

Scottish Journal of Theology

Articles for Scottish Journal of Theology must be submitted electronically as well as in hardcopy. One copy of a proposed article should be submitted in hardcopy with an accompanying disk or email attachment to:

Professor Iain Torrance
Scottish Journal of Theology
Princeton Theological Seminary
64 Mercer Street
P.O.Box 821
Princeton, NJ 08542-0803
USA
slt@ptsem.edu

A second hardcopy of a proposed article should be sent to:

Professor Bryan Spinks
Institute of Sacred Music
Yale University
409 Prospect Street
New Haven
CT 06511-2167
USA

The authors of articles should send an email address to Professor Torrance at slt@ptsem.edu, and their submission will be acknowledged by email.

Submission of an email attachment or disk is essential, as the article will be sent to international referees as an email attachment. The very much preferred format is MS Word. Material which is not accepted for publication will not be returned.

The average length of articles is 5-6000 words. Those in excess of 8000 words cannot be considered. This word limit includes footnotes. Shorter articles are easier to schedule and will be published more quickly. Articles should be formatted with footnotes (not endnotes), and the footnotes should be fully justified. Single quotation marks should be used for quotation, and double quotation marks for quotation within a quotation.

Disks, once submitted, will be understood to contain the final form of an article, and if the article is accepted, a first proof will be produced from the author's disk (with minor editorial emendations). No further revisions or additions should then be made by authors.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published in English, and is not being considered for publication by another journal or as part of a book.

First proofs of articles (but not of reviews) will be sent to authors for correction, and must be returned within three days of receipt. Corrections should be confined to typographical errors. Other corrections may be made only with the concurrence of an editor.

Greek and Hebrew words, which should only be used sparingly, need not be transliterated. Capitalisation should be kept to a minimum, and in particular should not be used in pronouns referring to God.

Contributors of articles, article reviews and book reviews will receive a PDF file of their composition upon publication. Offprints may be ordered from the publisher at proof stage.

It is a condition of publication in Scottish Journal of Theology that authors assign copyright to Scottish Journal of Theology Ltd. This ensures that requests from third parties to reproduce articles are handled efficiently and consistently, and will also allow the article to be disseminated as widely as possible. In assigning copyright, authors may use their own material in other publications, provided that SJT is acknowledged as the original place of publication. Neither the editors nor Scottish Journal of Theology Ltd necessarily endorse every proposition expressed in the journal. Authors retain responsibility for any defamatory statements or untruthful claims which they may make.
