

CONTENTS

List of figures	page xi
Preface	xiii
1 Philippi	1
1. Looking at Philippi	3
2. A model of the development of society in the area of Philippi	14
3. A model of the social composition of the town of Philippi	40
4. Veteran soldiers in Philippi in the middle of the first century AD	50
2 The Philippian church	55
1. Approach	55
2. A model of the composition of the church at Philippi	59
3. Checking the model against data from Philippians and elsewhere in the New Testament	63
4. Living in Philippi	70
3 Suffering and unity	77
1. Philippians are suffering	77
2. Suggestions of Jewish Christian or Jewish opponents in 1.27–30	84
3. ‘To suffer for Christ’ (1.28): what does it mean?	89
4. Descriptions of Christian sufferings in early texts	96
5. The issue of unity in a suffering church	99
4 Paul and the Philippians	103
1. Paul as a model for the suffering Philippians	103
2. Hearing the model	111
3. Scholarly approaches to the autobiographical passages	121
	ix

x	Contents
	5 Christ and the Emperor	129
	1. Previous studies	129
	2. Philippians 3.20–1	138
	3. Philippians 2.9–11	147
	4. Conclusions	174
	6 Christ and the Philippians	175
	1. The shape of the appeal in 2.1–4	177
	2. The function of 2.6–11	188
	3. The nature of Philippians 2.6–11	207
	Conclusion	211
	Bibliography: ancient	213
	Bibliography: modern	217
	General index	227
	Index of Biblical references	229