

Index

- a priori* knowledge, 8, 12, 70, 74, 76–77, 89
  - empirical refutation, 70–71
  - inference and, 75, 188, 190–191
  - introspection and, 159
  - prima facie* case for, 74–76, 83–90
  - reasons for belief, 188–190
  - recognition by rational intuition, 83–85
  - skeptical position, 69–74
    - web of belief, 77–80
- addiction, 104–105
- anchoring effect, 24
- animal knowledge, 9, 94–100, 149, 208
  - reflective knowledge and, 98–100
- animals
  - beliefs, 96, 100, 103, 112, 244, 255
  - lack of freedom of the will, 95, 105, 152
  - lack of normativity, 108
  - lack of rationality, 1, 15–16, 95, 243–246
  - self-knowledge, 38, 102
  - visual perception, 252–253
- See also* animal knowledge.
- armchair methods, 11–12, 156–159, 161–164, 166–173, 179
  - arguments for, 157–158
  - as proto-scientific psychology, 168
  - concept content and form, 163–164, 167–171
  - conceptual analysis and, 167
  - empirical alternatives to, 158, 164
  - empirical refutation, 167, 171–173
  - epistemic responsibility, 166–167
  - first-person perspective and, 174–179
  - inadequacy of, 159, 162–163, 166
    - concept forms and character, 163, 168
    - emotion, 164
    - memory, 162
    - testimonial response, 163
  - internalism and, 166
  - methodological limits, 173
  - physics, 179
  - skepticism and, 169
  - techniques
- formal modeling, 173
- introspection, 159–161
- Armstrong, David, 20, 202
- bats, 38, 100
- beliefs
  - animals, 95–96, 100, 103, 112, 244, 255
  - change, 96, 101–104, 192–193
    - rational, 79, 100–104
    - reason-responsiveness, 111
  - Descartes on, 18
  - fixation, 57, 151, 195, 199–200, 258
    - reason-giving and, 56–57
    - reflection as epiphenomenal, 151, 196
  - formation, 142, 161, 246
    - deliberation and, 148, 151
    - empirical study, 137, 194
    - first-order (precognitive) processes, 97, 140, 144, 161, 166
  - introspection and, 10, 24, 27, 29–31, 160–161
    - mental states and, 34
    - personal character and, 36
    - rationalization and, 53
    - reason-giving as epiphenomenal, 56–57, 255
    - reflective knowledge and, 96–98
    - subconscious factors, 142
    - third-person perspective, 137
  - implicit vs intentional, 243–245
  - philosophical
    - epistemic justification, 129
    - reflection on, 141
  - second-order
    - relation to first-order belief, 102–103
  - See also* justification; reason-giving; reasons for belief.
  - Boghossian, Paul, 244–245, 248, 251
  - BonJour, Laurence
    - intellectual integrity, 69
    - on a priori knowledge

Index

263

- argument in favor of, 8, 69, 74–76, 83–90
- empiricism leads to skepticism, 80–83
- Quine's web of belief, 76–80
- on externalism, 75, 86–87, 208
- on induction, 90–93
- on justification of belief
  - a priori* knowledge, 71, 75
  - coherentist account, 21–22, 24, 29
  - internalism, 138, 165–166, 174–176
- rationalism, 70, 72, 82
- Burge, Tyler, 245, 248
- Cartesian epistemology, 2–3, 6, 9–10, 20
  - impatient, 19–22
- See also* coherentism; foundationalism.
- Chisholm, Roderick, 21, 204
  - anti-skepticism, 210–212
  - evidential principles, 62, 205
  - on introspection, 160
  - on justification, 21, 23–24, 29, 204–205, 209
- Christensen, David, 206
- cognitive distortions, 5, 36, 38, 44, 63, 153–154
  - anchoring effect, 24
  - position effect, 22–24, 30
  - rationalization and, 52–53, 60–61
  - self-understanding and, 36–38
- cognitive psychology, 158 See psychological research.
- coherentism, 3, 21–22, 25, 75
- color perception, 42–44
- concepts, 163–164, 168
  - alignment of philosophical and psychological term, 168–170
  - armchair methods, 163–164, 167–171
- confabulation, 4, 143–144, 150, 161, 256–257
- confirmation bias, 27–28, 143
- connectionist, 260
- Credulity, Principle of, 62
- decision-making, 60, 149, 151–153, 255–257, 259–261
  - deliberation, 2–3, 16, 148–150, 153, 244
    - belief formation and, 16, 148–149, 151, 244
    - decision-making and, 151, 153
    - doxastic, 194–196
    - empirical research, 10–11, 150
    - first-person perspective, 11, 148, 151, 248, 252, 254
    - argument-sketches, 254–257
    - decision-making and, 148, 151
    - inaccuracy, 150, 252–254
    - incompleteness, 10, 150, 248–252
    - rationality and, 16, 194, 244–246, 252, 261
    - unreflective belief-formation and, 260–261
  - See also* decision-making; reflection.
- delusions of grandeur, 222
- Dennett, Daniel, 30
- Descartes, René
  - belief formation, 18–19
  - epistemological method, 18, 137, 178
  - internal-external distinction, 175
  - on introspection, 18, 160
    - transparency of mental states to, 20, 29, 32, 160, 178
  - on reflection, 144
  - privileged view of truths of reason, 6
  - realism on mental states, 32–33
  - rejection of false belief, 19
- desires, 105–108
  - Frankfurt's account, 104–107
  - second-order, 95, 105, 107
- disagreement, 55, 113, 132–134, 157
  - actual and possible, 118–121, 123
  - aesthetic, 124–125
  - cases of better judgment, 114
  - mathematical, 116–117, 119, 125–126, 130–132
  - moral and political, 130–132
  - Newcomb Problem, 122–124
  - perceptual, 115–116
  - philosophy, 114–117, 122, 127, 133–134
  - simple cases, 113
- discriminatory capacity, 40, 42–43
- Doğramacı, Sinan, 139–140, 145–148
- donor conception, 221, 229, 234–235, 239–241
  - morality of, 239–242
- doxastic deliberation, 194–195
  - phenomenological account, 194–196
- doxastic justification, 14, 201–204, 206–207, 211–212, 219
  - propositional justification in terms of, 204, 220
  - reliabilist account, 204
- Elga, Adam, 117, 130–133
- eliminationism, 14, 170, 183, 191, 259
  - reasons, 185
- empirical research, 77 See psychological research.
- empiricism, 69–74
  - skepticism and, 80–83
  - web of belief metaphor, 76–80
- epiphenomenal, 11, 56, 151, 216, 253–255
- evolutionary biology, 224
- experience, subjectivity of, 35–38
- experimental philosophy, 159
- experimental psychology, 24–25
- externalism
  - a priori* knowledge and, 75
  - belief acquisition, 147
  - BonJour and, 75, 86–87

- externalism (cont.)
  - coherentism, 22
  - defined, 20
  - first-person perspective and, 138–140, 145
  - internalism and, 17
  - internalism-externalism debate, 114–117, 120, 122, 127–128, 133–134
  - introspection and, 146
  - justification of belief under, 20–21, 145–148, 174, 208
- family history, 222–228
  - donor conception and, 221, 229, 234–235, 239–242
  - selectivity and inaccuracy, 226
  - value of, 228–239
- fashion, 124–125
- Feldman, Richard, 115, 117, 156–157, 175, 203
- feminism, 6, 49, 53, 66–67
- first-person perspective, 11
  - deliberation and, 11, 148–153, 248–252, 254
  - argument-sketches, 254–257
  - decision making, 148, 151
  - incompleteness, 141, 248–252
  - experimental psychology, 140–141
  - externalism and, 174
    - belief justification, 145–148
  - inference and, 145
  - limitations, 154–155
    - inaccuracy, 141, 195, 252–254
    - incompleteness, 141, 248–252
  - naturalism and, 136
  - primacy of, 136–138, 140, 145, 175, 177
    - arguments for, 145, 148
    - belief formation and, 140
  - reflection and, 154–155, 176, 179
  - self-knowledge, 38–39
    - advantages, 41
    - mental state access from, 40–41, 141, 176–177
  - third-person perspective and, 41
- Firth, Roderick, 202–204
- Fodor, Jerry, 257–259
- Foley, Richard, 138–139, 174–177
- formal modeling, 173
- foundationalism, 21, 25, 75, 160, 187
- Frankfurt, Harry, 9, 95, 104–107, 152–153
- freedom
  - of action, 104
  - of the will, 9, 94, 104–105, 152
- Frege, Gottlob, 203
- Gettier, Ed, 167, 248–249
- Gödel, Kurt, 125
- Goldman, Alvin, 156, 202, 210
- anti-skepticism, 210
- on armchair investigation, 168
- on justification, 202–204, 207–208, 219–220
- Hampshire, Stuart, 155
- Harman, Gilbert, 191–192, 248–250, 252–254
- Harris, Robin, 242
- Harris-Kornblith, Annie, 242
- Haslanger, Sally, 240
- Haug, Matthew, 180
- Horowitz, Sophie, 147
- hypothesis testing, 27
- induction, 90–93, 213, 216
- inference
  - a priori* knowledge and, 75, 188, 190–191
  - deductive, 190
  - empiricism and, 48, 75
  - experimental psychology and, 81, 164, 212–214
- first-person perspective and, 145, 150
- holistic principles, 192–193
- inductive, 90–93, 213, 216
- introspection and, 23–24, 30
- reasons for belief and, 185, 190–191, 196
- reliability, 4
- skepticism about, 48
- internalism
  - a priori* knowledge and, 75
  - empirical evidence against, 166
  - epistemological priority, 175–179
  - externalism and, 17, 165
  - first-person perspective and, 138, 145
  - internalist-externalist debate, 114–117, 120, 122, 127–129
  - introspection and, 165
    - fallibility of, 22–26
    - unreliability of, 26–29
  - justification, 20–21, 75, 115, 138
  - justification of belief, 21–22
  - propositional justification and, 208
  - See also* armchair methods; first-person perspective; introspection.
- introspection, 4–6, 17–29, 44–48, 159–167, 255–257
  - a priori* knowledge and, 84
  - belief acquisition and, 29–31
  - Descartes on, 18–20, 29, 32, 160
  - emotion, 164
  - externalism and, 20
  - incompleteness and inaccuracy of, 84
  - internalist account, 21–22
    - empirical fallibility of introspection, 22–26
    - unreliability of introspection, 26–29
  - negative role, 19–20

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-49851-7 — Second Thoughts and the Epistemological Enterprise

Hilary Kornblith

Index

More InformationIndex

265

- perception and, 25 positive role, 18–19
 skeptical position
     distinguished from perceptual and inferential skepticism, 48
 transparency of mental states to, 32
See also armchair methods; first-person perspective; internalism; reflection.
- Johnson-Laird, Philip, 212, 260
 justification, 20–21, 71, 78, 82, 139–140, 145–147, 169–171, 182–183, 217–220
a priori, 70, 75, 80, 86, 188, 190
 Descartes on, 19
 externalist accounts, 20–21, 145–148, 174, 208 meta-justification and, 88–90
 reliabilism, 29, 183–184
See also doxastic justification; externalism; internalism; propositional justification.
- Kahneman, Daniel, 24, 67, 81, 212
 Kelly, Thomas, 118–124, 127, 130
 Korsgaard, Christine, 9, 95, 108–110, 152–153
 Kunda, Ziva, 141–142
- logocentrism, 54
- Marxism, 66
- memory, 150, 162, 170–171, 195
- mental models, 260
- mental states, 4–6, 32–35, 39–47, 108, 175–177 beliefs about distorted, 4–5
     first vs third-person perspective, 40–42
     internalist accounts
         justification of belief, 176
     introspective access to, 2, 4, 177–178 introspective knowledge of inaccuracy of introspection, 25
         opacity of, 29–31
         skepticism of, 43–48
     objective character, 33
- mental taking, 251
- Modus Ponens, 190–192
- motivations for action, 34, 52, 60, 64, 66, 240
- Nagel, Thomas, 33–35, 50, 233
 narrative understandings, 235–238
- Newcomb Problem, 122–124
- normativity, 9, 95, 108, 111, 194
- Nozick, Robert, 122
- Orenstein, Alex, 77
- paranoid personality disorder, 4–5
 perception
     animal knowledge and, 96
     beliefs acquired via, 30, 96, 116, 187–189, 255
     color blindness, 42–44
     disagreements, 115–116
     error, 252–253
 perspective, 257
 philosophy
     as armchair discipline, 157 disagreement in, 114–117
     experimental, 158
     rationalization in, 62–64
 plausibility, 55
 position effect, 22–24, 30
 propositional justification, 14, 170, 201–211, 216–220 apsychological, 210, 215–216
     justification as non-necessary epistemic condition, 217–219
     skepticism and, 217
 background knowledge, 215–216
 experimental psychology and, 212–215
 G, 207
     notion of, 207–210, 217
 proprioception, 186–187
 psychological research, 159
     anchoring effect, 24
     concepts (as term of art), 168–170 on belief formation, 137, 194 on first-person perspective, 140–141
     on introspection, 12, 22–26, 163, 165–167, 171–173
     on reasons for belief, 198–199
     position effect, 22–24, 30
     propositional justification and, 212–215
- Quine, Willard Van Orman
     BonJour on, 76–80
     epistemological methodology, 80–81
     skepticism and, 61, 80–83
     web of belief metaphor, 77–80
- rational argument
     plausibility appeals, 55
     skepticism toward, 53–57
         self-contradiction of, 57–61
- rational intuition, 84
     distinguished from belief, 84–85
- rational option, 124
- rationalism, 69–70, 72, 74, 82, 87
     moderate, 69, 72, 74, 82
     radical, 87
- rationality, 68, 258

- rationality (cont.)
  - as uniquely human faculty, 243
  - belief change, 79, 100–104
  - first person perspective and
    - deliberation, 248–252
  - first-person concept and, 245–246, 252–254
  - models
    - connectionist, 259–260
    - language of thought (Fodor), 257–259
    - mental models approach, 260
    - phenomenology of deliberation, 246–248
  - rationalization, 50–59, 61–68, 162
    - cognitive distortions and, 52–53, 60–61
    - in philosophy, 62–64
    - motivations for, 52, 64
      - concentration on as distraction from argumentative merit, 64–66
      - heterogeneity of, 66
      - vested interests as, 66–68
    - sincere, 53, 59, 62
  - reason-giving, 49–50, 52–54, 56–63, 67
    - belief fixation and, 56–57
    - psychological research, 198–199
    - rationalization and, 50–59
    - skeptical position
      - consequences, 62–68
      - motivation analysis, 64–66
    - skepticism toward
      - as self-contradictory, 57–61
      - rationality of, 53–57
  - See also* rationalization.
  - reasons for belief
    - a priori* knowledge and, inferential principles, 190–191
    - causal relationship between, 197
    - commonsense distinctions, 181–182
    - distinct from causes of belief, 181, 193–197
    - empirical psychology, 198–199
    - epistemological role, 181–184
    - inferential principles
      - holism, 192–193
    - perception and, 187–190
    - reasons for belief, 13, 26, 194, 201
    - See also* belief; justification; reason-giving.
  - reflection, 8–16, 142–144, 154–155, 174–179, 195–197
    - animal and reflective knowledge, 95–100
    - belief change and, 100–104
    - belief content and, 9, 94–95, 100–101, 110–111, 152–153, 197
    - belief formation and, 97–99, 142–144
    - freedom of the will and, 104–108
  - normativity and, 108–111
  - reflective knowledge, 9, 94–97, 99
    - animal knowledge and, 98–100
    - belief acquisition and, 96–98
  - Reichenbach, Hans, 91
  - Reid, Thomas, 62
  - relativity theory, 70
  - reliabilism, 20, 86, 183–184, 191, 193, 202
  - science, 80–83
  - scientia, 3
  - self-conception, 221
    - family history and, 222–228
    - value of, 228–239
    - narrative and causal understanding, 235–238
    - personality and, 238–239
    - views on one's own capacities, 222–223, 228
  - self-knowledge, 149
    - animals, 38, 102
    - cognitive distortions and, 36–38
    - epistemic privilege of first-person perspective, 38–42
    - family history and, 223, 226, 228–229, 238
    - introspection and, 35–38, 42, 46
    - skepticism about, 5, 32, 42, 44
  - Sellars, Wilfrid, 182, 186–187
  - Shoemaker, Sydney, 33, 94, 100–104
  - social psychology, 12 See psychological research.
  - Sosa, Ernest, 9, 95–96, 149, 177, 208, 243–244
    - animal and reflective knowledge, 94–100
    - responsibilism, 243–244
  - Stich, Stephen, 124
  - Sulloway, Frank, 67
  - third-person perspective, 137
  - Turri, John, 201
  - Velleman, David
    - adoption and, 229–230
    - child-rearing, 233–234
    - donor conception, 221, 234–235, 239–242
    - family lore, 226, 228–229
    - narrative understandings, 235–238
    - relatives as role models, 231
    - self-knowledge, 226, 238–239
  - virtue-reliabilism, 99
  - volitions, 105 See desires.
  - wanton, 104–107
  - Wason, Peter, 27
  - Williamson, Timothy, 12, 157, 172–173, 180