

Index

- AA. See Action Attribute
- abstract concepts. See also concepts cognitive linguistics and, 119 concreteness of, 99
 creation of, 122
 cross-modal connections and, 231 image schemas, metaphors and, 96 metaphoric meaning of, 183 source-path-goal schema and, 91–93 understandings of, 90
- accommodation, 208
- action adaptation and, 62
 agency and, 22–23
 cognitive functions and, 124 compensation and, 62
 as conscious experience, 273 conscious imagery and, 133 consciousness from, 267 from dynamical systems perspective, 75 hallucination experience and, 269 ideomotor, 125
 in imagination, memory, reasoning, 157 memory as, 142–144
 mental intentions and, 73 objects and, 50
 of others, 52
 ownership for, 23
 perception and, 42–45, 49, 57–64, 77–78 perceptual illusions on, 59 robotics and, 72
 visual cognition and, 59
- Action Attribute (AA), 258
- active intermodal mapping (AIM), 232
- activity, of body, 26
- adaptation, perception, action and, 62
- affordance, 21
 consciousness and, 265
 micro-affordances and, 61 of objects, 50 odor perception and, 48 perception and, 43
- agency
 action and, 22–23
 concept development of, 8 development of, 223
 image schemas and, 224
 sense of, 22
- AI. See artificial intelligence
- Akaka, Daniel, 109
- AL. See artificial life
- American Sign Language (ASL), 169 communication ideas in, 190 conceptual metaphors in, 191 container schema in, 192 double mappings in, 191 embodied metaphors in, 190–194 metaphors in, 193
 time in, 192
- amputees
 body and, 34
 body schema and, 35
- Anlo-Ewe, 38
- appearance, 27
- artificial intelligence (AI), 69
- artificial life (AL), 69 criticisms of, 73
 environment and, 72
 robots with, 69–72
- ASL. See American Sign Language
- aspect, 196
 semantics of, 196

- assimilation, 208
- attention
  - consciousness and, 267
  - patterns of, 267
- autobiographical self, 21
- Baker, Lynne, 15
- balance schema, 93–94. See also image schemas
  - Gulf War and, 108
  - linguistic action and, 103
- Bateson, Gregory, 18
- behavioral control, perception, action and, 59
- blindness
  - “change,” 66
  - “inattentional,” 66
  - mental imagery and, 131
- blindsight, 57
- body
  - activity of, 26
  - amputees and, 34
  - appearance and, 27
  - awareness of, 25–27
  - brain and, 5, 45
  - connection with, 14
  - corporeality of, 26
  - culture and, 36–39
  - disordered, 33–35
  - emotion and, 250–259
  - empathy and, 35
  - engagement with, 26
  - environment and, 22, 27
  - experiences of, 25–27
  - first-person perspective of, 15–16
  - historical conceptions of, 3
  - ideological views and, 172
  - ideomotor action of, 35
  - information systems of, 28
  - as instrument, 27
  - intermodal correlation and, 19
  - interpersonal meaning for, 27
  - in knowledge, cognition, 6
  - metaphorical correspondences to, 80
  - mind and, 3, 4, 275
  - movement of, 27, 34
  - nonorganic material and, 16, 18
  - as object, 4, 14, 25, 27
  - other’s, 35–36
  - personhood and, 14
  - representations of, 28
  - satisfaction with, 32
  - schema, 29
  - self and, 18–25
  - self expressions and, 27
  - vitality and, 26
  - world and, 16–18
- body image, 32
  - body schema and, 32
- body movements, discourse and, 170–174
- body schema, 29
  - amputees and, 35
  - body image and, 32
  - environment and, 32
  - explanation for, 32
  - self-recognition and, 30–31
  - as supramodal, 30
- brain
  - body and, 5, 45
  - cycles of operation and, 270–271
  - embodiment and, 9
  - gesture and, 167–168
  - interaction with, 24
  - mental images and, 131–132, 134–138
  - NTL and, 194–197
  - schizophrenia and, 267
  - somatosensory system and, 136
  - somatotopic map in, 45
- Brown, Hank, 110
- Cage, Nicholas, 239
- Cartesian dualism, 4
- categorization, concepts and, 84–86
- causality
  - babies’ understanding of, 220–222
  - of consciousness, 271
  - image schemas and, 221
  - movement and, 54–55
  - on others, objects, 55
  - static pattern perception and, 56
- child development
  - balance and, 237
  - imitation and, 231–234
  - of mental imagery, 237
  - theory of mind and, 234–236
- Clark, Andy, 16
- cognition
  - bodily action and, 226
  - cognitive linguistic evidence to, 118–121
  - culture and, 13
  - dynamical systems theory and, 10–11, 281
  - embodied action and, 12
  - embodied “representations” and, 281
  - embodied view of, 157, 279, 281

Index

327

- as enaction, 17
- image schemas and, 142
- mind-body, language-body connections and, 9
- personhood and, 17
- phenomenological action and, 3
- cognitive categories
  - basic level of, 82–83
  - concept flexibility and, 84
- cognitive development, 208–238
  - early embodied action in, 208
  - embodied perspective of, 238
  - guidelines for, 216
  - of infants, 214
  - Mandler's theory of, 219–224
  - multimodal perception and, 231
  - of physically handicapped, 227–229
  - Piaget's contribution to, 208–210
  - sensorimotor experience and, 214–216, 237
- cognitive functions
  - action and, 124
  - image schemas and, 138
- Cognitive Grammar, 198
- cognitive linguistics, 90
  - cognitive science and, 118–121
  - conventional metaphors and, 119
  - embodied mind, language and, 11
  - research methods of, 120
- cognitive processes
  - body and, 14
  - in cognitive psychology, 6
  - internal, external processes and, 12
- cognitive psychology
  - cognitive processes in, 6
  - developments in, 7
  - embodied action and, 6
- cognitive science
  - "effects = structures" fallacy of, 83, 278
  - embodiment and, 3, 276
  - emergence of, 5
  - history of, 5
  - human cognition in, 9
  - interrelationship of, 276
  - kinesthetic action and, 3
  - methodological issue of, 5
  - mind, body conception in, 3
  - modularity theory in, 279–280
  - neural basis for language and, 194–197
  - neuropsychological findings and, 279
  - problem of, 277
  - cognitive systems, functional states of, 2
  - cognitive unconscious, 40
  - color perception
    - enactive view of, 44
    - environment and, 44
  - common ground
    - for discourse, 172
    - physical co-presence and, 172
    - sources for, 172
  - communication
    - from bodily experience, 207
    - language and, 158–207
    - traditional views of, 159
  - compensation, perception, action and, 62
  - concepts
    - basic level categories of, 82–83
    - categorization and, 84–86
    - combinations of, 87
    - context and, 81, 86
    - counterfactual thought and, 90
    - "effects = structures" fallacy of, 83, 278
    - embodied action and, 216–217
    - embodiment of, 100
    - flexibility of, 84
    - grammar, spatial concepts and, 104–107
    - incorrect assumptions of, 82
    - new view of, 89, 121
    - numerical systems and, 104–105
    - objective properties of, 81
    - perceptual processes and, 86
    - perceptual symbols and, 89
    - processing of, 88
    - productivity and, 87
    - prototype theory and, 83
    - prototypes for, 81, 84
    - rules and, 80
    - as temporary constructions, 86
    - traditional views of, 80–81
    - traditional view's problems and, 81
  - conceptual development, 215
  - conceptual metaphor theory, 96
    - conceptual domains and, 116
    - experiential grounding and, 115
    - metaphor relationships and, 116
    - questions about, 115–116
    - source-to-target domain mapping problem and, 115
  - conceptual metaphors, as dynamic, 121
  - conceptual processing, 88
  - congruence, 229
  - conjoined twins, self-body relationship and, 23–24

- conscious experience as actions, 273
 embodied nature of, 268
 non-ordinary types of, 268, 269–270
 ordinary types of, 268
- consciousness, 262–273 altered states of, 268–270 animate motion and, 12 attention and, 267
 bodily feelings and, 267 brain dynamics and, 270–271 causal effects of, 271 “corporeal,” 267
 definition of, 263–265
 dynamical model of, 272, 273
 embodied nature of, 264
 emotion and, 239–274
 emotion interaction and, 261–262 enactment and, 265–268 evolutionary advantages of, 264 experience of, 265
 extension of, 272 functions of, 264–265
 goals and, 273
 hallucination experience and, 269
 human action and, 273
 movement and, 265, 266
 neural processes and, 263
 non-ordinary types of, 268, 269–270
 ordinary types of, 268
 processes for, 270
 self-organization and, 270–273 sensory, motor processes and, 265
 types of, 265
- Construction Grammar, 198
- constructions, 198 dynamic knowledge and, 199
- containment, 37
 bodily experience and, 222 cognitive development and, 222–223
 culture and, 37
 linguistic action and, 104 support and, 223
- containment schema
 in ASL, 192
 mathematical concepts and, 113 political ideas and, 110
- context, concepts and, 81, 86
- conversation. See embodied conversation
- core self, 21
- corporeal consciousness, 265
- corporeality, experiences of, 26
- counterfactual thought, 90
- creativity bodily sensations and, 124 in embodied thought, 123
- culture bodies and, 36–39
 containment and, 37
 emotional experience and, 257–258
 senses and, 37–39
- Damasio, Antonio, 21
- deferred imitation, 232
- Descartes, Rene, 4
 Cartesian dualism of, 4
- developmental psychology, 8
- Dewey, John, 43
- discourse body movements and, 170–174 “common ground” and, 172 “dynamic (depiction) model of imagery,” 132
- dynamical systems theory, 10–11 action and, 75
 aim of, 10
 cognitive development and, 226 cognitive performance and, 281 consciousness and, 272, 273
 effect of,
 emotional expression and, 259–261, 273 global stability and, 260 higher-order cognitive behavior and, 128–129
 implication of, 74
 mental imagery and, 128–129, 138
 object permanence and, 225 “representations” v., 281 in robotics, 72
- ED. See Evaluative Descriptions
- Einstein, Albert, 123
- embodied action. See also action emotion and, 243
 emotions, consciousness and, 240 infant exploration and, 218 in metaphor processing, 183–184 of newborns, 216–217
 in physical reasoning, 216–219 utterance interpretation and, 190
- Embodied construction grammar, 198–199
- embodied conversation, computer and,
 173–174

Index

329

- embodied experience language in, 277
 linguistic communication and, 159 linguistic meaning and, 177 metaphorical meaning and, 187 text comprehension and, 206 word meaning and, 174–175
- embodied metaphor
 abstract ideas and, 170 bodily ideas/experiences and, 160
 brain and, 118
 case study in, 184–187 connections and, 118
 consistency of, 182–183
 emotions and, 242–243
 in figurative language interpretation, 182–183
 new view of, 116–118
 semantic change by, 161 time expressions and, 187–190
 x-schemas and, 195
- embodied perception, 42–45 perception-action couplings and, 78
- embodied psychology, 25
- embodied reasoning, 154
- embodied schemes, 198
- embodied simulation, fictive motion and,
 190
- embodied text understanding, 199–205 adaptive character of, 204 embodied possibilities and, 200 microworlds and, 201 perspectives and, 199–200 protagonist's perspective and, 201, 202 scripts and, 202
 spatial perspectives and, 201
- embodied thought, creativity, imagination and, 123
- embodiment
 AL and, 69
 brain and, 9
 in cognitive psychology, 6 in cognitive science, 3, 276 cognitive unconscious and, 40 of concepts, 100 conceptual simulations and, 121
 containment and, 37
 cultural meaning and, 37 cultural processes and, 13
 definition of, 1, 10
 in developmental psychology, 8 emotional experience and, 243
 experiences of, 1–2
 importance of, 13, 79
 interpretation and, 2
 language change and, 160–161 levels of, 39–40
 mathematical concepts and, 111
 mental imagery and, 124–142 metaphorical projection of, 100–101 narrative of, 1
 neural, 39
 numerical concepts and, 104–105 on-line v. off-line, 157 in ordinary concepts, 79 phenomenological level of, 40 of political ideas, 107–111 premise of, 9, 275
 in psycholinguistics, 7 of spatial orientation, 105–107 subjective experience and, 12 “embodiment premise,” 9 emotion(s), 240–262. See also emotional experience; emotional expression AA and, 258
 affective processes and, 259 “affective space” and, 244, 245–246 anatomical structure and, 250
 animate motion and, 12
 assumptions of, 247
 bodily awareness in, 250 bodily changes and, 250–259 body movements, postures and, 251, 253–254
 consciousness and, 239–274 consciousness interaction and, 261–262 corporeal experience of, 246 ED and, 258
 embodied action and, 243 embodied metaphors and, 242–243 enactment of, 262
 experience of, 240
 facial expressions and, 246–250 as felt movements, 243–246 gait and, 256
 goals and, 273
 hand, arm postures, movements and, 251 human action and, 273
 integrated view of, 257 intention and, 259 language of, 240–243 meaningful change and, 244 motor mimicry and, 248
 muscular affect on, 255

- emotion(s) (cont.)
 other's bodily cues to, 255 palpitable feeling of, 246 related thought and, 255 removedness and, 245
 self, world-focused, 258 as self-organized process, 261 specificity debate of, 250 spontaneous v. intentional, 248, 249 study difficulties with, 247
- emotional experience body's role in, 256 cultural differences in, 257–258 facial feedback and, 254 physical handicaps and, 252–253
- emotional expression coordinative structures for, 260 dynamical view of, 259–261, 273
 global stability and, 260 non-correspondences of, 260
- empathy other's bodies and, 35
 simulation theory and, 36
- enactment
 consciousness and, 265–268
 definition of, 266
 examples of, 266
- engagement, experiences of, 26
- environment
 AL and, 72
 body and, 22, 27
 body schemas and, 32 cognitive categories and, 82 “complementary strategies” to, 152 conscious experience in, 265 embodied reasoning and, 154 perception and, 43–45, 77
 persons and, 16
 robots and, 72
 sensorimotor contingency theory and, 66
- EPs. See exploratory procedures
- Evaluative Descriptions (ED), 258
- experience(s). See also embodied experience embodiment and, 1–2
 as “persons,” 40 remembering and, 143–144
 senses and, 37–39
 shaping of, 2
 sharing of, 36
 experiences of corporeality, 26 experiences of engagement, 26 experiences of interpersonal meaning, 27 exploratory procedures (EPs), 50 expressions. See facial expressions expressions of self, body and, 27
- facial expressions communicative function of, 249 emotions and, 246–250, 253
 intentional, 248
 motor mimicry and, 248
 as natural, automatic, 248 odor and, 249
 study difficulties with, 247
- Fazio, Peter, 108
- first-person perspective, 15–16
- force image schema, linguistic action and, 104
- Freeman, Walter, 47
- Geertz, Clifford, 18
- gesture(s)
 brain activity and, 167–168
 conceptualization and, 166 information packaging hypothesis of, 166 lexical retrieval hypothesis of, 166 origin of, 168
 sign systems and, 169–170 speech and, 165–170 speech perception and, 165
- Gibson, James, 21
- Glucksberg, Sam, 119
- grounding metaphor, 111
 examples of, 111–113
- Gulf War, image schemas and, 108
- haptic perception, 54
- Hatch, Orrin, 108
- Hemingway, Ernest, 99
- Hobbes, Thomas, 107
- homunculus, 45
- Hussein, Saddam, 109
- Husserl, Edmund, 28
- Hyperspace Analog to Language (HAL), 158
- ideomotor action, 125
- ideomotor mimicry, 125–126
- idioms
 consistency of, 182–183
 embodied knowledge and, 183
 mental images for, 182

- image schemas, 90. See also specific schemas agency and, 224
 as attractors, 115 balance schema and, 93–94, 103
 bodily experience and, 114 bodily perception, movement and, 91
 causality and, 221
 containment as, 104
 cross-modal connections and, 231 disabled children and, 229 emergent nature of, 114 in everyday thinking, 91 as experiential gestalts, 114 kinesthetic character of, 138
 linguistic action and, 103–104
 for mathematical concepts, 111–113
 mental imagery and, 138–142
 metaphor and, 93–94, 96 momentum schema and, 94, 180–181 perceptual meaning analysis and, 220 political ideas and, 108–110
 questions about, 114–115
 representational momentum and, 139
 source-path-goal schema and, 91–93 of “stand,” 175–177 straight schema and, 94–95 toss schema and, 198
 transformations of, 95–96, 141 utterance interpretation and, 180–181
 word meaning and, 175–177
 of young children, 220–223
- imagery. See mental imagery
- imagination. See also mental imagery bodily action and, 127
 embodied action and, 157
 inflation of, 147–148
 “motor imagery theory” and, 132
- imagination inflation, 147–148
- imitation, 231–234 analogical transfer and, 234 deferred, 232
 of infants, 232–234
- indexical hypothesis, 205–207 afforded v. non-afforded sentences and, 205 steps of, 205
- instrument, body as, 27
- intellectual development, Piaget’s theory of, 208–210
- intentional action
 dynamical model of, 73–77
 phenomenological demonstration of, 75
- intentional behavior, causes of, 74
- intentions, as dynamic processes, 77
- interactions, knowledge acquisition, representation and, 85
- interactive vision,
 computational economy and,
 support for,
- interiorization, 233
- interpersonal meaning, experiences of, 27
- James, William, 19, 250
- Kant, Emmanuel, 54
- Kelso, Scott, 9
- Kerry, John, 110
- kinesthetic experience, of infants, 217
- kinesthetic thinking, 124
- Knowledge-based Action Representations for Metaphor and Aspect (KARMA), 195–196
- language
 action imagining and, 150
 animate motion and, 12
 from bodily experience, 207 change of, 160–161
 in cognitive linguistics, 11 cognitive unconscious and, 40 communication and, 158–207 embodied activity in, 207 in embodied experience, 277 embodied mental simulation and, 206 embodied view of, 275
 indexical hypothesis of, 205–207 meaning and, 158 memory for, 148–151
 mind and, 12
 modal verbs and, 160 neural theory of, 194–197 recall of, 150
 traditional views of, 159
- language interpretation perceptual, embodied information in, 205 perceptual symbols and, 178
 priming effects and, 177
- language understanding, as embodied simulation, 207
- Latent Semantic Analysis (LSA), 158
- Leder, Drew, 17
- lexical retrieval hypothesis, gesture and, 166
- Lieberman, Joseph, 109

- linguistic action, 99
 image schemas and, 103–104
 intensity of, 103
 nonverbal communication and, 101 restricted movement and, 103 sensory apparatus and, 101 understanding of, 101
 violent physical action and, 102 walking metaphors and, 103
- linguistic communication embodied experience and, 159 hypotheses for, 159
 time-course of, 159–160
- linguistic knowledge, constructions and, 198
- link schemas, causal relations and, 221
- listening, movement and, 54
- Lott, Trent, 110
- mathematical concepts grounding metaphors for, 111–113 linking metaphors for, 113
- Maturana, Humberto, 42
- McCloskey, Frank, 109
- memory, 142–151. See also working memory
 action imagining and, 150
 brain activity and, 149
 composition of, 143
 as embodied action, 142–144
 embodied action and, 157
 enactment in, 149
 environmental information and, 144 false, 147–148
 “generation effect” and, 148 for language, 148–151 language recall and, 150 in linguistic expressions, 179 overt movement and, 145–146
 RM effect and, 140
 sensorimotor simulations and, 12
- memory organization packets (MOPs), 203–204
- mental awareness, 265
- mental imagery, 237 action performance and, 133 blind and, 131
 brain activity and, 131–132 “dynamic (depiction) model” of, 132 dynamical systems account and, 128–129, 138 embodied movement and, 237
 embodiment and, 124–142 “emulation theory” and, 136 “enactive” approach to, 137 environmental consequences and, 127 eye movements and, 131 ideomotor mimicry and, 125–126 ideomotor movement and, 125
 image schemas and, 138–142 imaging events and, 126 imaging human movement with, 124–129 kinesthetic activity and, 7, 135 mental calculations and, 128 mental rotation effects and, 133 mental simulation and, 135 models of, 132
 “motor imagery theory” and, 132 motoric processes in, 129–134 movement planning in, 127 neural dynamics and, 137 neural mechanisms of, 134–135 overt, covert actions and, 127 “perceptual activity theory” of, 133 physical overestimation and, 128 as “planning hypothesis,” 132
 sensorimotor simulations and, 12 visual perception and, 124 visual representation and, 131 as whole-person activity, 135
- mental state, 3
- metaphor(s). See also embodied metaphor breathing and, 101 “complex,” 117
 conceptual processing and, 122 as conceptual prototypes, 120 desire as hunger and, 184–187 grounding, linking, 111
 image schemas and, 93–94, 96
 language change and, 160
 linguistic action and, 100–101
 mappings of, 97–99
 for mathematical concepts, 111 “primary,” 117
 speaking and, 100
 for thinking, 97–99
 thinking and, 96–99 violent physical action as, 102 walking as, 103
- Metaphor and Emotion* (Koveceses), 119
- metaphor processing, embodied action in, 183–184
- Miller, George, 264

Index

333

- mind
 abstract concepts and, 12
 as body, 97
 body and, 3, 4, 275
 characteristics of, 12–13 conscious experience and, 265
 embodied nature of, 9, 12–13, 41 environmental interaction and, 12 as material object, 4 mental states of, 262 “representations” and, 282 modularity theory, in cognitive science, 279–280 momentum image schema, 94. See also image schemas inferences of, 180–181
 RM and, 141
 MOPs. See memory organization packets motor development, process of, 74 “motor imagery theory,” 132 motor processes in mental imagery, 129–134 mental rotation and, 130 motor theory of speech perception, 162, 164 revision to, 164 movement. See also body movements “alien hand” and, 34 of body, 27
 causality perception from, 54–55
 consciousness and, 265, 266 creative problem-solving and, 152 ideomotor action and, 35 imagery in, 237
 listening and, 54
 mental imagery and, 7
 in music perception, 53–54 onset of motion and, 218 people identification and, 51–53 to perception, 49
 perceptual representation of, 51 proprioceptive system and, 29 static patterns and, 55–57 Moynihan, Patrick, 110 multimodal perception, 229–231 amodal v. arbitrary relations and, 231 basic principles of, 231
 cognitive development and, 231
 cross-modal connections and, 229 global relations and, 231 nested relations and, 231 synesthesia studies and, 230
 of young children, 230
 music perception events awareness and, 53
 movement in, 53–54
 narrative, of embodiment experiences, 1 Neruda, Pablo, 92
 neural embodiment, 39
 neural processes conscious mental imagery and, 137 cycles of operation and, 137, 270–271 neural theory of language (NTL), 194–197 hand motion verbs and, 196–197 KARMA in, 195–196
 spatial relations terms in, 194–195
New York Times, 110
 Newton, Naitka, 261
 non-ordinary consciousness, 268 analogy for, 269
 types of, 269–270
 NTL. See neural theory of language numerical concepts. See also mathematical concepts embodiment of, 104–105
 object perception, 64 bodily actions and, 65
 object permanence, 210–212 adaptive processes approach to, 225 connectionist model of, 224 dynamic systems perspective on, 225–226 image schema development and, 223 newer studies of, 224–227 objects, categorization of, 84–86 “Ode and Burgeonings” (Neruda), 92 odor perception, 47–49 olfactory system, as chaotic dynamical system, 48 Onge, 38
 path image schema
 linguistic action and, 104
 RM and, 142
 Penfield, Wilfred, 45 perception. See also embodied perception; perceptual experience; perceptual processes action and, 49, 58–64, 77–78
 action v., 57–64
 affordances and, 43
 as anticipated embodied interaction, 64–65

- perception (cont.) “binding” in, 67
 body representation and, 51 body-world interactions and, 45 “change-blindness” and, 66 color, 44
 compensation and, 62
 computational economy and,
 “corporeal disappearance” and, 14
 definition of, 42
 Dewey on, 43
 dynamic couplings and, 49
 embodied action and, 12, 42–45
 environment and, 43–45, 77
 haptic, 54
 of human movement, 52
 image schemas and, 142 “inattentive blindness” and, 66 interactive vision and,
 kinesthetic activity and, 12
 mirror neurons and, 52 motor movements and, 60 motor planning and, 61 movement to, 49
 of music, 53–54
 of object properties, 56, 64 of odor, 47–49
 preattentive, 48
 robotics and, 72
 sensory consequences and, 69 sensory/neural map and, 47 as skill-based activity, 67 of speech, 161–165
 subjunctive thought processes and, 64 tactile, 68
 visual, 54
- perception-action couplings, dynamical account of, 77–78
 “perceptual activity theory,” 133 perceptual experience, real, anticipated movement in, 65
 perceptual grounding, 265 perceptual meaning analysis, 219–224 perceptual processes, concept construction and, 86
 perceptual symbols, 86–90
 abstract concepts and, 89, 90
 counterfactual thought and, 90
 as multimodal, 86 perceptual symbols theory. See also perceptual systems theory conceptual knowledge and, 89 perceptual simulations and, 88 situation simulation and, 88–89 perceptual systems theory, 86. See also perceptual symbols theory assumption of, 87
 support for, 87
- personhood
 body and, 14
 cognition and, 17
 couplings and, 40
 first-person perspective and, 15–16 in philosophy, 16
- persons
 environment and, 16
 self-definition of, 16
- phenomenological primitives (p-prims), 154–155, 156
- phenomenology, environment and, 17
- philosophy
 personhood and, 16
 physical body and, 6
- physical handicaps children with, 227–229 degree of impairment and, 228 emotional experience and, 252–253
- physical reasoning Baillargeon’s view of, 215–216 embodied action in, 216–219 habituation-dishabituation studies of,
 212–213
 object permanence and, 210–212, 213 perspectives on, 215 recent studies on, 210–214 sensorimotor behavior, experience and,
 212
- Piaget, Jean, 8, 208–210 criticism of, 211 development mechanisms and, 208 disequilibrium and, 210
 imitation and, 231
 interiorization and, 233 sensorimotor stage and, 209
- Plains Sign Talk (PST), 169
- Plato, 3
- political ideas embodiment of, 107–111
 image schemas for, 108–110
- posture, emotion and, 254
- p-prims. See phenomenological primitives
- preattentive perception, 48
 “premotor theory of attention,” 61

Index

335

- problem-solving
 body movement and, 152 “complementary strategies” to, 152 environmental resources and, 152 sensorimotor simulations and, 12 tools for, 154
- proprioception, 29
 function of, 29
 loss of, 33
- proto self, 21
- prototype theory, concepts and, 83
- prototypes, formation of, 83
- PST. See Plains Sign Talk
- psycholinguistics, embodiment and, 7
- psychology. See also embodied psychology
 body and, 6
 embodied, 25
- qualia, 6
- reasoning, 151–157
 as computational skill, 151
 embodied, 154
 embodied action and, 157
 embodied knowledge and, 156 embodied simulation and, 151 environmental information and, 153, 154 physical interaction and, 156
- reflection, 265
- Reid, Thomas, 18
- representational momentum (RM), 139 auditory stimuli and, 140
 image schemas and, 140–142
 RM effect and, 139–140
- RM. See representational momentum
- robotics, 69–73
 AL and, 69–72
 dynamical systems theory in, 72
 environment and, 72
 “robot grounding” problem of, 73
- Roelofs effect, 57
- Rowles, Jimmy, 76
- Sarbanes, Paul, 109
- schemas. See also image schemas TOPs and, 204
- schizophrenia, brain and, 267
- Schroeder, Patricia, 109
- scripts, 202
 creation of, 203
 person-specific prototypes and, 204
- self autobiographical, 21
 autositic-parasitic twins and, 24
 body and, 18–25
 boundaries of, 40
 conjoined twins and, 23–24 core, 21 dynamic system of, 24 fragmentation of, 20 future action and, 23
 as indivisible, 18 kinds of, 21
 levels of, 21
 physical/cultural world and, 21 proto, 21
 sensory experience and, 19 tactile-kinesthetic activity and, 12, 20 Western view of, 18
 world and, 17
- self-concept
 body and, 18
 embodied interactions and, 22 kinesthetic-tactile experience and, 15
- self-identity, 20
- senses
 culture and, 37–39
 linguistic action and, 101
 sensorimotor contingency of, 67
- sensorimotor contingencies, 65
- sensorimotor contingency theory, 65–69 “change-blindness” and, 66 consequence of, 67
 implication of, 66
 “inattentional blindness” and, 66
 senses and, 67
 support for, 68
- sensorimotor experience cognitive development and, 227 motion patterns and, 219 object understanding, behavior and, 218 physically handicapped and, 227
- seselalame, 38
- Sherrington, Charles, 29
- short-term memory. See working memory
- Simon effect, 60
- Smith, Cyril Stanley, 123
- somatosensory system, “somatic marker hypothesis” and, 136
- somatotopic map, 45
 multiple, 47
- Songhay, 37

- source-path-goal schema, 91–93. See also image schemas
 RM and, 141
 spatial orientation, embodiment of, 105–107
- speaking
 “generation effect” and, 148 working memory and, 144
- speech
 gesture and, 165–170
 intensity of, 103
 recency effect and, 163
 sign systems and, 169–170
 suffix effect and, 163
- speech perception, 161–165 articulatory gestures and, 164 embodied articulation processes and, 162–164
 gestures and, 165 “McGurk effect” and, 163 motor theory of, 162, 164 of phonemes, 162
 traditional approach to, 161
- speech processing, embodied nature of, 165
- Sperry, Roger, 9
- St. Augustine, 4
- straight image schema, 94–95. See also image schemas
- Sudnow, David, 75
- Symms, Steven, 108
- synesthesia studies, multimodal perception
 and, 230
- tactile perception, 68
- tactile vision substitution system (TVSS), 68
- TEC. See theory of event coding
- text, embodied understanding of, 199–205
- thematic organization packets (TOPs), 203–204
- theory of event coding (TEC), 61 action-perception transfer and, 63 behavioral evidence for, 63 cross-talk and, 62
 event code in, 62
 support for, 63
- theory of mind, 234–236 acquisition of, 235–236 embodied practice and, 235 experientialist view of, 236
- mentalistic assumption and, 234
 simulation theory and, 234 “theory theory” of, 234
- thinking
 as embodied, 97, 99
 metaphor and, 96–99
- thought. See also embodied thought embodied view of, 275
 sensorimotor origins of, 169
- time distinct schemas for, 187–188 embodied view of, 190
 spatial experiences and, 189
 understanding of, 187–190
- TMS. See Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation
- TOPs. See thematic organization packets
- toss schema, 198. See also image schemas
- Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (TMS), 22
- Turning, Alan, 5
- TVSS. See tactile vision substitution system
- utterance(s)
 image schemas and, 180–181
 interpretation of, 190
 understanding of, 198
 x-schemas and, 199
- vision
 causality and, 54
 depth perception in,
 interactive,
 perceptuomotor loops and,
 working memory and, 146
- visual cognition, embodied action and, 59
- visual perception
 causality and, 54
 mental imagery and, 124
 “premotor theory of attention” and, 61
- visual system, “what,” “where” systems of, 58
- vitality, 26
- Waterman, Ian, 33
- Waxman, Henry, 109
- word meaning, 174–180 dynamic, temporal representations and, 179 from embodied experience, 174–175
 image schemas and, 175–177 reading, listening and, 177 verb processing and, 179

Index

337

- words
  - perceptual experiences and, 178
  - perceptual symbols and, 178
  - priming effects and, 177
- working memory, 144–147
  - body postures, spatial locomotion and, 145
  - components to, 144
  - as dynamic motor system, 147
  - embodied abilities and, 144
  - environmental support for, 153
  - motor activity, recall and, 146
  - speaking and, 144
  - visual v. movement based information and, 146
- world
  - bodies and, 16–18
  - self and, 17
- x-schemas, 195, 199