

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-02955-1 - Summa Theologiae: Volume 47 - The Pastoral and Religious Lives, (2a2ae. 183-189)

Jordan Aumann O.P.

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

xiii Editorial Notes

xv Introduction

QUESTION 183. THE OFFICES AND STATES OF MEN IN GENERAL

- 3 Article 1. whether the concept of state denotes a condition of freedom or slavery
- 7 Article 2. whether there should be a variety of offices and states in the Church
- 11 Article 3. whether offices are differentiated by their acts
- 13 Article 4. whether the distinction of states is by beginners, advanced, and perfect

QUESTION 184. THE STATE OF PERFECTION IN GENERAL

- 19 Article 1. whether the perfection of the Christian life consists principally in charity
- 23 Article 2. whether anyone can be perfect in this life
- 27 Article 3. whether perfection in this life consists in observing precepts or counsels
- 33 Article 4. whether everyone who is perfect is in the state of perfection
- 37 Article 5. whether prelates and religious are in the state of perfection
- 41 Article 6. whether all ecclesiastical prelates are in the state of perfection
- 45 Article 7. whether the state of religious is more perfect than the state of prelates
- 49 Article 8. whether parish priests and archdeacons are more perfect than religious

QUESTION 185. THE EPISCOPAL STATE

- 59 Article 1. whether it is lawful to desire the episcopate
- 65 Article 2. whether it is lawful to refuse the episcopate
- 71 Article 3. whether one who is promoted to the episcopate should be better than others

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-02955-1 - Summa Theologiae: Volume 47 - The Pastoral and Religious Lives, (2a2ae. 183-189)

Jordan Aumann O.P.

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

- 73 Article 4. whether a bishop can lawfully resign his episcopal charge and transfer to the religious state
- 79 Article 5. whether it is lawful for a bishop, because of persecution, to desert the flock committed to him
- 83 Article 6. whether it is lawful for a bishop to possess anything of his own
- 87 Article 7. whether bishops sin mortally if they do not distribute to the poor the Church goods they administer
- 91 Article 8. whether religious who become bishops are bound to religious observances

QUESTION 186. THE ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF THE RELIGIOUS STATE

- 97 Article 1. whether religious life is a state of perfection
- 101 Article 2. whether every religious is bound to observe all the counsels
- 107 Article 3. whether poverty is required for religious perfection
- 115 Article 4. whether perpetual continence is required for religious perfection
- 119 Article 5. whether obedience pertains to religious perfection
- 123 Article 6. whether religious perfection requires that poverty, continence and obedience be observed under vow
- 127 Article 7. whether it is proper to say that religious perfection consists in these three vows
- 131 Article 8. whether the vow of obedience is the most important of the three vows of religion
- 135 Article 9. whether a religious always sins mortally in transgressing the rule
- 139 Article 10. whether a religious sins more gravely than a layman by the same kind of sin

QUESTION 187. ACTIVITIES OF RELIGIOUS

- 145 Article 1. whether it is lawful for religious to teach, to preach, and perform similar functions
- 149 Article 2. whether it is lawful for religious to be involved in secular matters
- 153 Article 3. whether religious are bound to manual labour
- 163 Article 4. whether it is lawful for religious to live on alms

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-02955-1 - Summa Theologiae: Volume 47 - The Pastoral and Religious Lives, (2a2ae. 183-189)

Jordan Aumann O.P.

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

- 171 Article 5. whether it is lawful for religious to beg
 175 Article 6. whether it is lawful for religious to wear coarser clothes than others

QUESTION 188. DISTINCTION OF RELIGIOUS INSTITUTES

- 181 Article 1. whether there is only one religious institute
 185 Article 2. whether a religious institute should be founded for the works of the active life
 189 Article 3. whether a religious institute can be founded for military service
 193 Article 4. whether a religious institute can be founded for preaching or hearing confessions
 199 Article 5. whether a religious institute should be founded for study
 203 Article 6. whether a religious institute of the contemplative life is superior to one dedicated to the works of the active life
 207 Article 7. whether community possessions lessen the perfection of a religious institute
 219 Article 8. whether religious life in community is more perfect than that of the solitary life

QUESTION 189. ENTRANCE INTO RELIGIOUS LIFE

- 225 Article 1. whether those alone should enter religious life who are practised in keeping the commandments
 235 Article 2. whether one could be obliged by vow to enter religious life
 237 Article 3. whether one bound by vow to enter religious life is obliged to do so
 241 Article 4. whether one who vows to enter religious life is bound to remain there permanently
 243 Article 5. whether children should be admitted to religious life
 249 Article 6. whether one should refrain from entering religious life in order to support his parents
 253 Article 7. whether parish priests may lawfully enter religious life
 255 Article 8. whether it is lawful to transfer from one religious institute to another

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-02955-1 - Summa Theologiae: Volume 47 - The Pastoral and Religious Lives, (2a2ae. 183-189)

Jordan Aumann O.P.

Table of Contents

More information

---

CONTENTS

261	Article 9. whether one should encourage others to enter religious life
263	Article 10. whether it is praiseworthy to enter religious life without consulting many persons and lengthy previous deliberation
270	Glossary
277	Index