ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My thanks are due to the staff of all the libraries and record offices which I visited while writing this book. I am particularly grateful to Miss M. M. Condon of the Public Record Office, Lt Colonel J. Ingles, acting archivist to the Marquess of Bath at the time of my visits to Longleat House, and Mr F. B. Stitt of the Stafford County Record Office, who gave me much valuable assistance and cheerful encouragement during the early years of my research. It is impossible to acknowledge individually all those who have offered suggestions and help since I first began working on the Stafford family. Mr A. D. K. Hawkyard and Dr L. S. Woodger, my colleagues at the History of Parliament Trust, have been more than generous with references and information hitherto unknown to me; and I would also like to thank Miss E. A. Danbury, Dr R. I. Jack, Mr B. G. Owens, Mr H. Murray-Baillie, Dr R. S. Thomas and Dr R. Virgoe for their help in this respect. I owe a considerable debt to Mr T. B. Pugh both for his many suggested improvements to my Ph.D. thesis on the Staffords and for his advice on the interpretation of the first Duke of Buckingham's career. Professor Walter Ullmann has by his interest and guidance done much to render less arduous the task of converting a thesis into a book. I am also grateful to the staff of the Cambridge University Press for their assistance in preparing it for publication. My husband has read through and commented upon my text more times than he now cares to remember, and has had many pertinent criticisms to make in matters of presentation and style. Above all I am indebted to Dr Robin Jeffs, who first suggested the topic of my thesis some years ago. Since then he has read and discussed my work in all its stages and has made his own research readily available to me. Without his constant help and encouragement this book would never have been written.
