

Index

- absolute idealism, 74, 79, 84, 97 activism (social and political) and despair, 172
   and James, 23, 32–33, 191–193
   and the state, 169
   and the strenuous mood, 33, 202 democratic individualism as, 11, 168, 224 of public intellectuals and educators, 24, 192 religion as motivation for, 3, 11, 18, 96, 196–197, 206, 214–217 without religion, 197, 214–217 Addams, Jane, 109, 123
 African Americans, 33–35, 38, 187–188, 208 agency and fatalism, 194
   and gender, 163
   and God, 206–207
   and meliorism, 168
   and religion, 196–197
   and the strenuous mood, 11
   as undermined by pessimism and optimism, 10, 157 in democratic individualism, 182, 195, 221, 224 limits of, 47
   secular motivation for, 222–223
 Aikin, Scott F., 114–116
 Albrecht, James M., 17, 41, 42 anarchism
   and James's politics, 24–25
   James's views on, 11, 75, 138, 213
 Anderson, Elizabeth, 17, 99
 Andolsen, Barbara Hilbert, 201–202, 203 answerability, 49
 anti-imperialism. See also the Philippines
   and James's politics, 31–32, 192
   and sensitivity to strangers, 142 of mugwumps, 28
 Anti-Imperialist League, 32 anti-imperialist movement, 32 anti-institutionalism, 28, 41, 42 associationism, 65–69
 authoritarianism
   and epistemic authority, 45, 105, 126
   and morality, 98
   in contemporary politics, 218, 219 in religion, 8, 11, 13, 14, 126 in social movements, 172 of heroes, 175
 Baier, Annette, 100
 Baker, Ella, 189–190
 Baldwin, James, 160
 Beisner, Robert L., 31
 Bellah, Robert N., 26–28
 Bentham, Jeremy, 68
 block-universe, 32, 95
 Brown, Wendy, 18, 44, 46, 134–135, 136, 161–166, 168–171, 215
 Bushnell, Horace, 36–38
 Butler, Judith, 136, 151
 Calkins, Mary Whiton, 36
 Calvinism, 156
 Campbell, James, 23
 Carlyle, Thomas, 175–177, 186, 187, 190
 Carrette, Jeremy R., 24–27, 156 casuistic scale, 71, 74, 78, 79, 89, 95 Cicero, Marcus Tullius, 27 citizens and leaders, 189
   and social change, 173–178 commitment to efficacy for, 48 cultivation of democratic habits in, 4, 27 education of, 183–184 liberal conception of, 162
 civic virtues, 4, 27, 40, 141, 145, 174, 224 civil religion, 26–28
 civil rights movement, 187
 Civil War, 1, 26, 34, 35, 178
 Clifford, William Kingdon, 113 coherence (epistemic), 7, 14, 49, 53, 54–55, 106, 107

- Coles, Romand, 135, 136, 151 collective responsibility, 8 for truth, 50–62
   responsibilization as denial of, 46
 colonialism, 98
 common sense, 14, 50, 125, 205, 210 communion, 210–211
 communitarianism
   and anarchism, 24
   and James's politics, 25–27
 conformity
   as evil, 7, 8, 168, 224
   as humans' default state, 4 as opposed to responsibility, 45, 171, 174 institutional, 4 political, ix, 1, 4, 169, 170
   religious, 14
 Connolly, William E., 38–41, 135, 136, 151 conversion, 212–213
 Coon, Deborah T., 24–26 corruption, 1, 4, 21, 28, 218 Cotkin, George, 24, 31
 creativity
   as a political ideal, 41, 128, 129, 183
   in James's moral theory, 94
 Darwall, Stephen L., 17, 99–100 Darwinism, 75, 82, 94, 109, 177–178 demand satisfaction, 71, 77–80, 82–83, 84, 87, 98–100, 138–139 as the essence of goodness, 87 demands, 69–70, 103, 138–139, 141–143 versus desires, 77–78, 80, 83, 98–99 democracy
   and pluralism, 9
   and radical democratic theory, 30–31
   and the state, 165
   as “still upon its trial” (James), 21, 224 as an “American religion” (James), 26 in the U.S. (nineteenth century), 1 in the U.S. (contemporary), 21, 135, 218–219, 223 outside the state, 165
 democratic individualism and James's moral theory, 103
   cultivation of, 174
   overview of, 41–43
   tenets of, 5
 desire satisfaction, 77–78, 79–80, 83, 86 determinism, 28, 32, 38
 Dewey, John, 42, 54, 109, 123, 205–208 difference
   agonistic respect for, 40, 151 as a negative value (liberalism), 18, 134, 136 as a positive value (James), 2, 3, 18, 132, 137, 150, 159, 168, 181 between individuals as “very little” but “very important”, 5, 42, 166 dignity, 6, 62, 108
 “Dilemma of Determinism” (James), 95, 97 divinity. See also God in James's definition of religion, 12 universal consciousness and the “divine mind”, 79 docility, 1, 3, 4, 8, 168, 169 dogmatism, 123
 domination, 27
 Douglass, Frederick, 160
 Du Bois, W.E.B., 34–35 economic inequality, 1, 94, 157, 218 ecstasy, 147, 148, 151
 educational institutions, 24
   and meliorism, 156
   and the cultivation of democratic individualism, 174, 179–184, 185, 223–224 sexism in, 35, 189
 Edwards, Erica R., 187–188, 189 efficacy, 47–48
 egoism, 5, 9
 Eliot, George, 156
 elites, 1, 45, 142, 187, 188, 218
 Emerson, Ralph Waldo, 42, 150, 160, 171, 175, 176–177, 182, 186 Enlightenment, 109
 epistemic authority, 6–7, 13, 105, 108, 126
 epistemology and collective responsibility, 8
   and individual responsibility, 108 and objectivity, 8
   and ordinary truths, 49, 50 and religious belief, 121, 123 and scientific inquiry, 50 and socialization, 106
   epistemic authority, 6–7
   James's theory of truth, 50–52, 54–57, 59–62 knowledge as inherited, 5 verification and verifiability in, 55–57, 59–60 ethical republic, 70, 110, 121, 142 evidentialism, 113, 117, 121 evil, 76, 208
 evolution, 65–67, 93
 excellence, 182–184
 fallibilism, 40, 72, 98, 123, 128, 141 femininity, 36, 98, 105 feminism
   and James, 36–38
   critique of individualism, 153–154, 162–166

234

Ferguson, Kennan, 38–41
 Fisher, Philip, 150
 Flathman, Richard E., 41–42
 Franzese, Sergio, 96
 free will, 28, 42, 157
 freedom, 13, 16, 41, 51, 68, 71, 92, 94, 131, 133, 153, 157, 158, 160, 162, 166, 171, 219

Gale, Richard M., 76–78, 203
 Garrison, George R., 23, 32–35, 155, 191 gender and inequality in James's work, 74, 110, 166, 203 in particular notions of individualism, 105, 154, 162–166 in the valorization of self-sacrifice, 201 in U.S. political culture, 218 in universalistic moral theories, 98 gilded age, 1, 23
 Glaude, Jr., Eddie S., 187, 189, 194, 208
 God, 8, 63, 64, 70. See also divinity and moral objectivity, 65, 95–97
   and the strenuous mood, 96 critical scrutiny of, 124–125 in civil religion, 26
   in James's moral theory, 64, 74, 76, 89, 121
   in James's humanistic religion, 204–209
 Grant, Ulysses S., 178
 “Great Men and Their Environment” (James), 18, 174, 177–179, 183, 185, 193 great men, 173–178
   and impersonal social forces, 193–195
 Greatest Happiness Principle, 68. See also utilitarianism Green, Thomas Hill, 68, 79–84, 86, 96, 97, 138 happiness, 11, 68, 71, 77, 79, 83, 85–87, 100, 112, 199, 200 Harvard University, 1, 34, 36, 179, 181 hero worship, 175, 176, 186–187, 194 heroes, 173–178

 heroism, 185
 higher education. See educational institutions Hudson, William Henry, 150 human flourishing, 120, 123, 127, 131, 205, 219, 220, 222 ideals, 71–74, 76, 78–79, 81, 82, 88–89, 91, 97, 103, 125, 128, 129–130, 132, 137–139, 142, 143, 146, 158–159, 183, 185, 186, 194, 199, 202, 206, 216, 220, 221–222 Ignatius of Loyola, 211 imperialism. See also anti-imperialism tolerance as ideological justification for, 135

   U.S. in the Philippines (1899–1902), 1, 9, 31

Index

“Importance of Individuals” (James), 166, 174, 177
 individual responsibility
   and religion, 13–14, 201
   for moral conduct, 126–129 for ordinary beliefs, 104–108 for religious and moral beliefs, 108–113 for religious conduct, 130–131 in contemporary political discourse (right-wing), 44–45, 104, 219 resources (material, economic, educational) required for, 5, 10, 45, 46, 104, 129 individualism
   and communitarianism, 25
   and James's politics, 41–43
   and pluralism, 2
   as antithetical to collective social change, 154, 173 as pluralism, 132
   as sexist and classist ideology, 153–154, 162–166 critiques of James's, 33
   definition of, 3
   gender stereotypes in particular notions of, 105 in James's philosophy, 2, 172 right-wing versus democratic, 220 social-justice criticisms of, 153–154 versus self-sufficiency, atomism, egoism, libertarianism, 5 institutions. See also educational institutions, religious institutions, political institutions “good systems” as “individualistic”, 23, 174, 179, 223
   and anarchism, 24
   and epistemic authority, 126
   and social change, 154–156
 intellectual consistency. See coherence (epistemic) intellectual nature, 117
 intuitionism, 65
 Iraq War, 135
 “Is Life Worth Living?” (James), 110, 111, 216, 221

James, Alice Howe Gibbens, 37
 James, William. See also specific works
   and anarchism, 24–25
   and anti-imperialism, 31–32 and civic republicanism, 27
   and communitarianism, 25–27
   and feminism, 36–38
   and individualism, 41–43
   and liberalism, 28–30, 40
   and pluralism, 38–41
   and quietism, 22–24, 41
   and radical democratic theory, 30
   and reform, 23, 32–38

- and republicanism, 27–28
 and utilitarianism, 64, 76–87
 and voluntarism, 31, 42 apolitical readings of, ix, 12, 22, 23, 126, 224 as a mugwump, 27, 32
 as activist, public intellectual, educator, 20–21, 24, 32–33 as both liberal and republican, 30 career and influence of, 1 depression and suicidal ideation of, 110 elitism of, 184–186
 gender stereotypes used by, 35, 110, 203 lifestyle of, 33
 moral theory of, 63–64, 98–99, 103 nation- and state-mindedness of, 25 on African Americans, 33–35
 on liberty and law, 30
 on the U.S. in the Philippines, 1, 9 on women, 33, 166
 personal writings (correspondence and notes) of, 7, 9, 19–21, 24, 25, 28, 32, 33, 35, 37, 65, 82, 83, 85, 86, 87, 93, 155, 173, 179, 181, 192, 193 philosophy of language of, 52–54, 58–59, 61 philosophy of religion of, 2–3, 7, 120–121, 126, 130–131, 197–204 politicization of, 24 silence on Native Americans, 34, 38 theory of meaning, 52–54, 61–62 theory of truth, 50–52, 54–57, 59–62
 Janet, Pierre, 212
 Jantzen, Grace M., 12, 15, 23
 Jefferies, Richard, 150
 Jefferson, Thomas, 27
 Johnston, Mark, 56
 judicial torture, 91
- Kant, Immanuel, 105
 Kateb, George, 27, 159–161, 170–172
 Kittelstrom, Amy, 28
 Kloppenberg, James T., 23
 Koopman, Colin, 17, 41
- leadership, 173–178, 183–184, 185, 186–191, 193, 194
- liberalism
   and James's politics, 28–30, 40
   and pluralism, 40
   and republicanism, 28–30
   concept of tolerance in, 133
   on liberty and law, 29–30, 161 varieties of, 30
 libertarianism, 2, 5, 30, 46, 158 liberty, 27–32
 lifestyle liberals, 173, 188, 191
 Lindbeck, George A., 125
- linguistics
   James's philosophy of language, 52–54, 58–59, 61
   James's theory of meaning, 52–54, 61–62 listening, 8, 18, 40, 135, 152, 170 Livingston, Alexander, 31
- Machiavelli, Niccolò, 27
 MacIntyre, Alasdair, 17, 26, 101–102
 MacKaye, James Medberry, 85–86
 Madden, Edward H., 23, 32–35, 155, 191
 Madison, James, 27
 Malachuk, Daniel S., 27
 Marx, Karl, 222
 masculinity, 98, 105, 189
 mass democracy, 21, 48, 172
Meaning of Truth (James), 50, 51 meliorism
   and religion, 12, 201
   and the supernatural, 205–206 as pragmatism's social commitment, 156–161
   as tenet of democratic individualism, 9–10, 221
   definition of, 155
   versus optimism and pessimism, 10, 157, 172, 205, 207
- methodology
   approach to James's texts, public and personal, 19–21 historical and rational reconstruction, 19 Mill, John Stuart, 35–38, 68, 85, 133–134, 178, 193 Miller, Joshua, 30–31, 36–37
 monism, 28, 157
 “Moral Equivalent of War” (James), 25, 157, 169, 191 moral holiday, 202–203
 moral inquiry, 101
 moral objectivity, 65, 71, 73, 100 in the Historical Account, 88–94 in the Theological Account, 95–97 universalistic (religious, metaphysical, or anthropological) accounts of, 101 “Moral Philosopher and the Moral Life” (James), 10–11, 17–18, 63–65, 76, 79, 83, 87, 88, 96–97, 110, 142, 157, 194, 196, 198, 199
   overview of, 65–76
 moral philosopher, 73, 74, 88, 95–97, 101 moral psychology, 65–69 morality
   adjudication of competing demands in (the “casuistic” question), 70–76 and gender stereotypes, 98 nineteenth-century intellectual debates on, 64, 65, 68
   and pluralism, 67
   and the problem of relativism, 70–71
   and the strenuous mood, 10–11

- morality (cont.)
 and universalistic ideologies, 98 as personal, social, and political, 74–75 biological accounts of, 90 environmental and animal ethics, 70, 98 ethics compared to physics, 71, 79 evolutionary biology of the brain and moral progress, 66, 67 goods and demands in, 75 human responsibility for, 63–64, 65 individual responsibility for, 129 legitimacy of (the “metaphysical question”), 69–70 nihilistic threat to (from naturalism and secular philosophy), 108–113 obligations and claims in, 100 psychological origins of (the “psychological question”), 65–69 relationship between goods, 81 religious, metaphysical, anthropological theories of, 97–98 secular account of, 121
 the Historical Account in James’s moral theory, 72–74
 the right to believe in, 119
 the Theological Account of James’s moral theory, 74 theological, metaphysical, scientific accounts of, 63–64, 93, 119
- motivation, 10
 in moral and political action, 75 religious experience as, 209–213
- mugwumps, 27, 32
 Mumford, Lewis, 23
 Myers, Frederic, 212
 mysticism, 15, 147–152, 211–212, 223
- Native Americans, 34, 38, 218 naturalism, 109–113
 Neel, Alice, 223
 neoliberalism, 44, 223
 neurobiology, 66
 Nietzsche, Friedrich, 42, 199
 nihilism, 109–113, 222
 non-complicity, 160
 non-domination, 27, 28, 32, 94, 142
 Nussbaum, Martha C., 18, 163–166, 169
- “On a Certain Blindness in Human Beings” (James), 6, 9, 15, 18, 144, 148, 211 optimism, 10, 111, 157, 172, 205, 207
 Otto, M.C., 23, 154
- partisanship, 28
 Pascal, Blaise, 119
- passional nature. See willing nature Peirce, Charles Sanders, 35, 109, 126
 Peirce, Zina, 35
 perfectionism, 86, 127, 129
 Perry, Ralph Barton, 28, 31–33 pessimism, 10, 157, 172, 205
 Pettit, Philip, 29–30
 “Philippine Tangle” (James), 192
 “Ph.D. Octopus” (James), 185
- pluralism, 9
 and individualism, 2
 and James’s moral theory, 67, 71, 87, 103
 and James’s politics, 38–41
 and the politics of exchange and negotiation, 136–140 and the problem of tolerance, 132 as individualism, 132
 overview/types of, 38–41
Pluralistic Universe (James), 25, 97
- political institutions and the cultivation of agency, 182 James’s endorsements of, 25 of mass democracy, 172
 the state, 6, 161–162, 163, 165, 169–170
- political virtues. See civic virtues
- poverty, 1, 157
 as evil, 4
 “Powers of Men” (James), 36
- pragmatism, 8, 41
 and utilitarianism, 85
 as a theory of meaning (James), 52 critique of, 23
 fallibilism as central feature of, 40, 123 meliorism as social commitment of, 156–161
Pragmatism (James), 50, 54, 85, 106, 108, 124, 157, 203, 205, 206, 208, 221
Principles of Psychology (James), 17, 36, 73, 129, 167–168, 179
- progress
 moral, 67, 128, 129
 social, 137, 141, 157, 158, 184
- Protestantism, 130
- public intellectuals, 4, 18, 20–21, 24, 33, 193
 and meliorism, 156
 as heroes and leaders, 174
- quietism
 and James’s politics, 22–24, 41
- race and inequality. See also African Americans economics of, 45
 in U.S. political culture, 218 lynching, 1, 25, 33, 34, 209 status of African Americans, 35 white supremacy, 1, 82

- Ransby, Barbara, 189–190
 Rawls, John, 167
 reason, 72
   as an intellectual virtue, 224 as basis for certain moral theories, 98 as stereotypically masculine ideal, 98 as test for religious belief, 124, 139–140
   in adjudication of moral conflict, 73, 93, 99–100, 101–102, 140–141 receptivity, 9, 135, 148, 203, 212, 223 reform, 23, 32–38
 relativism, 90–91
   and James's moral theory, 71
 religion
   and epistemic authority, 13
   and fallibilism, 12
   and individual responsibility, 13–14, 130–131
   and meliorism, 12
   and moral and political agency, 196–197
   and the strenuous mood, 10–11
   as motivational resource, 11, 209–213 as response to nihilism, 113, 222
   as tenet of democratic individualism, 10–12, 221–222
   critical scrutiny required of, 124–125 evidentialist challenge to, 113 James's humanistic understanding of, 204–209
   James's philosophy of, 2–3, 120–121, 126
   the right to believe in, 120, 123
 religious institutions, 7, 13, 126, 130 Renouvier, Charles, 28
 republicanism
   and James's politics, 27–28
   and liberalism, 28–30
   on liberty and law, 27, 29–30
   on non-domination, 94, 142 responsibility. See also collective responsibility;
   individual responsibility
   as tenet of democratic individualism, 5–8 efficacious aspects of, 47
   for morality, 63–64, 65
   in James's moral theory, 103 responsabilization, 44, 46, 215 right to believe, the, 113–126 criteria for (liveness, forcedness, momentousness), 114–117
   in truth, morality, social trust, religion, 118–120, 122
 Robert Gould Shaw oration (James), 25–28, 34, 169, 186, 191
 Rorty, Richard, 19, 140
 Royce, Josiah, 74, 83–84, 96, 97
 Ruskin, John, 112
 Said, Edward W., 190
 saintliness, 13, 129, 130, 205, 213
 Salcedo, Doris, 223
 Sandel, Michael J., 161, 167
 Santayana, George, 28
 Schiller, F.C.S., 54
 Schopenhauer, Arthur, 199 scientific method, 50, 109, 119 second-personal authority, 99 secular philosophy, 109–113 Seigfried, Charlene Haddock, 36–37 self, the
   as epistemic authority, 6–7 material, 167
   social, 168
   sociality of, 5, 166–168
   spiritual, 168
 self-sacrifice, 75, 201–202, 203 self-sufficiency, 4, 5, 18, 105, 135, 155 sensitivity to strangers as a transformative experience, 147–152, 223
   as tenet of democratic individualism, 8–9 “Sentiment of Rationality” (James), 82, 119
 Shakespeare, William, 175, 176, 178
 Shaw, Robert Gould, 26, 34, 194. See also Robert Gould Shaw oration (James)
 Sidgwick, Henry, 68
 Slater, Michael R., 76–78
 slavery, 34, 75, 78, 218 social change
   heroes, citizens, and narrative in, 173–178 “Social Value of the College Bred” (James), 18, 174, 179, 182, 184–186
 socialism, 11, 75, 94, 129, 158, 213, 220 sociality, 5, 18, 41, 42
 socialization, 5, 42, 72, 167
 Socrates, 128
 Spencer, Herbert, 68, 93, 175, 177–178 spirit of corporate dominion, 13, 126 spirit of dogmatic dominion, 13, 126 “Stanford's Ideal Destiny” (James), 179, 180 state violence, 218
 Stout, Jeffrey, 173, 188, 191 strenuous life, 127
 strenuous mood, 10–11, 33, 42, 76, 96, 115, 196–197, 199, 200–203, 211, 216, 221, 223
 subjectivity democratic, 12, 45, 147, 151 political, 135
   religious, 31, 223
   sovereign, unencumbered, 153, 160, 166, 169
 Sully, James, 156–157
 Swift, Morrison I., 208

238

Talks to Teachers (James), 166, 168, 179, 181, 182, 193
 Taylor, Charles, 12, 23
 The Philippines, 1, 9, 24, 31–32, See also imperialism;
   anti-imperialism
 tolerance, 136
   liberal, 40
   religious, 15, 131
 Tolstoy, Aleksey Konstantinovich, 150
 Tønder, Lars, 136
 Townsend, Kim, 36
 “True Harvard” (James), 179, 181
 truth
   absolute, 59
   collective responsibility for, 50–62
   ordinary, 49, 50
   relative (or temporary), 59
   the right to believe in, 118
 Turner, Jack, 159–161 universal consciousness, 84 utilitarianism, 64, 65, 67–69, 76–87

Index

Varieties of Religious Experience (James), 2, 3, 7, 11–16, 17, 18, 23, 25, 75, 121, 124, 143, 145, 196, 197–203, 204, 206, 210, 212 verifiability, 55–57, 59–60 verification, 55–57, 59–60 Voltaire, 199
 voluntarism, 31
   and James’s politics, 42
 vulnerability, 136, 151, 202, 204
 War Against Terror (U.S.), 135
 Washington, Booker T., 34–35 wealth inequality. See economic inequality West, Cornel, 22, 208
 “What Makes a Life Significant” (James), 6, 17, 18, 127, 149, 174, 186
 Whitman, Walt, 111–112, 148–149
 “Will to Believe” (James), 6, 15, 17, 105, 109, 113–124, 131, 198
 Williams, Bernard, 134
 willing nature, 117
 Wolterstorff, Nicholas, 118
 Wordsworth, William, 150
 Zakaras, Alex, 159–161, 172