

Announcing a New Series from Cambridge

Key Topics in Sociolinguistics

This new series focuses on the main topics of study in sociolinguistics today. It consists of accessible yet challenging accounts of the most important issues to consider when examining the relationship between language and society. Some topics have been the subject of sociolinguistic study for many years, and are here re-examined in the light of new developments in the field; others are issues of growing importance that have not so far been given a sustained treatment. Written by leading experts, the books in the series are designed to be used on courses and in seminars, and include useful suggestions for further reading and a helpful glossary.

Readership

undergraduate students, graduate students

Market

sociolinguistics, linguistics, communication studies

Format

books in this series will be published in hardback and paperback

Frequency

we expect to publish one to two titles per year in this series

Further information: to find out more about our Linguistics list visit www.cambridge.org/linguistics

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Publication September 2003

Politeness

Richard J. Watts

Universität Bern, Switzerland

During the last fifteen years, existing models of linguistic politeness have generated a huge amount of empirical research. Using a wide range of data from real-life speech situations, this new introduction to politeness breaks away from the limitations of current models and argues that the proper object of study in politeness theory must be commonsense notions of what politeness and impoliteness are. From this, Watts argues, a more appropriate model, one based on Bourdieu's concept of social practice, is developed.

- Presents a radically new way of looking at linguistic politeness
- Allows politeness phenomena from different ages and different cultures to be looked at on their own terms
- Opens up the field of politeness research to students of sociology, anthropology and cultural studies

Contents: 1. Introducing linguistic politeness; 2. Politeness through time and across cultures; 3. Modelling linguistic politeness I; 4. Modelling linguistic politeness II: Brown and Levinson and their critics; 5. Facework and linguistic politeness; 6. A social model of politeness; 7. Structures of linguistic politeness; 8. Relevance Theory and concepts of power; 9. Politic behaviour and politeness in discourse; 10. Politic behaviour and politeness within a theory of social practice; Glossary of terms; Bibliography.

Key Topics in Sociolinguistics

2003 216 x 138 mm 300pp 2 line diagrams

0 521 79085 9 Hardback

c. £ 40.00

0 521 79406 4 Paperback

c. £ 18.95

Please order from your local bookseller

Proposed Future Topics to be Covered

Language Policy

Bernard Spolsky

Analysing Sociolinguistic Variation

Sali Tagliamonte

World Englishes

Rajend Mesthrie and Rakesh Bhatt

If you have a specific book proposal for this series, or on any related topic, please contact Dr Andrew Winnard, (awinnard@cambridge.org)

ISBN 0-521-94743-X

9 780521 947435 >

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS
www.cambridge.org

July 2003

Printed in the United Kingdom at the University Press, Cambridge