

General index

Note: The notes (pp. 175–220) have been indexed when they substantially supplement the text or give passus or line references to Piers Plowman (entered in the ‘Index of Piers Plowman citations’, pp. 246–9) but not when they simply provide page or line numbers of citations from other sources. Page numbers given for the notes in index entries refer to the page of the text to which the note belongs. Manuscripts have been entered in the index only when a substantial point has been made about them. For manuscripts of the poem see ‘Piers Plowman manuscripts’; all other manuscripts have been entered under the places and names of the libraries where they are held.
