

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-03584-2 - Persons in Context: Developmental Processes

Edited by Niall Bolger, Avshalom Caspi, Geraldine Downey and Martha Moorehouse

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

| | | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|------------|
| Preface | page | vii |
| Contributors | | xii |
| | | |
| 1. Development in context: research perspectives | 1 | |
| Niall Bolger, Avshalom Caspi, Geraldine Downey, and Martha Moorehouse | | |
| 2. Interacting systems in human development. Research paradigms: present and future | 25 | |
| Urie Bronfenbrenner | | |
| 3. Children, families, and communities: ways of viewing their relationships to each other | 50 | |
| Jacqueline J. Goodnow | | |
| 4. Human development and social change: an emerging perspective on the life course | 77 | |
| Glen H. Elder, Jr., and Avshalom Caspi | | |
| 5. Family process: loops, levels, and linkages | 114 | |
| Gerald R. Patterson | | |
| 6. On the constructive role of problem behavior in adolescence | 152 | |
| Rainer K. Silbereisen and Peter Noack | | |
| 7. The sociogenesis of self concepts | 181 | |
| Robert B. Cairns and Beverly D. Cairns | | |
| 8. Putting persons back into the context | 203 | |
| Daryl J. Bem | | |
| 9. How genotypes and environments combine: development and individual differences | 217 | |
| Sandra Scarr | | |

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-03584-2 - Persons in Context: Developmental Processes

Edited by Niall Bolger, Avshalom Caspi, Geraldine Downey and Martha Moorehouse

Table of Contents

More information

vi

Contents

| | |
|----------------------|-----|
| Author index | 245 |
| Subject index | 251 |