

Index

Locators for tables are in bold; to figures in italics.

- acculturation, 326, 334, 335, 340
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 332–334
 affordance management, 5, 41, 44–46, 54
 aggression, 194
 aversive racism, 286–287
 benevolent sexism, 362–364
 hostile sexism, 361–362
 social dominance orientation, 105, 116 Allport, G. W., 1, 19, 27, 204, 214, 229 ambivalent racism, 8–9, 275–276 ambivalent sexism theory, 9, 354, 356–357, 358
 conclusions, 372
 economic and political control, 365
 functions, 360–361
 future research directions, 370–372
 objectification theory, 364
 reducing sexism, 368
 sexual violence, 361
 sources, 357–359
 summary, 373
 anger, 54–55, 233, 235, 421–422 anti-atheist prejudice, 42, 56
 anti-gay prejudice, 42, 55
 genetics, 192
 intergroup contact, 210–211
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 9, 325–326, 328, 339–342, 421–422
 acculturation, 332–334
 right-wing authoritarianism, 330
 social dominance orientation, 330
 social identity theory, 330–331
 summary, 343
 authoritarian personality, 2, 228, 290
 aversive racism, 8–9, 271, 272, 273, 276–279
 aggression, 286–287
 future research directions, 288–291
 impact reduction, 284–285 implicit biases, 279–281, 282–283
 ingroup bias, 286
 intimate relationships, 288
 prejudice reduction, 281–282
 summary, 292
 benevolent sexism, 355, 356, 359, 373
 aggression, 362–364
 confrontation, 369–370
 economic and political control, 366–368
 objectification theory, 364–365
 sexual violence, 362–364
 big data, 4, 288
 collective action
 agents of change, 233
 behavioral changes, 233–234
 vs. prejudice reduction, 415–417
 social change, 226, 232 underlying psychology, 233 common identity, 5, 30, 272, 286 conflict resolution, 209, 212, 235, 236, 331, 427 contact valence, 7, 211–213, 214 contempt/disgust, see disgust criminal justice, see justice system cultural backlash, 422, 423 cultural diversity, 327, 334, 338–342, 422 developmental process, 75, 150, 185, 278, 390–391, 395–397
 disengagement, 409, 424
 disgust, 55, 56, 84, 194
 dual process model, 6, 144–147, 228 activation of prejudice, 164–167
 conclusions, 157, 168
 experimental research, 155–156
 future research directions, 168–169 ideological attitudes effects, 157–159, 158
 longitudinal research, 153–155 mediational effects, 161–164 motivational patterns, 159–161 personality traits, 150–152 right-wing authoritarianism scale, 147 social and psychological bases, 148–150

- dual process model (cont.)
   social dominance orientation scale, 147–148 structural equation modeling, 153
   summary, 168–170
 dyadic modeling, 24–25, 289
- economic decisions, 83
 electroencephalography, 81, 70
 empathy, 23, 111
   genetics, 194
   intergroup contact, 205
 ethnocentrism, 17, 18, 160, 161, 191 event-related brain potential (ERP), 22–23, 82 evidence-based, 424–425, 428 evolutionary psychology, 5, 40–44
   affordance management, 44–46
   coalitional stereotyping, 51
   conclusions, 57–59
   disease stereotyping, 50–51
   kinship stereotyping, 51 prejudices and discrimination, 54–57 racial stereotyping, 48–50 stereotyping, 46–47, 51–54 stereotyping by age and sex, 47–48 eye-tracking, 22
 eyewitness identification, 9, 311, 313, 314, 316
- false consciousness, 234 fear, 54–55, 116, 162, 239, 258, 276 field experiments
   aversive racism, 82–83
   intergroup contact, 82–83
   job hiring, 82–83
   prejudice reduction, 424–431
 functional Magnetic Resonance Imaging (fMRI), 23, 70, 81
- gender inequality, 356, 419–420
 generalized prejudice, 145, 191 genetics, 6–7, 182–185, 194–195, see also heritability
   aggression, 194
   anti-gay prejudice, 192
   empathy, 194
   environmental factors, 195–196
   generalized prejudice, 191
   ingroup bias, 191–192
   nature vs. nurture, 185–186
   political attitudes, 193
   quantitative behavior, 186–188
   racial attitudes, 190–191
   religion, 193–194
   right-wing authoritarianism, 192–193
   summary, 197
 Go/No-Go Association Task (GNAT), 78, 80 group status, 207, 211
- health, 239, 281, see also mental health health outcomes, 112, 386 heritability, 183, 187, 189, see also genetics social attitudes, 189, 190, 192 heterosexism, 9–10, 385, 387, 400 historical paradigms, 2, 3 homophobia, 9–10, 287, 385, 386
 hostile sexism, 355, 356, 359, 373
   aggression, 361–362
   economic and political control, 365–366
   objectification theory, 364
   sexual violence, 361–362
- identity intersectionality, 420–421
 Implicit Association Test (IAT), 70, 76–78, 77, 279–280 implicit biases, 69–72, see also implicit prejudice
   aversive racism, 279–281
   broader implications, 86–87
   justice system, 305
   reducing, 282–283
   relevance, 82
   stereotypicality, 304
   ubiquity, 73
 implicit prejudice, 5–6, 69–72 automatic and nonconscious processes, 72
   aversive racism, 279–281, 282–283
   contributory causes, 74–76
   correction methods, 283–284
   future research directions, 86–87
   measurement, 76
   measurement by GNAT, 78, 80 measurement by implicit association test, 76–78, 77 measurement by priming, 78, 79 measurement by reaction time, 76, 82–84
   neuropsychological measures, 78–82, 84–86
   summary, 89
   ubiquity, 73
   variability, 73–74
 indirect contact, 7, 205–206, 207, 214
 inequality, 2, 229, see also gender inequality;
   social inequality
 ingroup bias, 5, 17–18
   aversive racism, 286
   behavioral orientations, 23–25 controlling effects, 29–30 definition, 16
   facial recognition, 22–23
   genetics, 191–192
   intergroup attributional bias, 26–27 invisible discrimination, 27–29 justice and fairness, 25–27

- minimal group, 20
 multilevels, 21–22
 outgroup discrimination, 18–20, 419
 prejudice reduction, 417–420
 summary, 31
- intergroup conflict, 209, 212, 340, 412
 social change, 235
 unified instrumental model, 329–330
- intergroup contact, 7, 202–204
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 331, 332, 341–342 contact quantity and quality, 205 cross-group friendships, 204–205 direct vs. indirect contact, 207 effects mediation, 205
 extended contact mediation, 206–207
 indirect contact, 205–206
 majority vs. minority groups, 207–209 positive vs. negative contact, 211–213 potential benefits, 209–210 potential disbenefits, 210–211
 prejudice reduction, 417
 sexual prejudice, 391–392, 400
 social change, 235–237
 summary, 214
- intergroup threat theory, 240, 328–329, 331–332
- intimate relationships, 17, 288, 354, 359
 ambivalent sexism, 371
 benevolent sexism, 363
 hostile sexism, 362
- job hiring, 28, 82–83
- justice system
 bias, 9
 racial bias, 303, 306–308, 413, 414
 stereotypicality biases, 310–311, 316
- legitimizing myths, 6, 157, 158
- medical decisions, 83
 aversive racism, 281
- mental health, 185, 262
- minimal groups, 17–18, 20, 22, 47, 117, 206
- minority groups, 9, 87, 207–209
 intergroup contact, 210–211, 214, 417
 job hiring, 28
 racism, 284, 314, 410
 sexual, 9–10, 387, 396–397
- modern racism, 8–9, 274–275, 292, 360, 411
- multicultural ideology, 326, 335–336, 340–341
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 336–339, 340
- Muslim prejudice, 82–83, 211–213, 276–278, 287, 338
- neuropsychological measures, 4, 5–6, 78–82
- neuroscience, 22–23, 84, 286
- non-verbal behaviour, 6, 82, 207, 280–281
- oppression, 1, 102, 121
 female, 9, 419
 group-based, 102, 241
 outgroup hostility, 5, 15, 17, 105
- paternalism, 238, 354, 359, 366–368, 369, 373
- peer socialization, 9–10, 384
 sexual prejudice, 392–395, 400
- perceived discrimination, 112, 334, 338
- perceived stereotypicality, see stereotypicality biases
- political conservatism, 415
 heritability, 6, 189
- political mobilization, 7, 225
- populism, 421–424
- post-truth, 413
- prejudice-as-antipathy, 1
- prejudice reduction, 7–8, 29–30, 162, 251–252, 264
 aversive racism, 281–282
 Blue-eyed/Brown-eyed exercise, 253–255
 vs. collective action, 415–417
 conclusions, 431
 discrimination, 255–261
 identity intersectionality, 420–421
 ingroup bias, 417–420
 intergroup contact, 417
 outstanding problems, 10, 424–431 perceptions of racism, 409–411 privilege, 417–418
 social change, 226, 228–230
 stereotypicality biases, 411–415
 summary, 427
- priming designs, 78, 79
- racism, see ambivalent racism; aversive racism; modern racism; symbolic racism
- reducing prejudice, see prejudice reduction
- reducing sexism, 368, 373
 confrontation, 368–369
 decreasing endorsement, 368
- relative deprivation, 232
- religion, 193–194
- right-wing authoritarianism (RWA), 105, 145, 149, 158, 170
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 330
 genetics, 192–193
 sexual prejudice, 389–390, 393–394
- SDO, see social dominance orientation
- SDT, see social dominance theory
- self-categorization theory, 32, 117–119
- self-regulation, 113, 285
- sexism, see ambivalent sexism theory; benevolent sexism; hostile sexism; reducing sexism
- sexual identity, 10, 288, 390–391, 400

- sexual prejudice, 9–10, 384, 385, 386
 affirming attitudes, 398–399
 conclusions, 399
 contributory factors, 387–388
 gender differences, 388 identity importance, 390–391, 397–398
 longitudinal research, 395–397
 masculine ideology, 388–389
 operationalization, 387
 right-wing authoritarianism, 389–390, 393–394
 social context, 391–395
 social dominance orientation, 389–390, 393–394
 summary, 400
 sexual stigma, 385, 386–387, 400
 sexual violence, 354, 361
 social change, 7, 225–228, 241
 behavioral changes, 230–231
 collective action model, 231–234 collective action vs. prejudice reduction, 234–238, 236,
 conclusions, 238–240
 prejudice reduction, 228–230
 summary, 241
 social dominance orientation (SDO), 101, 104, 106–110, 145, 149, 158, 170
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 330 context-contingent effects, 105–111
 empathy, 111
 sexual prejudice, 389, 393–394
 social dominance theory (SDT), 6, 100–102 asymmetrical mobilization, 114–115 behavioral asymmetry, 104–105 causal status of SDO, 117–119 contemporary research, 104–105 criticisms, 117–121
 future research directions, 121–123
 hierarchy regulation, 103–104 invariance hypothesis, 119–120
 social change, 120–121
 summary, 124
 theory of gendered prejudice, 115–117 trimorphism, 102–103
 social identity theory, 330–331
 anti-immigrant prejudice, 330–331
 collective action, 232
 social change, 120
 social inequality, 262
 collective action model, 226
 dual process model, 164
 prejudice reduction, 228–230
 sexual prejudice, 394
 social dominance theory, 102 social justice, 25, 239, 262, 417
 dual process model, 234–235
 social psychology, 2, 185, 194–195, 202–204, 232, 336–339, 389, 411–415
 stereotypicality biases, 9, 229–230, 303, 304, 308–310
 conclusions, 315
 future research directions, 313–315
 justice system, 310–311, 316
 prejudice reduction, 411–415 wrongful convictions, 311, 313 symbolic racism, 8–9, 272, 274 system justification theory, 364 twin studies, 6–7, 183, 192, 197
 environmental factors, 195–196
 heritability, 182–185, 189
 political attitudes, 193
 quantitative behavior, 186–188
 racial attitudes, 190–191
 religion, 193–194
 social attitudes, 190
 social behavior, 194
 voting decisions, 5–6, 83, 193, 275, 366