

CONTENTS

|                              |                  |
|------------------------------|------------------|
| Preface               | page xiii |
| List of abbreviations | xiv              |

INTRODUCTION

|   |          |
|---|----------|
| 1 Christology and Luke–Acts              | 3 |
| Introduction: the problem of ambiguity          | 3        |
| Proposed controlling christologies of Luke–Acts | 6        |
| The need for this study                         | 24       |
| Method of approach                              | 25       |
| Conclusion: the way forward                     | 30       |

PART I LUKE'S CHRISTOLOGY AND THE PURPOSE OF LUKE–ACTS

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| 2 An evaluation of Luke's purpose        | 35 |
| Introduction                                    | 35        |
| Some criteria for analyzing purpose             | 35        |
| Some suggested proposals                        | 41        |
| Conclusion: the need for strong textual grounds | 57        |
| 3 A proposal for Luke's purpose          | 59 |
| Introduction                                    | 59        |
| The life situation of Luke's readers            | 60        |
| The literary occasion of Luke–Acts              | 71        |
| Conclusion                                      | 75        |

PART 2 LUKE'S CHRISTOLOGY AND MARK'S GOSPEL

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| 4 Mark's Gospel – a window to Luke's christology           | 79 |
| Introduction  | 79        |
| Markan priority   | 79        |
| The “inadequacy” of Mark's Gospel                                 | 80        |
| Several leading Markan christological assumptions                 | 81        |
| Conclusion: Luke's revision of Mark as christologically revealing | 89        |

x Contents

|  |  |            |
|--|--|------------|
| 5   | Jesus and the resurrection                          | 90  |
|  | Introduction   | 90         |
|  | Mark's Gospel: Jesus' resurrection assumed                 | 90         |
|  | Luke–Acts: Jesus' resurrection demonstrated                | 95         |
|  | Conclusion: the resurrection and divine providence         | 118        |
| 6   | Jesus and Spirit baptism                            | 120 |
|  | Introduction   | 120        |
|  | Mark's Gospel: Spirit baptism assumed                      | 121        |
|  | Luke–Acts: Spirit baptism demonstrated                     | 128        |
|  | Conclusion: Spirit baptism and the exalted Jesus           | 136        |
| 7   | Jesus and salvation history                         | 138 |
|  | Introduction   | 138        |
|  | Mark's Gospel: salvation history assumed                   | 139        |
|  | Luke–Acts: salvation history demonstrated                  | 143        |
|  | Conclusion: Jesus as the center of saving history          | 168        |
| PART 3 LUKE'S CHRISTOLOGY AND JESUS' LORDSHIP               |  |            |
| 8   | Jesus and God the Father                            | 173 |
|  | Introduction   | 173        |
|  | An absentee christology?                                   | 173        |
|  | Yahweh as immanent deity                                   | 176        |
|  | The continuing presence of the exalted Jesus               | 180        |
|  | Jesus as Yahweh's co-equal                                 | 184        |
|  | Conclusion: Jesus' divine status as traditional            | 191        |
| 9   | Jesus and the Spirit                                | 193 |
|  | Introduction   | 193        |
|  | Jesus as Lord of the Spirit                                | 194        |
|  | The work of Jesus and the Spirit                           | 197        |
|  | The unity of Jesus and the Spirit                          | 201        |
|  | Conclusion: the Spirit as christological apologetic        | 204        |
| 10  | Jesus and the end of history                        | 206 |
|  | Introduction   | 206        |
|  | A delay of the parousia?                                   | 207        |
|  | Jesus' Lordship: a sign of the times                       | 209        |
|  | Conclusion: the unity of eschatology and salvation history | 226        |
| PART 4 LUKE'S CHRISTOLOGY AND JESUS' HUMILIATION–EXALTATION |  |            |
| 11  | Jesus and servanthood                               | 231 |
|  | Introduction   | 231        |
|  | Luke and Paul: incompatible christologies?                 | 232        |

Cambridge University Press
0521018870 - The Character and Purpose of Luke's Christology
H. Douglas Buckwalter
Table of Contents
More information

---

|   |            |
|---|------------|
| Contents   | xi  |
| “Jesus’ death as saving” – an invalid criterion           | 234        |
| The states of Jesus’ Lordship                             | 237        |
| The ethics of Jesus’ Lordship                             | 241        |
| Conclusion: discipleship and christology                  | 271        |
| CONCLUSION  |            |
| 12 The character and purpose of Luke’s christology | 275 |
| Bibliography                                       | 285        |
| Index of ancient sources                           | 319        |
| Index of subjects                                  | 339        |