

International Review of the Red Cross

The International Review of the Red Cross invites the submission of articles on subjects relating to international humanitarian law, humanitarian policy or humanitarian action (cf. Mission Statement), provided the article has not been published, submitted or accepted elsewhere.

Manuscripts may be submitted in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish. The Review will translate and publish selected articles in English.

Manuscripts of 5,000 to 10,000 words together with a 100-word abstract may be submitted directly by electronic mail (Word for Windows attachment) or as a hard copy and on cd (Word for Windows). The biographical note (CV) should not exceed two lines.

Notification of acceptance, rejection or the need for revision will be given within six weeks of receipt of the manuscript. Manuscripts will not be returned to authors. Authors should follow the instructions for submissions below.

Articles are peer-reviewed prior to a decision of their acceptance for publication. The final decision whether a text is published or not is taken by the Editor-in-Chief, who also determines the date of publication.

Submissions

Manuscripts

Manuscripts should be submitted, consecutively paginated, in Word format, using British English style, with 12pt font size, using Times New Roman, with 1.5 line space and as far as possible without abbreviations (international humanitarian law instead of IHL).

Headings

Please do not use more than 3 different levels of headings, and do not number or letter subheadings (provide only an actual title).

Highlighting

No highlighting (large fonts, italics, underlining) within the text body - except using italics for foreign language terms (a limine).

Bibliographical References and Notes

Please use ff. instead of et seq., abbreviations within footnotes are permissible: op. cit., e.g., etc., i.e., Ibid., as well as GC I, GC II, AP I, AP II and Art. 1 (2) lit. a.
