

Contents

List of illustrations vii
Preface xiii
List of abbreviations xiv

Introduction

Languages and alphabets 2
 The number of manuscripts in Hebrew characters 8
 Printed texts and manuscript texts 12
 Texts in Hebrew characters and Jewish ideas 14
 The currents of Jewish thought 15
 Readers and writers of manuscripts in Hebrew letters 16
 Texts and books 16

Part I Texts

BEFORE THE MIDDLE AGES 19
 To the second century CE 19
 From the second to seventh centuries CE 26
 From the seventh to the ninth centuries CE 34

THE MIDDLE AGES 36
 The Bible and its study 38
 Legal texts 61
 Prayers and liturgical poetry 73
 Secular literature 79
 Mysticism and kabbalah 84
 Philosophy and science 86
 Miscellaneous writings 93

Part II Books

Codicology 102
 Writing: calligraphic and personal scripts 170
 The scribe 204

Appendix: abbreviations, acrostics and the meaning of the Hebrew letters

vi Contents

Part III The history of books and texts

- The life and death of manuscripts 234
 Libraries 257
 Questions of method: codicology and palaeography 265
 Texts, copies and text-editions 269
 Judgement on readings and the edition of texts 287

Part IV Some manuscripts

- Solomon ibn Gabirol: Liturgical poem (Azharot) 296
 Joseph ben Simon Kara: Commentary on Isaiah 298
 Commentary on the visions of Ezekiel from an Ashkenazic pietist work 300
 Al-Bitruji: Digest of Celestial Physics, from Judah ben Solomon ha-Kohen's
Exposition of Science 302
 Isaac ben Joseph of Corbeil: Small Book of Commandments 304
 Isaac Israeli: Treatise on Urines 307
The Book of the Pietists, long recension 309
 Maimonides: Guide of the Perplexed 312
 Abraham ben Alexander of Cologne: Keter Shem Tov 314
On Stones 317
- Bibliography* 320
Index of manuscripts cited 336
Index of names and subjects 339
Index of modern authors and editors cited 346