

Index

- 9/11, and civil society 348–349
- Abbott, Kenneth 254–255
- academic context
- China's intellectual life 60–64
 - dialogue between China and the West 57–58
 - Dushu* magazine, China 56–57
 - format of this book 2
 - intellectual order 47–48
 - research agenda and curriculum 11–12
 - see also* intellectual traditions
- academics
- biographical sketches 14–15
 - Dushu* magazine, China 58–60
 - global justice as field 52
 - methodology of the book 13–14
 - rationale for this book 7–9
 - reinventing social emancipation 31–32
 - see also* next generation (scholarship)
- accountability
- global justice 187–188
 - international organizations 275–277
- activist scholarship 92–100
- actualization of justice 17
- advice to young scholars see next generation
- Africa
- democracy and Islam 94
 - intellectual contributions 70
 - International Criminal Court 263
 - leadership and economic growth 326–328
 - policy and globalization 182–183, 184
- agency
- global justice 115–119
 - global poor 137–141
 - Muslims and global justice 80, 84–85
- AIDS/HIV 348
- ambivalences
- fear and surveillance society 202–203
 - international law 203–204
- Arab Spring 84–85, 348
- Asia
- intellectual traditions 173–175
 - policy and globalization 181–183
 - see also individually named countries*
- Association of Southeast Asian Nations 292
- asynchrony 205–206
- Australia, cultural commonality 292
- authoritarianism, and cosmopolitanism
- 348–349
- autocracies, and peace 298–299
- autonomy principle 342–343
- Beijing Consensus 319–320
- betrayal, decent society 164–166
- bias, international organizations 265–266
- bilateral investment treaties (BITs) 273, 274
- Brazil, as emerging economy 320–322
- Brexit, populism 51–52
- Britain
- Brexit 51–52
 - four phases of peace 284–288
- business attitude 317
- capitalism
- populism 67–68
 - production beyond 38–41
 - way forward 367–368
- Catholicism, 'second best' 148
- causal conditions, peace 288–294
- censorship, in China 60–61
- Chang, Peng-Chun 224–225

- China
 - Beijing Consensus 319–320
 - constitutional world order 337–339
 - contemporary context and futures 60–61
 - contemporary context and intellectual history 64–67
 - dialogue with the West 57–58
 - Dushu* magazine 56–60
 - economic development and modernity 67–69
 - economic growth 315, 317–318
 - as emerging economy 320–322
 - future and world order 72–77
 - global interculturality 77–78
 - global role of 69–72, 303, 305, 328, 329–330
 - human rights 174–175
 - international law 224–225, 226, 227
 - international law and power 240–241
 - international organizations 266–267
 - law schools 228
 - national law 222–224
 - from national to global debates 61–64
 - policy and globalization 181–183, 184–185
 - political power 248–249
 - production beyond capitalism 39–40
 - social form of democracy 78
 - teaching at Tsinghua University 53–56
 - United States and peace 300–302
- Christians
 - history of international law 232, 233
 - personal laws 131
 - proselytization 247–248
- citizenship
 - autonomy principle 342–343
 - identity 108
 - immigration 120
 - Muslims in the United States 98–100
 - political membership 334, 346
- civil society
 - and cosmopolitanism 348–349
 - global 37, 143–145, 348–349
 - global governance 353–354
 - India 144
 - poverty 138–139
 - poverty and equality 143–145
- civilization
 - decent society 150
 - history of international law 231–235
 - teaching about 250
- civilizational diversity 238, 239, 249–250
- class betrayal 165
- climate change
 - contemporary context 193
 - global challenges 262
 - international law 227
 - international organizations 218–219
 - ordering pluralism 211–212
 - Paris Agreement 212–214, 353
 - rationale for this book 4
- coexistence, international law 235–239
- cognitive justice 47
- Cold War
 - China 69–70
 - international organizations 256–257
 - peace 291
- collective action problems 178, 333, 337–338, 339
- collective rights 131
- colonialism
 - coexistence, state sovereignty and globalism 235–239
 - globalizing theories of justice 141–143
 - Islam and de-colonizing the mind 82–86, 89–90
 - justice and agency 118–119
- commercial ties, and peace 299–302
- commonalities
 - cultural 292
 - global moral community 170–171
 - global voices 44
 - see also* universalism
- communities of fate 332–336, 358
- community of justice 16, 92
- community of memory
 - decent society 154–156
 - global experience 156–159
- community of values 221–222
- competition, international organizations 218–219
- complexity, international and global justice 20–22
- compromise, decent society 162–164
- Confucianism 247, 248
- Congress System, India 125–126
- conservatism, Muslim world 88–89
- Constitution, USA 163–164
- constitutional world order 337–345
- constraint condition 116–117
- control condition 116
- Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW) 277–278

- conversations
 - justice 15
 - national-global 6–9
- cooperation, international organizations
 - 218–219
- corruption, decent society 150
- cosmopolitan justice see justice, global
- cosmopolitanism 1
 - definition 104–105
 - Eurocentrism 142
 - lessons learned 364
 - moral and political 105–106
 - and populism 347–348
 - strong and weak 104–108, 120
 - world order 340–345
- criminal law 197–199, 223, 225–226, 278
 - see also* terrorism
- cross-culturality see cultural context; diversity; interculturality
- culpability, criminal law 198–199
- cultural context
 - community of values 221–222
 - generational succession 250–251
 - global moral community 170–171
 - history of international law 231–235
 - and integrated society 179
 - international organizations 265–266
 - justice 63–64
 - national-global debates 61–64
 - peace 291–292
 - trust 292–293
 - see also* diversity; interculturality; Western perspective
- Cultural Revolution, China 223
- dangerousness, criminal law 198–199, 201
- de facto* 16–17
- de jure* 16–17
- decent society 146–147
 - betrayal and justice 164–166
 - compromise, peace and justice 162–164
 - definition 149
 - duties 154–156
 - and justice 147–151
 - memory 154–159
 - moral and political philosophy 151–152, 160–161
 - reconciliation 161–162
 - and rights 152–153
 - sentimentality, human dignity and being
 - a philosopher 159–161
- deindustrialization 321–322
- delocalization 321–322
- demand, economic growth 311–312
- democracy
 - China 70–71
 - globalizing theories of justice 141–143
 - intellectual traditions 175
 - Muslim world 94–96
 - paternalism 139
 - peace 298–299
 - political theory 356–357
 - populism 68
 - principles of 343–345
 - social form of 78
 - world order 33–38
- democratic peace theory 289
- descriptive law 208–209
- determination, what is just 17–19
- developed countries
 - economic growth, inequality and protectionism 322–324
 - global economy 317–318, 330–331
 - risk 326
 - see also* Western perspective
- developing countries
 - economic development and technology
 - 312–314
 - emerging economies 320–322
 - governance 314–317
 - International Criminal Court 263
 - openness of economy 312
 - ordering pluralism 211–212
 - risk 326
- development see economic development; sustainable development
- de-Westernization 242–246
 - see also* diversity; plurality
- dharma* 136
- distributional economic growth 322–324
- distributive notion of justice 149
- diversity
 - civilizational 238, 239, 249–250
 - de-colonizing the mind and Islam 85–86
 - de-Westernization 242–243
 - global voices 44–45
 - and integrated society 179
 - intellectual traditions 173–175, 243–246
 - Muslims 80–81
 - Tsinghua University, China 53–54
 - way forward 366–367
 - see also* universalism

- doubt, importance of 253
- Dushu* magazine, China 56–57
 - bridging academia and public discourse 57–58
 - critical approach and impact 58–60
- duty
 - civil society and poverty 140
 - decent society 154–156
 - defining justice 167–168
 - global justice 108–114
 - globalization and national justice 108–114
 - and rights 152–153
- Ebola virus 353
- economic development
 - Africa's leadership 326–328
 - China and the world order 72–73
 - Chinese modernity 67–69
 - emerging economies 320–322
 - financial crisis (2008) 324–326
 - futures 330–331
 - global economy 317–318, 330–331
 - global justice 103
 - inequalities, growth and protectionism 322–324
 - intellectual history 66–67
 - local and global justice 183, 185–187
 - minority rights 132–133
 - production beyond capitalism 38–41
 - rationale for this book 3
 - sustainable growth 308–312
 - technology 311, 318
 - Washington Consensus 318–320
- egalitarianism, global justice 114–115
- emerging economies 320–322
- English language 240–241
- entrepreneurship, intellectual 355–356
- environment
 - global challenges 262
 - international law 227
 - see also* climate change
- epistemology, knowledge beyond Western 41–44
- equality
 - egalitarianism 114–115
 - international organizations 265–266
 - law 214–219
 - poverty and civil society 143–145
- eternal quality of justice 167–168
- ethics
 - betrayal and justice 164–166
 - global 23–24
 - global moral community 170–171
 - memory 154–156
 - moral dilemmas 135–137
 - trade 112–114
 - see also* decent society; moral philosophy
- Eurocentrism
 - coexistence, state sovereignty and globalism 235–239
 - cosmopolitanism 142
 - global theory 134–135
 - international law 231–235, 237–239
 - see also* Western perspective
- Europe
 - criminal law 197–199
 - fear and surveillance society 200–203
 - financial crisis (2008) 325–326
 - human rights 207–208
 - law schools 228–230
 - migration 121–122, 221
 - multipolar global law 226–227
 - ordering pluralism 211
 - representative democracy 33–34
 - see also* individually named countries
- European Court of Human Rights 203–204, 207–208, 210–211, 227
- European Union
 - communities of fate 334–336
 - global justice 179–185
 - peace 294–298
 - political membership 334, 346–347
 - post-national governance 324–326
- evolution, what is just 18
- experience
 - learning from the global 45–52
 - in moral and political philosophy 151–152
- explicators of philosophy 160
- external conditions, economic growth 310–312
- fair terms of interaction
 - human rights 110–111
 - immigration 121
 - international law 109
 - trade 111–114, 115–119
- fair trade 111–114
- family, and democracy 36
- fear
 - future of law and humanity 221
 - international law 200–203
- finance, offshore 192–193
- financial crisis (2008) 324–326

- foreign direct investment 321
- France
 - election of Macron 296–297
 - law schools 228–230
- franchising of knowledge 42–43
- Franck, Thomas 268
- freedom, fear and surveillance
 - society 202–203
- French Revolution 169
- functionalism 254–255
- futures
 - Beijing Consensus 319–320
 - China and the world order 72–77
 - China's intellectual life 60–61
 - economic development 330–331
 - global policy 350–355
 - international law 219–222, 224–227
 - international organizations 277–279
 - political theory/philosophy 356–359
 - succession of values 250–251
 - way forward 366–369
 - see also* next generation (scholarship)
- G20 325, 340
- G7 325
- G8 325
- Gadamer, Hans-Georg 357
- Gandhi, Mahatma 91, 124, 135
- gender
 - Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women 277–278
 - secularism and religion 130–132
- generations, succession of values 250–251
 - see also* next generation (scholarship)
- Germany
 - commercial ties and peace 300
 - global economy 330
 - peace in the European Union 296
- Global Administrative Law (GAL) 260–261
- global civil society 37, 143–145, 348–349
- global conversations
 - and the internet 61–64
 - rationale for this book 6–9
- global democracy 36–38
- global economy, developed countries
 - 317–318, 330–331
- global ethics 23–24
- global experience
 - community of memory 156–159
 - world order 45–52
- global governance
 - development of 336–340
 - future of law and humanity 219–222
 - and global justice 187–188
 - and global policy 353
 - International Criminal Court 262–264
 - international investment regime 273
 - international organizations 217–219, 260–262, 268–272, 336–340
 - peace 302–305
 - post-national 324–326
 - power 302–305, 336–340
- global intellectual agenda 250
- global interculturality see interculturality
- global justice see justice, global
- global knowledge 23
 - beyond Western epistemology 41–44
 - franchising 42–43
- global markets 333–334
- global moral community 170–171
- global order see world order
- global peace see peace
- global perspectives 23
 - global justice 137–141
 - intellectual debates 62–63, 64
 - international law 205–208, 247–250
 - international law and power 239–243
 - political theory 332–336
 - theories of justice 141–143
 - this book 1
 - see also* cosmopolitanism
- global policy
 - and activist scholarship 92–100
 - futures 350–355
 - global governance 261–262
 - world order 25–26
 - see also* international law
- Global Policy* journal 354–355
- global public goods 227
- global roles see world order
- global supply chains 313–314
- global theory, Eurocentrism 134–135
- global voices
 - intellectual contributions 70
 - world order 44–45
- globalization
 - and duties 108–114
 - fear and surveillance society 202–203
 - identity 108
 - integrated society 178–179
 - intellectual debates 62–63, 64

- international law and power 239–243
- international law and state sovereignty
 - 235–239
- international organizations 255
- knowledge 9
- legal change 205–208
- peace in the European Union 294–295
- policy 181–183
- political theory 333
- rationale for this book 4
- theories of justice 141–143
- see also* world order
- governance
 - developing countries 314–317
 - economic growth 310
 - post-national 324–326
 - see also* global governance
- governors see politicians
- gridlock, global policy 350–355
- growth, importance of 308–312
- see also* economic development
- Guantánamo prisoners 200

- Habermas, Jürgen 129
- health, global justice 189–190
- Health Impact Fund 190, 192
- Held, David 142
- Hindus, minority rights in India 123–124, 131–132
- history
 - coexistence, state sovereignty and globalism 235–239
 - four phases of peace 284–288
 - international law and Eurocentrism 231–235
 - international organizations 254–256
 - stable peace 283–284
 - teaching 250
 - see also* intellectual traditions; traditions
- HIV/AIDS 348
- Hobson, John 142
- human dignity, decent society 147–151, 159–161
- human rights
 - activist scholarship and global public policy 92–100
 - civilizational diversity 249–250
 - decent society 147–151
 - defining justice 167–168
 - and duty 152–153
 - European Court of Human Rights 203–204, 207–208, 210–211, 227
 - European law 207–208
 - global justice 107, 109, 110–111, 172
 - humanitarian intervention 258
 - immigration 120
 - intellectual traditions 173–175
 - international investment regime 274–275
 - international law 203–204, 224–225, 227
 - international organizations 277–279
 - lessons learned 364
 - Muslims 82–83, 99–100
 - nonintervention principle 235–236
 - poverty 140–141, 189
 - sovereignty 236–237
 - trade 112–114
 - World Trade Organization 186–187
- humanitarian intervention, international
 - organizations 256–259
- humanity's law 274–275
- Huntington's argument 292

- ID Networks 216
- ideational power 74–75, 248–249
- identity
 - globalization 108
 - Muslims 80–82, 98–100
- idolatry, to decent society 146–147
- illicit financial flows 192–193
- illustrators of philosophy 160
- immigration
 - crises 121–122
 - decent society 149–150
 - Europe 121–122, 221
 - global justice 119–122
 - peace in the European Union 295
- impartiality principle 342–343, 344–345
- India
 - constitutional world order 337–339
 - as emerging economy 320–322
 - global civil society 143–145
 - global role of 328, 329–330
 - knowledge production 133–137
 - minority rights 123–126
 - secularism 126–127, 129–130
 - secularism and gender rights 130–132
 - social and economic inequalities 132–133
- indigeneity, and universalism 133–134
- individuals
 - decent society 150–151, 172
 - global justice 171–172
 - institutions and democracy 93–94
 - rights 20–22, 363–364

- inequality
 - economic growth and protectionism 322–324
 - health 189–190
 - local and global justice
 - 183, 185–187
 - minority rights 132–133
- information and knowledge societies 5–6
- information providers 5
- information technology 312–314
- inner-discourse, Muslims 90–92
- instance of determination 17
- institutional learning 256
- institutionalization
 - global governance 254–256
 - international organizations 254–256
 - knowledge 43–44
 - politics 349–350
- institutions
 - developing countries 315
 - future of law and humanity 219–220
 - governance 217–219
 - and justice 176–179
 - ordering pluralism 211
 - social justice 167
 - way forward 368–369
 - see also* international organizations
- integrated society
 - and culture 179
 - and the European Union 179–185
 - immigration 121
 - lessons learned 364
 - multipolar global law 226–227
 - peace 287–288
 - relationships between international and
 - global justice 178–179
- intellectual entrepreneurship 355–356
- intellectual life, China 60–64
- intellectual order 47–48
 - see also* academic context
- intellectual property rights 186–187
- intellectual traditions
 - China 61–67
 - de-Westernization 242–243
 - global justice 173–175
 - international law 225–226
 - international law, global perspectives
 - 247–250
 - international law's scope 243–246
 - Intelligence Act 2015 200–201
- interactivity, future of law and humanity
 - 219–220
- interculturality
 - China 77–78
 - lessons learned 365
 - Muslims 90–92
 - production beyond capitalism 40–41
- interdisciplinary perspectives
 - Dushu* magazine, China 58
 - next generation 78
 - this book 2, 9–11
- internal conditions, economic growth 310–312
- International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) 238–239, 277–278
- International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR) 238–239
- International Criminal Court (ICC) 198, 204–205
 - accountability and legitimacy 275–277
 - future of 278
 - global governance 262–264
 - intellectual traditions 225–226
- international investment agreements (IIAs) 273
- international investment regime 272–275
- international justice see justice, international
- International Labor Organization (ILO)
 - 217–218, 254
- international law
 - broadening the scope of intellectual traditions 243–246
 - coexistence, state sovereignty and globalism
 - 235–239
 - concepts and processes 203–205
 - criminal 197–199
 - descriptive and prescriptive dimensions
 - 208–209
 - Eurocentrism and historical context 231–235, 237–239
 - fear and surveillance society 200–203
 - futures 219–222, 224–227
 - global intellectual agenda 250–252
 - global justice 24–25
 - global perspectives 247–250
 - legal change and globalization 205–208
 - Muslims 87–90
 - “open the doors” 230
 - ordering pluralism 209–214
 - power and principle 268–272
 - power relations 237–243
 - reform of 272, 364–365
 - sovereignty and national
 - interest 214–219
 - teaching 228–230

Index

401

- trickle down/trickle up 267–268
 - see also* global governance
- International Law Commission (ILC) 275–276
- International Monetary Fund (IMF)
 - global governance 260–261
 - international investment regime 273
- international order see world order
- international organizations
 - accountability and legitimacy 275–277
 - critiques of 264–268
 - development of 254–256
 - futures 277–279
 - global governance 217–219, 260–262, 268–272, 336–340
 - global policy 350–355
 - governance 217–219, 260–262
 - humanitarian intervention 256–259
 - and justice 176–179
 - participatory mechanisms for world order 345–350
 - post-national governance 324–326
 - reform of the system 268–272
 - way forward 368–369
 - world order 328–330
- internationalization
 - academia 7–8
 - human rights 208
 - knowledge 9
 - law 203–204, 216, 223, 225–226
- internet, China and global debates 61–64
- inter-state relations 1
- intersubjectivity 77–78
- intervention
 - international organizations 256–259
 - nonintervention principle 235–236, 239–240
- intra-systems see society of intra-systems
- investment, international investment regime 272–275
- Iran, tensions with US 293–294
- Iroquois Confederacy 284
- Islam see Muslims
- Japan
 - economic development 321
 - protectionism 322
- jobs, and protectionism 323–324
- journals
 - Dushu* magazine 56–60
 - Global Policy* 354–355
- just society
 - betrayal 165
 - comparison to decent society 147
 - human rights 147–151
- justice
 - and betrayal 164–166
 - decent society 147–151, 162–164
 - definition 15–16, 167–168
 - lessons learned 364
 - this book 15
- justice, global
 - agency 115–119
 - balancing demands of 106–107
 - commitment to 20
 - complexity 20–21, 22
 - conversations in this book 6–9
 - decent society 165
 - definition 19–22, 104, 168–170
 - duties of 108–114
 - egalitarianism 114–115
 - European Union 179–185
 - framing 103–104
 - global moral community 170–171
 - globalization of theories 141–143
 - governance and accountability 187–188
 - health 189–190
 - immigration 119–122
 - intellectual traditions 173–175
 - international justice distinction 171–173
 - international law 24–25
 - international organizations 176–179
 - lessons learned 363–364
 - and local inequalities 185–187
 - moral and political cosmopolitanism 105–106
 - Muslims 79–83
 - national justice distinction 168–170
 - philosophy as responsibility 190–194
 - power 241–242
 - strong and weak cosmopolitanism 104–108
 - Western and non-Western perspectives 137–141
- justice, international
 - commitment to 20
 - complexity 20–22
 - definition 19–22, 104
 - global justice distinction 171–173
 - and international organizations 176–179
 - lessons learned 363–364
- justice, national
 - balancing demands of 106–107
 - conversations in this book 6–9
 - definition 104

- justice, national (cont.)
 - and duties 108–114
 - global justice distinction 168–170
 - lessons learned 363–364
- justice, social
 - definition 167
 - global level 107, 109–110
 - production of knowledge 133–137
- justice in general 15–19
- Kantian ethics 136–137
- Keohane, Robert 264–265
- killing in war 153–154
- knowledge
 - beyond Western epistemology 41–44
 - economic growth 311, 317–318
 - franchising 42–43
 - global 23
 - information and knowledge societies 5–6
 - intellectual order 47–48
 - national-global 64
 - production and global social justice 133–137
 - production of 32–33
- knowledge globalization 9
- knowledge internationalization 9
- knowledge nationalism 9
- Korea, economic development 321
- labor rights 186–187
- language
 - international law and power 240–241
 - internet debates 61–64
 - learning foreign languages 250
 - policy and globalization 183–185
- Latin America
 - civil society and poverty 138–139
 - Washington Consensus 319
- law see international law; legal change; national law; policy; Sharia law
- law schools 228–230, 272
- leadership
 - accountability 187–188
 - Africa's economy 326–328
 - China's global role 74, 248–249
 - China's political system 71
 - developing countries 314–317
 - global policy 354
 - India's minority rights 125–126
 - peace in the European Union 296–297
 - trade and human rights 112–114
 - see also* global governance
- Leading Europe to a New Way of Sharing the World Experiences 49–51
- League of Nations 254, 255–256
- learning, beyond Western epistemology 41–44
- legal change
 - globalization 205–208
 - international organizations 257–258
- legitimacy
 - China 72
 - international organizations 265–266, 268, 275–277
- liberalism 1
- liberties
 - fear and surveillance society 202–203
 - international organizations 218–219
- Libyan humanitarian intervention 258–259
- Lisbon Treaty 297
- local level
 - inequalities and global justice 185–187
 - participatory democracy 34
 - responsibility 96–97
- logistics, economic growth 312–314
- low intensity democracy 34–35
- Macron, Emmanuel 296–297
- market fascism 38
- market value, and democracy 35–36
- Matlal, Bimal 135–137
- media
 - China 60–61
 - governance and accountability 187–188
 - information and knowledge societies 5
- media intellectuals, China 58–60
- memory, decent society 154–159
- metaprinciples 341–343
- middle income transition 316
- migration see immigration
- military power 249
- minority rights
 - development in India 123–126
 - secularism 126–127
 - secularism and gender rights 130–132
 - social and economic inequalities 132–133
- modernity, China's economic development 67–69
- moral cosmopolitanism 105–106
- moral dilemmas
 - global moral community 170–171
 - policy 180–182
 - Western and Indian perspectives 135–137

- moral philosophy
 - decent society 151–152, 160–161
 - reconciliation 161–162
 - sentimentality, human dignity and being
 - a philosopher 159–160
 - see also* decent society
- multipolar global law 226–227
- multi-scalar perspective 1
- Munich agreement 163, 164
- Muslims
 - activist scholarship and global public policy
 - 92–100
 - de-colonizing the mind 84–86, 89–90
 - and global justice 79–83
 - history of international law 231–232, 233
 - inner-discourse and cross-cultural dialogue
 - 90–92
 - minority rights in India 123–124
 - personal laws 131
 - proselytization 247–248
 - Sharia and national/international law 87–90
- mutuality, production beyond capitalism 38–41
- national conversations, rationale for this
 - book 6–9
- national law
 - China 222–224
 - criminal 197–199
 - secularism, religion and gender rights
 - 130–132
 - Sharia and international 87–90
 - sovereignty and national interest 214–219
- national self-determination see self-determination
- national-global relationship
 - Chinese intellectual history 61–67
 - conversations in this book 6–9
 - political theory 332–336
- nationalism, and cosmopolitanism 348–349
- natural disasters, self-determination 111
- negative politics 151, 152–153
- neocolonialism, globalizing theories of justice
 - 141–143
- neoliberalism
 - democracy 34–35
 - development 67
 - populism 67–68
 - world order 51
 - World Social Forum 48–49
- New Zealand, cultural commonality 292
- next generation (scholarship) 12–13
- batte of ideas 307
- collaboration 194
- future of law and humanity 220
- global intellectual agenda 250–252
- global justice 122
- interdisciplinary perspectives 78
- interests, pursuit of 331
- international law 279
- justice 144–145
- local and global justice 165
- Muslims 100
- “open the doors” 230
- political theory 345, 358
- this book 12–13
- NGOs 348–349
- nonevents
 - four phases of peace 284–288
 - stable peace 283–284
- nonintervention principle 235–236, 239–240
- Obama, Barack
 - peace 305–307
 - tensions with Iran 293
- offshore finance 192–193
- Onuma, Yasuaki 224
- openness of economy 310, 312
- ordering pluralism 205, 209–214
- organizations see institutions; international organizations
- Ottoman Empire 234
- outcome responsibility 117–118
- paranoia 202
- Paris Agreement on climate change
 - 212–214, 353
- participation
 - governance and accountability 187–188
 - world order and international organizations
 - 345–350
- participatory democracy 34
- particularism, community of values 222
- paternalism 139
- peace
 - causal conditions 288–294
 - commercial ties 299–302
 - decent society 162–164, 165
 - definition 291
 - democracy 298–299
 - European Union 294–298
 - four phases 284–288
 - future of law and humanity 220

- peace (cont.)
 - global governance 302–305
 - international organizations 256–257
 - Muslim societies 82–83, 86, 87–88
 - Obama and Trump 305–307
 - reconciliation 161–162
 - self and others 86, 91–92
 - stability and expansion of 283–284
 - three forms of stability 294–295
- personal laws 131
- philosophy
 - decent society 159–161
 - experience in moral and political philosophy 151–152
 - illustrators and explicators 160
 - international organizations reform 268–269
 - justice 63–64
 - law schools 272
 - as responsibility 190–194
- planning, economic growth 320–322
- plurality
 - de-colonizing the mind and Islam 85–86
 - and intellectual traditions 175
 - law schools 228–229
 - lessons learned 365
 - ordering pluralism 205, 209–214
 - this book 11–12, 13–14
 - way forward 366–367
- policy
 - Chinese foreign policy 73–75
 - European Union 179–185
 - preventive security 201–202
 - see also* global policy; international law; national law
- political bullies 98
- political cosmopolitanism 105–106
- political membership 334, 346
- political philosophy
 - decent society 151–152, 160–161
 - reconciliation 161–162
 - teaching 356–359
- political representation
 - China 70–71, 78
 - crisis and democracy 33–35, 349–350
- political secularism 127, 128, 130
- political theory
 - global perspectives 332–336
 - global policy 350–355
 - teaching 356–359
 - Western and Indian perspectives 135–137
- politicians
 - governance and accountability 187–188
 - peace in the European Union 296–297
- politics
 - compromise, peace and justice 162–164
 - democratizing democracy 33–38
 - institutionalization and professionalization 349–350
 - intellectual history 66–67
 - peace in the European Union 295–296
 - relationships between international and global justice 175
 - way forward 368–369
- Polity Press 355–356
- polychrony 205–206
- populism
 - contemporary context 51–52
 - and cosmopolitanism 347–348
 - decent society 165
 - economic growth and inequalities 324
 - neoliberalism 67–68
 - peace in the European Union 295–296
 - solitary sovereignty 216
 - Trump 51–52, 306
- post secularism 129
- postcolonialism, globalizing theories of justice 141–143
- post-national governance 312–314
- poverty
 - and agency 137–141
 - equality and civil society 143–145
 - global justice 103
 - human rights 140–141, 189
 - philosophy as responsibility 191
- power
 - Chinese foreign policy 73–75
 - Chinese values 248–249
 - global governance 302–305, 336–340
 - international law 237–243
 - lessons learned 364, 365–366
 - policy and globalization 183–185
 - and principle 241–242, 268–272
 - rationale for this book 4
 - way forward 366–367
 - see also* world order
- prescriptive law 208–209
- preventive security 201–202
- price, and democracy 35–36
- principles
 - constitutional world order 340–345
 - cosmopolitanisms 340–345

- international law 203–204
- metaprinciples 341–343
- political theory 332–336
- and power 241–242, 268–272
- traditions 357–358
- production
 - beyond capitalism 38–41
 - knowledge and global social justice 133–137
- professionalization
 - of ideas 32
 - politics 349–350
- progressive knowledge 32–33
- progressivism
 - Muslim world 88–89
 - production of knowledge 32–33
 - traditions 142
- protectionism
 - economic growth and inequalities 322–324
 - Japan 322
- public intellectuals, China 58–60
 - see also* academics; intellectual traditions
- public policy see policy
- Rawls, John
 - decent society 147
 - philosophy as responsibility 191
 - social justice 107
 - theory of justice 189
 - transcivilizational perspective 246
- reciprocity, production beyond capitalism
 - 38–41
- reconciliation
 - decent society 161–162
 - international law 225–226
 - peace 286–287, 288–289
- reflexivity
 - agency 141
 - and justice 19
- reform, international systems 272, 364–365, 367–369
- relativizing the self 247–250
- religion
 - history of international law 231–232
 - idolatry 146–147
 - minority rights in India 123–124
 - and secularism 128–132
 - secularism and gender rights 130–132
 - Sino-centrism 233–234
- remedial responsibility 117–118
- representation see political representation
- representative democracy 33–35
- resources
 - Africa's leadership 327
 - global justice 107–108, 110–111
 - global public goods 227
- respect 150–151
 - see also* decent society
- responsibility
 - justice and agency 115–119
 - moral dilemmas 137
 - philosophy as 190–194
 - shared vulnerability 96–97
- Responsibility to Protect (R2P) 217–218, 236, 257–258
- rights
 - and decent society 152–153
 - and duty 152–153
 - local and global justice 186–187
 - traditions 143
 - way forward 367
 - see also* human rights
- rights distribution 16–17
- rights holders 16
- rights substance 16
- risk, economic development 326
- rotten compromises 162–164
- Russia, as emerging economy 320–322
- Rwanda, legal change 257–258
- scale
 - definitions of justice 104
 - justice, international and
 - global 19–22
 - multi-scalar perspective 1
- scholarship see next generation
- scientific knowledge, production of 32–33
- 'second best' 148
- secularism
 - gender rights and religion 130–132
 - knowledge production 133
 - meaning of words 127–128
 - and minority rights 126–127
 - minority rights in India
 - 125, 132–133
 - and religion 128–132
- security
 - fear and surveillance society 200–203
 - international organizations 218–219
 - rationale for this book 3–4
 - wiretapping 210–211
 - see also* terrorism
- security communities 294–295

- Security Council
 - activist scholarship and global public policy 93–94
 - humanitarian intervention 258, 259
 - International Criminal Court 205
 - reform of 270–271
 - UN Charter 255–256
- self-determination
 - egalitarianism 115
 - global justice 109–112, 114, 173
 - immigration 120–121
 - intellectual traditions 173–175
 - policy and globalization 181–183
 - see also* sovereignty
- self-righteousness 90–92
- sentimentality, decent society 159–161
- sexual crime 199
- Shah Bano case 131–132
- shared vulnerability 96–97
- Sharia law
 - democracy 95–96
 - and national/international law 87–90
- signposts to humanity 156
- silos, states as 332
- Sino-centrism 233–234, 240
- slavery
 - defining justice 168
 - rotten compromises 163–164
- Snidal, Duncan 254–255
- social economy, production beyond capitalism 38–41
- social emancipation, world order 29–33, 46–47
- social form of democracy 78
- social justice see inequality; justice, social
- social movements 44–45
- social orders, peace 290–291
- social responsibility 31–32
- social science
 - national-global debates 64
 - social emancipation 30–33, 46–47
- society of intra-systems 77–78
- soft power 74–75, 248–249
- solidarity economy 38–41
- solidarity sovereignty 214–215, 216
- solitary sovereignty 214–215, 216
- South Africa, as emerging economy 320–322
- sovereignty
 - China 72
 - communities of fate 335–336
 - human rights 236–237
 - intellectual traditions 173–175
 - international law 235–239
 - and national interest 214–219
 - policy and globalization 181–183
 - see also* self-determination
- speed, international law 205–206
- spiritual perspective, global justice and Muslims 91–92
- spiritual poverty 45
- stable peace 283–284
 - causal conditions 288–294
 - definition 291
 - European Union 295–298
 - four phases 284–288
 - three forms of stability 294–295
- state
 - decent society 150
 - and the European Union 179–185
 - global justice 172
 - and international organizations 254–255
 - inter-state relations 1
 - relationships between international and global justice 175
 - as silos 332
 - sovereignty and national interest 214–219
 - see also* justice, national
- state sovereignty see sovereignty
- statecraft
 - Obama and Trump 305–307
 - war 291, 294
- strong cosmopolitanism 104–108
- supply chains 313–314
- surveillance society 200–203
- sustainable development
 - economic growth 308–312
 - ordering pluralism 211–212
- Swiss Confederation 288
- symmetric relation 162
- Syrian humanitarian intervention 259
- teaching
 - beyond Western epistemology 41–44
 - history 250
 - law schools 228–230, 272
 - political theory/philosophy 356–359
 - Tsinghua University, China 53–56
- technology
 - developing countries 312–314
 - economic growth 311, 318
- terrorism
 - and civil society 348–349
 - fear and surveillance society 200–203

- future of law and humanity 221
- integrated society 121
- international organizations 218–219
- post secularism 129
- rationale for this book 3–4
- and religion 147
- terrorized persons 97–98
- thick relations 154–156, 164–165
- thin relations 154–156, 164–165
- threshold of realization 17
- time dimension, law 220–221
- trade
 - agency 115–119
 - fair terms of interaction 111–114, 115–119
- Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) 186–187
- traditions
 - national justice 169–170
 - and power 242
 - principles 357–358
 - progressivism 142
 - rights 143
 - see also* intellectual traditions
- transcivilizational perspective 245–246, 250
- translation, internet debates 61–64
- transportation, economic growth 312–314
- Trump, Donald
 - peace 305–307
 - populism 51–52, 306
 - tensions with Iran 293
- trust, and peace 292–293
- truth, international law 225–226
- Tsinghua University, China 53–56
- unions, stable peace 294–295
- United Nations
 - activist scholarship and global public policy 93–94
 - global governance 336–340
 - international law 270
 - international organizations 217–219, 255–257, 271–272
 - reform of 270–271
 - relationships between international and global justice 176–177
 - UN Charter 255–256
 - world order 336
 - see also* Security Council
- United Nations University 1, 2–4, 43
- United States
 - China and peace 300–302
 - China and the world order 72–73, 305
 - Chinese study abroad programmes 54–55
 - civil society 348–349
 - Constitution as rotten compromise 163–164
 - democracy and peace 299
 - fear and surveillance society 200–203
 - financial crisis (2008) 325–326
 - four phases of peace 284–288
 - global economy 317–318
 - international investment regime 273
 - international law and power 239–243
 - international organizations 266–267
 - Muslim citizens 98–100
 - policy and globalization 181–182, 184–185
 - production beyond capitalism 39–40
 - statecraft of Obama and Trump 305–307
 - tensions with Iran 293–294
- Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR)
 - cultural context 170
 - and decolonization 238–239
 - principles 203–204
 - Western perspective 224–225
- universalism
 - Chinese values 248–249
 - community of values 222
 - defining justice 167–168
 - global moral community 170–171
 - and indigeneity 133–134
 - and intellectual traditions 175
 - international law 222, 235–236, 237
 - international organizations 266, 277–279
 - lessons learned 365
 - participatory mechanisms for world order 345–350
 - philosophy 246
 - transcivilizational perspective 245–246
 - way forward 366–367
- values see market value; principles
- Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 274
- Vienna Declaration on Human Rights 238, 239
- violence, and religion 147
 - see also* terrorism
- voices, global
 - intellectual contributions 70
 - world order 44–45
- vulnerability, and responsibility 96–97

war

- decent society 165
- four phases of peace 284–288
- future of law and humanity 220
- humanitarian intervention 256–259
- killing in 153–154
- memory 155–156
- stable peace 283–284

Washington Consensus 318–320

weak cosmopolitanism 104–108, 120

Western perspective

- beyond Western epistemology 41–44
 - de-Westernization 242–246
 - dialogue with China 57–58
 - global economy 317–318
 - global governance 304, 305
 - and the global intellectual agenda 250–252
 - global justice 137–141
 - globalizing theories of justice 141–143
 - intellectual traditions 173–175
 - international law 224–227, 239–246
 - international organizations 266
 - internet and global debates 61–64
 - knowledge beyond 41–44
 - knowledge production 133–137
 - law schools 228–230
 - learning from the global experience 45–52
 - lessons learned 365–366
 - Muslims and cross-cultural dialogue 90–92
 - principles of democracy 343–345
 - reinventing social emancipation 29–33
 - relationships between international and
 - global justice 177–178
 - representative democracy 33–35
 - see also* Eurocentrism
- Williamson, John 318–319
- wiretapping 210–211
- wisdom, philosophy as responsibility 191
- Women in Informal Employment (WIEGO)
 - 143–144

World Bank

- and China 317–318
- global governance 260–261

World Health Organization (WHO)

- Ebola virus 353
- global governance 264

world order

- China's future 72–77
- China's global role 69–72, 303, 305,
 - 328, 329–330
- communities of fate 334–336
- cosmopolitanisms 340–345
- democratizing democracy 33–38
- global policy 25–26
- global voices 44–45
- India's global role
 - 328, 329–330
- intellectual traditions 173–175
- international institutions 328–330
- international law 209
- international organizations 350
- knowledge beyond Western epistemology
 - 41–44
- learning from the global experience 45–52
- lessons learned 365–366
- production beyond capitalism 38–41
- reinventing social emancipation 29–33
- way forward 367–368

“world order with Chinese characteristics”

- 75–77

World Social Forum 48–49

World Trade Organization

- intellectual property rights 186–187
- international investment
 - regime 273

international organizations 217–218

World War II, international organizations

- 255–256

Yugoslavia, legal change 257–258