References to notes are indicated by a number in parentheses preceded by n following the page number.

Action, and moral responsibility, 12–14, 16, 20, 192–4
basic and nonbasic, 128–9, 133–4, 162
causal analysis of (see Causal Theory of Action, CTA analysis) definable? 96–8, 104, 143, 177
distinct from behavior, 11, 14
foreign to naturalism, 31–2, 37, 39
in most general sense, 16
including inaction, 13
incontinent (see Akrasia)
initiation of, 185–7
involving agent-control, 25, 30, 31, 37, 61–2 possible under determinism? 52–67, 83 possible under indeterminism? 67–73, 93(n20)
primitive? 177–8
restricted to language users? 45(n3)
technical term, 12
Action-plans, 128–32, 133–4
Actions, caused by reasons, 42, 44, 59, 99–102, 105, 111, 145(n9) free per se? 25

intentional, 32, 36, 41, 101–7, 118, 127, 195(n2) intentionally explained, 32
mental, 99, 141, 147(n30), 181–2, 189, 195(n4) merely voluntary, 41, 106–7, 118, 127, 141, 165–6, 180–2 physiologically extended, 139
rationality of, 105–6, 111–13
Acts, mental, as opposed to actions, 121(n3, n7)
Agency, evolution of, 75–6
Agent-causation, significance for problem of natural agency, 2, 9(n4), 39–42, 47(n18), 75–6, 69, 102, 103, 166
reduction of (see Causal Theory of Action, CTA analysis) thesis of agent-causationism, as involving dilemma, 68 supported by akrasia, 119 supported by causal deviance, 127–8, 132, 134–5, 144, 183 supported by heteromesy, 158, 163 syndrome of agent-causationist intuitions, 166–7 versions of, 177–80
Akrasia, 107–20
characterized, 108–9
of belief, 123(n26)
Anscombe, G. E. M., 47(n24), 121(n2, n4)
Armstrong, David, 129, 146(n19), 147(n30)
Audi, Robert, 174(n14), 175(n23)
Bach, Kent, 123 (n23), 174(n23)
Basic Deviance (see Causal Deviance, basic) Behavioral censor, 151–2
reverse, 153
Beliefs (see Intentional states)
Bennett’s pig stampeder, 126, 131, 133
Bennett, Daniel, 126
Bennett, Jonathan, 94(n50), 173(n7)
Boden, Margaret, 195(n12)
Brand, Myles, 124(n34), 139–40, 146(n18), 157, 185–6, 194(n2)
Bratman, Michael, 116
Broad, C. D., 29, 92(n17)
“Buridan’s ass” choices, 114–16, 119
Castañeda, Hector-Neri, 124(n34)
Causal analysis of action (see Causal Theory of Action, CTA analysis)
Causal Deviance, and reliable normality of causal chain, 156
basic, 132–44, 148
Davidson’s pessimism concerning, 7, 103, 163, 179–80
examples of, 125–6, 148–9 implications for Causal Theory of Action, 9(n4), 126–8, 179
See also Heteromesy
Causal Explanation (see Explanation, intentional, relation to natural scientific explanation)
Causal Theory of Action, as family of theories, 44, 97–8 attitude of libertarians to, 66, 69
central claim of, commitment of compatibilists, 55–60, 77, 80, 104 requiring defense through CTA analysis, 95–8
resolving problem of natural agency, 2, 10, 42–4 CTA analysis, as resolving problem of natural agency, 121(n1), 172, 177–89, 195(n4)
as supporting our moral practice, 194
Brand’s “proximate causation” version, 140 first hypothesis for (CTA-H), 104–6 formulations of, approach to, 98–9
for case of basic action (CTA-B), 172
implications of akrasia for, 110–13, 117–20, 182–4 Mitchell’s “concurrent intention” version, 138 positive arguments for, 101–4 requires admission of final stage intentions, 115–17, 136 requires condition of match, 128–32, 184 requires empirical completion? 142–5, 150, 175(n25), 187 sensitivity version, 148–58, 165–7, 171 sustained causation version, 167–9 threatened by causal deviance, 125–8 threatened by merely voluntary action, 180–2 threatened by preemptive heteromesy, 162, 165–7 volitional version, 141
deterministic version, assessment of, 59–66
motivation for, 6–7, 10–12, 14–15, 42, 50
probabilistic, 69–73 related to the Conditional Analysis Argument, 83–4, 88–90
related to the Consequence Argument, 55–60 Causation, mental, 98–9
proximate, 139–40
sustained, 167–70
See also Agent-causation, Event-causation Chance, as providing opportunity for control, 77, 79
effect on control, 29–31, 70–2
Chaotic systems, 79
Chisholm’s murderous nephew, 127, 129, 130, 133
Chisholm, Roderick, 28–30, 47(n18), 75, 92(n13, n17), 127–8
Churchland, Patricia Smith, 93(n21), 175(n28), 195(n2)
Churchland, Paul, 48(n34)
Compatibilism, arguments for, 19–20, 21, 47(n19), 92(n16)
Dennett’s defense of, 74–82
responses to the Consequence Argument, 57–9
See also Causal Theory of Action; Conditional Analysis Argument
Complementarity thesis, Davidson’s version, 102–3
Dennett–MacKay, 35–7, 82
Condition of match, between behavior and reasons (see Match, between behavior and the agent’s reasons)
Conditional Analysis Argument (CAA), 83–90 Control, condition of, 22–6, 37, 168
direct and indirect, 71–2
Consequence Argument, 47(n14), 53–8, 68, 84, 90(n1), 91(n8)
“Could Have Done Otherwise” (CDO) condition, construals of, 21–6, 45(n9), 46(n10, n13), 52, 83–8, 90(n1)
Counterfactual intervener case, 21–2, 24, 45(n9), 46(n10), 91(n7), 151–2
Counterfactuals, back-tracking, 152–3
Danto, Arthur, 146(n10)
Davidson, Donald, defender of compatibilism, 7, 47(n19)
on action intentional under a description, 48(n36), 106–7 on agent-causation, 93(n18)
on akrasia, 108–15
on Conditional Analysis Argument, 83, 85, 86–7, 88
on counterfactual intervene: case, 45(n9)
on language and thought, 45(n3)
on psychophysical anomaly, 164
on reasons as causes, 3, 47(n26, n27), 100–4, 145(n9)
See also Causal Deviance, Davidson’s pessimism concerning Davidson’s climber, 125, 126–7, 132–4, 135, 175(n25)
Davies, Martin, 153, 154, 164
Dawkins, Richard, 77
Deliberation, presupposes freedom of action, 76–9
Demon possession, 193
Dennett, Daniel, Elbow Room, assessment of, 74–82
on basic action, 146(n10)
on counterfactual intervener case, 45(n9)
on “could have done otherwise” condition, 21 on intentional stance and anti-realism, 6, 35–7, 80–2, 99
on moral stance, 37, 196(n15)
on need for concept of responsibility, 44(n2)
on problem of natural agency, 31, 32, 47(n20)
Dennett-MacKay complementarity thesis (see Complementarity thesis, Dennett-MacKay)
Desires (see Intentional states; Intentions)
Determinism, thesis of, 18, 27–8 formulations of, 45(n5), 92(n16) irrelevant to problem of natural agency, 31, 73
Deviant causal chains (see Causal Deviance)
Deviant counterexamples (to CTA analysis) (see Bennett’s pig stampeder; Chisholm’s murderer’s nephew; Davidson’s climber; Morton’s avenger; Peacocke’s bank clerk; Peacocke’s neurophysiologist)
Discrete processor case, 154
Event-causation, 39, 40, 42
Events, intrinsic to actions, 105, 195(n4)
Excuses, 20, 64
Explanation, intentional, 32–3 relation to natural scientific explanation, 33–41, 80–1, 100–2, 121(n7), 122(n10, n13)
Feedback loops, 168, 170–1
Fischer, John Martin, 45(n9), 56
Flint, Thomas P., 91(n5, n8)
Fodor, J. A., 147(n35), 195(n14)
Folk psychology, 38, 80, 81
Føllesdal, Dagfinn, 122(n10)
Frankfurt, Harry, 21, 175(n23)
Frankfurt counterexamples (see Counterfactual intervener case)
Freedom of action, as CDO condition, 20–1, 24
as requiring determinism, 29–31
construed as lack of constraint, 19–20, 24
epistemic understanding of, 76–9 grades of, 25
necessary for moral responsibility, 16
Functionalism, 143, 144, 185, 187, 189–90
Gallois, André, 56, 57
Ginet, Carl, 90(n4)
Goldman, Alvin, 129, 142, 143–4, 145(n2), 146(n17)

Hardy, Steven, 174(n13)
Heinaman, Robert, 46(n10)
Hempel, Carl, 122(n10)
Heteromomy, of causal chain, 125–6, 156–64
preemptive, 159–64, 166, 169–70, 171
Horgan, Terence, 48(n34), 91(n10), 196(n14)

Incompatibilism, arguments for, 17, 26, 27, 52–60
defensible despite truth of CTA? 61–6
Indeterminism, naturalistic acceptance of, 18–19, 27–8
Intendings, “pure,” 114
Intention, scientific upgrading of, 185–6
Intentional actions (see Actions, intentional)
Intentional explanations (see Explanation, intentional)
Intentional stance, 36–7, 81
Intentional states, “broad,” 92(n14) realism versus antirealism, 36–8, 47(n25), 80–2, 99–100, 102, 187–8
See also Dennett, Daniel
Intentional systems, 36, 80–2
Intentionality, naturalistic defense of, 43, 132, 188–90
Intentions, admissible for naturalism? 189–90
basic and nonbasic, 128–9, 136
final stage, 117, 120, 136, 185–6 formation of, active or passive, 99, 181–2
proximate, 136–8
sui generis, 114, 124(n34)
their place in practical reasoning, 113–17, 123(n23), 135 virtually concurrent, 137–8
Intrinsic events (see Events, intrinsic to actions)
Judgments, unconditional, 112–13
Lamb, James, 90(n4)
Le Catt, Bruce, 151, 152
Lehrer, Keith, 47(n19), 85–8
Lewis, David, 3, 56, 150, 151, 152
Libertarianism, 6, 17, 29, 38, 47(n18), 66, 68, 70, 76, 93(n20)
See also Incompatibilism, arguments for Light-flashing mechanism argument, 70–2
Lycan William G., 147(n35), 188
MacKay, D. M., 35, 37, 77
Main modal principle (of Consequence Argument), 54–60, 90(n5), 92(n12)
Martians, 63, 64, 194
Match, between behavior and the agent’s reasons, 42, 128
Materialism, eliminative, 38
McCall, Storrs, 45(n5)
McCann, Hugh, 142–3, 147(n28), 195(n4)
Mental actions (see Actions, mental)
Mind/body problem, 8, 43, 103
Mitchell, Dorothy, 137–8
Montmarquet, James, 174(n19)
Moore, G. E., 46(n13)
Moral luck, 22–3, 46(n12), 136
Moral responsibility, agency not sufficient condition for, 8–9, 43, 191 degree of, under manipulation, 64 freedom of action as necessary condition for, 13, 19–26
in heteromesial cases, 160–2 presupposes realism about actions, 37
vindication of, 192–4
See also Moral luck; Moral stance

Moral stance, 37
without concept of responsibility? 44(n2)
Morton’s avenger, 125, 148–9
Morton, Adam, 148

Natural agency, empirical theories of, 4 problem of, agent-causation formulation, 38–44, 75, 103, 167, 194 assumes realism about actions, 37, 38
bifurcated form, 50, 66, 72–3
clash of explanation-types formulation, 32–4, 39
dilemma formulation, 28–31, 41, 127
first formulations of, 2, 10, 15–16
its place in naturalistic theory of persons, 7–9 relation to “free will and determinism” problem, 18, 28, 49–50
resolved (see Causal Theory of Action)
resolved without CTA? 48(n37), 74, 121(n1)
Nagel, Ernest, 94(n50)
Nagel, Thomas, 22, 48(n35, n37)
Natural moral autonomy, problem of, 8–9, 43, 65, 190–1
Necessity, selective and other varieties, 54–5, 78–9, 90(n5)

Peacocke’s bank clerk, 126, 130
Peacocke’s neurophysiologist, 126, 157–8, 160–1, 164, 170
Peacocke, Christopher, 3, 148, 153, 174(n14)
Pears’s gunman, 174(n14)
Perception, causal theory of, 150, 151, 153
Petit, P., 92(n14)
Practical reasoning, and action-plans, 128–30 and the exclusion of basic defiance, 134–7 standards for, 105, 113
structure of, 99, 112–16, 121(n7)
Prosthetic aids, 155–6, 159
Psychology, relevance to understanding action initiation, 186–7
Psychophysical anomaly, 100, 122(n9, n10), 164
Putnam, Hilary, 147(n35)

Realism (see Intentional states, realism versus antirealism) Reasons, as causes of action (see Actions, caused by reasons)
their own causally determined, significance of, 62–5, 74
See also Intentional states
Reconciliatory naturalism, 5, 8, 34, 38, 43, 74, 82, 102, 184, 191
Rorty, Amélie, 123(n26)
Ryle, Gilbert, 181
| Second agent, causal chains involving (see Heteromesy, of causal chain) | grades of, 81–2 |
| Searle, John, 130, 146(n15) | Thalberg, Irving, 127, 146(n20), 167–8 |
| Segerberg, Krister, 94(n59) | Thorp, John, 92(n17) |
| Selective necessity (see Necessity, selective) | Tuomela, Raimo, 122(n11), 175(n25) |
| Sellars, Wilfrid, 121(n3, n7), 147(n29) | Unexpected paralysis argument, 147(n30) |
| Sensitivity condition (for nondeviance of causal chain) (see Causal Theory of Action, CTA analysis, sensitivity version) | van Inwagen, Peter, 6, 45(n9), 46(n10), 47(n14, n19), 51, 53, 58, 63, 70, 84, 92(n15) |
| teleological version of, 154–5, 157, 164, 169, 173(n12) | Vihvelin, Kadri, 91(n7, n12) |
| Servosystems, 168–70 | Visual censor case, 151 |
| Slote, Michael, 54, 55, 78–9 | Volitions, 141–2 |
| Soft determinism, 29 | von Wright, G. H., 122(n20) |
| See also Compatibilism | Watson, Gary, 38 |
| Solubility, conditional analysis of, 86–7 | Wayward causal chains (see Causal deviance) |
| Sphexishness, 74–5 | Wiener, Norbert, 31 |
| Stoutland, Frederick, 122(n10), 145(n9), 146(n10) | Wiggins, David, 47(n20), 90(n4) |
| Superagent, controlling beliefs and desires, 64–5 | Will, weakness of (see Akrasia) |
| Taylor, Richard, 45(n4), 145(n2) | Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 11 |
| Teleology, and exclusion of basic deviance (see Sensitivity condition, teleological version of) | Woodfield, Andrew, 147(n36), 168, 175(n23) |
| | Woodward, James, 48(n34), 196(n14) |