

INDEX

Statutes are indexed by year of issue, with names where they are commonly attached; the use of the calendar year helps to link statutes to the list of parliaments elsewhere in the index. For sessions of parliament, dates have been restricted to the year, with the months given where necessary. Dates of death are included only where there are several persons in the same family of the same name during the period covered by this volume. English place names are given with historic county, when needed.
