

Index

N.B. - locators in bold indicate information in tables and locators in italics indicate information in figures.

- administrative processes and procedures
  - manipulation of, 6–7, 8, 16, 24, 49, 58, 254
  - see also* coercive tactics
- al-Sisi, Abdel Fattah, 12, 254
- rhetoric, 47
- Arab Spring, 12, 264
- “Authoritarian Emphasis” index, 158–159
- authoritarian diffusion
  - war on terror, impact of, 263–265
- authoritarian learning, 262–263
- Ukraine, 263
- authoritarian reflex, 133, 135
- Authoritarian Regimes Dataset, 10, 79, 139
- authoritarian social contract, 36–38, 55, 252
  - elite protection pact distinguished, 38, 43–44
  - elite-centric perspective, 39–44
  - popular consent, 40–43, 246, 255
  - roving/stationary bandits, 36n3
- campaign appeals, 53–54, 187
- civic-mindedness, appeals to, 157–158
- civil rights, appeals to, 144, 144–145, 148
- competence and need for strong government, 146
- constitutionalism, appeals to, 146, 147, 148, 157
- democracies and electoral autocracies compared, 140–143, 142
- democracy, appeals to, 144, 144–145, 157
- Democratic Legitimacy frame, 54, 142
- nationalism, appeals to, 145–146, 148
- Negative Legitimacy frame, 141
- party manifesto data, measuring, 136–137
- Authoritarian Regimes Dataset, 139
- Comparative Manifestos Project, 137–139
- controls, 138
- Database of Political Institutions, 139
- personal freedoms, appeals to, 144, 144–145
- political authority, 148–149
- Putin, Vladimir
  - Millennium Manifesto*, 186–189
- qualitative analysis, 151–156, 153
- quantitative analysis
  - scale component selection
  - validation test, 156–157
- Rally-Around-the-Strongman frame, 54, 141
- suspension of freedoms, appeals to, 145, 145–146, 148
- see also* party manifestos
- candidate positioning, 204–211, 207
- Communist/liberal/nationalist ideological divisions, 211
- multinomial logit models of vote choice, 215

Index

295

- censorship of opposition, 33
  - see also* media censorship and manipulation
- charismatic authority, 10–17, 55, 178, 202, 254
  - see also* “strongman” electoral authoritarianism
- Chávez, Hugo, 4, 11, 21, 35, 251, 253
- control of elites, 40
- legitimation strategies, 12
- rhetoric, 47
  - see also* Venezuela
- Chavismo, 254
- Chechnya, 194
  - Putin, Vladimir, 12, 47, 56, 171, 186, 201, 205
  - Yeltsin, Boris, 180, 183, 186, 256
- checks and balances, removal of, 16, 33, 34, 63
- civic-mindedness, appeals to, 157–158
- civil rights
  - campaign appeals, 144, 144–145, 148, 193
  - global decline, 3
- clientelism, 18, 25n13, 92
  - natural resource rents as percentage of GDP, 83
  - see also* coercive tactics
- closed dictatorship and electoral authoritarianism compared, 5, 6
- coercive capacity, measuring
  - IHME dataset, 82
  - National Material Capabilities Dataset of the Correlates of War Project, 82
  - total natural resource rents as percent of GDP (World Bank), 83
- coercive tactics, 5, 20, 25n13, 38–39, 58, 77, 78, 242, 252, 253
  - administrative processes and procedures, manipulation of, 6–7, 8, 16, 24, 49, 58, 254
  - manipulation of democracy, 5–8, 21–22
  - persuasion compared, 168–169, 242
- Comparative Manifestos Project Dataset, 31, 137–139, 244
- competence and need for strong government
  - campaign appeals, 145, 146
- competitive electoral authoritarianism, 22, 35
- composite democracy indices, 8–10
- conflict, measuring, 80–81
- controls
  - Cold War dummy, 84
  - organizational membership, 83–84
  - regional dummies, 84
- consent. see popular consent
- constitutionalism, 142
  - campaign appeals, 146, 147, 148, 157
- Correlates of War dataset (COW)
  - Direct Contiguity Dataset, 83
  - measuring conflict, 80–81
- coups, elite, 39n7–8, 39–41, 41n9, 51, 243
- Cox survival models, 88–89
  - benefits, 89–90
  - conditional frailty model, 88, 89–90
  - conditional risk-set model, 88, 89–90
  - transition from democracies, 94
  - transition from electoral autocracies, 123
  - transition from military dictatorships, 105
  - transition from single-party dictatorships, 117
- crises, 243–244
  - measuring autocracy-legitimizing crises
    - conflict and economic decline, 45–47
- minimalist definition
  - economic decline and conflict, 45–47
- regime consolidation and survival, 77
- regime transition
  - conflict, 84–85, 85, 87
  - economic decline, 86, 86, 87
- reliance on, 250, 258–262
- role in regime transition, 36, 76, 131–132, 246–249
  - legitimizing function, 36, 133
- Russia
  - collapse of Communism, 178
  - disintegration of the Soviet Union, 178–179
  - economic liberalization under Yeltsin, 179–180

- crises (cont.)
   vagueness of concept, 44–45, 45n11
   see also crisis creation/maintenance;
     strongman heresthetics
 crisis creation/maintenance, 71–72, 258–261
   violence, 261
     Milošević, 261–262
 crisis legitimization paradox, 32, 71, 251, 258, 265, 266
   see also regime collapse; loss of purpose
- Database of Political Institutions, 83, 139
- delegative democracies, 50
- democracy, 8, 9–10, 79, 141, 241
   campaign appeals, 144, 144–145, 148, 157
   delegative democracies, 50
   electoral autocracies, transition from, 122–126, 123, 128–129
   manipulation of, 5–8, 21–22
   military dictatorships, transition from, 105, 107–112
   minimalist definition, 8, 9–10
   single-party dictatorships, transition from, 117, 119–120
   survival values, 225
   transition from, 90, 91–103, 131–132
   see also democracy, measuring
- democracy, measuring Authoritarian Regimes Dataset, 10, 79 composite democracy indices, 8–10
   minimalist approach, 8, 9–10
- democratic diffusion, 120, 130
   closed autocracies, impact on, 111–112
- Democratic Legitimacy frame, 51–53, 73, 134–135, 136
- diversionary conflicts, 71–72, 236, 259–261
   gambling for resurrection/survival, 72, 260–262, 263
   mass protests trigger, 261
   Russia, 263
   Serbia, 261–262
   Turkey, 264
- diversionary spectacles, 260
- diversity of electoral authoritarian rule, 10–11
- division of opposition, 59, 61, 68, 169–170, 204, 206
   candidate positioning in the issue space, 204–211
   Russia, 218
   see also redefinition of political competition
- Duterte, Rodrigo, 32, 254
- Duterteism, 254
- economic decline, measuring, 79–80
- controls
   Cold War dummy, 84
   organizational membership, 83–84
   regional dummies, 84
- economic performance, 22–23
   floor and ceiling effects on legitimacy in electoral autocracies, 172–175, 251–252
   Putin, Vladimir, 172–173, 250
   see also performance legitimacy paradigm
- Egypt. see al-Sisi, Abdel Fattah,
   Mubarak, Hosni
- electoral authoritarianism and populism compared, 55–56
- electoral authoritarianism scale
   “Authoritarian Emphasis” index
     compared, 158–159
- electoral legitimization, 15–16, 50n13
   see also legitimization strategies
- electoral manipulation. see coercive tactics
- elite protection pact, 41–42
   authoritarian social contract distinguished, 38, 43–44
- emergency rule, 12
   heresthetics, 60–61
   legitimation strategies, 15, 50, 57–58, 61, 77, 242, 260
- Erdoğan, Recep Tayyip, 4, 11, 32, 253
   authoritarian social contract, 43
   campaign appeals, 150
   control of elites, 40
   legitimation strategies, 12
   rhetoric, 48
   Erdoğanism, 254

Index

297

- establishing electoral autocracies, 50n13, 58
     see also legitimization strategies
- EU countries, 3, 20, 83, 91, 94, 103, 121, 248
- European and World Values Surveys (WVS/EVS), 32
  - existential anxieties, 226–227
  - popular opinion trends, 240, 245
  - survival values, 222–223, 224
  - voting behavior, 235
- event history models. see Cox survival models, survival models
- existential anxieties, 190, 201
  - exploitation of, 71, 133, 169, 184
  - rise of electoral autocracies, 37, 224–226
  - support for existing political system
    - electoral autocracies and democracies compared, 226–232, 229, 233
    - support for strongman rule, 49
      - Levada Center survey, 181, 182
- external influence paradigm, 19, 20–22, 23–24, 253
  - importance of, 24
- foreign influence. see external influence paradigm
- Freedom House, 3
  - composite democracy indices, 8–9, 79
- Fujimori, Alberto, 4
  - legitimation strategies, 12, 23
- global financial crisis (2008)
  - democratic norms, impact on, 1–3, 247
- Gorbachev, Mikhail, 178, 253
  - see also* Russia
- Habermas, Jürgen, 46
  - social crises definition, 44
- hegemonic electoral authoritarianism, 22, 29, 221
  - economic performance, 22–23
  - establishment, 58
  - Russia, 29–30
- heresthetics. see strongman heresthetics
- Hobbes, Thomas, 36
- horizontal accountability, 52–53
- Hungary. see Orbán, Viktor
- hybrid nature of electoral autocracies, 1, 4, 76, 232
  - see also* popular appeal of electoral autocracies; due to hybrid nature
- identifying electoral autocracies, 53, 73, 134, 165, 253
- ideological homelessness of electoral autocracies, 13–14, 250
- individual freedoms and human rights (CMP category), 141, 148, 164
- Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation (IHME)
  - GDP per capita, 79–80
  - measuring coercive tactics, 82
  - measuring economic decline, 79–80
- institutional restructuring, 58
  - see also* neo-institutionalism paradigm
- Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI) (Mexico), 1, 11, 21, 24
  - “patriotic” fraud, 51
  - authoritarian social contract, 43
  - campaign appeals, 150
    - rhetoric, 151–156, 153
  - legitimation strategies, 11
  - party manifesto analysis, 138
- institutionalized coercion. see neo-institutionalism paradigm
- issue ownership, 65–67, 66n31, 204–206
  - candidate positioning, 204, 207, 212, 266
  - political competition, 67
- judiciary, repression of, 3, 5, 8, 9
- Lee Kwan Yew, 11, 122
  - see also* Singapore
- legislatures/parliaments, repression of, 5, 8, 16
- legitimation strategies, 11–13, 16–17, 241, 244, 252
  - campaign appeals, 54
  - Democratic Legitimacy frame, 51–53, 54, 73, 134–135, 136
  - see also* procedural legitimacy electoral autocracies

- legitimation strategies (cont.)
     closed dictatorships compared, 133–134 Führer democracy, 50n13 ideology with small “i,” 250 emergency rule justification, 5, 15, 31, 50, 52, 57–58, 61, 77, 242, 260
     external influence paradigm, 19, 20
     Negative Legitimacy frame, 50–51, 53, 66, 73, 135–136
     neo-institutionalist paradigm, 18–19 performance legitimacy paradigm, 19–20
     populism and electoral authoritarianism compared, 55–56
     Putin, Vladimir
         Chechnya, 186
         Millennium Manifesto, 186–188
     Rally-Around-the-Strongman argument, 49–50, 53, 54, 73, 135, 136
     strongman appeal, 10–17
     “Trojan horse” authoritarian legitimation strategy, 134 will of the majority justification, 15–16, 52–53 see also majoritarianism Yeltsin
         Russia’s protector, as, 185–186
     Levada Analytical Center dataset, 31, 175, 181, 190, 245
     Leviathan (Hobbes), 36
     Machiavelli, Niccolò, 40, 42
     Madison, James, 6, 57
     Maduro, Nicolás, 35, 251, 253
         see also Venezuela
     majoritarianism, 52–53, 55, 56
         see also legitimation strategies; will of the majority justification manipulation of democracy. see coercive tactics media censorship and manipulation, 5, 8, 58, 74
         see also censorship of opposition “menus of manipulation,” 7, 11, 253 military dictatorships, 90, 131–132
         dataset analysis, 103–104
     survival values, 225
     transition from, 131–132
     transition from electoral autocracies, 123, 126–128, 129–130
     transition from single-party dictatorships, 116–119 transition to democracies, 105, 107–112 transition to electoral autocracies, 105
         clientelism, 108–111
         crises, 104–108
         (geo)political factors, 111–112
     Millennium Manifesto (Putin), 187–189
     Milošević, Slobodan, 12, 21, 35, 251
         diversionary conflicts, 261–262
         legitimation strategies, 12 models of vote choice, 229, 235
     modernization theory, 23
     Mubarak, Hosni, 12
         emergency rule, 12
         legitimation strategies, 12–13
     Mugabe, Robert, 11, 21, 35, 43, 251, 253
         authoritarian social contract, 43
     multinomial logit (ML) models of vote choice, 211–213, 215, 218–220
     Muslim Brotherhood, 264
     National Material Capabilities Dataset of the Correlates of War Project, 82 national unity, appeals to, 14, 54, 135, 140, 145, 149, 168, 232 national way of life, 141, 145, 157, 158 nationalism
         campaign appeals, 145, 145–146, 148
     NATO members, 3, 20, 23, 83, 91, 94, 103, 121, 248
     Negative Legitimacy frame, 50–51, 53, 66, 73, 135–136
     neo-institutionalism paradigm, 17–19, 23–24, 26n14 criticisms, 20–22
         importance of, 24
     New Russia Barometer (NRB), 198–199, 205, 219
     Nigeria, 11

Index

299

- O'Donnell, Guillermo
     emergency rule justification, 50
     horizontal accountability, 52
 OECD members, 83, 91, 95, 103, 121, 138
 Olson, Mancur, 36n3
 opinion analyses, 30
     European and World Values Surveys, 32, 245–246 opinion formation in turbulent times
     Levada Analytical Center dataset, 190–195
     Stimson's dyad ratios algorithm, 191–195
 Orbán, Viktor, 3, 4, 11, 20, 23, 248, 253
     legitimation strategies, 15
 Orbánism, 254
 overarching desire for stability, 189–190, 259
     Russian popular opinion, 193–204
     current assessments, 194
     institutional trust, 194
     policy attitudes, 195
     political participation, 194
     primary concerns, 193–194
 party manifestos quasi-statements, 138–139
     see also campaign appeals paternalist nature of electoral autocracies, 53, 54, 136
 “the perfect dictatorship”
     Mexico as, 1, 34
 performance legitimacy paradigm, 19–20, 23–24, 29, 220, 250–251
     criticisms, 20–22
     importance of, 24
     Putin, Vladimir, 172–175, 174
     see also economic performance personal freedoms
     campaign appeals, 144–145
 personalistic electoral autocracies, 11, 15, 16, 70, 254
 personalistic/systemic popularity
     compared, 56–57, 254–257
 persuasion and coercive tactics
     compared, 168, 184, 242
     exploitation of popular anxieties, 169 receptive nature of audience, 168 strong-armed rule as the best available, 168–169
 Peru. see Fujimori, Alberto Philippines. see Duterte, Rodrigo Poland, 3, 20, 248
 political authority, 141, 149, 157, 158
 political competition, 245–246
     democracies, 238–240, 239 electoral autocracies, 234–238, 237
     heresthetics, 60–61
     issue-based electoral competition, 61–67
 political participation
     plebiscite of silence, 265
     Russia, 194
 political repression. see repressive capacity, coercive tactics Polity project composite democracy indices, 8–9, 79
 popular appeal of electoral autocracies, 3–6, 34 attitudinal factors, 24–25 confounding influence of, 6, 24–29, 25n13, 26n14, 98, 102, 109, 244 due to hybrid nature, 4, 73, 76, 188, 219, 232
     see also hybrid nature of electoral autocracies elite control function, 39–41, 51, 243 evaluation, 13–15
     personalistic/systemic popularity
     compared, 56–57, 254–257
     rhetorical entrapment, danger of, 72 rises above ideology, 4, 14, 59, 61, 63, 66, 221, 250 social forces, 25–26
 popular consent, 33–34, 242
     authoritarian social contract, 40–43
     hybridity paradox, 34
     see also persuasion and coercive tactics compared populism. see electoral authoritarianism and populism compared populism and electoral authoritarianism compared, 55–56

- predicting electoral authoritarianism, 159–163
  - comparing predictors, 161
  - significance, 163–164
- pro/anti-strongman rule cleavage, 201
- procedural legitimacy, 52, 136, 250–251, 252
  - hijacking democracy, 4–5
  - see also* legitimization strategies; Democratic Legitimacy frame
- proliferation of electoral authoritarianism, 35
  - role of crises, 35–36, 37, 224–226
- propaganda, 25n13, 74
  - media censorship and manipulation, 75
  - Russian popular opinion, influence on, 198
  - see also* coercive tactics
- protection of the state
  - campaign appeals, 145
- protest, threat of, 39, 261, 266
- Putin, Vladimir, 4, 11, 22, 31, 32, 138, 202–204, 245, 253
  - annexation of Crimea, 171
  - approval ratings, 175–176, 170–171, 171, 177
  - campaign appeals, 164
    - rhetoric, 151–156, 153
  - Chechnya, 12, 47, 56, 171, 186, 201, 205
  - control of elites, 40
  - economic performance, 172–173
  - legitimation strategies, 11–12
  - personalistic electoral autocracy, 256
  - rhetoric, 47
    - campaign appeals, 151–156, 153
- Putinism, 254
- Rally-Around-the-Strongman
  - argument, 49–50, 53, 73, 135, 136
- redefinition of political competition, 58–60
  - heresthetics
    - regime collapse, 71
    - regime survival, 70–71
    - regime transition, 61–70
    - wedge issues, 60, 68, 206
- regime classification schemes
  - composite index regime
    - classifications, 8–10
    - minimalist approach, 8, 9–10
  - regime cleavage, 245–246
    - candidate positioning, 204–211
    - displacement of other cleavages, 204
    - division of opposition, 204, 207, 237, 239
  - multinomial logit (ML) models of vote choice, 211–213, 215
  - voting behavior
    - electoral autocracies and democracies compared, 234–240, 246
- regime collapse, 20–21, 22, 23, 29, 251–252, 266
  - loss of purpose, 32, 71, 251, 258, 266
  - see also* crisis legitimization paradox
- resistance to, 81–82
- voter withdrawal of support, 71
- regime consolidation and survival, 21–22, 58–60
  - redefinition of political opposition, 70–71
  - role of crises, 77
- regime cycles, 57
- regime survival and transition analysis, 119, 131–132
- methodology, 88–90
- transition to democracy. see transition from electoral autocracies
- transition to military dictatorships. see transition from electoral autocracies
- transitions from democracies, 91–103, 131
  - see also* transition from democracies
- transitions from electoral autocracies, 120–130
  - see also* transition from electoral autocracies
- transitions from military dictatorships, 103–112, 131
  - see also* transition from military dictatorships
- transitions from single-party dictatorships, 113–120

- see also* transition from single-party dictatorships
- regime transition
  - analysis of crisis roots
    - Cox conditional frailty model, 88
    - Cox conditional risk-set model, 88
  - consolidation of power, 58, 73–74
  - redefinition of political opposition, 61–70, 74
  - role of crises, 35–36, 72, 76–77
    - conflict, 84–85, 85, 87
    - economic decline, 86, 86, 87
  - transition from democracies. see transition from democracies
  - transition from military dictatorships. see transition from military dictatorships
  - transition from single-party dictatorships. see transition from single-party dictatorships
  - transition to democracies. see transition from electoral autocracies
  - transition to military dictatorships. see transition from electoral autocracies
- repression. see coercive tactics
- repressive capacity, 19, 25n13, 78, 91, 92, 99, 100, 108, 119, 130, 159, 163, 253
  - see also* coercive tactics
- Republic* (Plato), 51, 134
- resilience of electoral autocracies, 23, 26, 33, 56, 58–60, 78, 122, 130, 241, 242
  - Russia, 202
- resource rents, 18, 78, 91, 92, 99, 100, 103, 108–111, 119, 128–129, 132, 244, 253
- rhetoric, 47–48
  - campaign appeals, 153
  - see also* slogans
- Riker, William H.
  - heresthetics, 59, 60
- Russia, 4, 11, 253
  - authoritarian social contract, 43
  - control of elites, 40
  - see also* Gorbachev, Mikhail; Putin, Vladimir; Russian popular opinion; Yeltsin, Boris
- Russian popular opinion, 200, 245
  - civil rights, concerns about, 193
  - institutional trust, 194
  - policy attitudes, 194–195
  - political and economic situation, concerns about, 194
  - political participation, 194
  - propaganda, influence of, 195
  - weakness of state authority, concerns about, 193
- self-preservation, 49, 58, 135, 243, 246
- separation of powers doctrine, dismantling of, 3, 16, 34, 43, 61, 111, 181–182, 185, 190, 194, 228
- Serbia. see Milošević, Slobodan
- Singapore, 11, 20, 22, 122
  - authoritarian social contract, 43
  - legitimation strategies, 11
  - see also* Lee Kwan Yew
- Slater, Dan, 11, 37, 169
  - authoritarian protection pact, 36–38
- slogans, 11–13
- Soviet Union's collapse, 1–2, 113, 178–179
  - see also* Gorbachev, Mikhail; Yeltsin, Boris
- Stimson's dyad ratios algorithm, 191, 193
- “strongman” electoral authoritarianism
  - campaign appeals, 54, 164–166, 244–245
- charismatic/systemic popularity
  - compared, 56–57, 254–257
- legitimation strategies, 10–17, 249–254
  - Democratic Legitimacy frame, 51–53, 54, 134–135, 136
  - Negative Legitimacy frame, 50–51, 53, 135–136
  - Rally-Around-the-Strongman argument, 49–50, 53, 54, 135, 136
- rhetoric, 12, 47–48
- strongman heresthetics, 59–60, 184, 261
  - emergency rule, 60–61
  - political competition, 61–67
  - Russian, 184–189

- survival models, 88
- survival values, 54, 168
  - European and World Values Surveys, 223–226, 225
  - strongman herethetic model, relationship with, 228–234
- suspension of freedoms
  - campaign appeals, 145, 145–146, 148
- term limits, 1, 205
- theoretical framework, 77–78
  - crisis origins of electoral autocracies, 29, 73, 164, 242
  - conflict, 76–77, 84–85, 85, 234
  - economic decline, 77, 86, 86
- Tocqueville, Alexis de, 52
- totalitarian dictatorships, 2, 13, 185
- traditional closed dictatorships, 2, 5, 6, 13, 35, 51, 74, 242
  - democratic diffusion, impact of, 111–112
  - electoral autocracies compared, 133–134
- transition from democracies, 90, 131–132
  - Cold War, impact of, 101–102
  - electoral authoritarianism, to, 92–99, 94
  - military dictatorships, to, 94, 99–101
  - survival analysis, 91–92
- transition from electoral autocracies, 90
  - democracies, to, 122–126, 123, 128–129
  - military dictatorships, to, 123, 126–128, 129–130
- transition from military dictatorships, 90, 131–132
- dataset analysis, 103–104
- democracies, to, 105, 107–112
- electoral autocracies, to, 105
  - clientelism, 108–111
  - crises, 104–108
  - (geo)political factors, 111–112
- transition from single-party dictatorships
  - democracies, to, 117, 119–120
  - electoral authoritarianism, to, 113–116, 117
  - military dictatorships, to, 116–119
- Turkey. see Erdoğan, Recep Tayyip
- tyranny of the majority, 6, 57
- UCDP/PRIO Armed Conflict Dataset
  - measuring conflict, 81
- Vargas Llosa, Mario, 1, 57
- Venezuela, 4, 11, 35, 251, 253
  - authoritarian social contract, 43
  - control of elites, 40
  - see also* Chávez, Hugo; Maduro, Nicolás
- war on terror, 264
- Weber, Max, 14, 50n13
- World Bank
  - total natural resource rents as percent of GDP
  - measuring coercive capacity, 83, 104
- Yeltsin, Boris, 182–183, 201–202
  - Chechnya, 180, 183, 186, 256
  - economic disaster, 172, 179–180
- Zimbabwe. see Mugabe, Robert