

Contents

	page
Foreword: by H. G. Koenigsberger and Brigitta Oestreich	vii
Introduction	I
PART I JUSTUS LIPSIUS AND THE NETHERLANDS MOVEMENT
1 Constantia in publicis malis	13
2 The political intent in Neostoic philosophy	28
3 The main political work of Lipsius	39
4 Political Neostoicism	57
5 The military renaissance	76
6 The European echo	90
7 The Netherlands movement in Brandenburg-Prussia	118
PART II THE CONSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE EARLY MODERN STATE
8 The religious covenant and the social contract	135
9 'Police' and Prudentia civilis in the seventeenth century	155
10 From contractual monarchy to constitutionalism	166
11 The estates of Germany and the formation of the state	187
12 The constitutional situation of monarchy in Germany from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century	199
13 Army organization in the German territories from 1500 to 1800	221
14 The constitution of the Holy Roman Empire and the European state system 1648–1789	241
15 The structure of the absolute state	258
Index	274