

Contents

Notes on contributors	page ix
Preface	xiii
1 Introduction	1
DEEN K. CHATTERJEE AND DON E. SCHEID
PART I THE CONCEPTUAL AND NORMATIVE TERRAIN
2 Intervention: should it go on, can it go on?	21
STANLEY HOFFMANN
3 Selective humanitarianism: in defense of inconsistency	31
CHRIS BROWN
PART II JUST-WAR PERSPECTIVES AND LIMITS
4 Reciprocity, stability, and intervention: the ethics of disequilibrium	53
MICHAEL BLAKE
5 From jus ad bellum to jus ad pacem : re-thinking just-war criteria for the use of military force for humanitarian ends	72
GEORGE R. LUCAS, JR.
6 Bombing to rescue?: NATO's 1999 bombing of Serbia	97
HENRY SHUE
7 The burdens of collective liability	118
ERIN KELLY

Contents

PART III SECESSION AND INTERNATIONAL LAW
8	The ethics of intervention in self-determination struggles TOM J. FARER	143
9	Secession, humanitarian intervention, and the normative significance of political boundaries CHRISTINE CHWASZCZA	168
10	Secession, state breakdown, and humanitarian intervention ALLEN BUCHANAN	189
PART IV THE CRITIQUE OF INTERVENTIONISM
11	Respectable oppressors, hypocritical liberators: morality, intervention, and reality RICHARD W. MILLER	215
12	Violence against power: critical thoughts on military intervention IRIS MARION YOUNG	251
13	War for humanity: a critique C. A. J. COADY	274
	Index	296