

Index

- 5G networks, 368
- ACCC (Australian Competition and Consumer Commission), 249
- access holidays, 179, 406
- access in regulated industries, 151–156
  - access pricing issue, 152–153
  - access terms determination, 151
  - multiple objectives pursued through access pricing policies, 153–154
- access pricing and investment, 178–182, See also
  - one-way access pricing, two-way access pricing
  - access pricing approaches, 180–182
  - Australia, 167, 178
  - by-pass and the 'make-or-buy' decision, 180–181
  - dynamic access pricing, 182
  - Germany, 170
  - incentives for investment, 180–182
  - incentives to invest in new infrastructure, 181
  - infrastructure competition, 153, 180–181, 182
  - ladder of investment approach, 182
  - timing of infrastructure investment, 179–180
- accounting separation
  - margin squeeze, 188
  - vertical integration and separation, 188
- ACER/CEER, 36, 302, 334, 339, 350
- adjacent monopolies
  - Germany, 170
  - two-way access pricing, 169–170, 172
- administered pricing, price regulation, 145–146
- Administrative Procedures Act 1946 (APA), 110, 246
- affordability of essential services
  - contextual change of economic regulation, 5
  - public utilities household expenditure, 1–2
- affordability, rationale for regulation, 35–39
- African Development Bank Group, 250–251
- agencies, regulatory. See independent regulation/agencies
- air traffic management (ATM), 67, 586–588
- airline alliances and cooperation arrangements, 584–586
- airline markets
  - Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), 573
  - Australia, 572, 573
  - China, 572
  - Europe, 571
  - France, 557
  - New Zealand, 573
  - restructuring policies, 570–573
  - Single African Air Transport Market, 573
  - USA, 570–571
- airline restructuring effects, restructuring policies,
  - aviation industry, 575–579
- airport charges
  - Australia, 66, 250, 568, 589
  - dual-till approach, 568–569
  - European Union, 566
  - Germany, 589
  - light-handed approach, 66, 566, 589
  - market power, 560–561, 562, 568–569, 580
  - New Zealand, 66, 250, 589
  - price regulation, 566
  - single-till approach, 568–569
  - USA, 566
- airport services, 553–555
  - competition for the market, 574, 589
  - Government Accountability Office (GAO), 555, 575–577
  - price regulation, 562–563
  - two-sided markets, 553
- airports restructuring policies, 573–575, 579–580
  - Asia-Pacific region,
  - Europe, 574
  - privatisation, 573–575
  - USA, 573
- airspace navigation services
  - Australia, 565
  - Canada, 550, 553, 565, 575, 581, 589
  - competition for the market, 561
  - European Union, 565, 575
  - France, 553
  - price regulation, 550–553, 561, 564, 565–566
  - privatisation, 575, 581
  - privatisation, France, 553
  - privatisation, UK, 553
  - restructuring policies, 575, 581
  - UK, 565
  - USA, 565
- A–J (Averch–Johnson) effect, rate of return regulation, 117–119
- algorithms regulation, digital platforms regulation, 499

732 Index

- allocation of capacity, telecommunications networks and services, 370–372
- allocative efficiency, 16
  - fixed costs, 18
  - hidden information, 91–93
  - marginal cost pricing, 17–18
  - monopoly, 17
  - price regulation, 17–19
  - Ramsey–Boiteux pricing, 19
- alternative explanations for regulation, 28–34
  - economic theories of regulation, 29–33
  - interest group theories of regulation, 29–33
  - other potential explanations for the existence of regulation, 34
  - regulation as a form of administration of a long-term contract, 33–34
- alternatives to regulation, 635–636
- ancillary electricity services, electricity markets and exchanges, 283
- ANS. See airspace navigation services
- antitrust law. See competition law
- APA (Administrative Procedures Act 1946), 110, 246
- Argentina, restructuring policies, gas industry, 343, 347
- ASEAN (Association of Southeast Asian Nations), airline markets, 573
- Asia-Pacific region, airports restructuring policies, 574
- asset ‘rate base’, rate case process, 111
- Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), airline markets, 573
- asymmetric information, 90–95. See also full information, hidden information, imperfect information
  - demand information asymmetries, 94
  - dynamic regulation, 96–98
  - hidden action, 93–94
  - hidden information, 91–93
  - incentive mechanism, 98–100
  - regulatory commitment, 97–98
  - transfer payments, 96–98
  - yardstick competition, 100
- ATM (air traffic management), 67, 586–588
- Australia
  - access pricing and investment, 167, 178
  - airline markets, 572, 573
  - airport charges, 66, 250, 568, 589
  - airspace navigation services, 565
  - behavioural economics, 218, 223
  - competition, card payment systems, 432
  - digital platforms regulation, 492
  - division of powers and responsibilities, government levels/regulators, 258
  - electricity generation, 274
  - evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 249–250
  - fracking, 356
  - gas transmission and distribution networks, 323, 326
  - independent regulation/agencies, 249, 253, 258
  - legal cases, 643
  - legislation, 643
  - light-handed approach, 66, 250, 589
  - liquefied natural gas (LNG), 330
  - natural gas supply chain, 322
  - negotiated approaches, railways regulation, 523
  - negotiated settlements, 63
  - ownership structures, 53
  - payment systems, 420, 423, 431, 440, 441, 443
  - price cap regulation, 288, 334
  - price regulation, 61
  - privatisation, telecommunications industry, 395
  - railways industry, 511–512
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 572–573, 579, 580
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 303–304
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 343, 347
  - restructuring policies, payment systems, 445, 447, 450
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 395
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 614, 616
  - retail price controls, electricity regulation, 295
  - retail price regulation, 219
  - retailing of gas, 327
  - service providers, telecommunications, 369
  - terminology, 7
  - two-way access pricing, 178
  - unbundling policies, telecommunications regulation, 395
  - vertical separation, 186
  - water and wastewater industry, 597
  - water markets, 625, 628
  - wholesale gas spot markets, 328, 329
- Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC), 249
- average cost pricing, 77–79
- average revenue approach, price cap regulation, 130
- Averch–Johnson (A–J) effect, rate of return regulation, 117–119
- aviation industry, 547–590. See also restructuring policies, aviation industry
  - airport charges, 566
  - airport services, 553–555, 562–563
  - airspace navigation services, 550–553, 561, 564
  - cargo services, 549, 555–557
  - characteristics of the product, 548–549
  - China, 549
  - drones, 557–558
  - Flight Information Regions (FIRs), 550
  - India, 548, 557, 572
  - load factor, 556
  - national flag carriers, 557
  - ownership of airlines, 557
  - ownership of airlines, Canada, 557
  - passenger services, 548–549, 555–557
  - privatisation, 557, 571
  - privatisation, France, 571
  - privatisation, UK, 571
  - supply chain, 550–557
  - unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), 557–558
- aviation regulation, 375
  - airline alliances and cooperation arrangements, 584–586
  - airline competition, 582–583
  - airport charges, 566
  - airport services, 553–555, 562–563
  - airspace navigation services, 550–553, 561, 564, 565–566
  - competition, 582–586
  - competitive activities, supply chain, 561
  - contestability theory, 583–584

- future, 589
- international access and charging principles, 564
- policy issues, 582–588
- price regulation, 561–562
- scope economies, 561
- supply chain, 561
- unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), 586–588
- avoided cost pricing, telecommunications regulation, 384–385
- avoided-cost resale provision, telecommunications regulation, 384–385
- Baron and Myerson model, 93
  - regulatory commitment, 97, 238
  - versus Laffont and Tirole model, 93–94
- baskets
  - price cap regulation, 124, 131
  - tariff basket approach (weighted average price cap), 131
- behavioural biases, 197, 201, 203, 483–486
  - digital platforms, 225, 483–486
  - energy sector, 218–221
  - payment systems, 224–225
  - telecommunications industry, 221
  - water sector, 223
- behavioural economics, 197–228
  - application of behavioural economics in practice, 218–226
  - assumptions about consumer behaviour, 198–200
  - Australia, 218, 223
  - behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 204–218
  - consumer behaviour, 198–204
  - contextual change of economic regulation, 5
  - core insights, 198–204
  - digital platforms, 225
  - energy sector, 218–221
  - Netherlands, 221
  - payment systems, 224–225
  - telecommunications industry, 221–222
  - transport industry, 223
  - water sector, 223
- behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 204–218
  - competition, 205–211
  - consumer mistakes or biases, 214
  - distributional issues, 216
  - framing and the incentives to educate or obfuscate, 208–210
  - implications for firms, 212–213
  - implications for regulation, 214–218
  - implications for the rationale for regulation, 214–216
  - integrating non-standard consumers, 205–206
  - loss- and risk-averse consumers, 211
  - non-standard consumers, 205–208, 214, 215, 216–218
  - price structures, 215
  - pricing decisions with non-standard consumers, 207–208
  - regulatory initiatives to address non-standard behaviour, 216–218
  - risk-averse consumers, 211
- behavioural obligations, horizontal integration and separation, 190
- benchmarking
  - price regulation, 144–145
  - retail benchmarking, two-way access pricing, 177
- biases
  - behavioural biases, 197, 201, 203, 483–486
  - behavioural biases, digital platforms, 225
  - behavioural biases, energy sector, 218–221
  - behavioural biases, payment systems, 224–225
  - behavioural biases, telecommunications industry, 221–222
  - behavioural biases, water sector, 223
  - consumer biases, 39, 197, 199, 200, 210–213, 226–228
- bilateral transactions, trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 281
- bill and keep, price control, telecommunications regulation, 386–388
- blockchain, payment systems, 426–428
- bottom-up long-run incremental cost (BU-LRIC), 381
- building block approach
  - ex ante* revenue requirement, 126–128
  - financial capital maintenance (FCM), 127–128
  - operating expenses (OPEX), 127
  - regulatory asset base (RAB), 127–128
- BU-LRIC (bottom-up long-run incremental cost), 381
- bundling limits. See unbundling policies
  - China, 496
  - digital platforms regulation, 496
  - Germany, 496
- business separation, vertical integration and separation, 188
- by-pass
  - efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 158–161
  - make-or-buy decision, 180–181
- cable modem services, 368
- cable networks
  - Europe, 375–377
  - telecommunications regulation, 375–377
  - USA, 375–377
- calling party network pays (CPNP) principle, mobile networks, 377
- Canada
  - airspace navigation services, 550, 553, 565, 575, 581, 589
  - aviation industry, ownership structures, 557
  - competitive activities, supply chain, 330, 516
  - division of powers and responsibilities, government levels/regulators, 258
  - gas extraction and production, 323
  - legislation, 643
  - liquefied petroleum gas (LPG), 348
  - mark-ups approach, railways industry, 543
  - mobile networks, 377
  - negotiated approaches, railways regulation, 145, 523
  - net neutrality, 412
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 407
  - payment systems, 443, 445
  - price cap regulation, 288, 335
  - price regulation, 518
  - privatisation, airspace navigation services, 575, 581
  - railways industry, 511–512, 518
  - rate of return regulation, 337
  - regulatory decisions, 263

734 Index

- Canada (cont.)
   regulatory responsibility, 254, 258–259
   restructuring policies, aviation industry, 572–573, 579
   restructuring policies, electricity industry, 297, 309
   restructuring policies, gas industry, 343, 344, 357
   restructuring policies, railways industry, 531
   train services, 511–512
   two-way access pricing, 178
   water and wastewater industry, 598
   wholesale gas spot markets, 328 capacity allocation, telecommunications networks and services, 370–372 capacity markets, electricity, 283 capital asset pricing model (CAPM), cost of capital, 114 capital cost. See cost of capital capital investments
   core network activities, 95–96 cost of capital, rate case process, 111–115 rate case process, 111–115 capital structure, water and wastewater industry, 618–619
 CAPM (capital asset pricing model), cost of capital, 114 carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>) emissions. See decarbonisation policies, greenhouse gas emission CARD (Credit Card Accountability Responsibility and Disclosure) Act, 224 card payment systems, 424–426, 428
   Chile, 445
   regulation, 437–440
   restructuring policies, 443–445, 446–449
 CATO (Competitively Appointed Transmission Owner) regime, 285 centralised electricity supply system, 270, 273–275
 Chile airport privatisation, 574
   card payment systems, 445
   competition, 297
   liquefied natural gas (LNG), 347
   market power, 306
   net neutrality, 412
   ownership of airlines, 557
   private–public partnerships and water concessions, 622
   privatisation, 296
   privatisation, aviation industry, 574
   privatisation, telecommunications industry, 395
   restructuring policies, aviation industry, 572, 579
   restructuring policies, electricity industry, 299, 303
   restructuring policies, gas industry, 343
   restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 395
   restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 614, 616 rule-based approach, 242
   vertical integration, 601
   water markets, 625–627, 628
   wholesale electricity markets, 280, 281
   yardstick competition, 608
 China
   airline markets, 572
   aviation industry, 549
   bundling limits, 496
   data services, 499
   decarbonisation policies, 311
   digital platforms, 459, 490, 493, 494, 495, 497
   digital platforms regulation, 501 electricity regulation, 245
   level playing field, 497
   liquefied natural gas (LNG), 330
   next-generation networks (NGNs), 407
   non-discrimination policies, 495
   payment systems, 424, 429, 445, 457
   price regulation, 332
   private–public partnerships and water concessions, 621 rail services, 505
   railways industry, 503–504, 505–506, 510, 514
   restructuring policies, aviation industry, 574, 579
   restructuring policies, electricity industry, 297, 299
   restructuring policies, railways industry, 528
   shale gas, 318, 323
   state support, 49
   water and wastewater industry, 602, 614, 621
   wholesale electricity markets, 297
 circuit switching, telecommunications, 365
 CMA (Competition and Markets Authority), 217, 530, 620
 CO<sub>2</sub> (carbon dioxide) emissions. See decarbonisation policies, greenhouse gas emission Colombia, restructuring policies, gas industry, 343 commitment, regulatory. See regulatory commitment common costs, multi-product firms, 84–85 competition, 151–198. See also markets access in regulated industries, 151–156
   access pricing and investment, 178–182
   aviation regulation, 582–586
   behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 205–211
   Chile, 297
   deregulation policies, 56–63
   destructive competition, 19, 547, 582, 583
   digital platforms regulation, 474–476
   effective competition, 61
   electricity regulation, 305–311
   electricity supply chain, 284–286 entry restrictions, removing, 57–60 established competition, 61 fixed line networks, telecommunications, 372–375 franchise competition, 43–46
   horizontal competition, railways industry, 536–540 horizontal competition, railways regulation, 516–517 horizontal integration and separation, 189–191 horizontal separation versus vertical separation, railways industry, 535–536 introducing competition, 57–60
   market power, 146–147
   multiple competing suppliers, 194 multi-sided markets, 191–194, 461
   network effects, 474–476
   one-way access pricing, 154–172
   on-rail competition, railways regulation, 515–516
   open-access competition, railways regulation, 515–516 pre-competitive market stage, 61 pre-entry stage, 61
   price regulation, 144–145, 146–147
   railways industry, 503–504, 516–517, 535–540
   reliance on competition, 56–63
   restructuring policies, electricity industry, 305–311 retail competition, water and wastewater industry, 616

- retail electricity supply, 308–311
- retail gas competition, 331
- telecommunications regulation, 401–404
- two-way access pricing, 169–178
- vertical competition, railways industry, 537–540
- vertical integration and separation, 183–189
- vertical integration with competition in some activities, 73–75
- vertical separation versus horizontal separation, railways industry, 535–536
- vertical separation with competition in some activities, 72
- vertically integrated railways, 516–517
- wholesale electricity markets, 305–306
- yardstick competition, 144–145
- Competition and Markets Authority (CMA), 217, 530, 620
- competition authorities/regulators, division of powers and responsibilities, 256–257
- competition between real-time interbank and card payment systems, 430, 431
- competition for subscribers, two-way access pricing, 171–176
- competition for the market, 43–46
  - airport services, 574, 589
  - airspace navigation services, 561
  - contracts, 44–46
  - data services, 498
  - digital platforms regulation, 500
  - electricity regulation, 285
  - network effects, 26, 475–476
  - payment systems regulation, 415
  - price regulation, 145
  - railways industry, 511, 528, 544
  - railways regulation, 515, 528
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 526, 535
  - water and wastewater regulation, 592, 610, 615, 617, 632
- competition in the market
  - digital platforms regulation, 481–483
  - network effects, 475–476
  - railways regulation, 515, 528
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 301
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 526
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 378
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 615, 632
  - telecommunications networks and services, 249
  - vertical integration and separation, 183
  - water and wastewater regulation, 592
- competition law
  - European Union, 257
  - ex post* (after the fact) competition law, 54–56
  - Federal Communications Commission (FCC), 257
  - Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), 257
  - limitations, 55
  - margin squeeze, 378
  - New Zealand example, 55
  - public utilities, 54–56
  - Surface Transportation Board (STB), 257
  - telecommunications regulation, 377–378
- competitive activities
  - aviation supply chain, 561
  - gas supply chain, Canada, 330
  - natural gas supply chain, 330–332
  - payment systems, 429–433
  - railways supply chain, 514–517
  - railways supply chain, Canada, 516
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 615, 616, 617
  - water and wastewater regulation, 602–604
- competitive bottlenecks, telecommunications regulation, 377–378
- Competitively Appointed Transmission Owner (CATO) regime, 285
- consumer and producer interests, independent regulation/agencies, 240
- consumer behaviour
  - behavioural economics, 198–204
  - consumer biases, 39–41, 198–204
- consumer biases, 39, 197, 199, 200, 210–213, 226–228
- consumer inertia, France, 219
- consumer mistakes or biases, behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 214
- consumers' characteristics, rationales for regulation, 39–41
- contestability theory, 46–48
  - aviation regulation, 583–584
  - telecommunications regulation, 385–386
  - threat of entry, 46–48
- contestable markets theory. See contestability theory
- context specificity
  - independent regulation/agencies, 242
  - opportunistic behaviour, 242
- contextual changes of economic regulation, 3–6
  - affordability of essential services, 5
  - behavioural economics research, 5
  - digitalisation, 4
  - environmental and sustainability policies, 4
- contracts
  - competition for the market, 44–46
  - franchise competition, 44–46
  - long-term contracts for wholesale gas supply, 329–330
  - long-term contracts: regulation as a form of administration of a long-term contract, 33–34
  - opportunistic behaviour, 240
  - price regulation, 145–146
  - private contracting approach, 65–66
  - regulation as a form of administration of a long-term contract, 33–34
  - regulatory commitment, 240
  - versus negotiated settlements, 65
- cooperative determination of access prices, two-way access pricing, 173–175
- core network activities
  - capital investments, 95–96
  - fixed costs, 76–77
  - marginal cost pricing, 76
  - principles of regulation, 71–75
  - versus competitive activities, 56, 68
- core network services
  - declining demand, 147–149
  - price regulation, 147–149
- co-regulation, industries/regulators, 259–261
  - industry codes, 259–261
- correspondence with public utility industries, 16
- cost concepts, cost-based access charges, 163–165

736 Index

- cost efficiency
  - efficiency rationales for regulation, 12–15
  - monopoly power, 22–23
  - natural monopoly, 16
  - principles, 104–105
- cost of capital
  - capital asset pricing model (CAPM), 114
  - dividend growth model, 115
  - rate case process, 111–115
  - regulated asset base (RAB), 112
  - weighted average cost of capital (WACC), 113–114, 115
- cost-based access charges
  - cost concepts, 163–165
  - indirect costs, measuring and estimating, 165
  - one-way access pricing, 162–168
- cost-based allocation, multi-product firms, 84–85
- costs of supply
  - electricity supply system, 270
  - natural gas, 320–322
- CPNP (calling party network pays) principle, mobile networks, 377
- cream-skimming, 16
- Credit Card Accountability Responsibility and Disclosure (CARD) Act, 224
- data combination, digital platforms regulation, 498–499
- data portability, digital platforms regulation, 498–499
- data protection and privacy, digital platforms regulation, 486
- data services
  - China, 499
  - competition for the market, 498
  - telecommunications, 368
- data sharing
  - digital platforms regulation, 498–499
  - Germany, 498
- data, digital platforms, 466–468
- databases regulation, digital platforms regulation, 499
- decarbonisation policies. See also greenhouse gas emission
  - China, 311
  - electricity regulation, 311–314
  - France, 312, 318
  - Germany, 312
  - impact on regulation, 313–314
- decarbonised gas markets, 356–357
- decentralised electricity supply system, 270, 273–275
- decentralised gas markets, 356–357
- decentralised provision of services, 67
- declining demand, price regulation, 147–149
- default tariffs
  - energy sector, 219
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 303
  - retail competition, electricity industry, 194, 295, 309–311
  - retail competition, gas industry, 194, 339
- delegation risks, independent regulation/agencies, 243–245
- demand information asymmetries, 94
- deregulation policies, 56–63
  - entry restrictions, removing, 57–60
  - introducing competition, 57–60
  - price regulation, removing, 60–63
  - reliance on competition, 56–63
- descriptions of economic regulation, 3
- destructive competition, 19, 547, 582, 583
- developing and transitional economies
  - evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 250–251
  - privatisation, 250–251
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 299, 303–304
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 527–528, 534–535
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 395, 400–401
- Diem transactions, payment systems, 427–428
- digital platforms
  - attraction/retention strategies, users, 465–466
  - behavioural biases, 225, 483–486
  - behavioural economics, 225
  - characteristics, 454–469
  - China, 459, 490, 493, 494, 495, 497
  - data, 466–468
  - economic attributes, 500
  - governance arrangements, 460
  - horizontal and vertical integration, 460
  - incentivising participation, 463–465
  - infrastructure, 460–461
  - market tipping, 463
  - multi-sided markets, 461
  - network effects, 462–463
  - non-price terms of participation, 465
  - operators, 459–460
  - participation, incentivising, 463–465
  - participation, non-price terms of, 465
  - physical and economic characteristics, 454–478
  - price structures, 463–465
  - types of digital platforms, 455–465
  - users, 458
  - users attraction/retention strategies, 465–466
  - value chain, 461–466
  - vertical and horizontal integration, 460
  - winner takes all/most, 463
- digital platforms regulation, 453–456
  - algorithms regulation, 499
  - approach to regulation, 488–500, 501
  - Australia, 492
  - bundling limits, 496
  - China, 490, 501
  - competition, 474–476
  - competition for the market, 500
  - data combination, 498–499
  - data portability, 498–499
  - data protection and privacy, 486
  - data sharing, 498–499
  - databases regulation, 499
  - discriminatory practices, 495
  - dynamic efficiency, 471–472
  - economic regulation, 490–492
  - efficiency rationales for regulation, 469–473
  - entry promotion, 471–472
  - European Union, 490, 492
  - evolution of regulations, 500
  - fairness, 496–497
  - Germany, 490, 492
  - interoperability, 495–496, 499–500
  - level playing field, 496–497
  - market power, 476, 478–480, 481–483, 488–490
  - monopoly power, 476–483

- natural monopoly, 500
- network effects, 473–476, 500
- network effects as a rationale for regulation, 473–476
- news intermediaries, 487
- non-discrimination policies, 495
- policies that have been introduced or proposed for
  - digital platforms, 493–500
- price regulation, 472–473
- privacy protections, 499–500
- rationales for regulation, 468–488
- scale economies, 469–472
- scope economies, 470, 473
- scope of economic regulation, 490–492
- separation policies, 493–494
- strategic market status (SMS), 490
- transparency/opacity, 486
- UK, 490, 492
- USA, 491, 492
- who should regulate digital platforms?, 492
- Digital Subscriber Line (DSL)
  - data services, 368
  - telecommunications, 364
- digital wallets, 428–429
- digitalisation, contextual change of economic regulation, 4
- discriminatory practices, digital platforms regulation, 495
- discriminatory pricing
  - optimal linear pricing, 79
  - versus uniform pricing, 75
- distributed ledger technology, payment systems, 426–428
- distributed stand-alone cost (DSAC) test, price control, telecommunications regulation, 385–386
- distribution. See electricity distribution, electricity transmission and distribution networks, gas distribution, gas transmission and distribution networks
- distributional issues, behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 216
- dividend growth model, cost of capital, 115
- division of powers and responsibilities, 254–259
  - competition authorities/regulators, 256–257
  - government levels/regulators, 257–259
  - government ministries/regulators, 254–256
- drones, 557–558
- DSAC (distributed stand-alone cost) test, price control, telecommunications regulation, 385–386
- DSL. See Digital Subscriber Line
- dynamic access pricing, access pricing and investment, 182
- dynamic efficiency, digital platforms regulation, 471–472
- dynamic regulation
  - asymmetric information, 96–98
  - imperfect information, 98–100
  - transfer payments, 96–100
- earnings sharing mechanisms, price regulation, 142–143
- economic attributes, digital platforms, 500
- economic theories of regulation, 29–33
- economies of scale. See scale economies
- economies of scope. See scope economies
- ECPR. See efficient component pricing rule
- effective competition, 61
- efficiency rationales for regulation, 12–21
  - cost efficiency, 12–15
  - digital platforms regulation, 469–473
  - natural monopoly, 12–14, 15–16, 19–21
- efficient access prices
  - efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 160–161
  - generalised efficient component pricing rule (GECPR), 160
- efficient component pricing rule (ECPR)
  - arguments for and against, 161–162
  - by-pass, 158–161
  - efficient access prices, 160–161
  - margin rule, 158, 160, 162
  - margin squeeze, 384
  - margin squeeze tests, 384, 387
  - National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 384
  - one-way access pricing, 157–162
  - telecommunications regulation, 384–385
- electricity distribution, 278–279, See also electricity transmission and distribution networks
  - distribution network use of system charges, 294
  - France, 278
- electricity generation, 270–275
  - Australia, 274
  - Germany, 273
- electricity markets and exchanges, 282–284
  - ancillary electricity services, 283
  - capacity markets, 283
  - electricity-trading exchanges, 284
  - financial transmission rights (FTRs), 283, 291–294
  - France, 283
  - regional markets, 283, 284
- electricity pool, trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 280
- electricity production
  - gas-fired electricity production, 355
  - greenhouse gas emission, 269
- electricity regulation, 267–320, See also restructuring
  - policies, electricity industry
    - adaptation of regulation, 268
    - attributes of electricity, 268–269
    - characteristics of electricity, 268–269
    - China, 245
    - competition, 305–311
    - competition for the market, 285
    - competition, retail electricity supply, 308–311
    - customer types, 269
    - decarbonisation policies, 311–314
    - demand for electricity, 269
    - electricity storage, 287
    - electricity supply system, 270–288
    - greenhouse gas emission, 269
    - market power, 285, 299
    - missing money problem, 306
    - policy issues, 305–315
    - price control, 286–288, 295
    - price regulation, 287–294
    - restructuring policies, 295–304
    - retail electricity supply, competition, 308–311
    - retail price controls, 295
    - supply chain, competitive activities, 284–286
    - system operation, 276, 287
    - trading arrangements for wholesale electricity, 280–284
    - wholesale electricity markets, 305–306

738 Index

- electricity storage, 275–276
  - electricity regulation, 287
- electricity supply chain, competition, 284–286
- electricity supply system, 270–288, See also trading arrangements for wholesale electricity
  - centralised electricity system, 270, 273–275
  - costs of supply, 270
  - decentralised electricity system, 270, 273–275
  - electricity distribution, 278–279
  - electricity storage, 275–276
  - electricity transmission, 276–277
  - electricity transmission and distribution networks, 288–294
  - energy inputs, 270–273
  - generation of electricity, 270–275
  - retail supply, 279
  - virtual power plants (VPP), 274, 275
- electricity transmission and distribution networks, 276–277
  - efficiency, 277
  - France, 276
  - Germany, 276, 278
  - locational marginal pricing (LMP), 291
  - nodal pricing, 291
  - price cap regulation, 288–289
  - price regulation, 288–294
  - rate of return regulation, 289–290
  - rate structures regulation, 291
  - system operation, 276, 287
  - transmission network pricing, 291–294
- electricity trading exchanges, 284
- energy inputs, electricity supply system, 270–273
- energy sector
  - behavioural biases, 218–221
  - behavioural economics, 218–221
  - default tariffs, 219
- English experiment
  - privatisation, 618–619
  - water and wastewater industry, 618–619
- entry promotion, digital platforms regulation, 471–472
- entry regulation, productive efficiency, 19–21
- entry restrictions, removing, 57–60
- entry threat, contestability theory, 46–48
- environmental and sustainability policies. See also decarbonisation policies, greenhouse gas emission
  - contextual change of economic regulation, 4
  - gas regulation, 356–357
  - hydrogen networks, 355–357
- Europe
  - airline markets, 571
  - airports, restructuring policies, 574
  - cable networks regulation, telecommunications, 375–377
  - mark-ups approach, railways industry, 541–543
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 577–579
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 298, 301–303
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 341–343, 345–347
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 525–527, 532–534
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 393–394, 397–399
  - security of gas supply, 350–352
- European Union
  - airport charges, 566
  - airspace navigation services, 565, 575
  - competition law, 257
  - digital platforms regulation, 490, 492
  - division of powers and responsibilities, government levels/regulators, 259
  - EC Regulations and Directives, 639–642
  - evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 248–249
  - legal cases, 639
  - legislation, 642
  - market power, 375, 394
  - National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 248, 259, 384, 403
  - Open Internet Regulation, 412
  - price cap regulation, railways regulation, 521–522
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 612–613
  - telecommunications regulation, 375, 394
- evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 251
  - Australia, 249–250
  - developing and transitional economies, 250–251
  - European Union, 248–249
  - New Zealand, 249–250
  - UK, 247–248
  - USA, 245–247
- evolution of regulations, digital platforms regulation, 500
- ex ante* or ex post approaches to controlling digital platform market power, 488–489
- ex ante* revenue requirement
  - building block approach, 126–128
  - price cap regulation, 126–129
- ex post* (after the fact) competition law, public utilities, 54–56
- externalities as a rationale for regulation, 24
- fairness
  - digital platforms regulation, 496–497
  - interpretations, 37–38
  - rationale for regulation, 35–39
- FCC (Federal Communications Commission), competition law, 257
- FDC (fully distributed costs), multi-product firms, 84–85
- Federal Communications Commission (FCC), competition law, 257
- Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), 245
  - competition law, 257
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 297
- feed-in tariffs (FITs), trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 282
- FERC. See Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
- fibre to the premises/cabinet (FTTP/C), data services, 368
- fibre-optic cable infrastructure, telecommunications, 364
- financial capital maintenance (FCM), building block approach, 127–128
- financial hedging markets, trading arrangements for wholesale gas, 329
- financial transmission rights (FTRs), 283, 291–294
- FIRs (Flight Information Regions), aviation industry, 550
- first-best pricing, 18, 75, 81, See also marginal cost pricing
- FITs (feed-in-tariffs), trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 282

- fixed costs
  - allocative efficiency, 18
  - core network activities, 76–77
  - marginal cost pricing, 76–77
  - multi-product firms, 84–85
  - pricing principles, 76–77
- fixed line networks
  - competition, 372–375
  - France, 375
  - Germany, 375
  - National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 375
  - telecommunications regulation, 372–375
- fixed revenue cap, price cap regulation, 130
- fixed-to-mobile (FTM) interconnections, one-to-many
  - access pricing, 170–171
- flexibility, independent regulation/agencies, 242
- Flight Information Regions (FIRs), aviation industry, 550
- four-party card system, 424–426
- fracking, 318, 323, 355, See also shale gas
  - Australia, 356
  - France, 318
  - Germany, 318
  - greenhouse gas emission, 355
- France
  - airline markets, 557
  - airspace navigation services, 553
  - consumer inertia, 219
  - decarbonisation policies, 312, 318
  - electricity distribution, 278
  - electricity markets and exchanges, 283
  - electricity transmission and distribution networks, 276
  - fixed line networks, 375
  - fracking, 318
  - gas distribution, 326
  - gas extraction and production, 323
  - investment incentives, 354
  - liquefied natural gas (LNG), 348
  - mark-ups approach, railways industry, 542
  - price regulation, 605
  - private–public partnerships and water concessions, 622, 632
  - privatisation, aviation industry, 571
  - railway stations, 513
  - railways infrastructure, 510
  - railways supply chain, 516
  - regulatory decisions, 263
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 571, 577
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 301
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 613, 614
  - retail price controls, 295
  - telecommunications networks and services, 369
  - train services, 512
  - vertical integration, 601
  - water and wastewater industry, 599, 602
- franchise competition, 43–46
  - contracts, 44–46
- FTM (fixed-to-mobile) interconnections, one-to-many
  - access pricing, 170–171
- FTRs (financial transmission rights), 283, 291–294
- FTTP/C (fibre to the premises/cabinet), data services, 368
- full information. See also asymmetric information,
  - See also* hidden information, imperfect information
  - pricing principles under, 75–83
- fully distributed costs (FDC), multi-product firms, 84–85
- GAO. See Government Accountability Office
- gas distribution, 326, See also gas transmission and distribution networks
  - France, 326
  - Germany, 326
- gas extraction and production, 322–323
  - Canada, 323
  - France, 323
  - Germany, 323
  - non-conventional gas extraction, 355
- gas industry. See restructuring policies, gas industry
- gas markets, 356–357
- gas networks, 319–320
- gas physical and economic characteristics, 318
  - characteristics of the product, 318–320
  - costs of supply, 320–322
  - fracking, 318, 323, 355
  - gas distribution, 326
  - gas extraction and production, 322–323
  - gas networks, 319–320
  - gas storage, 326
  - gas transmission, 323–325
  - natural gas supply chain, 320–333
  - non-conventional gas sources, 323
  - production and supply, 319–320
  - retailing of gas, 327
  - transportation, 318–320
- gas regulation, 317–363
  - activities subject to regulation in the supply chain, 330–334
  - competitive activities in the supply chain, 330–332
  - decarbonised gas markets, 356–357
  - decentralised gas markets, 356–357
  - environmental and sustainability policies, 355–357
  - policy issues, 350–357
  - price regulation, 332–334
  - prices and investment: restructuring impact, 352–355
  - retail gas competition, 331
  - security of gas supply, 350–352
- gas storage, 326
  - price regulation, 333–334, 338–339
- gas transmission and distribution networks, 323–325,
  - See also* trading arrangements for wholesale gas
  - Australia, 323, 326
  - capacity allocation, 325
  - pipeline pressure maintenance, 324
  - price regulation, 332–333, 334–338
  - rate of return regulation, 335–337
  - rate structures regulation, 337–338
- gas transmission, distribution, storage and retail supply,
  - price regulation, 332–334
- gas-fired electricity production, 355
- generalised efficient component pricing rule (GECPR), 160
- Germany
  - access pricing and investment, 170
  - adjacent monopolies, 170
  - airport charges, 589
  - bundling limits, 496
  - competition, retail electricity markets, 309
  - data sharing, 498
  - decarbonisation policies, 312
  - digital platforms regulation, 490, 492
  - electricity generation, 273

740 Index

- Germany (cont.) electricity transmission and distribution networks, 276, 278
 fixed line networks, 375
 fracking, 318
 gas distribution, 326
 gas extraction and production, 323 industry-specific regulators, 254
 interoperability, 496
 legislation, 644
 level playing field, 497
 light-handed approach, 589
 mark-ups approach, railways industry, 542
 multi-sectoral regulators, 254
 next-generation networks (NGNs), 407
 non-discrimination policies, 495
 payment systems, 420
 price cap regulation, 332, 521–522
 price regulation, 332, 605
 railway stations, 513
 railways infrastructure, 510
 rate of return regulation, 137
 restructuring policies, electricity industry, 301–302
 restructuring policies, railways industry, 532–534
 restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 407
 restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 613
 retail electricity supply, 309
 retail price controls, 295
 scope of economic regulation, 490 service providers, telecommunications, 369
 sunshine regulation, 608
 supply chain, competitive activities, 515–516
 telecommunications regulation, 369
 total expenditure (Totex) approach, 606
 trading arrangements for bulk water, 602
 trading arrangements for wholesale electricity, 282
 train services, 511–513
 vertical integration, 601
 water and wastewater industry, 598, 599
 wholesale electricity markets, 282
 wholesale gas spot markets, 328
 yardstick competition, 145
 global price caps, one-way access pricing, 166
 Government Accountability Office (GAO)
 airport services, 555, 575–577
 who regulates the regulators?, 264 government levels/regulators, division of powers and responsibilities, 257–259 government ministries/regulators, division of powers and responsibilities, 254–256 government price guarantees, trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 282 greenhouse gas emission. See also decarbonisation policies, environmental and sustainability policies electricity production, 269
 fracking, 355
 hedging markets, wholesale gas, 329 hidden action, asymmetric information, 93–94 hidden information, 91–93. See also asymmetric information, full information, imperfect information
 allocative efficiency, 91–93
 Loeb–Magat incentive arrangement, 91–93 hold-up, 22
 sunk asset expropriation, 235–237
 vertical integration and separation, 184–185
 horizontal competition
 railways industry, 536–540
 railways regulation, 516–517
 horizontal integration and separation, 189–191 behavioural obligations, 190
 competition, 189–191
 forms of horizontal separation, 190–191 household expenditure, public utilities, 1–2 hybrid caps, price cap regulation, 131 hybrid fibre coaxial (HFC) infrastructure, telecommunications, 365 hydrogen networks, environmental and sustainability policies, 355–357
 ICC (Interstate Commerce Commission), 245–247 imperfect information, 90–95. See also asymmetric information, full information, hidden information dynamic regulation, 98–100
 transfer payments, 98–100 incentive mechanism, asymmetric information, 98–100 incentives and performance under different ownership structures, 49–51 incentives for investment, access pricing, 180–182
 incentives to invest in new infrastructure, 181 incentivising investment in next-generation networks (NGNs), 405–407 incentivising participation in digital platforms, 463–465 incremental cost, price setting, 48 incremental surplus subsidy scheme, transfer payments, 96–97 independent power producers (IPPs), 282, 285 independent regulation/agencies. See also evolution of independent regulatory agencies, who regulates the regulators?
 Australia, 249, 253, 258
 consumer and producer interests, 240 context specificity, 242 delegation risks, 243–245 design of regulatory agencies, 252–259
 division of powers and responsibilities, 254–259 establishment of independent regulators, 251 flexibility, 242 important characteristic, 234
 industry-specific regulators, 252–254
 intertemporal pricing, 111, 237–238
 legal framework, 241–242
 multi-sectoral regulators, 252–254
 objectives of the regulator, 240
 opportunistic behaviour, 238–242
 organisational structures, 252–254 oversight of regulators, 261–265 rationale for economic regulatory agencies, 233–245 reconciling factors motivating the establishment of independent regulators, 251 regulatory commitment, 97–98, 234–245
 risks associated with the creation of independent regulators, 243–245 scope of their power, 252–259 specialisation, 243
 state-owned utilities, 53–54

- sunk asset expropriation, 235–237
- time-inconsistency problem, 234–237
- India
  - aviation industry, 548, 557, 572
  - liquefied petroleum gas (LPG), 348
  - net neutrality, 412
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 407
  - payment systems, 424, 430, 445
  - railways industry, 505–506, 510, 514
  - railways regulation, 504
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 579, 602
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 297
  - retail electricity supply, 297
  - spectrum licences, telecommunications networks and services, 371
  - state support, 49
- indirect costs
  - cost-based access charges, 165
  - measuring and estimating, 165
- industry codes, co-regulation, industries/regulators, 259–261
- industry structures, 71–75
  - vertical integration with competition in some activities, 73–75
  - vertical separation with competition in some activities, 72
  - vertically integrated monopoly, 72
- industry-specific regulators, 252–254
  - Germany, 254
- information. See asymmetric information, full information, hidden information, imperfect information
- infrastructure based competition, next-generation networks (NGNs), 404
- infrastructure competition
  - access pricing and investment, 153, 180–181, 182
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 404
  - payment systems regulation, 415
  - telecommunications regulation, 373, 398
  - vertical integration, 71
  - water and wastewater regulation, 603
- inset appointments, water and wastewater regulation, 603, 615
- institutions of regulation. See independent regulation/agencies
- interbank payment systems, 418, 422–423, 428
  - regulation, 436–437
  - restructuring policies, 441–443, 445–446
- interest group theories of regulation, 29–33
- international access and charging principles, airspace navigation services, 564
- interoperability, digital platforms regulation, 495–496, 499–500
- Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC), 245–247
- intertemporal pricing
  - independent regulation/agencies, 111, 237–238
  - ratchet effect, 237–238
- investment incentives. See also access pricing and investment, capital investments
  - France, 354
  - new infrastructure, 181
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 405–407
  - restructuring impact on gas industry prices and investment, 352–355
- IPPs (independent power producers), 282, 285
- Italy, total expenditure (Totex) approach, 606
- Jakarta, private–public partnerships and water concessions, 623
- Japan
  - privatisation, railways industry, 528–529
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 579
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 527, 528–529
- joint costs, 83, 85
- judicial review, who regulates the regulators?, 246, 247, 261
- ladder of investment approach
  - access pricing and investment, 182
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 404–405
- Laffont and Tirole model, 138
  - regulatory commitment, 98
  - versus Baron and Myerson model, 93–94
- lag period, rate of return regulation, 120
- Latin America, private–public partnerships and water concessions, 622
- legacy networks, telecommunications, 363
  - transition from legacy copper networks to NGN, 404–407
- legal and ownership separation, vertical integration and separation, 189
- legal cases
  - Australia, 643
  - European Union, 639
  - New Zealand, 644
  - UK, 642
  - USA, 642–643
- legal framework
  - independent regulation/agencies, 241–242
  - opportunistic behaviour, 241–242
- legislation
  - Australia, 643
  - Canada, 643
  - European Union, 642
  - Germany, 644
  - New Zealand, 644
  - UK, 642
  - USA, 643
- level playing field
  - China, 497
  - digital platforms regulation, 496–497
  - Germany, 497
- light-handed approach
  - airport charges, 66, 566, 589
  - Australia, 66, 250, 589
  - Germany, 589
  - New Zealand, 55, 66, 250, 589
  - non-standard consumers, 216
  - telecommunications regulation, 374
- linear pricing. See also non-linear pricing
  - optimal linear pricing, 79
  - versus non-linear pricing, 75
- liquefied natural gas (LNG), 317, See also natural gas supply chain
  - Australia, 330
  - Chile, 347
  - China, 330
  - France, 348
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 347
  - storage, 339
  - wholesale trading, 330

742 Index

- liquefied petroleum gas (LPG)
  - Canada, 348
  - India, 348
  - supply and regulation, 348–349
- LMP (locational marginal pricing), electricity
  - transmission and distribution networks, 291
- LNG. See liquefied natural gas
- locational marginal pricing (LMP), electricity
  - transmission and distribution networks, 291
- Loeb–Magat incentive arrangement, hidden information, 91–93
- long-run incremental costs (LRIC)
  - bottom-up long-run incremental cost (BU-LRIC), 381
  - revenue requirement determination, 128–129
  - telecommunications regulation, 381–384
  - total element long-run incremental cost (TELRIC), 381, 382, 383–384
  - total service long-run incremental cost (TSLRIC), 381, 382, 383–384
  - variants, 381, 382, 383–384
- long-run marginal cost pricing (LRMC), 95–96
- long-term contracts
  - regulation as a form of administration of a long-term contract, 33–34
  - wholesale gas supply, 329–330
- LPG (liquefied petroleum gas), supply and regulation, 348–349
- LRIC. See long-run incremental costs
- LRMC (long-run marginal cost pricing), 95–96
- make-or-buy decision
  - by-pass and the make-or-buy decision, 180–181
  - telecommunications regulation, 372
- mandatory and voluntary separation, vertical integration and separation, 189
- margin rule, efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 158, 160, 162
- margin squeeze
  - accounting separation, 188
  - competition law, 378
  - efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 384
  - price cap regulation, 125, 166
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 390
  - telecommunications regulation, 378
  - vertical separation, 185
- margin squeeze tests, efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 384, 387
- marginal cost pricing. See also first-best pricing
  - allocative efficiency, 17–18
  - average cost pricing, 78
  - core network activities, 76
  - fixed costs, 76–77
  - long-run marginal cost pricing (LRMC), 95–96
  - multi-product firms, 83–90
  - non-linear pricing, 80, 83
  - productive efficiency, 19
  - short-run marginal cost (SRMC) pricing, 95–96
  - starting principle for price regulation, 75–76
- market demand, 12
- natural monopoly, 13
- market power
  - airport charges, 560–561, 562, 568–569, 580
  - Chile, 306
  - competition, 146–147
  - digital platforms regulation, 476, 478–480, 481–483, 488–490
  - electricity regulation, 285, 299
  - European Union, 375, 394
  - ex ante* or ex post approaches to controlling digital platform market power, 488–489
  - market power mitigation, 481–483
  - multiple competing suppliers, regulation, 194
  - Netherlands, 562
  - non-standard consumers, 210
  - price regulation, 60–62
  - rationales for regulation, 481–483
  - removing price regulation, 60–62
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 341
  - telecommunications regulation, 373, 375, 394
  - two-way access pricing, 176
  - USA, 299
  - wholesale electricity markets, 305–306
- market tipping
  - digital platforms, 463
  - network effects, 463
- markets. See also airline markets, competition, electricity markets and exchanges, multi-sided markets, trading arrangements for wholesale electricity, trading arrangements for wholesale gas competition for the market, 44–46 contestability theory, 46–48, 385–386, 583–584 gas markets, 356–357 water markets, 602, 624–628 wholesale market-based trading arrangements, water and wastewater industry, 602
- mark-ups
  - constant mark-ups to recover fixed and common costs, multi-product firms, 84–85
  - equi-proportionate mark-ups (EPMU), multi-product firms, 84–85
- mark-ups approach, railways industry
  - Canada, 543
  - Europe, 541–543
  - France, 542
  - Germany, 542
  - USA, 541
- merchant investments, electricity supply chain, 285
- merchant service charge (MSC), 424
- Mexico, restructuring policies, gas industry, 343
- missing money problem, electricity industry, 306
- mobile networks
  - calling party network pays (CPNP) principle, 377
  - Canada, 377
  - telecommunications regulation, 377
- mobile virtual network operators (MVNOs), telecommunications networks and services, 370
- modern economic regulation, 3–6
- monetary policy, time-inconsistency problem, 234–235
- monitoring public utilities, 66
- monopoly. See also natural monopoly
  - adjacent monopolies, two-way access pricing, 169–170, 172
  - allocative efficiency, 17
  - termination monopoly problem, 172
  - two-way access pricing, 172
  - vertically integrated monopoly, 72
- monopoly power
  - cost efficiency, 22–23
  - digital platforms regulation, 476–483

- market power mitigation, 481–483
- regulation to control digital platforms from harming the long-term interests of consumers, 480–481
- regulation to control monopoly power, 21–24, 476–483
- two-sided markets, 477
- X-inefficiency, 22
- MSC (merchant service charge), 424
- multimedia and broadcasting services, 369
- multi-period context, pricing in a, 95–100
- multiple competing suppliers, regulation, 194
- market power, 194
- multiple objectives pursued through access pricing policies, 153–154
- multi-product firms, 83–90
  - common costs, 84–85
  - constant mark-ups to recover fixed and common costs, 84–85
  - cost-based allocation, 84–85
  - equi-proportionate mark-ups (EPMU), 84–85
  - fixed costs, 84–85
  - fully distributed costs (FDC), 84–85
  - marginal cost pricing, 83–90
  - non-linear pricing, 89
  - peak-load pricing, 87–89
  - pricing principles, 83–90
  - Ramsey-Boiteux pricing, 85–87
- multi-sectoral regulators, 252–254
  - Germany, 254
- multi-sided markets
  - competition, 191–194, 461
  - digital platforms, 461
  - platform operators, 191–194
  - price structures, 192
- MVNOs (mobile virtual network operators), telecommunications networks and services, 370
- NAO. See National Audit Office
- National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC), 264
  - rate of return regulation, 290, 606
- National Audit Office (NAO), 55, 247, 614–615
  - who regulates the regulators?, 264
- National Regulatory Authority (NRA)
  - efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 384
  - European Union, 248, 259, 384, 403
  - fixed line networks, 375
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 404, 406
  - price regulation, 61
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 394
  - telecommunications regulation, 375, 378, 394
- natural gas supply chain, 320–333, See also liquefied natural gas
  - Australia, 322
  - competitive activities, 330–332
- natural monopoly
  - cost efficiency, 16
  - digital platforms regulation, 500
  - efficiency rationales for regulation, 12–14, 15–16, 19–21
  - entry regulation to achieve productive efficiency, 19–21
  - market demand, 13
  - terminology, 7
- negotiated approaches, railways regulation, 523–524
  - Canada, 145, 523
- negotiated settlements, 63–65, See also price regulation
  - advantages, 63
  - Australia, 63
  - disadvantages, 64
  - negotiate–arbitrate approach, 65
  - North American gas industry, 335–337
  - rate of return regulation, 120
  - USA, 335–337
  - variants, 65
  - versus private contracting approach, 65
- negotiation, 63–65
  - access prices, one-way access pricing, 167–168
  - price regulation, 145–146
- net neutrality
  - Canada, 412
  - Chile, 412
  - economic trade-offs, 409–411
  - India, 412
  - over-the-top (OTT) applications, 408
  - regulatory response, 411–412
  - telecommunications regulation, 407–412
  - two-sided markets, 408
  - two sides of the net neutrality debate, 408–409
  - USA, 411
- Netherlands
  - behavioural economics, 221
  - market power, 562
  - price regulation, 122
  - railway stations, 513
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 571
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 613
  - sunshine regulation, 608
  - total expenditure (Totex) approach, 606
  - wastewater treatment, 598, 599
  - wholesale gas spot markets, 328
  - yardstick competition, 145
- network decline, price regulation, 147–149
- network effects
  - competition, 474–476
  - competition for the market, 26, 475–476
  - digital platforms, 462–463
  - digital platforms regulation, 473–476, 500
  - direct network effects, 462
  - indirect network effects, 462
  - market tipping, 463
  - scale economies, 25–26, 27
  - two-sided markets, 25
  - winner takes all/most, 463
- network effects as a rationale for regulation, 25–28
  - digital platforms regulation, 473–476
  - network effects, 25–27
  - network externalities, 27–28
- new appointments and variations, water and wastewater regulation, 603, 615
- New Zealand
  - airline markets, 573
  - airport charges, 66, 250, 589
  - evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 249–250
  - legal cases, 644
  - legislation, 644
  - light-handed approach, 55, 66, 250, 589

744 Index

- New Zealand (cont.)
   restructuring policies, electricity industry, 303–304
   restructuring policies, gas industry, 343
   restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 395 news intermediaries, digital platforms regulation, 487
 next-generation networks (NGNs)
   Canada, 407
   China, 407
   Germany, 407
   incentivising investment in NGNs, 405–407
   India, 407
   infrastructure-based competition, 404
   infrastructure competition, 404
   ladder of investment approach, 404–405
   National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 404, 406
   telecommunications networks and services, 363, 404–407
   unbundling policies, 363, 375, 404–405
 nodal pricing, electricity transmission and distribution networks, 291 non-conventional gas extraction, 355
 non-conventional gas sources, 323 non-cooperative access price determination, two-way access pricing, 173 non-discrimination policies
   China, 495
   digital platforms regulation, 495
   Germany, 495
 non-linear pricing. See also linear pricing
   marginal cost pricing, 80, 83
   multi-product firms, 89
   optimal non-linear pricing, 80–83
   two-part tariffs, uniform, 80–83 versus linear pricing, 75
 non-price regulation
   Public Utility Commissions (PUCs), 389 service level agreement (SLA), 388
   telecommunications regulation, 388–389
 non-standard consumers
   behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 205–208, 214, 215, 216–218
   integrating non-standard consumers, 205–206
   light-handed approach, 216
   market power, 210
   pricing decisions with non-standard consumers, 207–208
 NRA. See National Regulatory Authority

 objectives of the regulator, 240
 one-to-many access pricing fixed-to-mobile (FTM) interconnections, 170–171
   two-way access pricing, 170–171
 one-way access pricing, 154–172
   competition, 154–172
   cost-based access charges, 162–168
   efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 157–162 fair and reasonable access requirements, 168 generalised efficient component pricing rule (GECPR), 160 global price caps, 166 negotiation of access prices, 167–168 non-discriminatory access requirements, 167 open-access requirements, 167
   Ramsey-Boiteux pricing, 156–157

   static efficiency, 156
   vertical integration, 156
   vertical separation, 154–155
 on-rail competition, railways regulation, 515–516 opacity/transparency, digital platforms regulation, 486
 Open Internet Regulation, European Union, 412
 open-access competition, railways regulation, 515–516
 operating expenses (OPEX)
   building block approach, 127
   rate of return regulation, 110
 opportunistic behaviour. See also regulatory commitment context specificity, 242
   contracts, 240
   independent regulation/agencies, 238–242
   legal framework, 241–242
   objectives of the regulator, 240
   price regulation, 239
   voluntary solutions, 238–239 optimal linear pricing, discriminatory pricing versus uniform pricing, 79 optimal non-linear pricing, uniform two-part tariffs, 80–83 organisational structures, independent regulation/agencies, 252–254
 OTT. See over-the-top applications oversight of regulators. See who regulates the regulators?
 over-the-top (OTT) applications
   net neutrality, 408
   telecommunications, 367, 386–388, 403
 ownership structures. See also privately owned utilities, public utilities, state-owned utilities incentives and performance under different structures, 49–51 performance investigations, 51–53 principal-agent model, 49–51 packet switching, telecommunications, 366–367 payment interface providers (PIPs), 427

 payment systems. See also restructuring policies, payment systems, transfer payments
   Australia, 420, 423, 431, 440, 441, 443
   behavioural biases, 224–225
   behavioural economics, 224–225
   blockchain, 426–428
   Canada, 443, 445
   card payment systems, 424–426, 428
   cash payments and non-cash payments, 417
   characteristics of the product, 416–418
   China, 424, 429, 445, 457
   competition between real-time interbank and card payment systems, 430, 431
   competitive activities, 429–433
   Credit Card Accountability Responsibility and Disclosure (CARD) Act, 224
   Diem transactions, 427–428
   digital wallets, 428–429
   distributed ledger technology, 426–428 emerging payment systems, 426–429 end-users of payment systems, 419 expansion by card and interbank payment systems, 428 four-party card system, 424–426
   Germany, 420
   India, 424, 430, 445

- interbank payment systems, 418, 422–423, 428
- inter-payment system competition, 429–433
- intra-payment system competition, 429–433
- merchant service charge (MSC), 424
- non-cash payments and cash payments, 417
- participants, 418–420
- payment interface providers (PIPs), 427
- payment schemes, 419
- payment service providers (PSPs), 419, 421–422, 429, 437
- payment system infrastructure providers, 420
- payment system operators, 420
- processing of payments, 420–422
- retail payment systems, 416–417
- three-party card system, 424
- two-sided markets, 379, 426, 434, 472
- wholesale payment systems, 416–417
- payment systems regulation, 415–451
  - activities subject to regulation, 433–436
  - card payment systems, 437–440
  - competition for the market, 415
  - form and scope of regulation, 436–440
  - infrastructure competition, 415
  - interbank payment systems, 436–437
- peak-load pricing, 77
  - multi-product firms, 87–89
- peering, price control, telecommunications regulation, 386–388
- performance and incentives under different ownership structures, 49–51
- performance investigations
  - ownership structures, 51–53
  - privately owned utilities, 51–53
  - state-owned utilities, 51–53
- physical hedging markets, trading arrangements for wholesale gas, 329
- PIPs (payment interface providers), 427
- platform operators, multi-sided markets, 191–194
- policy issues
  - aviation regulation, 582–588
  - electricity regulation, 305–315
  - gas regulation, 350–357
  - railways regulation, 535–543
  - telecommunications regulation, 401–413
  - water and wastewater industry, 617–631
- power purchase agreement (PPA), trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 281
- pre-competitive market stage, competition, 61
- pre-entry stage, competition, 61
- price and revenue caps
  - RPI-K approach, 607
  - RPI-X approach, 607
  - water and wastewater regulation, 606–607
- price cap regulation, 121–141. See also price regulation
  - advantages and disadvantages, 132–135
  - Australia, 288, 334
  - average revenue approach, 130
  - baskets, 124
  - Canada, 288, 335
  - determining the value of X, 125–126
  - developments, 136–138
  - duration of the price cap, 123–124
  - electricity transmission and distribution networks, 288–289
  - ex ante* revenue requirement, 126–129
  - fixed revenue cap, 130
  - gas transmission and distribution networks, 334–335
  - general price cap approach, 122–126
  - Germany, 332, 521–522
  - hybrid caps, 131
  - margin squeeze, 125, 166
  - origins, 121–122
  - products scope, 124–125
  - railways regulation, 521–523
  - regulatory lag, 123
  - revenue requirement determination, 126–129
  - RPI-K approach, 607
  - RPI-X approach, 122–123, 125–126, 133, 607
  - tariff basket approach (weighted average price cap), 131
  - telecommunications regulation, 381
  - total expenditure (totex) approach, 136–138
  - total factor productivity (TFP) approaches, 289
  - versus rate of return regulation, 116, 133, 138–141
  - weighted average price cap (tariff basket approach), 131
- price control, electricity regulation, 286–288, 295
- price control, telecommunications regulation, 380–388
  - avoided-cost resale provision, 384–385
  - bill and keep, 386–388
  - contestability theory, 385–386
  - distributed stand-alone cost (DSAC) test, 385–386
  - efficient component pricing rule (ECPR), 384–385
  - long-run incremental costs (LRIC), 381–384
  - peering, 386–388
  - price cap regulation, 381
  - price-cost tests, 385–386
  - rate of return regulation, 381
  - retail-minus price setting, 384–385
- price discrimination. See discriminatory pricing
- price regulation, 109–150. See also negotiated settlements, price cap regulation, pricing principles
  - administered pricing, 145–146
  - airport charges, 566
  - airport services, 562–563
  - airspace navigation services, 550–553, 561, 564, 565–566
  - allocative efficiency, 17–19
  - Australia, 61
  - aviation regulation, 561–562
  - benchmarking, 144–145
  - Canada, 518
  - China, 332
  - competition, 144–145, 146–147
  - competition for the market, 145
  - contracts, 145–146
  - core network services, 147–149
  - declining demand, 147–149
  - digital platforms, 472–473
  - earnings sharing mechanisms, 142–143
  - electricity regulation, 287–294
  - electricity transmission and distribution networks, 288–294
  - form and scope of water and wastewater regulation, 605–610
  - forms of price regulation, 239, 287–294
  - France, 605
  - gas regulation, 332–334
  - gas storage, 333–334, 338–339
  - gas transmission and distribution networks, 334–338
  - gas transmission, distribution, storage and retail supply, 332–334

746 Index

- price regulation (cont.)
  - Germany, 332, 605
  - hybrid approaches, 141–143
  - market power, 60–62
  - National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 61
  - negotiation, 145–146
  - Netherlands, 122
  - network decline, 147–149
  - opportunistic behaviour, 239
  - price and revenue caps, 606–607
  - railways regulation, 517–524
  - rate of return regulation, 109–120, 335–337, 606
  - rate structures regulation, 291, 337–338, 609–610
  - removing price regulation, 60–63
  - retail price controls, electricity regulation, 295
  - retailing of gas, 334, 339
  - revenue sharing mechanisms, 143
  - sunshine regulation, 608
  - transmission network pricing, electricity, 291–294
  - two-sided markets, 193
  - water and wastewater regulation, 605–610
  - yardstick and comparative competition, 608
  - yardstick competition, 144–145
- price setting
  - incremental cost, 48
  - stand-alone cost (SAC), 48
  - water and wastewater industry, 628–631
- price structures
  - behavioural industrial organisation and regulation, 215
  - digital platforms, 463–465
  - multi-sided markets, 192
  - water and wastewater industry, 629–631
- price–cost tests, telecommunications regulation, 385–386
- pricing decisions with non-standard consumers, 207–208
- pricing principles. See also marginal cost pricing, price regulation
  - average cost pricing, 77–79
  - constant mark-ups to recover fixed and common costs, 84–85
  - discriminatory pricing versus uniform pricing, 75
  - first-best pricing, 18, 75, 81
  - fixed costs, 76–77
  - linear pricing versus non-linear pricing, 75
  - multi-product firms, 83–90
  - non-linear pricing, 75, 80–83, 89
  - optimal linear pricing, 79
  - peak-load pricing, 77, 87–89
  - Ramsey–Boiteux pricing, 77, 85–87
  - under full information, 75–83
  - uniform pricing versus discriminatory pricing, 75
- principal–agent model, ownership structures, 49–51
- privacy protections, digital platforms regulation, 499–500
- private contracting approach, 65–66
  - versus negotiated settlements, 65
- private participation, water and wastewater industry, 617–624
- privately owned utilities. See also ownership structures, public utilities, state-owned utilities
  - performance investigations, 51–53
- private–public partnerships and water concessions
  - Chile, 622
  - China, 621
  - France, 622, 632
  - Jakarta, 623
  - Latin America, 622
  - reverse privatisation, 624
  - water and wastewater industry, 621–624
- privatisation
  - airports restructuring policies, 573–575
  - airspace navigation services, 575, 581
  - aviation industry, 557, 571
  - aviation industry, Chile, 574
  - Canada, airspace navigation services, 575, 581
  - Chile, 296
  - Chile, aviation industry, 574
  - Chile, telecommunications industry, 395
  - developing and transitional economies, 250–251
  - effects, 51–53, 401
  - English experiment, 618–619
  - France, airspace navigation services, 553
  - Japan, railways industry, 528–529
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 295–296
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 614–616
  - reverse privatisation, 5, 624
  - telecommunications industry, 393, 395, 401
  - UK, airspace navigation services, 553, 575
  - UK, gas industry, 341, 345
  - UK, railways industry, 528–529
  - UK, telecommunications industry, 393
  - USA, airspace navigation services, 581
  - water and wastewater industry, 611–612
- producer and consumer interests, independent regulation/agencies, 240
- productive efficiency, 16
  - entry regulation, 19–21
  - marginal cost pricing, 19
- public utilities. See also ownership structures, privately owned utilities, state-owned utilities
  - competition law, 54–56
  - ex post* (after the fact) competition law, 54–56
  - household expenditure, 1–2
- Public Utility Commissions (PUCs)
  - gas price regulation, 333–334, 341
  - non-price regulation, 389
  - origins, 245–247
  - responsibilities, 258
  - retail price regulation, 339
- Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act 1978 (PURPA), 280
- PUCs. See Public Utility Commissions
- PURPA (Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act 1978), 280
- quality principles, 102–104
- quality regulation, water and wastewater regulation, 608–609
- RAB. See regulatory asset base
- radio waves/base stations, telecommunications, 365
- railways industry, 503–544. See also restructuring policies, railways industry
  - Australia, 511–512
  - autonomous trains, 513
  - Canada, 511–512, 518
  - characteristics of the product, 504–506
  - China, 503–504, 505–506, 510, 514
  - competition, 503–504, 516–517, 535–540
  - competition for the market, 511, 528, 544

- freight services, 504–506
- horizontal competition, 536–540
- India, 505–506, 510, 514
- infrastructure, 506–510
- infrastructure interoperability, 508
- infrastructure management, 509, 510
- infrastructure ownership, 509
- infrastructure, France, 510
- infrastructure, railway stations, 513–514
- Netherlands, 513
- passenger services, 504–506
- physical and economic characteristics, 504–514
- privatisation, 528–529
- rail services, China, 505
- railway stations, 513–514
- railway stations, France, 513
- railway stations, Germany, 513
- railway systems, 506–514
- Ramsey–Boiteux pricing, 540–543
- scope economies, 13, 536, 537, 539
- state-owned companies, 511
- supply structures, train services, 511
- train operating companies, 512
- train services, 510–513
- train services, Canada, 511
- train services, France, 512
- train services, Germany, 511–513
- vertical competition, 537–540
- railways regulation, 514–524
  - Australia, negotiated approaches, 523
  - Canada, negotiated approaches, 523
  - competition for the market, 515, 528
  - competitive activities in the supply chain, 514–517
  - European Union, price cap regulation, 521–522
  - horizontal competition, 516–517
  - horizontal separation versus vertical separation, 535–536
  - India, 504
  - infrastructure price regulation, 518–519
  - negotiated approaches, 523–524
  - on-rail competition, 515–516
  - open-access competition, 515–516
  - policy issues, 535–543
  - price cap regulation, 521–523
  - price regulation, 517–524
  - supply chain, 514–520
  - train operating services, 519
  - UK, price cap regulation, 521
  - USA, negotiated approaches, 523
  - vertical separation versus horizontal separation, 535–536
  - vertically integrated railways, 516–517
- railways supply chain
  - competitive activities, 514–517
  - France, 516
- Ramsey–Boiteux pricing
  - allocative efficiency, 19
  - multi-product firms, 85–87
  - one-way access pricing, 156–157
  - pricing principles, 77, 85–87
  - railways industry, 540–543
  - rate of return regulation, 115
  - single-product firms, 79, 83
- ratchet effect, intertemporal pricing, 237–238
- rate base, 109–110
- rate case process
  - asset ‘rate base’, 111
  - capital investments, 111–115
  - cost of capital, 111–115
  - determination of rates or prices, 115–116
  - rate of return regulation, 110–116
  - revenue requirement determination, 111–115
  - Takings Clause, 111
- rate of return regulation, 109–120, 335–337, 606
  - advantages and disadvantages, 116–119
  - Averch–Johnson (A–J) effect, 117–119
  - Canada, 337
  - developments, 119–120
  - electricity transmission and distribution networks, 289–290
  - gas transmission and distribution networks, 335–337
  - Germany, 137
  - lag period, 120
  - negotiated settlements, 120
  - operating expenses (OPEX), 110
  - Ramsey–Boiteux pricing, 115
  - rate case process, 110–116
  - regulatory lag, 117, 118, 121, 290, 637
  - telecommunications regulation, 381
  - versus price cap regulation, 116, 133, 138–141
  - water and wastewater regulation, 606
- rate structures regulation
  - electricity transmission and distribution networks, 291
  - gas transmission and distribution networks, 337–338
  - water and wastewater regulation, 609–610
- rate structures, desirable attributes, 100–107
- rationales for regulation, 635–636
  - affordability, 35–39
  - alternatives to regulation, 635–636
  - consumers’ characteristics, 39–41
  - cost efficiency, 12–15
  - digital platforms, 468–488
  - efficiency rationales for regulation, 12–21
  - externalities, 24
  - fairness, 35–39
  - implications of the different rationales, 41–42
  - independent regulation/agencies, 233–245
  - market power, 481–483
  - monopoly power, 481–483
  - natural monopoly, 12–14, 15–16, 19–21
  - network effects, 25–28
  - scope economies, 13–14, 470
- reasons for regulation, 1–3, 11–12
  - efficiency rationales, 12–21
- reciprocal agreement and ‘bill and keep’, two-way access pricing, 175–176, 178
- regional markets, electricity, 283, 284
- regulators, regulation of. See who regulates the regulators?
- regulatory agencies. See independent regulation/agencies
- regulatory asset base (RAB)
  - building block approach, 127–128
  - cost of capital, 112
- regulatory commitment. See also opportunistic behaviour
  - asymmetric information, 97–98
  - Baron and Myerson model, 97, 238
  - contracts, 240
  - independent regulation/agencies, 234–245
  - Laffont and Tirole model, 98
  - regulatory decisions, Canada, 263

748 Index

- regulatory holidays, 179, 406
- regulatory lag, 99
  - price cap regulation, 123
  - rate of return regulation, 117, 118, 121, 290, 637
- regulatory responsibility, Canada, 254, 258–259
- regulatory theory and practice, linking, 636–637
- re-municipalisation, water and wastewater industry, 624
- restructuring policies, aviation industry, 570–582
  - airline markets, 570–573
  - airports, 573–575, 579–580
  - airspace navigation services, 575, 581
  - Australia, 572–573, 579, 580
  - Canada, 572–573, 579
  - Chile, 572, 579
  - China, 574, 579
  - environment, 581
  - Europe, 577–579
  - France, 571, 577
  - India, 579, 602
  - Japan, 579
  - Netherlands, 571
  - safety, 581
  - scope, 570–575
  - USA, 575–577
- restructuring policies, electricity industry, 295–304
  - Australia, 303–304
  - Canada, 297, 309
  - Chile, 299, 303
  - China, 297, 299
  - competition, 305–311
  - default tariffs, 303
  - developing and transitional economies, 299, 303–304
  - effects in the electricity industry, 299–304
  - Europe, 298, 301–303
  - France, 301
  - Germany, 301–302
  - India, 297
  - New Zealand, 303–304
  - privatisation, 295–296
  - standard restructuring model, 295–297
  - unbundling policies, 296, 298
  - USA, 297, 299–301
- restructuring policies, gas industry, 340
  - Argentina, 343, 347
  - Australia, 343, 347
  - Canada, 343, 344, 357
  - Chile, 343
  - Colombia, 343
  - Europe, 341–343, 345–347
  - liquefied natural gas (LNG), 347
  - market power, 341
  - Mexico, 343
  - New Zealand, 343
  - prices and investment: restructuring impact, 352–355
  - security of gas supply, 350–352
  - UK, 341–343, 345–347
  - unbundling policies, 342, 357
  - USA, 340–341, 343–345
- restructuring policies, payment systems, 440–451
  - Australia, 445, 447, 450
  - card payment systems, 443–445, 446–449
  - interbank payment systems, 441–443, 445–446
  - scope of policies, 440–445
- restructuring policies, railways industry, 524–535
  - Canada, 531
  - China, 528
  - competition for the market, 526, 535
  - developing and transitional economies, 527–528, 534–535
  - Europe, 525–527, 532–534
  - Germany, 532–534
  - Japan, 527, 528–529
  - Russia, 528
  - scope, 524
  - UK, 528–529, 532–534
  - USA, 525, 531–532
- restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 389–401
  - Australia, 395
  - Chile, 395
  - developing and transitional economies, 395, 400–401
  - Europe, 393–394, 397–399
  - Germany, 407
  - margin squeeze, 390
  - National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 394
  - New Zealand, 395
  - stages of regulation, 389–391
  - UK, 393–394, 397–399
  - unbundling policies, 390, 391
  - USA, 392–393, 395–397
- restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 610–617
  - Australia, 614, 616
  - Chile, 614, 616
  - competitive activities, 615, 616, 617
  - European Union, 612–613
  - France, 613, 614
  - Germany, 613
  - models, 610
  - Netherlands, 613
  - privatisation, 614–616
  - retail competition, 616
  - UK, 611–612, 614–616
  - USA, 613
- retail activities, water and wastewater industry, 598, 616
- retail benchmarking, two-way access pricing, 177
- retail competition
  - electricity industry, default tariffs, 194, 295, 303, 309–311
  - gas industry, default tariffs, 194, 339
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 616
- retail electricity supply
  - competition, 308–311
  - Germany, 309
  - India, 297
- retail payment systems, 416–417
- retail price controls, electricity regulation
  - Australia, 295
  - France, 295
  - Germany, 295
- retail price regulation
  - Australia, 219
  - Public Utility Commissions (PUCs), 339
- retail supply, electricity supply system, 279
- retailing of gas, 327
  - Australia, 327

- competition, 331
- price regulation, 334, 339
- retail-minus price setting, telecommunications regulation, 384–385
- revenue requirement determination
  - ex ante* revenue requirement, 126–129
  - long-run incremental costs (LRIC), 128–129
  - price cap regulation, 126–129
  - rate case process, 111–115
- revenue sharing mechanisms, price regulation, 143
- reverse privatisation, 5
  - private–public partnerships and water concessions, 624
  - water and wastewater industry, 624
- risks associated with the creation of independent regulators, 243–245
- RPI-K approach, price cap regulation, 607
- RPI-X approach, price cap regulation, 122–123, 125–126, 133, 607
- Russia, restructuring policies, railways industry, 528
- SAC. See stand-alone cost
- scale economies, 12–16
  - digital platforms regulation, 469–472
  - network effects, 25–26, 27
  - subadditivity, 15
  - water and wastewater industry, 599–601
- scope economies
  - aviation regulation, 561
  - digital platforms regulation, 470, 473
  - railways industry, 13, 536, 537, 539
  - rationales for regulation, 13–14, 470
  - vertical integration, 601
  - vertical integration and separation, 183
  - water and wastewater industry, 601
- scope of economic regulation
  - digital platforms regulation, 490–492
  - Germany, 490
- security of gas supply
  - Europe, 350–352
  - gas regulation, 350–352
  - restructured competitive gas industry, 350–352
  - UK, 350–352
- self-supply, trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 280
- separation policies, digital platforms regulation, 493–494
- service level agreement (SLA), non-price regulation, 388
- service providers, telecommunications networks and services, 369–370
  - Australia, 369
- service quality regulation, water and wastewater regulation, 608–609
- shale gas. See also fracking
  - China, 318, 323
  - USA, 318
- short-run marginal cost (SRMC) pricing, 95–96
- significance of economic regulation, 1–2
- single-product firms, Ramsey–Boiteux pricing, 79, 83
- single-buyer model, trading arrangement for wholesale electricity, 281
- SLA (service level agreement), non-price regulation, 388
- SMS (strategic market status), digital platforms regulation, 490
- specialisation, independent regulation/agencies, 243
- spectrum licences, telecommunications networks and services, 370–372
  - India, 371
  - USA, 371
- SRMC (short-run marginal cost) pricing, 95–96
- stand-alone cost (SAC)
  - price control, telecommunications regulation, 385–386
  - price setting, 48
- state-owned companies, railways industry, 511
- state-owned utilities, 48–54. See also ownership
  - structures, privately owned utilities, public utilities
  - benefits of state ownership vis-à-vis private ownership, 49
  - independent regulation, 53–54
  - performance investigations, 51–53
- static efficiency, one-way access pricing, 156
- STB (Surface Transportation Board), competition law, 257
- stepping stone hypothesis. See ladder of investment approach
- storage. See also electricity storage, gas storage
  - liquefied natural gas (LNG), 339
- strategic market status (SMS), digital platforms regulation, 490
- subadditivity, 14–16
  - scale economies, 15
- sunk asset expropriation, time-inconsistency problem, 235–237
- sunshine regulation
  - Germany, 608
  - Netherlands, 608
  - water and wastewater regulation, 608
- Surface Transportation Board (STB), competition law, 257
- sustainability. See environmental and sustainability policies
- switching technologies, telecommunications, 365–367
- system operation, electricity regulation, 276, 287
- Takings Clause, rate case process, 111
- tariff basket approach (weighted average price cap), price cap regulation, 131
- telecommunications industry. See also restructuring
  - policies, telecommunications industry
  - behavioural biases, 221–222
  - behavioural economics, 221–222
- telecommunications networks and services, 359–372
  - 5G networks, 368
  - allocation of capacity, 370–372
  - cable modem services, 368
  - capacity allocation, 370–372
  - characteristics of the product, 360–361
  - circuit switching, 365
  - data services, 368
  - Digital Subscriber Line (DSL), 364, 368
  - fibre to the premises/cabinet (FTTP/C), 368
  - fibre-optic cable infrastructure, 364
  - fixed line telecommunications network architecture, 361–363
  - France, 369
  - hybrid fibre coaxial (HFC) infrastructure, 365
  - legacy networks, 363
  - mobile virtual network operators (MVNOs), 370
  - multimedia and broadcasting services, 369
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 363, 404–407

750 Index

- telecommunications networks and services (cont.)
   over-the-top (OTT) applications, 367, 386–388, 403 packet switching, 366–367 radio waves/base stations, 365 service providers, 369–370 services, 367–369 spectrum licences, 370–372 supply structure for telecommunications services, 363–370 switching technologies, 365–367 transmission infrastructure, 363–365
   Voice over IP (VoIP), 367, 368
- telecommunications regulation, 359–413 avoided cost pricing, 384–385
   cable networks, 375–377
   competition, 401–404
   competition law, 377–378 competitive bottlenecks, 377–378
   European Union, 375, 394
   fixed line networks, 372–375
   Germany, 369
   infrastructure competition, 373, 398
   light-handed approach, 374
   make-or-buy decision, 372
   margin squeeze, 378
   market power, 373, 375, 394
   mobile networks, 377
   National Regulatory Authority (NRA), 375, 378, 394
   net neutrality, 407–412
   next-generation networks (NGNs), 404–407
   non-price regulation, 388–389
   policy issues, 401–413
   price control, 380–388
   retail-minus price setting, 384–385
   transition from legacy copper networks to NGN, 404–407
   two-sided markets, 379
   unbundling policies, 372, 376, 384, 393, 395
   waterbed effect, 178, 377–378
- TELRIC (total element long-run incremental cost), 381, 382, 383–384
- termination monopoly problem, two-way access pricing, 172
- terminology, 7
- Tesla Virtual Power Plant project, 274
- TFP (total factor productivity) approaches, price cap regulation, 289
- threat of entry, contestability theory, 46–48
- three party card system, 424
- time-inconsistency problem
   independent regulation/agencies, 234–237 monetary policy, 234–235
   sunk asset expropriation, 235–237
- timing of infrastructure investment, 179–180
- total element long-run incremental cost (TELRIC), 381, 382, 383–384
- total expenditure (Totex) approach
   Germany, 606
   Italy, 606
   Netherlands, 606
   price cap regulation, 136–138
   UK, 606
- total factor productivity (TFP) approaches, price cap regulation, 289
- total service long-run incremental cost (TSLRIC), 381, 382, 383–384
- Totex. See total expenditure approach
- trading ‘hubs’, wholesale gas spot markets, 327–329
- trading arrangements for bulk water, 602
   Germany, 602
- trading arrangements for wholesale electricity, 280–284,
   See also electricity supply system bilateral transactions, 281 competition, wholesale electricity markets, 305–306
   electricity markets and exchanges, 282–284
   electricity pool, 280 feed-in tariffs (FITs), 282
   Germany, 282
   government price guarantees, 282 power purchase agreement (PPA), 281
   Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act 1978 (PURPA), 280 self-supply, 280 single-buyer model, 281
   wholesale electricity markets, competition, 305–306
- wholesale market-based trading arrangements, 602
- trading arrangements for wholesale gas, 327–330 financial hedging markets, 329 liquefied natural gas (LNG) wholesale trading, 330
   long term contracts for wholesale gas supply, 329–330 physical hedging markets, 329
   restructuring policies, 327
   trading ‘hubs’, 327–329
   wholesale gas spot markets, 327–329
- train services. See railways industry
- transfer payments
   asymmetric information, 96–98
   core network activities, 77
   dynamic regulation, 96–100
   hidden action, 93
   hidden information, 93
   imperfect information, 98–100 incremental surplus subsidy scheme, 96–97
- transition from legacy copper networks to NGN, telecommunications regulation, 404–407
- transitional economies. See developing and transitional economies
- transmission, electricity/gas. See electricity transmission and distribution networks, gas transmission and distribution networks
- transparency/opacity, digital platforms regulation, 486
- transport industry, behavioural economics, 223
- TSLRIC. See total service long-run incremental cost
- two-part tariffs, uniform
   non-linear pricing, 80–83
   optimal non-linear pricing, 80–83
- two-sided markets
   airport services, 553
   monopoly power, 477
   net neutrality, 408
   network effects, 25
   payment systems, 379, 426, 434, 472
   price regulation, 193
   telecommunications regulation, 379
- two-way access pricing, 169–178
   adjacent monopolies, 169–170, 172
   Australia, 178
   Canada, 178
   competition, 169–178

- competition for subscribers, 171–176
- cooperative determination of access prices, 173–175
- efficient two-way access prices, 176–178
- implications for regulation, 178
- market power, 176
- non-cooperative access price determination, 173
- one-to-many access pricing, 170–171
- reciprocal agreement and ‘bill and keep’, 175–176, 178
- retail benchmarking, 177
- termination monopoly problem, 172
- UAS. See unmanned aircraft systems
- UK
  - airspace navigation services, 565
  - digital platforms regulation, 490, 492
  - evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 247–248
  - legal cases, 642
  - legislation, 642
  - price cap regulation, railways regulation, 521
  - privatisation, airspace navigation services, 575
  - privatisation, aviation industry, 571
  - privatisation, gas industry, 341, 345
  - privatisation, railways industry, 528–529
  - privatisation, telecommunications industry, 393
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 341–343, 345–347
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 528–529, 532–534
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 393–394, 397–399
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 611–612, 614–616
  - security of gas supply, 350–352
  - total expenditure (Totex) approach, 606
  - unbundling policies, telecommunications regulation, 393, 398–399
- unbundling policies, 16
  - Australia, telecommunications regulation, 395
  - next-generation networks (NGNs), 363, 375, 404–405
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 296, 298
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 342, 356
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 390, 391
  - telecommunications regulation, 372, 376, 384, 393, 395
  - UK, telecommunications regulation, 393, 398–399
  - USA, telecommunications regulation, 384, 392–393, 397
  - water and wastewater regulation, 632
- uniform pricing, versus discriminatory pricing, 75
- uniform two-part tariffs
  - non-linear pricing, 80–83
  - optimal non-linear pricing, 80–83
- unmanned aircraft system traffic management (UTM), 67, 586–588
- unmanned aircraft systems (UAS), 557–558
  - aviation regulation, 586–588
- USA
  - airline markets, 570–571
  - airport charges, 566
  - airports, restructuring policies, 573
  - airspace navigation services, 565
  - cable networks regulation, telecommunications, 375–377
  - digital platforms regulation, 491, 492
  - division of powers and responsibilities, government levels/regulators, 258
  - evolution of independent regulatory agencies, 245–247
  - Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), 245, 257, 297
  - federal legal cases, 642–643
  - legislation, 643
  - market power, 299
  - mark-ups approach, railways industry, 541
  - negotiated approaches, railways regulation, 523
  - negotiated settlements, gas industry, 335–337
  - net neutrality regulations, 411
  - privatisation, airspace navigation services, 581
  - restructuring policies, aviation industry, 575–577
  - restructuring policies, electricity industry, 297, 299–301
  - restructuring policies, gas industry, 340–341, 343–345
  - restructuring policies, railways industry, 525, 531–532
  - restructuring policies, telecommunications industry, 392–393, 395–397
  - restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry, 613
  - shale gas, 318
  - spectrum licences, telecommunications networks and services, 371
  - unbundling policies, telecommunications regulation, 384, 392–393, 397
  - water markets, 627
  - use-of-system charges, 294
  - UTM (unmanned aircraft system traffic management), 67, 586–588
- value chain, digital platforms, 461–466
- vertical competition, railways industry, 537–540
- vertical integration
  - Chile, 601
  - France, 601
  - Germany, 601
  - infrastructure competition, 71
  - scope economies, 601
  - water and wastewater industry, 601
- vertical integration and separation, 183–189
  - accounting separation, 188
  - business separation, 188
  - competition, 183–189
  - forms of vertical separation, 187–189
  - hold-up, 184–185
  - legal and ownership separation, 189
  - mandatory and voluntary separation, 189
  - potential benefits of vertical integration, 183–185
  - potential benefits of vertical separation, 185–187
  - scope economies, 183
  - vertical integration with competition in some activities, industry structure, 73–75
  - vertical integration, one-way access pricing, 156
  - vertical separation with competition in some activities, industry structure, 72
  - vertical separation, one-way access pricing, 154–155
  - vertically integrated monopoly, industry structure, 72
  - voluntary and mandatory separation, 189
- vertical separation
  - Australia, 186
  - margin squeeze, 185

752 Index

- virtual power plants (VPP), electricity supply system, 274, 275
- Voice over IP (VoIP), telecommunications, 367, 368
- voluntary and mandatory separation, vertical integration and separation, 189
- VPP (virtual power plants), electricity supply system, 274, 275
- WACC. See weighted average cost of capital
- water and wastewater industry, 591–632, See also restructuring policies, water and wastewater industry
  - Australia, 597
  - behavioural biases, 223
  - behavioural economics, 223
  - Canada, 598
  - capital structure, 618–619
  - characteristics, 591–592
  - characteristics of the product, 592–602
  - China, 602, 614, 621
  - collection and transportation of wastewater, 598
  - demand for water, 593
  - disposal, 599
  - English experiment, 618–619
  - France, 599, 602, 622
  - Germany, 598, 599
  - Jakarta, 623
  - Latin America, 622
  - Netherlands, 598, 599
  - policy issues, 617–631
  - potable versus non-potable water, 592
  - price levels, 628–629
  - price setting, 628–631
  - price structures, 629–631
  - private participation, 617–624
  - private–public partnerships and water concessions, 621–624
  - privatisation, 611–612
  - re-municipalisation, 624
  - retail activities, 598
  - reverse privatisation, 624
  - scale economies, 599–601
  - scope economies, 601
  - sources, 594
  - supply chain, 594–599
  - trading arrangements for bulk water, 602
  - transportation of wastewater, 598
  - value of water, 624–628
  - vertical integration, 601
  - wastewater characteristics, 593
  - wastewater treatment, 598
  - water abstraction, 594–596, 602–603
  - water distribution, 597–598
  - water markets, 602, 624–628
  - water treatment, 596
  - wholesale market-based trading arrangements, 602
- water and wastewater regulation, 602–610
  - competition for the market, 592, 610, 615, 617, 632
  - competitive activities, 602–604
  - infrastructure competition, 603
  - inset appointments, 603, 615
  - new appointments and variations, 603, 615
  - price and revenue caps, 606–607
  - price regulation, 605–610
  - quality regulation, 608–609
  - rate of return regulation, 606
  - rate structures regulation, 609–610
  - service quality regulation, 608–609
  - sunshine regulation, 608
  - supply chain, 602–605
  - unbundling policies, 632
  - water abstraction, 602–603
  - yardstick and comparative competition, 608
- water markets, 624–628
  - Australia, 625, 628
  - Chile, 625–627, 628
  - USA, 627
- waterbed effect, telecommunications regulation, 178, 377–378
- weighted average cost of capital (WACC)
  - cost of capital, 113–114, 115
  - vanilla WACC, 115
- weighted average price cap (tariff basket approach), price cap regulation, 131
- who regulates the regulators?, 261–265
  - appeals of process or substance, 261–262
  - general courts, 262–263
  - general oversight and accountability, 263–264
  - Government Accountability Office (GAO), 264
  - judicial review, 246, 247, 261
  - National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC), 264
  - National Audit Office (NAO), 264
  - political or executive oversight, 264
  - review of specific regulatory decisions, 261–263
  - rights of appeal, 261–263
  - specialist tribunals, 262–263
  - standing to appeal decisions, 263
- wholesale electricity markets
  - Chile, 280, 281
  - China, 297
  - Germany, 282
  - market power, 305–306
- wholesale gas spot markets
  - Australia, 328, 329
  - Canada, 328
  - Germany, 328
  - Netherlands, 328
- wholesale payment systems, 416–417
- wholesale trading arrangements. See trading arrangements for wholesale electricity, trading arrangements for wholesale gas
- winner takes all/most
  - digital platforms, 463
  - network effects, 463
- X-inefficiency, monopoly power, 22
- yardstick and comparative competition
  - price regulation, 608
  - water and wastewater regulation, 608
- yardstick competition
  - asymmetric information, 100
  - Chile, 608
  - Germany, 145
  - Netherlands, 145
  - price regulation, 144–145