

CONTENTS

Preface vii    Introduction 1

1	The beginnings of the cardinal protectorship of England, 1492–1514	5
	The cardinals in the Roman Curia	5
	Henry VII and the papacy	10
	Francesco Todeschini Piccolomini	17
	The role of Adriano Castellesi	28
	The search for a protector: Galeotto della Rovere and Francesco Alidosi	34
	The career of Christopher Bainbridge	40
2	The work of the cardinal protectors, 1492–1514	53
	England and Piccolomini	53
	Ireland and Piccolomini	63
	The protectorship in confusion	73
3	The emergence of Giulio de’Medici, 1514–18	81
	The choice of Giulio de’Medici as protector	81
	De’Medici and the Anglo-French struggle for Tournai	86
	Scotland after Flodden and the cardinal protector of England	96
4	The emergence of Lorenzo Campeggio, 1518–24	104
	Campeggio’s first legation in England	104
	The alliance of England and the papacy with Charles V	114
	Pope Adrian VI: de’Medici in eclipse	125
	De’Medici in triumph	136
	Campeggio, protector at last	141

vi	Contents
5	The routine work of cardinal protectors Giulio de'Medici (1514–23) and Campeggio (1524–8)	150
	De'Medici and papal provisions to English bishoprics	150
	The Irish church, de'Medici and Campeggio	161
	England, Campeggio and Clement VII	168
6	The end of an arrangement, 1528–34	176
	The divorce: Campeggio under pressure from pope, England and emperor	176
	Campeggio in England as legate and judge	190
	The protector of England in the company of Charles V	200
	The widening rift between England and the papacy	210
7	Campeggio and the failure of reconciliation, 1534–9	220
	The last appeal to Charles V	220
	The failure of reconciliation with Henry VIII	223
	Campeggio and Pole	233
	List of sources and select bibliography	240
	Index	247