LANGUAGE IN SOCIETY

Language in Society welcomes original research reports from all countries. Book reviews and book notes are normally written by invitation. All contributions should be written in English.

Manuscripts of articles and book reviews should be submitted online to Language in Society at Manuscript Central: http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/langsoc. Instructions for submission are available on the Manuscript Central site.

Preparation of manuscripts

Manuscripts of articles should generally not exceed 10,000 words in length. Book reviews should not exceed 1,500 words; book notes are limited to 500 words. All submissions should be typed in an easily readable font, 12-point size, and double-spaced throughout (including abstract, references, endnotes, and extracts). Please number the pages.

Reviewing of articles will be anonymous as far as practicable, so please avoid undue self-identification in the manuscript. A separate title page should include the title of the article, the author's name, affiliation, full postal mailing address and email address. Titles should be worded so that part of them may be used as a running head of no more than 50 characters, including spaces. An abstract of no more than 150 words is also required, together with at least 3 keywords. If they are separate files, any Appendices should be uploaded before Endnotes, which in turn should be uploaded before References.

Tables and Figures are uploaded separately. They should be labelled (e.g. Table 1, Figure 1) with a descriptive title. Please indicate in the text approximately where they should appear. Figures should be ready for photographic reproduction: titles, labels and details should be clear and large enough to remain legible after a 50% reduction. Charges apply for all color figures that appear in the print version of the journal. At the time of submission, contributors should clearly state whether their figures should appear in color in the online version only, or whether they should appear in color online and in the print version. There is no charge for including color figures in the online version of the Journal. If you request color figures in the printed version, you will be contacted by CCC-Rightslink who are acting on our behalf to collect Author Charges. Please follow their instructions in order to avoid any delay in the publication of your article.

Authors of papers that are accepted for publication will need to remove any automatic formatting (including for endnotes or references), so it may be preferable to avoid using automatic formatting altogether.

Authors, particularly those whose first language is not English, may wish to have their English-language manuscripts checked by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and any reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specializing in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact as appropriate:
http://journals.cambridge.org/action/stream?pageId=8728&level=2&menu=Authors&pageId=3608

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author's own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

General stylistic guidelines

For formatting and stylistic issues not addressed in this document, please consult back issues of the journal for models.

Spelling may follow either British or American conventions, but please be consistent.

Standard linguistic abbreviations are in upper case throughout e.g. AUX, NP.

Single rather than double quotation marks should be used for quotations, glosses (including translation meanings) and when words are used with a qualifying sense, as in referring to a 'gold standard' test. Double quotation marks should be used for reported speech. Put commas and sentence-final punctuation marks outside the quotation marks.

Cited words and phrases should be italicized (e.g. 'the word language').

IPA characters should be in the Doulos SIL Unicode font, which is available for download at http://scripts.sil.org. Any problems in using IPA characters are often resolved by changing to Cambria font.

Footnotes (end notes) should be avoided unless absolutely necessary. Information that is relevant to the article should normally be included in the body of the text, eliminating the need for footnotes. If used, footnotes should not contain phonetic symbols, statistics or Tables, nor should they be used simply for bibliographical information. Their reference point in the text should be clearly indicated with a superscript number. The footnotes themselves should be numbered and uploaded as a separate End notes file.

References

References are to be made in the text by giving in parentheses the name of the author, year of publication, and, where relevant, the page(s) referred to: (Whitney 1867:45–53). If the author's name is part of the text, use the form: "Whitney (1867:48) maintained that . . . ."

When a work written by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation: (Weinreich, Labov, & Herzog 1968). The ampersand (&) is always used for two or more authors. For three or more authors, subsequent citations may use et al. (Weinreich et al 1968). Separate works referred to in the same parentheses should be in chronological order separated by semicolons: (Whitney 1867; Hymes 1972, 1981), unless the author is the same, in which case a comma is used (Brown &Smith 1988a, 1988b, 1999). Initials should be used before an author's name only when an article refers to more than one author with the same surname. Reference to a footnote or endnote is as follows: (cf. Baker & Crone (1982:239, n. 15), for Indian Ocean creoles.)

All works referred to must be listed at the end of the article with hanging indentation and in alphabetical order. Do not include works not cited in the article. Spell out first names of authors and editors where known. Please note that Journal Titles are Capitalized, but, for articles and books, Only the first word: And the first word after the colon, if any, are capitalized. Examples for formatting different kinds of references follow.

Journal Articles

Caton, Steve (1990). Speech styles, status, and speaker awareness. Annual Review of Anthropology 80:153-60.

Magazine Articles

Ruiz, Richard (1992). Unwelcome mats. Harvard Magazine, July/August, 32-35.

Entire Books

Phillipson, Robert (1992). Linguistic imperialism. Oxford & New York: Oxford University Press.

Book Chapters

Lopez, Luis Enrigue (1998). Language revitalization in the Andes. In Jasone Cenoz & Fred Genesee (eds.), Beyond bilingualism and multilingual education, 68–92. Clevedon, UK: Multilingual Matters.

Conference Papers

Jex, Bernard (1996). Conditions for language revitalization. Paper presented at TESOL 1996 meeting. Baltimore, Maryland.

Reprinted Articles

Sapir, Edward (1929). The status of linguistics as a science. Language 5:207–14. Reprinted in David Mandelbaum (ed.), Selected writings of Edward Sapir, 160–66. Berkeley: University of California Press.

Book reviews and book notes

The review or book note should start with information about the book and the reviewer, in the following format:

FIRSTNAME M.I. LASTNAME, Book title: Capitalize only first words. Place: Publisher, year. Pp. iv, 200. Hb $29.95.

Reviewed by YOUR NAME

Department, University

City, State/Province/etc., postal code, Country

your@email.address

NOTE:

- Only the first words in the title and subtitle of the book are capitalized.
- After Pp., put the number of pages before page 1 (preface, table of contents, etc.), in small Roman numerals, followed by the number of regular pages, in Arabic numerals.
- Give the price of the edition you reviewed, Hb (hardback) or Pb. If you don't know the price, try to find it online. Prices may be quoted in US dollars, British pounds, or Euros. If you cannot find the price (try one of the big online booksellers), then leave this space empty.

When citing page numbers or ranges of page numbers, please use the following formats: P. 1 (beginning of sentence); p. 1 (elsewhere); Pp. 3-24 (beginning of sentence); pp. 3-24 (elsewhere).

For edited volumes: If you give the names of chapter authors, please use first name and last name e.g.

In chapter 2, by Matthew Gordon, … NOT ~~In chapter 2, by Gordon, or In chapter 2, by M. Gordon~~; Chapter 6, "Como hablar en silencio" (Magaly Lavandenz), NOT ~~(M. Lavandenz) or (Lavendenz)~~

Book notes

Book notes are meant to summarize books. You may include a sentence of evaluation at the end, but this is not the place for extended or combative critique.

Please do not include references in book notes. If you must mention another book, give the reference in the text e.g.

> This book is a companion to Timothy Frazer's (1993) "Heartland" English (University of Alabama Press).

Other information

Proofs. First proof will be sent to the lead author (or a nominee), who will be expected to return corrections to the Editor by air, fax, or e-mail within three days of receipt.

Offprints. Due to ever-rising production costs, no free offprints will be provided. However, a free pdf version of an article will be provided when it is published. We are sorry that it is not possible to do this for book reviews or notes.

Submission of a manuscript is taken to imply that it has not previously been published or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

Copyright. Contributors of accepted manuscripts will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.

Open Access. Please visit http://journals.cambridge.org/openaccess for information on our open access policies, compliance with major funding bodies, and guidelines on depositing your manuscript in an institutional repository.

Books for review and listing should be sent to:

Jenny Cheshire, Editor
Language in Society
Queen Mary, University of London
Department of Linguistics, SLLF
Mile End Road
London
E1 4NS
United Kingdom

langsoc@cambridge.org

Last updated 5th September 2014