

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More information

Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian public school

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The
Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More information

ATHLETICISM IN THE VICTORIAN AND EDWARDIAN PUBLIC SCHOOL

THE EMERGENCE AND CONSOLIDATION OF
AN EDUCATIONAL IDEOLOGY

J. A. MANGAN

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

CAMBRIDGE

LONDON NEW YORK NEW ROCHELLE

MELBOURNE SYDNEY

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The
Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More information

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge, New York, Melbourne, Madrid, Cape Town, Singapore, São Paulo, Delhi

Cambridge University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 8RU, UK

Published in the United States of America by Cambridge University Press, New York

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9780521233880

© Cambridge University Press 1981

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 1981

This digitally printed version 2008

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

ISBN 978-0-521-23388-0 hardback

ISBN 978-0-521-09039-1 paperback

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The
Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More information

For Doris

Contents

List of illustrations	page ix
List of tables	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
Prologue	I
PART I: THE GROWTH OF THE IDEOLOGY
1 Reformation, indifference and liberty	13
2 Licence, antidote and emulation	22
3 Idealism, idealists and rejection	43
4 Compulsion, conformity and allegiance	68
PART II: THE FORCES OF IDEOLOGICAL CONSOLIDATION
5 Conspicuous resources, anti-intellectualism and sporting pedagogues	99
6 Oxbridge fashions, complacent parents and imperialism	122
7 Fez, ‘blood’ and hunting crop: the symbols and rituals of a Spartan culture	141
8 Play up and play the game: the rhetoric of cohesion, identity, patriotism and morality	179
Epilogue	207

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The
Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology
J. A. Mangan
Frontmatter
More information

viii Contents

APPENDICES

I	Historical documents of special significance in the evolution of athleticism	223
II	Historical documents dealing with various aspects of the economics of athleticism	231
III	The school magazine:	243
	(a) The school magazine as a primary source
	(b) A page and correspondence analysis of the school magazines 1866–1966
IV	Some nineteenth- and twentieth-century timetables in relation to games	251
V	Captains of school, games and academic awards	253
VI	‘Poets’ of athleticism	255
VII	Salaries of assistant masters at Harrow in 1874	265
VIII	Jesus College, Cambridge: educational background of entrants in the nineteenth century	267
	Notes	268
	Bibliography	309
	Index	337

Illustrations

1	‘Stonyhurst College: cheering the flag’, from an etching by W. J. Allingham (Parker Gallery, London)	page 25
2	G. E. L. Cotton, from S. Cotton, A Memoir of G. E. L. Cotton D.D. (1871), frontispiece	26
3	Hely Hutchinson Almond, from R. J. Mackenzie, Almond of Loretto (1905), frontispiece	51
4	Loretto dress 1901, from R. J. Mackenzie, Almond of Loretto (1905), facing p. 91	52
5–10	Punch’s pictorial history of athleticism, from Punch , vol. 65, p. 94, vol. 93, p. 123, vol. 97, p. 165, vol. 106, p. 155, vol. 99, p. 141, vol. 113, p. 6 (Cambridge University Library)	90–1
11	Edward Bowen, from W. E. Bowen, Edward Bowen (1902), frontispiece	117
12	G. M. Carey, from the photographic album of C. A. F. Radford (Sherborne School Archives)	117
13	Edward Bowen and a celebration tea at the Grove, Harrow, circa 1895, from W. E. Bowen, Edward Bowen (1902), facing p. 216	118
14	A. H. Beesly and his house cricket team circa 1874, from the Photographic Collection, Marlborough College (Marlborough College Archives)	118
15–18	The evolution of dress, Harrow eleven 1863–1912, from A. C. M. Croome (ed.), Fifty years of Sport at Oxford, Cambridge and the Great Public Schools , vol. 2, (1922), facing pp. 136, 157, 175 and 220	166–7
19	Rugby versus Marlborough match card, July 1908, from the Photographic Collection, Marlborough College (Marlborough College Archives)	209
20	F. W. Farrar, headmaster of Marlborough 1871–76,

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The
Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology
J. A. Mangan
Frontmatter
More information

x	List of illustrations
	from Barrand, Men and Women of the Day , vol. 1 (1888) (National Portrait Gallery)	210
21	G. C. Bell, headmaster of Marlborough 1876–1903, from the Photographic Collection, Marlborough College (Marlborough College Archives)	210
22	F. Fletcher, headmaster of Marlborough 1903–11, from the Photographic Collection, Marlborough College (Marlborough College Archives)	210
23	G. C. Turner, headmaster of Marlborough 1926–39, from the Photographic Collection, Marlborough College (Marlborough College Archives)	210

Tables

i	Approximate games acreage owned or leased and used for major games in 1845 and 1900	page 71
ii	Marlborough Games Committee: statement of accounts for summer term 1893	72
iii	Commencement of regular recording of matches, championships and teams	73
iv	An analysis of the pages and correspondence in the Marlburian 1866–1966	92
v	Uppingham School games accounts: growth of expenditure	104–5
vi	First sports meetings between Oxford and Cambridge 1825–1925	125
vii	Public attendance at the Eton versus Harrow matches at Lord’s 1871–1972	145

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More information

Acknowledgements

The debts accumulated in the writing of this book are many. In the first place, without the generous permission of the headmasters of the survey schools to make use of their archives and meet staff, it would not have been possible. I greatly appreciate, therefore, the interest and co-operation of Mr B. M. Hoban (Harrow), Mr I. D. S. Beer (Lancing), Mr R. B. Bruce-Lockhart (Loretto), Mr Roger Ellis (Marlborough), Rev. M. Bossy, SJ (Stonyhurst) and Mr J. C. Royds (Uppingham). In addition, Mr Ellis was instrumental in opening doors to other sources of material, notably the Headmasters' Conference and Mr Bruce-Lockhart's reflections on his years in the public school system were a most helpful contribution to my efforts to achieve a balanced perspective.

Thanks are due in large measure to the late Gerald Murray, formerly librarian and archivist of Marlborough College, whose considerable enthusiasm for this project, remarkable energy and great kindness produced a stream of letters, papers, suggestions and contacts without abatement over five years – all of which proved invaluable. I owe a special debt to him.

The issues of this inquiry were discussed with a large number of assistant masters and housemasters who all gave freely of their time to assess the past and the present. In particular I would like to thank Mr Raymond Venables, Mr James Morwood and Mr A. L. Warr of Harrow; Mr B. W. T. Handford, Mr R. M. Reeve and Mr A. H. P. Beater of Lancing; Mr Peter Wood and Mr E. C. Barclay-Smith of Loretto; Mr E. G. H. Kempson, Mr Michael Preston and Mr Michael Birley of Marlborough; Father F. J. Turner, Mr B. Fitzgerald and Colonel A. P. F. Shaw of Stonyhurst; Mr T. B. Belk, Mr B. Matthews and Dr M. Tozer of Uppingham. Others, rather too numerous to mention here, are thanked most sincerely. From all I gained insights.

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More informationxiv Acknowledgements

I am obliged also to the retired headmasters, staff and old boys who wrote to me, often at great length, of their school experiences. My use of their material in text and note is, I hope, a satisfactory tribute to its value. Sadly it is not possible to thank in person the late G. A. N. Lowndes, author of that model of educational scholarship, the The Silent Social Revolution. I will remember with great pleasure his skill in recalling his Marlborough schooldays and in setting them in the wider context of a changing society, one June morning in his delightful house overlooking the Green in Marlborough.

Several distinguished scholars of various aspects of the English public schools – Professor Geoffrey Best, Professor J. de S. Honey, Professor P. C. McIntosh, Dr T. W. Bamford and Mr Patrick Scott – offered general advice and encouragement. Their kindness is gratefully recorded as is the support and encouragement given by two colleagues, Dr H. Hutchinson of Glasgow University and Mr W. Marker of Jordanhill College.

I must also express my gratitude to those librarians in schools, colleges, universities and public libraries who so efficiently located and procured even the most obscure sermon. I am more than grateful to Mrs Jean Robertson of Glasgow University Library for her skilful assistance, to Mr Stanley Gillam of the London Library for his permission to read the manuscript autobiography of John Addington Symonds and to Dr C. J. Wright of the British Museum Department of Manuscripts for a stimulating discussion on the literature of athleticism as well as for more orthodox assistance in locating material. I should like to thank also the staffs of the library of the Department of Education and Science, the National Library of Scotland, the Mitchell Library, Glasgow, Hamilton Public Library and the Lanarkshire Reference Library for help at various times.

The archivists of the Record Offices of many of the English counties obligingly investigated their archives for material on the public schools and several notified me of interesting and useful items in their possession. The school papers and correspondence provided by Miss A. Green of Berkshire, Mr Brian Smith of Gloucestershire and Mr B. C. Jones of Cumbria have been especially useful. In addition, the archives of the Headmasters' Conference and the Society of Jesus were opened to me by Mr R. St J. Pitts-Tucker and Rev. F. Edwards, SJ respectively. Mr Stephen Green, the curator of the MCC supplied valuable statistics on public

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-09039-1 - Athleticism in the Victorian and Edwardian Public School: The
Emergence and Consolidation of an Educational Ideology

J. A. Mangan

Frontmatter

More information

Acknowledgements xv

school cricket. I am indebted to them all for their courteous attention.

In addition, to those already mentioned, I should like to thank the following for permission to use material: Professor Margaret Sutherland, editor of the British Journal of Educational Studies for allowing the inclusion of an early article of mine in the chapter on the literature of athleticism; Mr T. D. G. Sotheron-Estcourt for the Harrow papers of T. H. S. Sotheron; the Editor of Punch for various cartoons and verses; the National Portrait Gallery for the photograph of Frederick William Farrar; Sherborne School for the photograph of G. M. Carey and the Parker Gallery for the print of Stonyhurst College.

Two acknowledgements remain. When teaching commitments clashed exhaustingly with the demands of research Dr T. R. Bone, the principal, and the governors of Jordanhill granted me a period of study leave. It was an act of considerable generosity and I owe them much. Finally, the most profound thanks of all are to my wife. Her interest and support have been so wholehearted that her effort on my behalf can only be described as a labour of love.