MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

Manuscripts for consideration should be submitted online at:

<http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/gcn>

GlobCon will review articles up to 15,000 words (including notes and bibliography), although authors will be encouraged to reduce their papers to fewer than 12,000 words before publication. Brevity is encouraged and shorter papers will be advantaged in acceptance decisions. Please include a word count with submission, along with an abstract of approximately 200 words which is not repeated from the paper itself. Please include up to five keywords for the article. Authors should submit both a complete version of the manuscript and an anonymous version, stripped of all identifying references to the author(s) that can be sent to reviewers. The citation style of the submission should either be Chicago or Harvard Style. Please do not use endnotes. Submissions are accepted now.

Any enquiries can be sent via email to the journal's Managing Editor Mr. Sassan Gholiagha. His E-Mail address is:

ESSENTIAL STYLE GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS USING EITHER HARVARD- OR CHICAGO-BASED STYLES

General instructions:

Beneath article title and author(s) name(s) provide name of academic (or other) institution/attachment together with its full address. Also supply on separate line contactable email address.

Check that the article's Abstract is present after the above and follow the Abstract with a maximum of five Keywords in alphabetical order.

Harvard-based style:

Headings: Use Roman numerals in the A head. Do not use numbers or letters in the B and C heads. Keep to the three levels as below:

<A head>I. Introduction

<B head>International terrorism as a trigger for 'bad' norm dynamics

<C head>Securitization theory: Security speech and its context. [Text continues]

References (main text): In main text separate references with semi-colons e.g. (Dunoff and Trachtman, eds 2009; Klabbers, Peters, and Ulfstein 2009; Krisch 2010). Separate date from page reference with semi-colon e.g. (Gerring et al. 2005: 336). When quoting page ranges elide numbers and combine with an en dash not hyphen e.g. (Smith 2008: 427–29).

Quotation marks: In main text use single quotation marks and double quotation marks within single quotation marks e.g. As Michael Williams notes: ‘Any issue is capable of securitization if it can be intensified to the point where it is presented and accepted as an “existential threat”’ (2003: 516).

Superscripts: Only use to refer to footnote and place outside punctuation e.g. From the Rousseauian point of view, the latter duty is the exclusive ‘virtue of sovereigns’,<sup>33</sup> and since (as above) a global sovereign seems an unlikely prospect, concern for overall condition remains a purely domestic affair, as arguably reflected in the fact that even committed cosmopolitans focus today on much more minimal goals.<sup>34</sup>

Abbreviations: e.g., i.e., vs., cf. but ed, eds, edn (no full points).

Acknowledgements: Place at end of text under separate A head and before References (not in footnotes).

Reference section: Ensure that references in the main text are included in the Reference section together with full citation detail. Similarly check that all references in the Reference section are referred to in the main text.

Chicago-based style:

NB: All notes, citations (book/journal/cases) are contained in the footnotes. There is no separate Reference section.

Headings: Use Roman numerals in the A head. Do not use numbers or letters in the B and C heads. Keep to the three levels as below:

<A head>Introduction

<B head>Methodological orientation

<C head>Securitization theory: Security speech and its context. [Text continues]

Quotation marks: In main text and footnotes use single quotation marks and double quotation marks within single quotation marks e.g. As Michael Williams notes: ‘Any issue is capable of securitization if it can be intensified to the point where it is presented and accepted as an “existential threat”’.

Superscripts: Only use to refer to particular footnote and place outside punctuation for example:

In turn, sovereignty, even when portrayed today as ‘challenged’ and ‘transformed’, for example by the rise in importance of non-state actors, claiming new subjectivity in international law<sup>1</sup> or driving constitutional rights creation in parts of Asia,<sup>2</sup> still tends to hide the underlying dynamics of inclusion and exclusion, the stark divide between ‘core’ and ‘periphery’<sup>3</sup> and the persistent discrimination of the ‘other’.<sup>4</sup>

Acknowledgements: Place at end of text with separate A head (not in footnotes).

Abbreviations: e.g., i.e., vol. but p, pp, para(s), art, ed, eds, edn, vs (no full points).

Footnotes:

When quoting page ranges elide numbers and combine with an en dash not hyphen e.g. Yishai Blank, ‘Localism in the Global Legal Order’ (2006) 47 Harvard International Law Journal 263–81.

When quoting publication cited in earlier footnote, refer to prior note number e.g.
