

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-04029-7 - Minangkabau Social Formations: Indonesian Peasants and the World-Economy

Joel S. Kahn

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

	Lists of maps, figures and tables	ix
	Preface	xi
1	Introduction	1
2	The internal and the external in a Minangkabau village: an introduction to the world of the concrete	18
3	Adat , kinship and marriage: the constitution of the subsistence community	39
4	Agriculture and subsistence: the reproduction of the subsistence community	58
5	Commodity production in the village economy: the case of blacksmithing	75
6	Occupation, class and the peasant economy	103
7	The structure of petty commodity production	130
8	Mercantilism and the evolution of 'traditional' society	151
9	The emergence of petty commodity production	172
10	Conclusions: The concept of a neo-colonial social formation	200
	Bibliography	215
	Glossary of Minangkabau terms	222
	Index	225