, 94, 116
 - research on in former Yugoslavia, 143–44
 - thick versus thin definitions of, 142, 143
- relationships. See also community relations
 - consequences of testimony on community relationships and, 88–91
 - consequences of testimony on intimate relationships and, 86–88
- religion
 - ethnicity and, 6
 - witness affiliations in witness survey, 26
- research. See also recommendations
 - on emotional and psychological well-being of persons post-Balkan wars, 128
 - on impact of testifying in international tribunals on psychological health, 10, 133
 - lack of on gender in transitional justice research, 7
 - need for on ethnicity and witness attitudes, 183
 - need for on support for ICTY mandates, 176
 - need to better understand components and make up of positive attitudes, 135, 147
 - need to utilize on best practices for witness safety and human security, 117
 - on perceived respect and fairness of and legitimacy of tribunals, 175
 - on positive experiences with testifying, 3
 - on positive outlook as unexpected consequence of trauma, 9–10
 - on reconciliation in former Yugoslavia, 143–44
- resilience, 22, 72–74, 82, 83, 119, 135, 194
 - defined, 72
- responsibility mandate of ICTY, 35, 159–63, 175, 176
 - belief in efficacy of testimony and, 174–75
 - experiences of human security threats and, 167–68
 - levels of importance of reasons for testifying and, 165–66
 - probit model of influence of ethnicity on witness perception on, 169–73
 - support for by ethnicity, 159–60
 - trauma and, 163–65
 - witness perceptions of their contributions to truth and justice and, 166–67
- Rwandan witnesses
 - research on motivation for testifying of, 59, 60
- Serbia, 14, 23
 - mixed ethnic marriages in, 41
- Serbs, 6, 35, 38
 - belief in ICTY unfairness towards Serbian defendants, 156
 - level of knowledge of ICTY after testimony, 55
 - level of knowledge of ICTY before testimony, 55
 - motivations to testify of, 60–61
 - on national vs. international tribunals for adjudicating war crimes, 155
 - post traumatic symptoms and, 121
 - reporting of health issues before and three months post-testifying, 126
 - support for deterrence mandate of ICTY and, 161
 - trauma experienced and reported by, 47–48
- Šešelj, Vojislav, 184

sexual violence, 5, 8, 9, 46
 ethnicity and, 8
 liability for, 5
 motivation for testifying for victims of, 59 need for research on impact of testifying, 179, 180
 Seymour, Lee JM, 7 social consequences of testifying. See also economic consequences of testifying;
 human security threats; testimony and testimonial process
 ethnicity and, 105–06
 gender and, 108
 impact on community relationships
 and, 88–91
 impact on intimate relationships
 and, 86–88
 as negatively related to satisfaction with community relations, 146
 South Africa, 142
 Southeast Europe Social Survey Project
 (SEESSP), 158
 speaking for the dead, 179
 Special Court for Sierra Leone (SCSL), 3, 58, 59, 61, 122
 Stepakoff, Shanee, 59, 123
 Stover, Eric, 2

 testimony and testimonial process. See also economic consequences of testifying;
 human security threats; social consequences of testifying; witness motivation for testifying; witness motivations for testifying (ICTY witnesses)
 belief in efficacy of testimony and perception of ICTY effectiveness, 52, 174–75
 as closure, healing and catharsis, 9, 34, 72, 73, 128
 coping strategies for stress during, 137–38 criticism and disassociation in community as consequence of, 88–91, 116 negative emotions model and frequency of testifying, 136
 partial correlations between trauma
 and, 109
 post-testimonial emotional well-being
 and, 121
 preparation process for witnesses, 53, 57 psychological health of witnesses before and after, 128–32

question of whether testifying is retraumatizing for witnesses, 131, 133 reasons for testifying, 59–60 research on positive experiences with, 3 voluntary migration after, 102–03 witness knowledge of ICTY before and after, 53–54
 witness knowledge of ICTY before and after by ethnicity, 565f3.3.
 witness knowledge of ICTY before and after by gender, 54–55
 witness perception of effectiveness of, 69–71 witness perception of effectiveness of and resilience, 72–74
 witness preparation, knowledge, and satisfaction before trial, 53–58 witness reporting on physiological health
 and, 126–28
 witness satisfaction with testimony
 and, 62–65
 witnesses with long-term impact related to, 121
 transitional justice, 72, 117 human security threats as obstacle to overcome in, 94
 lack of research on gender and, 7 need for research on witness experience
 and, 193
 question of whether testifying is cathartic or re-traumatizing on witnesses, 122, 131, 133 trauma, 181–82. See also economic consequences of testifying; human security threats; physiological health of witnesses; post traumatic symptoms;
 psychological health of witnesses;
 sexual violence; social consequences of testifying Bosniaks and, 47–51
 deprivation as, 56
 as disproportionately felt along ethnic lines and gender, 37, 49
 for ethnic minorities in their communities, 50, 115, 117
 experiences of reported in witness survey, 43–46
 human security threats and, 108–11, 112–14, 115
 ICTY witness motivation to testify and, 61, 74, 78
 knowledge of ICTY and level of, 56
 Kosovar Albanians and, 47–48, 50, 51

- level of by gender by quintiles, 46–47
- partial correlations between testimonial process and, 109
- Poisson regression model of, 49, 51
- positive outlook as unexpected consequence of, 9–10, 145–46
- post traumatic symptoms and, 121
- question of whether testifying is re-traumatizing for witnesses, 131, 133
- recollections of negative emotions after testimony and, 136
- Serbs and, 47–48
- support for ICTY mandates and, 163–65
- witness experience and, 8–10, 37
- witness satisfaction with interpersonal community relations and, 145–48
- truth mandate of ICTY, 35, 159–63, 175, 176
 - belief in efficacy of testimony and, 174–75
 - experiences of human security threats and, 167–68
 - levels of importance of reasons for testifying and, 165–66
 - perceptions of their contributions to truth and justice and, 166–67
 - probit model of influence of ethnicity on witness perception on, 169–73
 - support for by ethnicity, 159–60
 - trauma and, 163–65
- Tudjman, Franjo, 7
- unemployment rate, in former Yugoslavia, 139
- University of North Texas. See UNT
- UNT, 2, 3, 12, 13, 14, 19, 23
- victim and witness security, 117, 185
- Victims and Witnesses Section. See VWS
- voluntary migration, 102–03
- VWS, 4, 131, 192
 - assistance from as coping mechanism from stress during testimony, 137
 - Policy on Privacy and Confidentiality of, 18
 - reporting of and assistance for human security threats and, 97–98
 - testimony preparation process for witnesses, 57
 - witness survey project and, 12, 13, 14, 19, 20, 21, 23
- wars of the former Yugoslavia. See Balkan wars
- witness experience
 - ethnicity and, 5–7, 37
 - gender and, 7–8, 37
 - trauma and, 8–10, 37
- witness fatigue, 136, 187
- witness motivation for testifying, 58
 - research from Rwandan prosecution and defence witnesses, 59
 - research from Special Court for Sierra Leone (SCSL), 3, 58, 59, 61, 122
 - for victims of sexual violence, 59
- witness motivations for testifying (ICTY witnesses), 52–53, 61, 77
 - confronting the defendant and, 74–78
 - education and, 77
 - ethnicity and, 60–61, 74
 - gender and, 60, 75
 - ICTY mandates and, 165–66
 - positive emotions after testifying and, 135
 - putting the past behind oneself and, 74–78
 - reasons for testifying, 59–60
 - resilience and, 72–74
 - speaking for the dead and, 74–78
 - telling one's story and, 74–78
 - trauma and, 61, 74, 78
- witness support structures, 4, 193
 - gender and, 180
 - need for before, during, and after testifying, 182
 - for witness awareness of rights, 186
- witness survey, 29, 194
 - average age of witnesses, 24, 124
 - Bosniaks reporting of trauma in, 47–51
 - breakdown of ethnicity by gender, 38, 40f2.3.
 - cases not included in, 184
 - development of, 12–14
 - education levels and, 24
 - eligibility for inclusion in, 13
 - ethnic and religious minorities and mixed ethnic marriages in immediate family, 41f2.4.
 - ethnic identification among key ICTY nationalities, 39f2.2.
 - ethnic self-identification in, 26, 39f2.1., 183
 - experiences of trauma reported in, 43–46
 - gender ratio and representation in, 14, 25, 26f1.8., 37
 - geographic diversity in, 23–24

- witness survey (cont.)
 - ineligibility for inclusion in, 13
 - interethnic marriages and, 39–42
 - interview process and, 19–21
 - interviewee appearances as proportion of all witnesses per trial, 31*fi.*14.
 - interviewee appearances by year, 28*fi.*11.
 - interviewee trial appearances, 28*fi.*12.
 - interviewees by trial and the side for which individual testified (OTP, Defence or Chambers), 29, 30*fi.*13.
 - level of trauma experienced by gender by quintiles, 46–47
 - locations of interviews in, 19
 - number of interethnic marriage by geographic region, 41, 42
 - possible selection bias of healthy witnesses’ participation in, 22, 131, 132
 - post-interview procedures, 20–21
 - protecting the identity, security, and confidentiality of witnesses as critical in, 2, 3, 12, 14, 19, 20, 21
 - reasons for refusal to participate, 17, 22
 - recruitment process outcome, 16*fi.*2.
 - religious affiliations in, 26
 - selection effects, 22–23
 - table of witness sampling goals & interviewees surveyed, 23
 - table on witness roles and trial appearances, 29
 - typical witness ethnicity, gender and trauma level, 51
 - UNT and VWS and, 23
 - witness behaviors and emotions during interview process, 20, 21*fi.*4.
 - witness recruitment process, 14–19
- Yugoslavia, wars of the former. See Balkan wars