
CONTENTS

Preface	ix
1 The literary scene before the rise of the Kung-an school	1
Literary criticism in the late Ming	1
The Archaist school	3
The predecessors of the Kung-an school	14
2 The literary theories of the three Yüan brothers	27
Yüan Tsung-tao: the founder of the Kung-an school	28
Yüan Hung-tao: the leader of the Kung-an school	35
Historical perspective of literature	36
Essential concepts of literature	44
His interest in novels	54
Yüan Chung-tao: the reformer of the Kung-an school	61
Meaning beyond words (yen wai chih i)	62
Selectiveness: his attitude toward T'ang and Sung poetry	63
His attitude toward the Masters of the Archaist school	66
His comments on the Chin P'ing Mei and Shui-hu chuan	68
3 The poetry of Yüan Hung-tao	70
The formative period	73
The creative period	74
The period of moderation	84
4 The prose of Yüan Hung-tao	91
What is hsiao-p'in wen ?	91
Yüan Hung-tao's personality and his letters	93
Yüan Hung-tao's love of nature and his landscape essays	105
Epilogue: the legacy of the Kung-an school	113
Notes	123
The modern study of the three Yüan brothers and their Kung-an school: an introduction and select bibliography	146
Chinese titles of works translated in Chapters 3 and 4	164
Glossary index	165