

Contents

List of Figures	page vii
List of Contributors	ix
Preface	xi
Chronology, 1850–1865	xiii
Introduction	I
Teresa Zackodnik
PART I BLACK PERSONHOOD AND CITIZENSHIP IN TRANSITION
INTRODUCTION	19
Teresa Zackodnik
1 Freedom’s Accounts: The Semi-Citizenship Narrative	25
Stephen Knadler
2 Conduct Discourse, Slave Narratives, and Black Male Self-Fashioning on the Eve of the Civil War	48
Erica L. Ball
3 Picturing Black Authorship with and against Stowe’s Lens	68
Michael A. Chaney
4 African American Periodicals and the Transition to Visual Intercourse	91
Autumn Womack
PART II GENERIC TRANSITIONS AND TEXTUAL CIRCULATION
INTRODUCTION	119
Teresa Zackodnik

vi	Contents
5	Overhearing the African American Novel, 1850–1865 Hollis Robbins and Mark Sussman	123
6	Black Romanticism and the Lyric as the Medium of the Conspiracy Matt Sandler	149
7	Black Newspapers, Novels, and the Racial Geographies of Transnationalism Benjamin Fagan	171
8	Creoles of Color, Poetry, and the Periodic Press in Union-Occupied New Orleans Jennifer Gipson	191
9	The Haitian and American Revolutions and Black Historical Writing at Mid-Century Stephen G. Hall	217
PART III BLACK GEOGRAPHIES IN TRANSITION
	INTRODUCTION Teresa Zackodnik	243
10	Freedom to Move Janaka Bowman Lewis	247
11	Black Activism, Print Culture, and Literature in Canada, 1850–1865 Winfried Siemerling	271
12	Antislavery Activist Networks and Transatlantic Texts Barbara McCaskill	307
13	Haiti as Diasporic Crossroads in Transnational African American Writing Marlene L. Daut	331
	Bibliography	352
	Index	384